(a) Modification of maximum prices in Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as applied to certain commodities subject thereto are modified in accordance with § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as hereafter provided.

(21) Modification of maximum prices for fireclay, super-duty fireclay, high alumina, silica, or insulating refractory brick. (i) On and after January 7, 1944, specific authorization is hereby given to any producer of fireclay, super-duty fireclay, high alumina, refractory insulating, and silica brick to determine the maximum piece price for any fireclay, super-duty fireclay, high alumina, silica, or insulating refractory brick produced by him and for which he has no established maximum price by the following formula:

The producer's maximum price for each such brick shall be a net price (after adjustment for all applicable differentials, discounts or other allowances) not in excess of that at which he would have sold such a brick during March 1942 under the pricing formula or method of calculating price used by him in March 1942, employing the same cost factors (labor, cost of materials and overhead) and margins which were in effect for him in March 1942, even though his costs or margin may have increased since that date.

(ii) For the purposes of this subparagraph, the term "brick" means a manufactured refractory object, of any size or shape, and includes standard sizes, standard 9-inch straights and series, special shapes, rectangular tile, and modified shapes. It applies to all fireclay refractories, including brick intended for super-duty service, as well as for high, intermediate, moderate, and low-heat duty service, high alumina, silica, and insulating refractories.

(iii) Every producer of fireclay, super-duty fireclay, high alumina, silica, or refractory insulating brick shall keep on file at his principal office at all times for inspection by the Office of Price Administration:

(a) A detailed explanation of the formula or method of calculation by which he priced the brick covered by this paragraph (a) (21).

(b) Calculations setting forth in detail the use of such formula in determining prices charged for different brick actually delivered during March 1942, and calculations setting forth in detail the computation of maximum prices for all sales of brick covered by this paragraph (a) (21) made subsequent to the effective date of this amendment. For the purpose of this paragraph (a) (21), no recomputation of a previously calculated maximum price for any brick covered herein is required.

(iv) Every producer subject to the provisions of this paragraph (a) (21) shall file with the Office of Price Administration such reports as may be required from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(v) This subparagraph may be revoked, modified, or amended at any time.

This Amendment No. 23 shall become effective January 7, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

CREDIT FOR TAX WITHHELD AT SOURCE AND REFUNDS

In order to conform Regulations 111 [Part 29, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, Cum. Sup.] to the provisions of sections 3 (relating to credit for tax withheld at source) and 4 (relating to refunds) of the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately after section 35 the following new section:

§ 29.35–1 Credit for tax withheld on wages. The tax deducted and withheld at the source upon wages under Subchapter D of chapter 9 is allowable as a credit against the tax imposed by chapter 1 upon the recipient of the income. If the tax has actually been withheld at the source, credit or refund shall be made to the recipient of the income even though such tax has not been paid over to the Government by the employer. See section 322. For the purpose of the credit, the recipient of the income is the person subject to tax imposed under chapter 1 upon the wages from which the tax was withheld. For instance, if a husband and wife domiciled in a State recognized as a community property State for Federal tax purposes make separate returns, each reporting for income tax purposes one-half of the wages received by the husband, each spouse is entitled to one-half of the credit allowable for the tax withheld at source with respect to such wages. Similarly, if the wages of a minor child are includible in the gross income of a parent of such child, the amount of income tax withheld at the source on such wages shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed upon the parent.

The credit shall be allowed against the tax imposed by chapter 1 for the taxable year of the recipient of the income which begins in such calendar year. If such recipient has more than one taxable year beginning in such calendar year, the credit shall be allowed against the tax for the last taxable year so beginning.

PAR. 2. Section 29.322–2 of Regulations 111 is amended by striking out the first and second sentences thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Credits or refunds of overpayments may not be allowed or made after the expiration of the statutory period of limitation properly applicable unless prior to the expiration of such period a claim therefor has been filed by the taxpayer.

PAR. 3. Section 29.322–3 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting after "Form 843," in the first paragraph thereof the following: "or on Form 1040 or Form 1040A as provided in this section,".

(B) By striking from the second sentence thereof the words "on such form".

(C) The second paragraph thereof is amended to read as follows:

No refund or credit will be allowed after the expiration of the statutory period of limitation applicable to the filing of a claim therefor except upon one or more of the grounds set forth in a claim filed prior to the expiration of such period. The claim must set forth in detail and under oath each ground upon which a refund is claimed, and facts sufficient to apprise the Commissioner of the exact basis thereof. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, a properly executed return on Form 1040 or Form 1040A shall, at the election of the taxpayer, constitute a claim for refund or credit within the meaning of section 322 for the amount of the over-payment disclosed by such return. For the purposes of section 322 such claim shall be considered as filed on the date on which such return is considered as filed. An election to treat the return as a claim for refund or credit shall be evidenced by a statement on the return setting forth the amount determined as an overpayment and advising whether such amount shall be refunded to the taxpayer or shall be applied as a credit against the taxpayer's estimated tax for the taxable year immediately succeeding the taxable year for which such return is filed. For taxable years beginning in 1943 the tax imposed by chapter 1 includes the amount of any increases under section 6 of the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943, and such increases shall be taken into account in computing the amount of any overpayment for such years. An "amended return", so-called, shall not be considered a claim for refund or credit. If the taxpayer desires the refund or credit of an amount greater than the overpayment disclosed by his original return, he should file a claim on Form 843. A claim which does not comply with this paragraph will not be considered for any purpose as a claim for refund. With respect to limitations upon the refunding or crediting of taxes, see § 29.322–7.

(Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 62), and secs. 3 and 4 of the Current Tax Payment Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 68, 78th Cong.), approved June 9, 1943)

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

MILITARY RATING PROCEDURE

§ 903.35 Directive 23—(a) Purpose. The purpose of this War Production Board directive is to provide for review by representatives of the War Production Board of certain priorities actions taken by the Army and Navy and other government agencies, and for approval of placement of certain purchase orders rated by such agencies; and to define the scope of such review.

(b) Requirement of War Production Board approval for ratings of capital equipment and machine tools. Every preference rating certificate on Form PD–3A, if such instrument assigns a rating to any delivery of capital equipment or machine tools (whether such delivery is to be made directly to the Army or Navy or other government agency or to a prime or subcontractor thereof), shall, prior to issuance, be approved by a duly authorized official of the War Production Board by endorsing thereon the statement "approved for issuance" duly signed, unless exempt under paragraph (e).

(c) Procedure for review of rating actions by War Production Board officials. (1) Instruments assigning a rating to the delivery of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant, where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is less than $100,000, shall be submitted after countersignature by the appropriate Service Officer to the War Production Board field office within whose jurisdiction the tools or equipment are to be located. If the instrument assigns a rating to the production, as well as delivery, of equipment or machine tools it shall be approved by a War Production Board official of the field office only after he has determined that the item or items requested are required and that no suitable existing equipment or subcontracting facilities are available or that the availability or unavailability of such equipment or facilities cannot be ascertained within 10 calendar days after receipt thereof. If the instrument designates existing equipment or machine tools and the location thereof, it shall be approved by a War Production Board official of the field office if he determines that the item or items are required, regardless of whether other existing equipment or subcontracting facilities are available. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph (c) (1). The fact that the equipment and/or machine tools appear on a single preference rating application or on several such applications shall not determine whether the capital equipment and/or machine tools are in connection with a single given project, but the War Production Board field office shall determine this after full consideration of all the facts surrounding such application or applications. When an instrument which has been countersigned by the appropriate Service Officer under paragraph (c) (1) is disapproved by a War Production Board official in a War Production Board field office, the Service Officer may request the War Production Board field office to forward the latter's entire file in the matter, together with a statement of the facts, to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board, at the same time forwarding a copy of the statement of the facts to the Army and Navy Munitions Board in Washington and an additional copy to the Production Resources Division of the War Production Board. The Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board may in its discretion direct the issuance of the instrument in question.

(2) Instruments assigning a rating to the delivery of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant, where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is $100,000 or more, shall be submitted after countersignature by the appropriate Service Officer to the appropriate War Production Board field office specified in paragraph (c) (1) or the Routing and Issuance Branch of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., at the option of the sponsoring agency. If such instrument or instruments are submitted to the War Production Board field office under this paragraph, the field office shall not approve the same but shall recommend the granting or denying of approval and forward the same together with its recommendation to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board for approval or disapproval in accordance with prescribed procedure.

(3) The Tools Division of the War Production Board may from time to time specify certain machine tools as to which instruments assigning a rating to the delivery thereof shall follow the procedure specified in paragraph (c) (2) above, irrespective of whether the capital equipment and/or machine tools for the project in question may have a total cost of less than $100,000.

(d) Approval of placement of certain purchase orders by War Production Board officials. No person to whom a preference rating has been or is at any time assigned on Form PD–3 or PD–3A, covering deliveries of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is $100,000 or more, shall apply the rating or any subsequent rerating to any purchase order unless a War Production Board official has approved the purchase order or it is exempt under paragraph (e). Approval of a purchase order may be obtained by submitting, to the War Production Board field office within whose jurisdiction the tools or equipment are to be located, the purchase order, or a true copy thereof, or a written document containing such appropriate parts of the order as the field office may specify. Before approving the purchase order the field office must determine that no suitable existing equipment or subcontracting facilities are available, or that their availability or unavailability cannot be ascertained within ten calendar days after its receipt of the order. If approval is refused, the person desiring to rate the purchase order may request the field office to forward its file together with its recommendation to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board in Washington for final approval or disapproval.

(e) Exemptions. (1) Preference rating certificates countersigned under any of the following circumstances are exempt from the requirements of paragraph (b):

(i) Where the total value of the delivery or deliveries rated by the instrument does not exceed $500. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of making this exemption available.

(ii) Where the countersigning takes place outside of the forty-eight States, the District of Columbia and the Dominion of Canada.

(iii) A purchase made pursuant to approval given by a commanding officer, commandant, or the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts of the Navy, or by a commanding officer of a defense command of the Army, in an emergency where the degree of urgency is such that advance approval by a War Production Board official cannot be obtained, provided that in each such case a copy of the rating document is mailed within 24 hours after issuance to the appropriate Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(iv) Where the capital equipment or machine tools are for shipboard use (including floating dry docks), or are for use outside the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia for military operations.

(v) Where capital equipment, not including machine tools, is purchased by or for the account of the Army or the Navy for military operations, or where the purchaser intends to devote the items solely to administrative uses as distinguished from productive or operational uses.

(vi) Where the certificate assigns a rating to a command construction project of which the capital equipment and/or machine tools are only a part.

(2) Purchase orders placed under any of the following circumstances are exempt from the requirements of paragraph (d):

(i) Where the dollar value of the items covered by the purchase order does not exceed $500. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of making this exemption available.

(ii) Where the purchase order is being rated by a certificate which was exempted by paragraph (e) (1), or would have been exempted by paragraph (e) (1) if this directive had been in effect when the certificate was issued.

(iii) Where each unit of capital equipment or machine tools covered by the purchase order was listed either in the certificate originally assigning a rating thereto or in a certificate (such as Form PD–4X) subsequently rerating the same or listed in an appendix or its equivalent (an itemized list) attached to such a certificate approved by the Facilities Bureau after May 31, 1943, or expressly referred to therein.

(3) Purchases of jigs, fixtures, gauges and special tools designed for the individual job and made for a special application to standard machine tools are exempt from the requirements of paragraph (e).

(4) The requirements of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) shall not apply to such cases as may be exempted in writing by the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board.

(f) Rating of military construction. (1) All construction, other than command construction as defined below, will be rated only by the War Production Board, even though the facilities, when completed, will be owned, leased or operated by the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission.

(2) "Command construction" as used in this directive means the following types of projects ordered built by either the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy, viz: air fields; military housing; alien housing; facilities for the repair of finished items of munitions; overseas or theatre of operations construction; seacoast fortifications; ports and depots; camouflage and other passive defense projects (whether or not owned and operated by the Army or Navy); emergency flood control projects having a value of less than $100,000; military hospitals; maneuver, training and staging areas and proving grounds.

(3) Command construction as defined above may be rated on PD–3A certificates by Army or Navy contracting and procurement officers. Review thereof by War Production Board officials is no longer required.

(g) Status of existing administrative orders and instructions. Except as otherwise provided herein, ratings on PD-3A certificates may be assigned by appropriate officials of the Army and Navy and other designated federal agencies as provided in Division Administrative Order No. 1 as heretofore supplemented, subject to existing and future Army and Navy Munitions Board Instructions, and subject to approval by a War Production Board official where required by paragraph (b) hereof.

(h) Priorities Directive No. 2 superseded. This directive as amended supersedes Priorities Directive No. 2.

GENERAL GAS CORPORATION

General Gas Corporation of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, is engaged in the business of selling plumbing and heating equipment. Although it was fully familiar with the terms of General Limitation Order L-79, from July 10, 1942 to December 1, 1942, General Gas Corporation sold and delivered a number of items of new metal plumbing and heating equipment to ultimate consumers without securing the preference ratings or the certifications required under Limitation Order L-79. The violations have, therefore, been deemed wilful; they have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.459 Suspension Order No. S-459. (a) Deliveries of materials to General Gas Corporation, its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to General Gas Corporation, its successors or assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in the foregoing paragraphs (a) and (b) shall be deemed applicable to materials used by General Gas Corporation for maintenance, repair and operating supplies, as defined in Controlled Materials Plan Regulation No. 5.

(d) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to relieve the General Gas Corporation, its successor or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect the 7th of January 1944, and shall terminate sixty days thereafter.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

STANFORD L. HIGGINS

Stanford L. Higgins of West Granby, Connecticut, purchased a farm on Day Street, West Granby, in June 1942. In August 1942 he started making substantial repairs at the dwelling house at said farm, and also began new construction. The new construction, as distinguished from the repairs cost $800 up to the end of December 1942.

After an interview with representatives of the War Production Board, Stanford L. Higgins filed an application on Form PD-200 dated February 23, 1943, asking authorization for the installation of a water system and fixtures for use therewith. After receiving authorization to install the materials listed, Mr. Higgins installed more extensive and different materials than those listed, and engaged in a substantial amount of additional construction wholly unrelated to said authorization.

Stanford L. Higgins knew when he commenced the construction in August 1942 that there were restrictions upon such construction; he was specifically informed of the provisions of Order L-41 before he filed his application on Form PD-200; hence, his violations of Order L-41 by beginning such construction in August 1942, and his violations thereof after receiving the authorization resulting from his PD-200 application, were wilful violations of Conservation Order L-41.

These violations of Conservation Order L-41 have diverted scarce materials and labor to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.475 Suspension Order No. S-475. (a) Neither Stanford L. Higgins, his successors or assigns, nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to continue or complete construction of the premises on Day Street, West Granby, Connecticut, owned by Stanford L. Higgins, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Stanford L. Higgins from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on January 7, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1042—IMPORTS OF STRATEGIC MATERIALS

[General Imports Order M-63 as Amended Jan. 8, 1944]

§ 1042.1 General Imports Order M-63—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether or not incorporated.

(2) "Owner" of any material means any person who has any property interest in such material except a person whose interest is held solely as security for the payment of money.

(3) "Consignee" means the person to whom a material is consigned at the time of importation.

(4) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States (including the Philippine Islands). It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to Canada, Mexico, or any other foreign country.

(5) "Place of initial storage" means any warehouse, yard ground storage, or other place, to which the person making the entry or withdrawal from custody of the United States Bureau of Customs of material imported subject to this order directs or has directed that such material be transported from the port of entry to be held until disposed of pursuant to this order.

(6) Material shall be deemed "in transit" if it is afloat, if an on board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it, or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States.

(7) "Governing date" with respect to any material means the date when such material first became subject to General Imports Order M-63.

(b) Restrictions on imports of materials—(1) General restriction. No person, except as authorized in writing by the War Production Board, shall purchase for import, import, offer to purchase for import, receive, or offer to receive on consignment for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of, any material subject to this order after the governing date. The foregoing restrictions shall apply to the importation of any material subject to the order, regardless of the existence on the governing date or thereafter of any contract or other arrangement for the importation of such material. The materials subject to this order are those listed from time to time upon List I, List II, and List III attached hereto.

(2) Authorization by War Production Board. Any person desiring such authorization, whether owner, purchaser, seller, or consignee of the material to be imported, or agent of any of them, shall make application therefor in duplicate on Form WPB-1041 (formerly PD-222C) addressed to the War Production Board, Ref.: M-63, Washington, D. C. Unless otherwise expressly permitted, such authorization shall apply only to the particular material and shipment mentioned therein and to the persons and their agents concerned with such shipment; it shall not be assignable or transferable either in whole or in part.

(3) Restrictions on financing of imports. No bank or other person shall participate, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after the governing date of any material subject to this order, unless such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization issued by the War Production Board under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (b) (4).

(4) Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply:

(i) To the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency, or corporation; or

(ii) To any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, or to any material which the owner at the time of importation had purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation; or

(iii) To any material which on the governing date was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(iv) To materials imported by mail where the value of the shipment is less than $100.00; or

(v) To materials consigned as gifts or as samples, or for use as samples, or imported for personal use, where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $200.00; or

(vi) To materials consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States; or

(vii) To any material on List I or List II imported by any person under any contract or other arrangement made before, or in existence on the governing date and which, on December 28, 1942, was in transit to a point within the continental United States; or

(viii) To manufactured materials which are imported in bond solely for the purpose of having them repaired and then returned to the owner outside the continental United States; or

(ix) To materials which were grown, produced, or manufactured in the continental United States, and which were shipped outside the continental United States on consignment or pursuant to a contract of purchase, and which are now returned as rejected by the prospective purchaser; or

(x) To materials shipped into the United States in transit from one point in Mexico to another point in Mexico, or from one point in Canada to another point in Canada.

(c) Restrictions on disposition of List I material. Except as hereinafter specifically provided in paragraph (d) hereof:

(1) Restrictions upon owners and consignees. No owner or consignee of any material on List I which is imported after the governing date shall in any way, directly or indirectly:

(i) Dispose of any interest in such material;

(ii) Process or in any way change the physical condition of such material;

(iii) Transfer possession, or cause or permit a transfer of possession, of such material except to the port of entry and from the port of entry to the place of initial storage of such material; or

(iv) Change, or cause or permit a change of, the location of such material except to the port of entry and from the port of entry to the place of initial storage of such material.

Provided: That a consignee of such material may dispose of his interest in such material to the extent necessary to complete any commitment or contract made prior to the governing date. The person to whom he disposes of such interest shall be subject to all restrictions imposed upon owners by this order.

(2) Restrictions upon banks and persons similarly situated. No bank or other person which, as agent, pledgee, beneficiary under a trust receipt, or otherwise, has possession of or any interest in any written instrument evidencing any interest in any material on List I shall in any way, directly or indirectly, dispose of any such interest, or transfer possession, or cause or permit a transfer of possession, of such instrument, unless:

(i) Such material was imported before the governing date; or

(ii) Such person neither knows nor has reason to know that such material was imported after the governing date; or

(iii) Such disposition or transfer is necessary to permit a consignee to make a permissible disposition of material in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c); or

(iv) Such disposition or transfer is made to the owner of the material and such owner has complied with all the provisions of this order.

(d) Permissible disposition of List I materials — (1) Transfer to governmental agency. Nothing contained in this order shall prohibit an owner or consignee of any material on List I imported after the governing date, or a bank or other person having possession of, or an interest in, a written instrument evidencing an interest in such material, from disposing of, or making any arrangement to dispose of, any interest in such material to the Office of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation.

(2) Authorization by War Production Board. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c), an owner or consignee of material on List I imported after the governing date or a bank or other person having possession of or an interest in a written instrument evidencing an interest in such material, may process such material or may dispose of any interest in such material or any such written instrument, or transfer possession or change the location thereof, or cause or permit such a transfer of possession or change of location, upon written authorization by the War Production Board. Any such person may make application in duplicate for such an authorization on Form WPB-1039 (formerly PD-222A), which form shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Ref.: M-63, Washington 25, D. C.

(3) Exceptions. The restrictions set forth in paragraph (c) shall not apply to any material after any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation becomes the owner thereof, and shall not apply to any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, and shall not apply to any material purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation.

(e) Restrictions on disposition of List II or List III material. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the authorization issued pursuant to paragraph (b) (2), any material on List II or List III, which is imported in accordance with the provisions of this order after the governing date, may be sold, delivered, processed, consumed, purchased, or received without restriction under this order, but all such transactions shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board and to all orders and directions of the War Production Board which now or hereafter may be in effect with respect to such material.

(f) Reports—(1) Reports on customs entry. No material which is imported after the governing date, including materials imported by or for the account of the Board of Economic Warfare, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry Form WPB–1040 (formerly PD–222B) in duplicate. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of such material through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such form be required upon the withdrawal of any material from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the War Production Board, Division of Stockpiling and Transportation, Ref.: M–63, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Other reports. All persons having any interest in, or taking any action with respect to, any material imported after the governing date, whether as owner, agent, consignee, or otherwise, shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(g) Routing of communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise herein directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–63.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority assistance. In addition, the War Production Board may direct the disposition and use of any material which is imported without authorization as required by paragraph (b).

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(j) Effect on liability of removal of material from order. The removal of any material from the order shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability for violation of the order which accrued or was incurred prior to the date of removal.

This amended order shall become effective January 12, 1944.

Issued this 8th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

[1] Moved from List II 9/23/43.

N. S. C.—No separate class or commodity number has been assigned for the material as described by the Department of Commerce, Statistical Classification of Imports.

INTERPRETATION 1

No authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for the release or withdrawal of materials on List II or List III from a free port, a free zone, or the bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States regardless of the date when such materials first entered such place. The actual importation, which is the subject of restriction under paragraph (b), is deemed to have occurred before the question of release or withdrawal arises. Also, no authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for the subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment of such released or withdrawn List II and List III materials.

As to List I materials which are similarly situated, no authorization under paragraph (b) of the order is necessary for their release or withdrawal from free port, free zone, or bonded custody, but authorization under paragraph (d) of the order is necessary for their subsequent disposition, processing, or shipment unless they are shipped in bond to Canada, Mexico, or some other foreign country, in which event the foreign destination is deemed to be the place of initial storage as such term is used in the order; Provided, however, That List I materials which are imported in bond after July 2, 1942, can be shipped to Mexico, Canada, or some other foreign country without the express authorization required under paragraph (d) only if the import application filed under paragraph (b) stated that the material was being imported for the purpose of such export shipment. (Issued June 30, 1942, and amended Sept. 23, 1943.)

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the War Production Board with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M-63 (§ 1042.1) as amended:

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The question has been raised as to the meaning of the term as applied to a case where the material on the governing date had been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on a through bill of lading for transportation to a specified port and from thence by boat to a point within the continental United States.

The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship, the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it, on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship. (Issued March 5, 1943.)

When by amendment of the order a material already on List II or List III is moved to List I and hence becomes subject to the restrictions of paragraph (c) covering the disposition, processing, transfer, or change of location of such material, the governing date for the application of such restrictions is the effective date of the amendment by which the material was moved to List I and not the date when such material first became subject to General Imports Order M-63. (Issued May 14, 1943.)

Pursuant to General Imports Order M-63, as amended, which this order supplements, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1042.2 Supplemental General Imports Order M-63-a. Until further order of the War Production Board, the provisions of General Imports Order M-63, as amended June 2, 1942, and thereafter, shall not apply to materials on List III of said order which are located in, and are the growth, production, or manufacture of, and are transported into the continental United States overland, by air, or by inland waterway from, Canada, Mexico, Guatemala, or El Salvador, except with respect to materials listed on Schedule A attached hereto.

If the customer still wants delivery of the orders removed under this direction, they may only be restored to the schedule and produced under the conditions applicable to a new authorized controlled material order placed at the time the new allotment and new certification is furnished.

(b) An order taken out of a producer's production schedule because it has a 1943 allotment number on it, should not be reported as an unfilled order to the Aluminum and Magnesium Division on any report.

Issued this 8th day of January 1944.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

ENAMELED WARE

Section 3291.155 Limitation Order L-30-b is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3291.155 Limitation Order L-30-b—(a) What this order does. This order states the rules governing the manufacture of household, cooking and hospital articles made of vitreous-enameled iron and steel. The kinds and sizes of enameled ware which may be made are described, including hospital ware which was formerly covered by Schedule I to Order L-214. Quotas are placed on the use of iron and steel. Special provisions are made for military and export orders.

(b) Definitions. When used in this order:

(1) "Enameled ware" means any of the articles listed on Table A when made of vitreous-enameled iron or steel. It does not include any furniture, electrical or gas appliance or power-driven equipment.

(2) "Preferred orders" means any purchase order or contract for enameled ware which will be ultimately delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States, the U. S. Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) "Export orders" means any purchase order or contract for enameled ware for delivery outside the United States, its territories and possessions.

(4) "Civilian order" means any purchase order or contract other than a preferred order or export order.

(c) What enameled ware may be made. (1) No manufacturer shall produce or assemble any enameled ware that does not conform to Table A. Exceptions to this rule are stated below.

(2) A manufacturer may complete the following operations on enameled ware which was otherwise completed by December 31, 1942; making and attaching handles, bails, spouts and ears; welding together fabricated parts; applying a vitreous-enameled or other coating.

(3) The War Production Board may authorize on Form WPB-1319 (formerly PD-556) enameled ware not conforming to Table A to fill export orders.

(4) The provisions of Table A do not apply to enameled ware which is produced to fill preferred orders or for experimental use in a scientific laboratory in connection with the development of enameled ware standards.

Quota Restrictions

(d) General. No manufacturer shall use more iron and steel in making enameled ware than the amounts stated below. Each manufacturer has a quota for civilian orders and a separate quota for preferred orders and export orders. In each calendar quarter a manufacturer is limited to a percentage of the iron and steel he used in his total production of enameled ware in the twelve months ending June 30, 1941, the "base period." The gross weight of iron and steel when first put into production, whether in the form of raw materials or as purchased parts, is considered the amount of iron and steel used and to be used in figuring out the quotas. A manufacturer who purchases black shapes and covers them with an enamel coating should include the weight of these black shapes in his "use" of iron and steel, while a manufacturer who fabricates the black shapes should consider the gross weight of the sheets he cuts up as part of his "use" of iron and steel.

(e) Civilian quotas—(1) General rule. In his production for civilian orders of all enameled ware (except roasters), a manufacturer is limited in each calendar quarter to one-fourth of 70% of the iron and steel which he used for all enameled ware (except roasters) in the base period. No manufacturer may produce during any calendar year more enameled roasters than 15% of the number he produced in the base period.

(2) Optional quotas for manufacturers of hospital ware. Instead of following the general rule any manufacturer may use in any calendar quarter in producing hospital enameled ware (See Table A) not more than one-fourth of 100% of the iron and steel which he used for that ware in the base period. If he does this, however, his civilian quota for non-hospital ware (except roasters) is reduced to one-fourth of 60% of the iron and steel he used for that ware in the base period. Any manufacturer who chooses this alternative or who later decides to follow the general rule stated in the preceding paragraph shall notify the War Production Board by January 15, 1944 or before the first day of the quarter in which he intends to do this.

(3) Division of quota among different articles. In allocating his iron and steel among the items listed in column (2) of Table A, a manufacturer should use his best efforts to divide his quota of iron and steel among all the articles which he customarily makes in such a way as to meet the essential needs for those articles. If it is found that an undue shortage exists in certain articles or that production is being concentrated too much on other articles, the War Production Board may issue written instructions to any manufacturer directing him to allocate a specified share of his production to articles which are considered most essential. Failure to comply with a specific direction shall be deemed a violation of this order.

(f) Quotas for preferred orders and for export. In addition to his civilian quota, a manufacturer may use during any quarter in producing enameled ware to fill preferred orders and export orders not more than one-fourth of 55% of the iron and steel which he used in the base period for all enameled ware.

(g) Unused quotas. A manufacturer may use for civilian orders during any calendar quarter, in addition to his quota for that quarter, any unused balance of his previous quarter's civilian quota. A manufacturer may also use to fill preferred orders and export orders during any calendar quarter, in addition to his quota for that quarter, any unused balance of his previous quarter's quota for such orders.

(h) Special permission to exceed quotas. The War Production Board from time to time may permit manufacturers to exceed their quotas. This will only be done in special cases and for limited periods of time. For example, if one or more manufacturers are unable to use their full quota in any quarter, other manufacturers may be permitted to use the unused amount in addition to their own quotas. Similarly, if additional iron or steel becomes available at any time, the War Production Board may authorize its use in addition to the quotas. As far as practicable increases will be permitted for all manufacturers of the articles to be made in proportion to their quotas. Permission will be granted either in the form of individual letters or of published directions supplementary to this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Overruns, rejects and cancellations. Enameled ware made to fill a preferred order, which, because of overruns, rejects, cancellations of orders or any other reasons cannot be used to fill that order, may be used or disposed of only as allowed in § 944.11, paragraph (b) of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

(j) Reports. (1) Each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board on or before January 31, 1944, a letter showing the amount of iron and steel which he used in hospital enameled ware and non-hospital enameled ware during the twelve months ending June 30, 1941.

(2) Each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board on or before

January 20, April 20, July 20, and October 20 of each year, a report on Form WPB–1600 (formerly PD–655), showing his production, shipments, and inventory of enameled ware for the preceding quarter.

(3) These reporting provisions have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(k) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of enameled ware to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) and should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(n) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–30–b.

Issued this 8th day of January 1944.

PART 1001—TIN

[General Preference Order M–43, as Amended Jan. 10, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of tin for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1001.1 General Preference Order M–43—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the use of material in all items or articles hereafter manufactured irrespective of whether such items or articles are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to January 9, 1943, or pursuant to a contract supported by an allotment symbol or a preference rating. Insofar as any other order of the War Production Board may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the use of tin in the production of any item or article, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(c) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tin" means and includes both pig tin and secondary tin.

(2) "Pig tin" means metal containing 98% or more by weight of the element tin, in shapes current in the trade (including anodes, small bars, and ingots) produced from ores, residues or scrap.

(3) "Secondary tin" means any material (except tin plate and terne plate as those terms are defined in Supplementary Order M–21–e) which contains less than 98% but not less than 1.5% by weight of the element tin.

(4) "Manufacture" means to fabricate, assemble, melt, cast, extrude, roll, turn, spin, produce, coat, or process in any way, but does not include the processing of tin ore, concentrates, residues or scrap into metallic tin.

(5) "Inventory" of a person includes the inventory of affiliates and subsidiaries of such person, and the inventory of others where such inventory is under the control of or under common control with, or available for the use of such person.

(6) "Implements of war" means combat end-products, complete for tactical operations (including, but not limited to, aircraft, ammunition, armaments, weapons, ships, tanks, military vehicles and radio and radar equipment), and any parts, assemblies or materials to be incorporated in any of the foregoing items. This term does not include facilities or equipment used to manufacture the foregoing items.

(7) "Base period" means the corresponding calendar quarter of 1940.

(8) "Distributor" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying and selling tin, and includes warehousemen and jobbers.

(d) General restrictions on use of tin. (1) No product or article or part thereof shall be manufactured of pig tin if it is possible to use secondary tin for such purpose.

(2) No tin in any form shall be used in the manufacture of any item or in any process appearing on List A of this order; nor shall tin be used for any purpose except to manufacture the items or for the purposes listed in Schedule 1 of this order, and then, only within the limitations and restrictions specified in Schedule 1 with respect to such item or purpose.

(e) Restrictions on the use of certain tin products. Except with the specific permission in writing of the War Production Board granted pursuant to appeal under paragraph (k), no person shall use any of the tin-bearing products on List B of this order in the manufacture or treating of any other product or article; provided, That when any such tin-bearing product is listed in Schedule 1, it may be used for the purposes for which it is permitted to be manufactured as specified in Schedule 1.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) No person shall deliver or accept delivery of pig tin without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board; provided, however, that in the absence of a contrary direction by the War Production Board, pig tin may be delivered without specific authorization:

(i) To the Metals Reserve Company or to any other corporation organized under section 5(d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended (15 U. S. C., sec. 606 (b)), or to any duly authorized agent of any such corporation.

(ii) By any distributor in lots of three long tons or less up to but not exceeding a total of five long tons to any one customer in the same calendar month; provided, That the aggregate of such deliveries which any person may receive from all distributors pursuant to the authority of this paragraph shall in no event exceed five long tons in any calendar month; and provided further, that any person seeking such a delivery shall, at the time of placing his purchase order, file with the distributor a statement substantially in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned hereby certifies:

(a) That no allocation of pig tin has been made to the undersigned by the War Production Board during the calendar month in which delivery of the pig tin covered by the accompanying purchase order is specified;

(b) That such pig tin if delivered will not cause the undersigned's total receipts of pig tin from all distributors during the same calendar month pursuant to the authorization of paragraph (f) of General Preference Order M–43, as amended, to exceed five long tons; and

(c) That such pig tin will not be used or disposed of by the undersigned in violation of any order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(Name of purchaser)
By_____
(Duly authorized official)

(2) On or before the 10th day of each calendar month, each distributor shall report to the War Production Board in such form and detail as said Board may from time to time prescribe, (subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942) his transactions in all pig tin during the previous month.

(g) Allocations. The War Production Board will from time to time allocate the supply of pig tin, including all pig tin released by the Metals Reserve Company, and issue specific directions as to the source, destination, and the amount of pig tin to be delivered or acquired. The War Production Board may also specifically direct the purposes and end products for which any person may convert, process or fabricate pig tin allocated to him.

(h) Applications for, and reports of pig tin. Application for allocations of pig tin or for specific authorization to accept delivery thereof under paragraph (f) shall be made to the War Production Board not later than the 20th day of the month next preceding the month in which delivery is desired, on Form PD–213 or such other form as the War Production Board may from time to time prescribe. Any person who on the first day of a calendar month has in his possession or under his control two long tons or more of pig tin or who used during the preceding calendar month, 3,000 pounds or more of pig tin, shall, not later than the 20th day of such month, report to the War Production Board on Form PD–213 in accordance with the instructions accompanying such form, regardless of whether or not he seeks an allocation of pig tin or specific authorization to accept delivery thereof during the next succeeding month.

(i) Prohibitions against sales or deliveries with knowledge of intended misuse. Notwithstanding the authorization by the War Production Board of a sale or delivery of tin, no person shall sell or deliver any tin or tin-bearing material or product thereof in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts or sub-assemblies to any person if he knows or has reason to believe such material or any product thereof is to be used in violation of the terms of this order. A supplier may rely upon the written statement of the customer seeking delivery of any such material, as to the purposes for which it will be used, unless the supplier knows or has reason to believe such statement to be false, and any such statement shall constitute on the part of the person making the same, a representation to the War Production Board within the meaning of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, 18 U. S. C. Sec. 80.

(j) Limitation on inventories. No person shall receive delivery of tin, or products thereof, in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts or sub-assemblies nor shall he put into process any raw material, in quantities which in either case shall result in an inventory of such raw, semi-processed or finished material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the production of tin products by this order. In the absence of special permission to acquire or hold a greater supply of pig tin, forty-five days' inventory of such tin shall, for the purpose of this order, be deemed a practicable working inventory for any person except a manufacturer of tin plate as tin plate is defined in Supplementary Order M–21–e, as from time to time amended. Application for such special permission shall be made by letter to the War Production Board setting forth fully the facts upon which the applicant relies.

(k) Appeals and communications. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Appeals, reports and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Tin and Lead Division, Washington 25, D. C., reference: M–43.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 10th day of January 1944.

(a) Cast alloys. (1) For the manufacture of high ratio worm gears, fire engine pump gears, jack nuts, feed nuts, elevating nuts, thrust washers or discs, machine tool spindle bearings, hydraulic pump bodies and ends for gear pumps, grinder spindle sleeve bearings, or step bearings—not more than 12% tin by weight.

(2) For the manufacture of heavy, slow cooling castings (such as, for example, steel mill screw down nuts) where for performance characteristics, the alpha-delta eutectoid must be retained—not more than 18% tin by weight.

NOTE: Former paragraph (a) (3) deleted, and former paragraphs (a) (4), (5), (6) redesignated (a) (3), (4), (5), Nov. 3, 1943.

(3) For the manufacture of piston rings for airbrake equipment—not more than 21.5% tin by weight.

(4) For the manufacture of piston rings for locomotives—not more than 20% tin by weight.

(5) For all other purposes, a maximum tin content of 9% by weight, unless the lead content of the alloy is equal to or greater than, the tin content, and in such event, not to exceed 12% by weight.

(b) Wrought alloys. (1) For the manufacture of thermostatic discs or diaphragms, bronze welding rods, fourdrinier warp wire or rifle nuts in air hammers—not more than 9% tin by weight.

(2) For all other purposes—not more than 5.8% tin by weight.

(7) Babbitt. In the manufacture of babbitt metal and similar alloys used as babbitt, the tin content shall be limited as follows, according to the purposes for which it is to be used:

(i) For repair, maintenance or replacement in existing diesel engines, turbines, locomotive connecting rod or coupling rod bearings: Provided in any such case, That the design of the machine or equipment makes the substitution of lead base babbitt impossible—not more than 90% tin by weight.

The quantity of tin which any person may use in the manufacture of foil during any calendar quarter, beginning January 1, 1943, shall be limited to 35% of the quantity used by him for such purposes during the base period.

(9) Dairy equipment. Tin may be used to coat fluid milk shipping containers which are manufactured within the restrictions and in accordance with the provisions of Conservation Order M–200. Tin may be used to manufacture dairy equipment other than such fluid milk shipping containers, but the total quantity used by any person in the manufacture of such other dairy equipment during any calendar quarter beginning January 1, 1943, shall be limited to the quantity used by him for such purposes during the base period. Any dairy equipment may be retinned, provided only that the amount of tin which any retinner may use during any calendar quarter, beginning January 1, 1943, for the retinning of dairy equipment, shall be limited to 150% of the quantity used by him for such purposes during the base period.

(10) Kitchen, galley and mess equipment for the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Tin may be used to coat the foregoing equipment excluding flat ware, to the extent required by the applicable specifications (including performance specifications, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board) of the service or agency to which such equipment is to be delivered.

(i) To coat or to retin articles of equipment used in the process or handling of meat in the meat-packing industry, to the extent that any such article comes into actual contact with meat. The equipment intended to be covered by this provision includes, but is not limited to: bacon combs, hangers, metal molds, shovels, forks and scoops for handling sausage and cooking utensils.

(ii) To coat or retin equipment used in the preparation or handling of any food by institutions or by industrial or commercial establishments, but only such equipment as actually comes into contact with food.

(20) Tin pipe for use in the repair or maintenance of beverage dispensing units and parts thereof. Tin pipe may be manufactured only for use in the repair or maintenance of beverage dispensing units and parts thereof, provided that any customer for whom such pipe is manufactured shall return to the manufacturer a quantity of used pipe equal in tin content to that of the new pipe delivered to him.

PART 1076—PLUMBING AND HEATING SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L-42, Interpretation 1 to Direction 1]

CAST IRON BATHTUBS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Direction 1 of Limitation Order L-42:

Paragraph (c) of Direction 1 provides that bathtubs manufactured as the direction permits "may be delivered only to fill orders for installation in projects rated by orders in the P-19 and P-55 series, bearing the symbol H-1." This does not mean that a jobber or dealer may get these tubs to replace in his inventory tubs or other equipment he has previously delivered to fill orders bearing the H-1 symbol. It means that delivery to a jobber or dealer may be made only to enable him to deliver the tubs to fill an actual order for installation in a housing project for which the symbol H-1 is used. Consequently, a manufacturer should not accept the symbol alone as evidence of his authority to deliver to a dealer but should demand information to assure himself that the tubs will be installed in an authorized project.

PART 1157—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-192 as Amended Jan. 10, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export, of rubber and other materials used in the production of construction machinery and equipment and repair parts; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1157.10 Limitation Order L-192.

(a) [Revoked Jan. 10, 1944]

(b) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(c) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of equipment.

(3) "Equipment" means that construction machinery and equipment listed in Schedules A, B, and D attached hereto, but shall not include any equipment on rubber tired chassis or running gear built for or usable for the transportation of commodities or persons.

(8) "Supplier" means any producer, dealer, distributor or other person engaged in the business of selling equipment or repair parts.

(9) "Dealer or distributor" means any person who is engaged in the business of purchasing equipment or repair parts for the purpose of resale.

(d) Procedure for placing and receiving equipment orders—(1) For Schedule A equipment. No person shall place or accept any order for new equipment listed in Schedule A, except according to the following procedure:

(i) Every person, except a war agency, desiring to place such an order shall file an application for authorization to purchase on Form WPB-1319 in quintuplicate with the War Production Board regional office in the region in which such person desires to use such equipment. Such application when approved by the War Production Board shall establish all conditions under which such order may be placed with the supplier including the assignment of preference ratings if not previously granted.

(ii) Every person, except a war agency, who applies for such equipment by filing Form WPB-1319 thereby makes representation that he has complied with all the terms of Limitation Order L-196 as amended.

(iii) A war agency shall furnish the Construction Machinery Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. with Form WPB-1319 made out in duplicate at the time that any order for such equipment is placed with a producer.

(iv) No person shall accept an order for such equipment from any person except a war agency, unless such order is accompanied by such authorization on Form WPB-1319.

(2) For Schedule B equipment. Nothing in this order shall prevent any person from placing or accepting an order for new equipment listed in Schedule B, subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(3) [Revoked Jan. 10, 1944]

(4) Except as provided in paragraph (e) (2), nothing in this order shall prevent any person from placing or accepting an order for new equipment listed in Schedule D, subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board.

(e) Restrictions on production of equipment. (1) No producer shall use or put into process any materials for the production or assembly of

(i) Any new equipment except in accordance with such production schedules as may be approved by the War Production Board as provided in paragraph (f) hereof;

(ii) [Revoked Jan. 10, 1944]

(iii) Any parts to be physically incorporated into new equipment in excess of those required by approved production schedules: Provided, That this subparagraph (e) (1) (iii) shall not apply to the production of repair parts or components or attachments;

(iv) [Revoked Jan. 10, 1944]

(2) In addition to such limitations and prohibitions as may be imposed by Order L-217 and all schedules thereto, no producers shall use or put into process any materials for the production or assembly of any equipment listed in Schedule D.

(f) Production schedules. (1) On or before the 15th day of each calendar month, every producer shall file in quadruplicate on Form WPB-1689 a statement of his production for the previous month and his proposed production schedule of all new equipment projected for all additional monthly periods for which production may be planned. Approval or modification of such production schedule of all new equipment for the three calendar months succeeding such filing, or for such shorter time as production may be planned, will be indicated on an approved copy of said Form WPB-1689 returned to such producer prior to the first day of the calendar month succeeding such filing. Except as provided in paragraph (f) (2) hereof, no producer shall change his production schedules as approved or changed by the War Production Board without specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(2) Any producer of new equipment listed in Schedule B may produce all or any one or more items of such equipment appearing on his approved production schedules on Form WPB-1689 at any time during the months for which the schedules were approved, and need not therefore in that regard produce in strict accordance or sequence with the individual monthly production schedules approved: Provided, That the total quantity of each item produced during such period shall not exceed that authorized on such approved schedules.

(3) In scheduling production of equipment for delivery to persons other than war agencies, it will be the general policy of the War Production Board to allow each producer a quarterly production quota based on the ratio of his production in the period 1937-1941, inclusive, to the total production of all producers during that period. For example, if a producer's production of a particular item during the period 1937-1941, inclusive, was 10% by dollar value of the total production of that item by all producers during that period, it will be the general policy to allow him in each calendar quarter a quota of 10% of the total approved production of that item for persons other than war agencies.

(g) Inventory reports. On or before the 15th day of each calendar month, every producer shall file in quadruplicate on Form WPB-1689, a statement of finished unsold inventory, as of the last day of the preceding calendar month, of new equipment including that in the possession of his dealers and distributors. Every dealer and distributor, on the fifth day of the month, shall report his inventory of new equipment as of the last day of the preceding calendar month to the producer from whom such equipment was purchased, or, if not purchased, to the producer for whom the distributor or dealer is acting as agent.

(h) Prohibiting transfer and use of new equipment. No producer shall use for other than experimental or demonstration purposes, or sell, lease, trade, lend, deliver, ship or transfer any new equipment unless

(1) [Deleted Jan. 10, 1944]

(2) Such use, sale, lease, trade, loan, delivery, shipment or transfer has been specifically approved by the War Production Board as follows:

(i) On or before November 25, 1942, and on or before the 15th day of each succeeding calendar month, every producer shall file in quadruplicate on Form WPB-1689 a statement showing his proposed delivery schedule of all unfilled orders of new equipment, his shipments made during the calendar month previous to filing, and also his shipments during the current month to the date of filing. Approval of a delivery schedule of all new equipment for the calendar month succeeding such filing, whether or not such equipment is actually shipped during that month, will be indicated on an approved copy of said form returned to such producer prior to the first day of that month.

(ii) [Deleted Jan. 10, 1944]

(iii) The War Production Board may at any time revoke any delivery authorization provided for in subparagraph (h) (2) (i) above as to any or all new equipment included therein, direct or change the schedule for deliveries of any new equipment, allocate any order for any new equipment listed on a producer's Form WPB-1689 to any other producer, or direct the delivery of any new equipment to any other person, at regularly established prices and terms.

(iv) Except as provided in subparagraph (h) (2) (v) hereof, and notwithstanding any preference rating heretofore or hereafter granted, no producer shall change his schedule of deliveries of any new equipment as approved or changed by the War Production Board, without specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(v) Any producer may deliver any item of new equipment listed in Schedule B to the amount permitted by approved production schedules regardless of his schedule of deliveries of such equipment as listed on his current Form WPB-1689. Such deliveries shall be subject to all applicable Regulations of the War Production Board.

(i) Restrictions on resale, rental and use. (1) Every person, except a war agency, to whom delivery of any new equipment listed in Schedule A has been authorized pursuant to this order, must use such equipment on the project described in the authorization to purchase and will be subject to the provisions of paragraphs (i) (2) and (i) (3) hereof.

(2) Every person except a war agency, thirty days prior to the sale, lease or use on any other project of such equipment, shall complete, sign and return Form WPB 1333 to the Used Construction Machinery Regional Specialist in the War Production Board Regional office in the region in which the WPB-1319 was originally approved for such equipment.

(3) The War Production Board at any time on two weeks' written notice, may require any such person who owns such equipment to sell, lease, or use such equipment as directed.

(4) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to affect the applicability of Limitation Order L-196.

(j) Restrictions on sale and delivery of repair parts. Suppliers must not sell or deliver repair parts to any person except to fill purchase or delivery orders placed in accordance with one of the procedures described below:

(1) Repairs for current maintenance. A supplier may sell or deliver repair parts to any person if the purchaser certifies that the parts are needed for current maintenance of equipment in sound working condition. A purchaser must not certify that a part is needed for current maintenance unless he expects to use it to replace a worn out part within 30 days after receiving it. The certification must be in substantially the following form: "Authorized under Order L-192". This certification, when used to get repair parts for current maintenance, shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board that the repair parts ordered are needed for that purpose, that they will be required to replace worn out parts within 30 days after delivery, that the purchaser does not have parts on hand or on order for this purpose and that the purchaser has complied with the provisions of Limitation Order L-196 (if the equipment for which the repair parts are sought is subject to the provisions of Limitation Order L-196).

Exception. Repair parts must not be ordered for current maintenance to repair any equipment listed on Schedule A if such equipment was manufactured before January 1, 1930. If the purchase or delivery order is for repair parts for Schedule A equipment manufactured before January 1, 1930, it must be approved on Form WPB-1319. See subparagraph (4) below. These limitations on the purchase of repair parts for equipment manufactured before January 1, 1930, do not apply to the purchase of repair parts for current maintenance of dredges, shovels, cranes, or draglines, with a capacity of 2½ cubic yards and larger.

(2) War agencies and persons repairing war agency equipment. A supplier may sell or deliver repair parts to a war agency for direct use by it. A supplier may sell or deliver repair parts to any person who has contracted to repair equipment owned by a war agency if the purchaser certifies that the parts will be used only to repair equipment owned by the war agency. This certification must be given in substantially the following form: "Authorized under Order L-192". The certification in this case shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board that the buyer has contracted to repair equipment owned by a war agency and that the parts ordered will be used only for the repair of that equipment.

(3) Exports. A supplier may sell or deliver repair parts for export on any purchase order for $50 or less if the purchaser certifies that the parts are for export. This certification must be given in substantially the following form: "Authorized under Order L–192". The certification, in this case, shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board that the parts ordered are for export. If the purchase order is for more than $50, it must be approved on Form WPB–1319, as explained in the next subparagraph. However, nothing in this order shall be deemed to relieve any person from the necessity of getting an export license from the Foreign Economic Administration where such license is required.

(4) Specific authorization to buy repair parts. A supplier may sell or deliver repair parts for any purpose not provided for above if the purchase order has been specifically authorized by the War Production Board. Application for this authorization and for a preference rating, if none has been previously assigned, may be made by filing Form WPB–1319, in quadruplicate, with any Regional or District Office or with the Washington Office of the War Production Board. When a person receives authorization on Form WPB–1319, to purchase repair parts, he may give his supplier the authorization along with his purchase order or, if he prefers, he may give the supplier a certification in substantially the following form: "Authorized under Order L–192." The certification in this case shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board that the purchase order has been specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB–1319.

(5) Sales to suppliers. Unless otherwise specifically directed by the War Production Board, a supplier may sell or deliver repair parts to another supplier located in the United States or Canada without regard to this paragraph (j).

(6) Orders received before January 25, 1944. Suppliers may make delivery of repair parts on any order received before January 25, 1944, if the order has been placed in accordance with paragraph (j) of Order L–192, as amended July 2, 1943.

(k) Certification. The certification "Authorized under Order L–192", provided for above, must be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7. If the person signing the certification is using a preference rating on the order, he may add the certification "Authorized under Order L–192" to any certification used to apply the preference rating instead of giving two separate certifications. The standard certification of Priorities Regulation 7 must not be used instead of the certification "Authorized under Order L–192", although the standard certification may be used along with it in applying a preference rating.

(l) Spares. Orders for repair parts intended to be used as spares for new equipment listed in Schedule A must be placed with the producer at the same time as the order for such new equipment and must be listed on the Form WPB–1319, on which the new equipment is listed.

(m) Allocation of repair parts production. No producer shall deliver to war agencies in any one month any repair part whatsoever in excess of 75% of his sales of that repair part during the month, if the delivery would prevent deliveries of such repair part to fill orders properly placed by other persons. Similarly, no producer shall deliver to other persons in any month more than 25% of his sales of any repair part if the delivery would prevent the filling of orders for delivery of such repair part to war agencies. "Other persons", as used in this paragraph, shall not include dealers or distributors who have ordered repair parts for their stock or inventory. A dealer or distributor, in placing a purchase order with a producer for repair parts for which he has received a customer's order that he is unable to fill out of his stock, may state on his purchase order to the producer whether the repair part is being ordered for a war agency or not. If the repair part is being ordered for a war agency, delivery by the producer on such order shall be considered a delivery to a war agency for the purpose of this paragraph. If the repair part is being ordered for a person other than a war agency, delivery by the producer on the order shall be considered a delivery to "other persons" for the purposes of this paragraph.

(n) Filling repair parts orders upon specific direction of the War Production Board. A producer shall, upon the specific direction of the War Production Board on Form WPB–1319, make delivery of any repair part to fill any order specified in such direction. When application has not previously been filed, the person authorized to receive such repair part shall return to the War Production Board a signed copy of Form WPB–1319 as confirmation of the application. However, confirmation copies need not be filed by War agencies.

NOTE: Paragraphs (o), (p), (q), (r), (s), (t), formerly (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), (p), redesignated Jan. 10, 1944.

(o) Substitution and conservation of critical materials. In the manufacture of any item of equipment or repairs parts, no producer shall use any alloy steel, stainless steel, aluminum, magnesium, copper, brass, bronze, zinc, nickel, tin, cadmium, or fabricated rubber products where the use of other less critical materials will not impair the efficiency of operation of such item.

(p) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two (2) years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sale.

(q) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(r) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(s) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. The letter should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board in the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(t) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except where specific reference is made therein to the contrary, shall be addressed to Construction Machinery Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–192.

Issued this 10th day of January 1944.

Recording Secretary.

[Limitation Order L–192, Direction 1 as Amended Jan. 10, 1944]

REPAIR PARTS FOR CERTAIN LEND-LEASE EQUIPMENT

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L–192:

The Foreign Economic Administration, and any government agency acting as procurement agent for the Foreign Economic Administration in connection with the acquisition of used construction equipment to be exported for use in open cast coal mining, are hereby assigned a preference rating of AA–1 for repair parts needed to repair, rebuild or recondition such equipment and for spare parts to accompany such equipment. This rating may be applied by any such agency on any purchase order for repair or spare parts for such equipment or on any contract or order requiring the repair, rebuilding or reconditioning of such equipment, whether the work is to be performed by the seller of the equipment or by another person. This rating may be applied or extended in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation 3 or Priorities Regulation 7. WHEELBARROWS

§ 1293.8 Schedule VII to General Limitation Order L-157—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Wheelbarrow" means a vehicle having one or two wheels pivoted between the end of a pair of shafts formed into handles at the other end and supporting the body of such vehicle. "Wheelbarrow" shall not include any hand truck, dolly, lift truck or platform truck as defined in General Limitation Order L-111, or any construction machinery or equipment as defined in Limitation Order L-192.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures, fabricates or assembles wheelbarrows.

(b) Simplified practices. (1) No manufacturer shall manufacture a two wheel wheelbarrow.

(2) After December 21, 1943, no person shall manufacture any wheelbarrow which does not conform to the designations, gauges of trays, maximum capacities and maximum weights set forth in Appendix A, except upon written authorization of the War Production Board. Application for any such authorization should be made by letter addressed to the Building Materials Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-157, Sch. VII.

(3) On or before December 21, 1943, each manufacturer shall file on Form WPB-1902 (formerly PD-754) with the War Production Board, Building Materials Division, Washington 25, D. C., the catalog number and specifications of each wheelbarrow to be manufactured by him under each designation established in Appendix A hereto. The use of Form WPB-1902 as called for in this paragraph has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 10th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 1, Interpretation 10, as Amended Jan. 10, 1944]

CHANGES MADE BY CUSTOMERS IN ORDERS PLACED WITH PRODUCERS

Interpretation 10 is amended to read as follows:

(a) This interpretation deals with the procedure to be followed when a customer, having placed an authorized controlled material order with a producer, wishes to make changes in that order.

(b) The general rule is that any change in a customer's order constitutes a cancellation of the earlier order and must be considered as a new order received on the date of the change, if (but only if) the change necessitates alteration of the producers' production schedule to a point which would interfere with production. For example:

(1) The mere substitution of one allotment number for another which does not require alteration of the producer's schedule is not considered to constitute the placing of a new order. The customer must, of course, have an allotment identified by the substituted allotment number to support the change.

(2) A change in shipping destination does not constitute the placing of a new order.

(3) An increase in the total amount ordered constitutes the placing of a new order to the extent of the increase.

(4) An advancement or deferment of delivery, when made by the customer, will constitute entry of a new order.

(5) A reduction in the total amount ordered will presumably not require a change in the producer's schedule and will not constitute a new order. Of course, if the quantity is reduced below a minimum mill quantity, the producer may reject the order and remove it from his schedule, as provided in paragraph (t) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1, though he must not discriminate between customers in so doing.

(6) When the customer directs the producer to hold or suspend production on an order, without specifying a new delivery date, the order will not be considered as on a producer's books for the purpose of determining his obligation to accept other orders. When the customer instructs the producer to reinstate a suspended order, it shall be considered a new order as of the date of such instruction.

(7) Where minor variations in size, shape, gauge, etc., are requested by the customer and can be arranged by the producer without interfering with his production, such changes do not constitute a new order.

(c) In the case of changes which constitute a new order under this interpretation, the acceptance or rejection of the new order and its place on the producer's schedule shall be governed by conditions existing at the time the changes are received.

(d) This interpretation, as amended, supersedes Interpretation 12 of CMP Regulation No. 1 and CMPL letter 414, which are hereby revoked.

Issued this 10th day of January 1944.

[CMP Reg. 3, Interpretation 4]

USE OF PRODUCTION MATERIAL RATINGS IN ORDERING NON-CONTROLLED MATERIALS AND COMPONENTS FOR ADVANCE QUARTER DELIVERY

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 3:

(a) Under paragraph (d) (3) of CMP Regulation 3 a consumer may use the preference rating assigned with an authorized production schedule only to get production materials (other than controlled materials) "in the minimum practicable amounts required to fill such schedules or to replace production materials in his inventory." This does not prevent placing rated orders for delivery after the quarter for which the allotment of controlled material is made. While an allotment authorizes the ordering of controlled materials for delivery only in the quarter for which the allotment is valid, it is recognized that the production for which controlled materials are allotted may not be completed until a later quarter, if there is a long production cycle or if the controlled materials are received near the end of the quarter. In such cases, non-controlled materials and components may not be needed until a later quarter and the rating may be used to order them for delivery when required. In fact, they must not be ordered for delivery before they are actually needed. Also, where items are taken from inventory in meeting the schedules, replacements may not be needed until a later quarter.

(b) For purposes of using the rating to fill authorized production schedules, a consumer may assume (in the absence of specific information to the contrary), that he will receive authorized production schedules at least big enough to use all the controlled materials he is allotted, and he may place his rated orders accordingly. For example, if a manufacturer of generators which take six months to make has received allotments only through the third quarter of 1944, he may assume that he will receive authorized production schedules for the fourth quarter and the first quarter of 1945 big enough to use up the controlled materials allotted, and he may proceed on this assumption in ordering the non-controlled materials and components which he will need in those quarters.

[Conservation Order M-115, as Amended Jan. 10, 1944]

COLLAPSIBLE TUBES

Section 3270.39,[1] Conservation Order M-115, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3270.39[1] Conservation Order M-115—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tube" means any collapsible container in the shape of a tube, including but not limited to any such container made in whole or in part of tin, aluminum, lead, or any combination thereof and includes closures, crowns and caps for such tubes.

(2) "Retailer" means a person who sells or distributes tubes to the ultimate user.

(3) "Ultimate user" means a person who acquires filled tubes for the satisfaction of personal needs (with or without paying any consideration therefor), as distinguished from one acquiring tubes for industrial or other business purposes or for further distribution.

(c) Restrictions upon the manufacture, sale and delivery of blanks and tubes and upon the use of tubes for packing. (1) No person shall manufacture or sell tube blanks or tubes, and no person shall purchase, accept delivery of or use any tubes, for packing products except as specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(2) Packers of commodities listed in the schedules attached to this order are restricted in the quantity of the commodity (by weight) which they may pack in tubes in any calendar year. The packing quotas and the base period for each commodity are shown in the schedules. Commodities packed in tubes sold to the Army or Navy of the United States (including military exchanges or service departments as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 17) or to the American Red Cross, shall not be included either in computing the base period quantity or the packing quota for the current year.

(d) Conservation of tin. (1) All manufacturers, packers and users of tubes are requested to conserve tin by using to the greatest extent possible the larger size tubes in place of the smaller size tubes.

(2) No retailer shall sell or deliver any filled tube containing dental cleansing or shaving preparations to any ultimate user unless he receives in exchange a used tube for each tube sold or delivered. The retailer shall deliver all used tubes to the Tin Salvage Institute, 411 Wilson Avenue, Newark, New Jersey, agent for the Metals Reserve Company, or to any person who is a duly authorized representative of the Tin Salvage Institute. No charge shall be made for tubes so delivered, but the cost of delivering them shall be paid for by the Tin Salvage Institute. This exchange requirement shall terminate on March 1, 1944, but retailers will be required to deliver all used tubes on hand as provided herein.

(e) Exceptions. (1) Gift kits or combination set boxes containing several items including a tube filled with a dental cleansing or a shaving preparation, the value of which comprises not over 25% of the total value of the package, may be disposed of without taking a used tube in exchange, provided they are delivered or sent by the seller to a member of the armed forces of the United States.

(2) When any military exchange or service department (as defined in Priorities Regulation No. 17) sells or delivers a tube containing a dental cleansing or shaving preparation, a used tube shall not be required to be taken in exchange if the sale or delivery takes place (i) aboard ship, in the Territory of Alaska, or outside the 48 States and the District of Columbia; (ii) at ports of embarkation, induction centers, receiving stations or shipped to newly inducted selectees or enlistees or other persons designated by the commanding officer; (iii) in hospitals under the jurisdiction of the armed forces of the United States. No tubes containing more than 3% of tin shall be sold or delivered under the provisions of this subparagraph.

(3) When the American Red Cross gives away tubes containing dental cleansing or shaving preparations, it will not be required to take a used tube in exchange. Such tubes, however, shall not contain more than 3% of tin.

(f) Certificates and reports relating to all kinds of tubes covered by this order—(1) Certificate of tube packers. Each tube packer who purchases any tubes shall furnish to the tube manufacturer from whom he buys, a certificate, in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given tube manufacturer need be furnished by a tube packer to that tube manufacturer (who shall retain such certificate), but no tube manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false. No tube manufacturer shall sell any tubes except under contracts or orders validated by the certification required by this paragraph.

(2) Reports. Each tube manufacturer and each tube packer shall file such reports as the War Production Board may prescribe for the purpose of effective administration of the order.

PURCHASES OF SOUTHERN YELLOW PINE LUMBER THROUGH WHOLESALERS

The following direction is issued in accordance with Order M-361, paragraph (d). It tells how orders placed through wholesalers can be approved on Form WPB-2720 in cases where, because of the number of producers the wholesaler buys from and the uncertainty of deliveries from them, it is not feasible to designate producers on the form.

The purchaser must file a separate application for each wholesaler with whom orders have been placed.

(b) Any wholesaler who has received an order approved on Form WPB-2720 may order restricted Southern yellow pine lumber from one or several producers in a total amount not exceeding the amount authorized. He may endorse on his purchase order or contract the following certificate:

All restricted Southern yellow pine lumber covered by this purchase order or contract is required in order to enable me to deliver an amount authorized on Form WPB-2720, WPB Case Number _____, and delivery may be made without regard to the limitations of paragraph (b) on deliveries by producers.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

SYNTHETIC FIBERS, YARNS AND FABRICS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of synthetic fibers, yarns and fabrics for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.326 General Conservation Order M-356—(a) Definitions. (1) "Nylon" means synthetic fiber-forming polymeric amides having a protein-like chemical structure, derivable from coal, air and water, or other substances, and characterized by extreme toughness and strength and the peculiar ability to be formed into fibers (yarns and fabrics) and into various shapes, such as bristles, sheets, etc.

(2) "Nylon waste" means waste, noils and garnetted or reclaimed fibers (including scraps and clippings, generated in the manufacture of thread, fabrics, rope, braiding or other material containing nylon) the total nylon content of which is 95% or more by weight.

(b) Restrictions on nylon. (1) No person shall sell or deliver nylon except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) No person shall knowingly purchase, accept delivery or commercially use nylon contrary to any restriction of the War Production Board.

(c) Restrictions on nylon waste. No person shall sell, purchase, deliver, accept delivery, process or commercially use nylon waste except to recover nylon flake. No person shall mix nylon waste with any other waste material having less than 95% nylon content by weight.

(d) Definitions. (1) "Rayon fabrics" mean broad woven synthetic fabrics (over 24 inches in width) made from continuous filament viscose yarn, cuprammonium yarn or cellulose acetate yarn, from viscose or acetate staple fiber, or from combinations or blends containing more than fifty-one per cent or more by weight of any such synthetic yarns. The term shall not include velvets, plushes, and other pile fabrics, upholstery, drapery and tapestry fabrics, and jacquard woven fabrics.

(2) "Producer" means a person who wove, or caused to be woven for him on commission, an average of more than 25,000 yards of rayon fabrics per week during the three months' period ending September 30, 1943. Wherever the words "his total yardage production" or "produced by him" are used in paragraph (e), they refer to the yardage of rayon fabrics manufactured for, as well as by, the producer.

(3) "Procurement orders" mean orders for rayon fabrics placed by the Army or Navy of the United States (including military exchanges and service departments when the order bears the appropriate endorsement referred to in paragraph (c) of Priority Regulation 17), the Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(4) "Export orders" mean orders for rayon fabrics bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher, upon which there is endorsed a certification in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned purchaser hereby represents that the item(s) hereby ordered are for export under license number ----------, and pursuant to General Conservation Order M-356.
> Name of person

(e) Export of rayon yarn—(1) Establishment of export quotas. An export quota system is hereby established for the producers of fine rayon yarn as defined in General Preference Order M-37-d. Such export quotas will be established from time to time by the War Production Board within which quotas the Foreign Economic Administration will be authorized to assign preference ratings. On and after January 1, 1944, and until further notice from the War Production Board, each producer of fine rayon yarn shall, notwithstanding any preference rating which may be served upon him, each day set aside to the extent that he possesses active spindles, an amount of such yarn equal to the production of 4% of the total number of his active spindles producing viscose yarn and 2% of the total number of his active spindles producing acetate yarn. The yarn thus set aside shall be known as "export yarn," and shall be set aside, as nearly as practicable, in such denier sizes as will fill the producer's orders on hand for such yarn at the time the producer sets his production schedule. No producer of fine rayon yarn shall be compelled to export or accept an order for export of fine rayon yarn under export license granted by the Foreign Economic Administration in excess of the export quota so established for him: Provided, That no such producer shall be prohibited from exporting or accepting an order for export of fine rayon yarn in excess of such quota, unless specifically prohibited by the War Production Board.

(2) Disposition of export yarn not booked or delivered. All export yarn set aside from the production of any one month, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) and which has not been delivered or booked during said month, shall be immediately available for sale to any person otherwise eligible to purchase such yarn.

(3) Effective date. This paragraph (e) shall take effect January 1, 1944.

(f) Establishment of export quota for rayon fabrics. (1) An export quota system is hereby established for rayon fabrics. Pursuant to such system export quotas will be fixed from time to time by the War Production Board. Until further notice from the War Production Board, each producer must accept and fill export orders for rayon fabrics until they aggregate for the current calendar quarter four per cent of his total yardage production of rayon fabrics (excluding yardage produced by him to fill procurement orders) during the preceding calendar quarter. No producer is required to accept or fill export orders for more than the established export quota, nor for more than fifteen per cent of any particular construction of rayon fabrics produced by him during the current calendar quarter. However, he is not prohibited from doing so, unless compliance with other orders or regulations of the War Production Board would forbid it.

(2) Unfilled export quota to be carried over to next quarter. If a producer does not fill his entire export quota of rayon fabrics in any calendar quarter, the unfilled portion shall be added to his quota for the next succeeding quarter. The portion so carried over which is not filled in such succeeding quarter may be dropped. To illustrate: if the export quota of a producer for the second quarter of 1944 is 100,000 yards and he books or delivers only 75,000 yards during that quarter, the remaining 25,000 yards shall be added to his quota for the third quarter of 1944. If his quota for that quarter is also 100,000 yards, he is required to accept and fill export orders aggregating 125,000 yards during the third quarter. Any part of the 25,000 yards not delivered during the third quarter is thereafter free from the restrictions of this order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

NOTE: Paragraph (g), formerly (d), redesignated Jan. 10, 1944.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions — (1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, and General Conservation Order M-328, as amended from time to time.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Hardwood logs shall be measured inside the bark while Pine logs shall be measured from the inside of one bark to the outside of the other bark.

b. All logs will be purchased on a woods-run basis except in the case of those logs covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 313. Thus, no log lower in quality than a Prime grade log can be purchased at a price higher than that established on a woods-run grade.

c. A woods-run of logs shall consist of hardwood logs 12" and up in diameter, and pine logs 8" and up in diameter as produced from the forest that are better than culls. When any small sized or low quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woods-run price. A cull shall be considered as any log where the net board feet scale after deductions have been made for defects is less than 50 percent of the gross board feet scale. Logs shall be cut in standard lengths as specified by the buyer. The minimum length of log acceptable shall be 30 inches. All logs must be cut at least 4 inches over length to allow for trim. All logs that are not cut at least 4 inches over length shall be reduced in length to the next lower standard length.

e. All unsound and unusable wood must be deducted by allowance in measurement.

PRICES PER M FEET LOG SCALE

	Pine	Cottonwood	Hardwoods and all other species
Zone 1	$23.50	$23.50	$22.50
Zone 2	21.00	21.00	21.00
Zone 3	20.50	21.00	21.00

a. These prices shall prevail f. o. b. railroad cars at rail siding or for logs delivered to the mill by truck from within 25 miles. If logs are delivered to the mill by truck from a distance in excess of 25 miles, a sum not to exceed 10¢ per M feet log scale may be added for each additional load mile.

b. If the buyer takes delivery at some place other than on railroad cars or at his plant, the maximum prices must be reduced by either of the following:

1. The cost to the buyer of trucking logs to the closest rail siding and loading on cars if delivery to mill is by rail.

2. The cost to the buyer of trucking logs to his plant if delivery to mill is by truck.

c. If logs are delivered to a rail siding and not loaded on cars, the buyer must deduct from the ceiling price the cost of loading on cars.

d. The prices herein established will prevail for the purchase of logs produced in the area described above and will prevail for all buying plants purchasing logs in these areas whether or not the buying plants are located in the area.

e. If the logs are peeled by the seller, $2.00 per thousand feet log scale may be added to the above prices.

This amendment shall become effective January 13, 1944.

[Rev. SR 14, Amdt. 76]

STEEL WIRE GARMENT HANGERS

Amendment No. 76 to Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14. Modification of maximum prices for certain commodities, services and transactions.

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 is amended in the following respect:

Section 6.36 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 6.36 Maximum prices for sales by jobbers to industrial and commercial users of steel wire garment hangers—(a) Scope of this section. This section permits jobbers to add to their current delivered cost of steel wire garment hangers, the dollar mark-up they customarily enjoyed in October 1941 on sales of steel garment hangers. It applies only for sales to industrial or commercial users. When used in this section, the term "jobber" means any person who buys garment hangers from the manufacturer and resells them, without substantially changing their form, to industrial or commercial users.

(b) Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of steel wire garment hangers by jobbers to industrial and commercial users. If you are a jobber, you determine your maximum price for sales of steel wire garment hangers to industrial and commercial users in the following manner:

(1) Select from the garment hangers sold by you during October 1941 the type most similar to the steel wire garment hanger for which you are determining your ceiling price.

(2) Subtract from the highest price you charged industrial and commercial users, f.o.b. your warehouse, during October 1941 for that garment hanger, the amount you paid for that garment hanger, including any freight charges.

(3) Add the amount so obtained to your delivered cost of the steel wire garment hanger you are pricing. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price, f. o. b. your warehouse, for sales of steel wire garment hangers to industrial and commercial users: You must give the same discounts, freight allowances, and terms which you allowed during October 1941.

(c) Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of steel wire garment hangers by jobbers who have no records. If you are a jobber and do not have any records by which to determine a maximum price for your sales pursuant to this section, you must submit to your nearest Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, a report applying for specific authorization of maximum prices for sales of such steel wire garment hangers. This report shall contain a description of the steel wire garment hanger, the manufacturer's name and address, your cost, and any other information which you may wish to submit. You must also submit such additional information as the Office of Price Administration may request. You may not sell such steel wire garment hangers until you have received authorization from the Office of Price Administration and must sell in accordance with the terms of such authorization. The maximum price authorized by the Office of Price Administration will be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this section for steel wire garment hangers.

Any Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration or such offices as may be authorized by the appropriate Regional Office, may, by order, establish maximum prices for sales of steel wire garment hangers by jobbers in any area or locality within its jurisdiction.

(d) Records to be kept by jobbers. If you are a jobber and have established maximum prices for your sales under this section, you must keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration (1) records showing your cost and your selling price of the garment hangers sold by you in October 1941 which you have used in determining your maximum prices for garment hangers currently being sold, and (2) invoices showing your current costs of the steel wire garment hangers for which maximum prices have been established under this section.

This amendment shall become effective on the 13th day of January 1944.

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 5.5 (a) is amended by deleting the date "January 15, 1944" in the first sentence and substituting in place thereof, the date "February 1, 1944".

2. Section 18.2 (c) is revoked and a new section 18.2 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) If, because of the nature of his operations, it is an undue hardship for a Group III institutional user to keep records, in accordance with this section, of the actual number of persons served and dollar revenue received, he may file with the Board a petition for relief on OPA Form R–315. He must state in his petition his method of keeping records of cash receipts (such as punch checks, written checks, cash register, etc.), the reason why it would be a hardship in his type of operation to keep the required records, and the method, other than a complete daily count, he can use for determining the required information.

If the Board finds that it is an undue hardship for the institutional user to keep daily records, it may authorize him, in writing, to keep such records for any full week during each month, specifying the record-keeping method and the weeks which it approves. The proportions which the number of persons served food and the dollar revenue derived from such services during that week bear to the total persons served and the total dollar revenue during that week, will be deemed to be the proportions for the entire month. If an institutional user petitions for permission to use a method not involving records for a full week in each month, the Board may not act on his petition, but must forward it to the District Office. The District Office shall act on such petitions in accordance with instructions from the Washington Office.

This amendment shall become effective January 8, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Acts of 1942.

LOGS AND BOLTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 348 is amended by the addition of Appendix E, Table 2.

Kentucky. All counties west of and including the counties of Henderson, McClean, Muhlenberg, Butler, Warren and Allen.

Tennessee. All counties west of but not including the counties of Pickett, Fentress, Morgan, Roane, Rhea and Hamilton counties, except the counties of Shelby, Fayette, Hardeman, Haywood, Tipton and Lauderdale; but including that portion of Hamilton County lying south of the Nashville, Chattahooga and St. Louis Railroad.

Illinois. That portion of the state south of a line running from East St. Louis, Illinois, in St. Clair County along the tracks of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad through the cities of Belleville, Mt. Vernon and Eldorado, Illinois to their intersection with the eastern boundary of Saline County, thence along the eastern boundary of that county to its intersection with the northern boundary of Hardin County, thence east along the northern boundary of that county to the Ohio River.

Species. The following species:

Yellow Poplar	(Liriondendron tulipifera).
Sweet Gum	(Liquidamber styraciflua).
Tupelo Gum	(Nyssa aquatica).
Black Gum	(Nyssa sylvatica).
Cypress	(Taxodium distichum)
Beech	(Fagus grandifolia).
Sycamore	(Platanus occidentalis).
Hackberry	(Celtis occidentalis).
Walnut	(Juglans nigra).

as well as all botanical species of the following genera:

Oak	(Quercus).
Magnolia	(Magnolia).
Maple	(Acer).
Cherry	(Prunus).
Ash	(Fraxinus).
Elm	(Ulmus).
Cottonwood	(Populus).
Hickory	(Hicoria).
Birch	(Betula).
Basswood	(Tilia).

and other commercial species.

Scaling and grading rules. All logs are to be scaled with the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter shall be measured at the small end of the log, inside the bark, and at the smallest diameter. Fractions of an inch below ½ inch shall be counted back to the next lower full inch, while fractions of an inch above ½ inch may be raised to the next higher inch. (Thus a log 14.4 inches would be 14" and a log 14.6 inches would be 15"). If the fraction of an inch is exactly ½ inch, it shall be counted as of the nearest even inch. (Thus 13½ inches would be counted as 14", and 14½ inches would be counted as 14").

All unsound and unusable wood must be eliminated from the scale by deduction in measurement. The defects for which full deduction must be made in measurement include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, damage in felling by drawn splinters, rotten and wormy sap, and crooks.

Logs are to be cut in even lengths unless otherwise specified by the buyer with the minimum length accepted as 8 feet. All logs must be cut 4" over length to allow for trim. Logs that are not at least 4" over the specified length will be scaled as of the next lower even length. Logs less than 8' in length may be purchased subject to conditions quoted below:

Grade specifications: Clear grade—minimum diameter 24". All logs 24" and over in diameter must be clear of all visible defects. Sound sap knots 1" and less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote 4" in diameter or less located in the center of the log will not degrade the log but deduction for the defect must be made in scaling the log.

Select grade—minimum diameter 16". Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must be clear of all defects. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or have 75 per cent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" or less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" in diameter will be permitted for logs 24" and over and up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23" in diameter. This defect will not degrade the log but full deduction for the defect must be made in scaling.

No. 1 grade—minimum diameter 12". Logs 12" to 15" in diameter must be clear of all visible defects. Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 2 clear faces or have at least 50 percent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" or less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" in diameter is permitted for logs 24" and up, up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23", and up to 2" in diameter for logs 12" to 15" diameter. This defect will not degrade the log, but full deduction must be made for the defect when scaling the log.

No. 2 grade—minimum diameter 12". This grade shall include all sound logs above the specified diameter limits that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a No. 1 log.

A cull—shall be considered as any log where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects contains less than 50 percent of the gross board foot scale.

Woods run grade—shall consist of hardwood and cypress logs 12" and up in diameter as produced from the forest that are better than culls and from which no selection of large-sized or high-quality logs has been made. If any large-sized or high-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs must be sold at prices no higher than the No. 2 grade prices if ungraded, or at the applicable grade prices if graded. When any small-sized or low-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woods run price.

A summary of grades as based upon diameters and number of clear faces is given below.

Diameter range	4 clear faces	3 clear faces or 75% of length clear in one continuous section	2 clear faces or 50% of length clear in one continuous section	Other (better than cull)
24" and up	Clear grade	Select grade	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade.
16"–23"	Select grade	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade.
12"–15"	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade.

[1] If sold in conjunction with other species. Ceiling prices will be established for Walnut, Ash and Hickory when purchased on an individual selection basis.

The above prices are for logs f. o. b. cars at rail sidings; f. o. b. barge at towable waters; or delivered to mill by truck from within a distance of 25 miles. If logs are delivered to the mill from a distance in excess of 25 miles a sum not to exceed 10 cents per thousand feet may be added for every additional load mile.

If the buyer takes delivery of logs at any place other than f. o. b. cars at a rail siding, f. o. b. barge at towable waters or at his mill, the buyer must deduct from his ceiling price either

(1) the cost of delivering logs to a rail siding and loading on cars if delivery to mill is by rail;

(2) the cost of delivering logs to towable waters and loading on barges if delivery to mill is by water;

(3) the cost of trucking logs to the mill if delivery to mill is by truck.

If logs are purchased in lengths lower than 8' on a grade basis, the above ceiling prices must be reduced by at least 10 per cent; if logs less than 8' are purchased on a woods run basis, no deduction will be necessary.

Clear logs 10" and 11" in diameter, 8' in length and longer may be purchased at the woods run price; clear logs 10" and 11" in diameter less than 8' in length may be purchased at 90 per cent of the woods run price.

The prices herein are for logs produced in the area described above and will govern for all buying plants purchasing logs in these areas whether or not the buying plants are located in the area.

This amendment shall become effective January 15, 1944.

Upon recommendation of the ODT-ICC Grain and Grain Products Transportation Conservation Committee to the Office of Defense Transportation; upon request of the Office of Defense Transportation, and it appearing that the practice of shipping carload shipments of grain, grain products, grain by-products, and seeds to "notify" or to "advise" to a destination at which the "notify" or "advise" party is not located or has no representative is resulting in delays in unloading, reconsigning, or diverting such carload shipments and delaying the release of cars; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action. It is ordered, that:

§ 95.327 Restrictions on accepting grain shipments—(a) Acceptance of carload shipments of grain, grain products, grain by-products, and seeds covered by order notify, or straight-advise bills of lading. No common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall accept for transportation, transport or move carload shipments of grain, grain products, grain by-products, or seeds:

(2) When consigned to a "notify" or to an "advise" party at the billed destination of the shipment, unless the "notify" or "advise" party is authorized to accept notice of arrival of the shipment and to furnish disposition orders to the carrier's agent at the billed destination.

(b) Tariff provisions suspended. The operation of all tariff rules and regulations insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order is hereby suspended.

(c) Announcement of suspension. Each of such railroads, or its agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k) of this chapter) announcing the suspension of any of the provisions therein, and changing the provisions of such tariffs so as to establish the provisions of this order.

(d) Special and general permits. The provisions of this order shall be subject to any special or general permits issued by the Director of the Bureau of Service, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., to meet specific needs or exceptional circumstances.

(e) Application. (1) This order shall apply to carload shipments moving in intrastate commerce as well as to those moving in interstate commerce.

(2) The provisions of this order shall not be construed to apply to a carload shipment for which a shipping order or bill of lading has been tendered to a common carrier by railroad prior to the effective date of this order. (40 Stat. 101, sec. 402, 41 Stat. 476, Sec. 4, 54 Stat. 901; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)–(17))

It is further ordered, that this order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., January 16, 1944; that a copy of this order and direction be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. In F.R. Doc. 44–399, appearing on page 349 of the issue for Saturday, January 8, 1944, the land description for section 31 of T. 16 N., R. 21 E. should read:

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Division of Public Contracts.

CERTAIN CANNED AND DEHYDRATED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS

In the matter of an exception from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act of contracts for certain canned and dehydrated fruits and vegetables.

Whereas the Secretary of War on December 28, 1943, made written findings that the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. 35) in contracts awarded during the period from January 1, 1944, to the termination of the present war and three months thereafter for the canned and dehydrated fruits and vegetables enumerated in my orders of December 22, 1942 (7 F.R. 10794) and October 16, 1943 (8 F.R. 14353), will seriously impair the conduct of Government business; and

Whereas the Secretary of War has requested that an exception be granted under section 6 of the act to permit the award of contracts during that period for such canned and dehydrated fruits and vegetables without the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act; and

Whereas exceptions have been granted heretofore to permit the award of contracts for such canned and dehydrated fruits and vegetables until December 31, 1943, without including the representations and stipulations of the Public Contracts Act; and

Whereas it appears, on the basis of the facts stated in the findings of the Secretary of War, that justice and public interest will be served by extending the exception orders until December 31, 1944, unless otherwise ordered;

Now, therefore, I do hereby extend the exception orders dated December 22, 1942, and October 16, 1943, pursuant to the powers vested in me by section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U.S.C. 35), until December 31, 1944, unless otherwise ordered.

Dated: December 31, 1943.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[RPS 16, Order 3]

HAWAIIAN RAW SUGAR PRODUCERS AND J. D. AND A. B. SPRECKELS CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ADJUSTABLE PRICING

Order No. 3 under § 1334.16 of Revised Price Schedule No. 16. Raw cane sugar.

An application requesting a change in the applicable maximum prices for raw cane sugars as provided in Revised Price Schedule No. 16, is now pending, which will require extended consideration. The request in particular involved proposed contracts between certain Hawaiian raw sugar producers and J. D. and A. B. Spreckels Company, doing business as to one of its departments under the name and style of Western Sugar Refinery. Contracts between these parties for the year 1943 were approved by the Administrator. The contracts now offered for approval are dated to become effective January 1, 1944. The production and distribution of raw cane sugar covered by proposed contracts is essential to the war effort and domestic economy.

The Administrator has found that authority to use adjustable pricing pending final action on the request for increase in the maximum prices of raw cane sugar applicable to United States Pacific Coast ports is necessary to promote the production and distribution of this essential product. It is further found that such authorization will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. Therefore, in accordance with § 1334.16 of Revised Price Schedule No. 16, It is ordered, That:

(a) Producers of raw cane sugar for delivery at United States Pacific Coast ports may sell and deliver, and purchasers may buy and receive raw cane sugar at said ports at prices to be adjusted upward after delivery to amounts not to exceed the maximum price determined at the time of final action by the Administrator upon the application of producers and refiners, such action to be taken by final disposition of the application, or amendment to the provision of Revised Price Schedule No. 16 applying to maximum prices at United States Pacific Coast ports. Prior to such final action, no payment for raw cane sugars shall be made or received in excess of the maximum prices prevailing at the time of delivery.

(b) This order shall automatically be revoked upon the change by the Office of Price Administration of maximum prices for producers of raw cane sugar sold at United States Pacific Coast ports, or upon denial of the application of producers and J. D. and A. B. Spreckels Company dated November 16, 1943. It may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective January 1, 1944.

Issued this 7th day of January 1944.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

[Rev. General Order 51]

AUTHORIZATION TO FIX COMMUNITY CEILING PRICES

General Order No. 51 [1] is revised and amended to read as follows:

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, and Executive Order No. 9328, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Authority to fix community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for food items.—(1) Sales at retail. Any Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, and such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate Regional Office, may, by order, fix community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices or other dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales at retail of any food item by all sellers (including "retail route sellers", "health food stores", and farmers) in any area or locality within its jurisdiction. No person may sell or offer to sell any such food item at prices higher than the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed by any order issued hereunder.

(2) Other sales. Any Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration and such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate Regional Office, may, by order fix dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales, other than at retail, in any area or locality within its jurisdiction of any food item.

(3) Areas included in more than one district. If the area for which it is deemed appropriate to fix community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices lies within the jurisdiction of more than one district office of the Office of Price Administration, the district office for the district in which the majority of the sellers to be covered by the order is located shall have authority to issue an order fixing community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for all sellers in the marketing area.

(4) Request for community dollars-and-cents ceiling price. If an order fixes a community dollars-and-cents ceiling price for any brand of a food item, the appropriate office may fix a community dollars-and-cents ceiling price for any other brand of the same food, on written request of any seller of that brand in the area covered by the order and on a showing of a reasonable volume of sales of that brand in such area.

(b) Posting.—(1) Selling prices. Every person selling food items at retail must post his selling price for each food item for which a community dollars-and-cents ceiling price is fixed by any order issued hereunder. The selling price must be posted either on the item or at or near the place where the item is offered for sale.

(2) Ceiling prices. Every person selling food items at retail must also post, in a conspicuous place in the store or place of sale, a list of the community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed hereunder for such food items, when that list is supplied by the Office of Price Administration. If the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices established hereunder do not replace the ceiling prices of a seller, he must continue to post his ceiling prices as required by any other applicable regulation.

(3) Group of store. Every person selling food items at retail must post the group his store or selling establishment is in. The group must be determined in accordance with Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422 [2] and 423,[3] or the applicable maximum price regulation covering the sale at retail of the food item for which orders are issued hereunder, or in accordance with this Order or orders issued hereunder. The group must be posted on a sign clearly visible to purchasers, reading "OPA-1", "OPA-2", "OPA-3", or "OPA-4", whichever applies, or on a sign which may be furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Additions allowed for deliveries.—(1) Deliveries. Orders issued hereunder shall set forth the schedule of delivery charges authorized for sellers under the applicable maximum price regulations. These charges shall continue to be applicable only to sellers covered by those regulations.

(2) Mail-order sales. Any person making mail-order sales of any food item for which community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices are established, may add to that ceiling price the actual express charge or postage to the purchaser's address.

(d) Taxes. Any tax upon or incident to the sale of any food item covered by any order issued hereunder, which the statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting separately from the selling price, may be collected by the seller in addition to his selling price, if he states the tax separately.

(e) Indirect price increases. No person shall evade any of the provisions of any order issued hereunder by any stratagem, scheme or device. He must not, as a condition of selling any food, require a customer to buy anything else.

(f) Sales slips and receipts. Every person selling food items at retail must, if he has customarily given a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of custom, every person must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date of the sale, the name and address of the seller, the customer's name, each food item sold, and the price charged for the item.

(g) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order or any order issued hereunder. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(h) Prohibitions. On and after the effective date of any order issued hereunder, any person who sells or offers to sell at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by such order, or who otherwise violates any provisions of this order or any order issued hereunder shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also any person who in the course of trade or business buys at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by any order issued hereunder, is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

(i) Force and effect of orders. Any order issued or action taken in accordance with this order shall have the same force and effect as if issued or taken by the Price Administrator.

(j) Authority of local War Price and Rationing Boards. Each Regional Administrator or each District Director as may be authorized, may instruct any or all of the War Price and Rationing Boards in the region or district within his jurisdiction to receive complaints from the public, investigate prices charged by sellers covered by any order issued hereunder, hold hearings either on complaint or on its own motion, and make appropriate recommendations to its District Office.

(k) Adjustment of prices. Any Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration and any District Office as has been or may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office to fix community dollars-and-cents ceiling prices hereunder, is hereby authorized to adjust for Group 3 or Group 4 stores in its community, that buy from wholesalers, the dollars-and-cents ceiling prices fixed by it for such groups of stores.

(l) Geographical applicability. This order shall apply to the United States including the District of Columbia, but not to its territories and possessions.

(m) Definitions. (1) "Group of store" shall be determined in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422 and 423, or the applicable maximum price regulation covering the sale at retail of the food item for which orders are issued hereunder, or in accordance with this order or orders issued hereunder.

(2) "Group 1 store". A store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent" store with annual gross sales of less than $50,000. A store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined annual gross sales are $500,000 or more.

(3) "Group 2 retail stores". A store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent" store with annual gross sales of $50,000 or more, but less than $250,000.

(4) "Group 3 retail stores". A store is in Group 3 if its annual gross sales are less than $250,000, and if it is not an "independent" store.

(5) "Group 4 retail stores". A store is in Group 4 if its annual gross sales are $250,000 or more.

(6) "Health food stores". A "health food store" is one whose sales to consumers consist principally of especially prepared vitamin-enriched foods customarily included in the trade term "health foods" which are usually sold for special dietary purposes.

(7) "Retail route seller". A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(8) "Sale at retail" means a sale to an ultimate consumer other than to a commercial, industrial or institutional user.

(9) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended, shall apply to the other terms used herein.

This Revised General Order No. 51 shall become effective January 10, 1944.

FIREWOOD IN CONNECTICUT

Order No. G-32 under section 18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region I of the Office of Price Administration by section 18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended by Amendment 33, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Maximum prices for firewood. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver in the State of Connecticut and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business in the State of Connecticut any firewood at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this order may be charged and paid.

(b) Evasion. (1) The price limitations set forth in this order shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to firewood in the State of Connecticut, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(2) Without in any way limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following practices are forbidden:

(i) The sale, delivery, purchase or acceptance of firewood in units other than a cord, halfcord, quartercord, or any multiples thereof, or

(ii) Requiring as a condition of any sale or delivery of firewood that the buyer use the services of the seller in stacking the purchased firewood on the premises of the buyer.

(3) The maximum prices established in this order shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit or by any decrease in the time customarily allowed for payment, and shall be decreased for prompt payment to the same extent that the price would have been decreased on March 1, 1942.

(4) The seller shall furnish to the purchaser at the time of the delivery of firewood a receipt signed by the seller setting forth:

(i) The kind, size, price and number of cords of firewood sold.

(ii) A statement that each cord contains 128 cubic feet of compactly piled wood. If, however, such firewood is in cut lengths of 12", 16", or 24", the statement shall set forth that each such cord contains the quantity of wood sawed from 128 cubic feet of compactly piled wood. Where fractional parts of a cord are sold, the fractional contents shall be similarly described, computed and stated.

(c) Definitions. (1) When used in this order the term

(i) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(ii) A "cord" shall mean (1) a standard cord of 128 cubic feet of compactly piled firewood in 4 foot lengths, or (2) in the case of cut lengths, the amount of firewood cut from a standard cord of 4 foot wood. This order does not recognize the term "running cord" or any other similar term, except as such term may be used to describe a proportion of a cord of wood containing 128 cubic feet.

(iii) "Firewood" means any wood prepared and intended for consumption as fuel.

(iv) "Cordwood" means any firewood so prepared that at least 80% thereof consists of cleft wood or merchantable body wood in the round of desirable species.

(v) "Slab wood" means the refuse except sawdust and bark not adhering to the wood from sawing any logs.

(vi) "Hardwood cordwood" and "hardwood slabwood" means cordwood and slabwood respectively cut from the following deciduous woods: oak, beech, black, yellow, and white birch, hard and soft maple, hickory, ash, cherry, elm and gum.

(vii) "Softwood cordwood" and "softwood slabwood" means cordwood and slabwood respectively cut from any trees other than those set forth in paragraph (c) (1) (vi) of this order.

(viii) "Mixed slabwood" means a mixture of hardwood slabwood and softwood slabwood containing not less than 50% of quantity of hardwood slabwood in the total quantity delivered on any individual sale of mixed slabwood.

(ix) "Delivered" means deposited on or at the premises designated by the buyer.

(2) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the other terms used herein.

(d) Appendix A; maximum prices for firewood. (1) To the maximum prices set forth in this Appendix A, the seller may add a charge at a rate not to exceed $1.00 per cord for his services in neatly stacking firewood in the house or in any covered outbuilding of the buyer if the buyer requests such services.

[Region II Rev. Order G-3 Under RMPR 122]

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE IN DESIGNATED NEW YORK BOROUGHS

Revised Order No. G-3 under § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers.

Pennsylvania anthracite delivered by dealers in the Boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn and Queens, City of New York, State of New York.

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1340.260 as amended, of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and for the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, it is ordered:

(a) Maximum prices established by this order. The maximum prices of dealers for Pennsylvania anthracite, in the sizes and quantities set forth in Schedules I to IV hereof (contained in paragraphs (d) to (g), respectively), delivered to or at any point in the zones described in such Schedules, shall be the applicable zone maximum prices prescribed therein. The maximum delivered price shall be determined by reference to the appropriate schedule of this order covering the zone to which the delivery is made, whether the dealer is located in one of said four zones, or elsewhere. The maximum price for a "yard" sale, as herein defined, shall be determined by reference to the appropriate schedule covering the zone in which the purchaser takes physical possession or custody of the anthracite.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall

(1) Sell or, in the course of, trade or business, buy Pennsylvania anthracite, of the sizes and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein, at prices higher than the applicable maximum prices specified in such schedules, though less than maximum prices may be charged, paid or offered;

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by changing the discounts authorized herein; or charging a price for any service set forth in the schedules higher than the maximum price prescribed therein for such service; or charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by the applicable schedule; or increasing any interest rate on debts over that charged in December 1941; or using any other device by which a price higher than the applicable maximum price is obtained; or using any tying agreement or imposing any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him.

(c) Method of computing maximum prices. The specific maximum prices for sales of Pennsylvania anthracite on a delivered basis, in the sizes and quantities set forth in Schedules I to IV hereof (contained in paragraphs (d) to (g), respectively), shall be computed by deducting from the applicable prices set forth in paragraph (1) (i) of each schedule, the amount of the discounts set forth in paragraph (1) (ii) of each schedule. The amount of such discounts shall be separately stated. There may be added, for certain services actually rendered by the dealer at the request of the purchaser, an amount not in excess of the amount specified in paragraph (1) (iii) of each schedule as the maximum authorized charge for such service, provided such amount is separately stated. The required discounts and the maximum authorized service charges are generally stated in terms of an amount per net ton, or per 100 lbs. In the case of deliveries of fractions of a net ton, or fractions of 100 lbs., respectively, the required discounts and the maximum authorized service charges shall be apportioned accordingly, to the nearest full cent. The specific maximum prices for "yard" sales shall be the applicable prices set forth in paragraph (2) of each schedule.

(d) Schedule I, covering Manhattan and part of the Bronx. Schedule I establishes specific maximum prices for certain sizes of Pennsylvania anthracite, in certain specific quantities, delivered to or at any point within Zone I. The price for anthracite so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price for each size in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined, for the quantity of each size in the combination.

(i) Addition of increases in suppliers' maximum prices prohibited. The specific maximum prices established by this order may not be increased to reflect, in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to a dealer in his suppliers' maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to dealers in their suppliers' maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in suppliers' maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(j) Taxes. A dealer subject to this order may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided he states it separately, the amount of the Federal tax upon the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by him, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of his prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from the dealer by the supplier from whom he purchased. A retail dealer subject to this order may also collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided he states it separately, the amount of the N. Y. C. sales tax payable by such dealer. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, you need not state this tax separately.

(k) Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(l) Storage services. Notwithstanding any prohibitions in this order against the imposition of charges for services other than those specifically authorized herein, a dealer may request the Regional Administrator to establish a price for rendering storage services where, during December 1941, the dealer did not render the same or substantially similar storage service without charge. The application shall set forth in writing:

(1) A detailed description of the services to be rendered.

(2) The classes of purchasers to whom it will be rendered.

(3) Whether the service was rendered in December 1941 and, if so, the charge, if any, then imposed.

(4) Whether the service was rendered after December 1941 and, if so, the charge, if any, imposed.

(5) A proposed price for the service which shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Regional Administrator to be reasonable in relation to the actual costs the dealer will incur in rendering the service.

(6) Any other pertinent information the Regional Administrator may request.

Where the Regional Administrator believes that the establishment of a maximum price for such service will not impede essential distribution of anthracite within the area covered by Order No. G-3, and is otherwise warranted, he shall establish a maximum price therefor. The maximum price for such service shall be a price specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Administrator.

(m) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the Petition shall be filed in the New York Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration.

(n) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(o) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of anthracite hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(p) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Every dealer subject to this order shall post all his maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) Every dealer subject to this order shall, except in the case of Pennsylvania anthracite sold in bags in lots of one hundred pounds or less, not exceeding a total of one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing the name and address of the dealer, the kind, size, and quantity of the solid fuel sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts, the authorized service charges and the taxes, which must be deducted from, or which may be added to, the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of sales of Pennsylvania anthracite in bags in lots of one hundred pounds or less not exceeding a total of one-half ton, every dealer subject to this order shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser or if such dealer during December 1941 customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(q) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to the criminal penalties, civil and enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the New York District Office of the Office of Price Administration, or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(13) "Eastern Queens" refers to that part of the Borough of Queens not included in Western Queens as herein defined.

(14) The sizes of Pennsylvania anthracite described as broken, egg, stove, nut, pea, buckwheat, rice and barley shall refer to the same sizes of the same fuels as were sold and delivered in the boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, and Queens with such designation during December 1941.

Since that amendment increased "delivered sales" prices by 30¢ per net ton and 15¢ per net ½ ton, and "yard sales" prices by 10¢ per net ton, all dealers subject to this Revised Order shall, on and after April 1, 1944, reduce their maximum prices for "delivered sales" as set forth herein by 30¢ per net ton and 15¢ per net ½ ton, and their maximum price for "yard sales" as set forth herein by 10¢ per net ton. No such reduction is required for sales under ½ ton. This roll-back shall be in addition to any further roll-back that may be occasioned by a reduction in supplier's maximum prices.

(t) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator reserves the right at any time to amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof.

(u) Effect of order on Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. This order shall supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 except as to any sales or deliveries of solid fuels not specifically subject to this order.

(v) Effect of order on Order No. G–3 as originally issued, and as amended, and on Order No. G–23. Order No. G–3 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, as issued on February 3, 1943, and as subsequently amended, is hereby revoked in full as of the effective date of this order. This order also supersedes Order No. G–23 issued under that regulation on November 24, 1943, to the extent that Order No. G–23 was applicable to Order No. G–3.

[Region VI Order G–1 Under RMPR 271]

POTATOES AND ONIONS IN ILLINOIS, ETC.

Order No. G–1 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271. Potatoes and onions. Order adjusting maximum prices of potatoes and onions sold by intermediate sellers in Region VI.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region VI of the Office of Price Administration by § 1351.1001, article II, section II (c) (7) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum markups for intermediate sellers' sales of white flesh table stock potatoes and dry onions and provides a method of calculating dollars and cents maximum prices in Region VI. The maximum prices herein established shall be the only maximum prices for the sales covered except to the extent that any prices established by this order are inconsistent with the prices for the same commodity established by any community flat pricing order issued under General Order No. 51, in which case the prices established by such community flat pricing order shall be the maximum price for such sales. Schedule A which contains the price schedules put in effect by this order is divided into two subsections establishing maximum prices for carlot and trucklot receivers, and distributing wholesalers. A method of permitting carlot and trucklot receivers who customarily perform the distributing wholesaler's function to use the maximum prices of the distributing wholesaler is given in section (c). The definitions of "distributing wholesaler" and "carlot or trucklot receiver" and other terms used in this order are found in section (d). No one may sell or offer to sell white potatoes or dry onions on and after December 29, 1943, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed under this order except as modified by section (c).

(b) Maximum prices for intermediate sellers. On the effective date of this order and on Wednesday of each week thereafter the seller shall calculate his maximum prices for each grade of potatoes or dry onions by first determining his base price as provided in section 11 (a) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271. The seller shall then determine whether he is a carlot or trucklot receiver or a distributing wholesaler. He shall then add to his base price for each grade of potatoes or dry onions the appropriate markup as specified in Schedule A of this order for the particular distributive function which he performs on each individual sale.

(c) When a carlot or trucklot receiver may use the price of a distributing wholesaler. All carlot and trucklot receivers may compute their maximum prices in accordance with the prices in Schedule A (2) for distributing wholesalers when making the applicable type of sale until January 12, 1944. A carlot or trucklot receiver who has received approval from the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration or from any district office in Region VI to act as a distributing wholesaler in the sale of lettuce as provided for in Order G–1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 is hereby considered to be a distributing wholesaler under this order and may continue to use the distributing wholesaler's markup in Schedule A (2) without further application to or order from the Office of Price Administration Regional or District Offices. Any other carlot or trucklot receiver who, during the four month period from July 1, 1942, to November 1, 1942, or if not in business during that period, during the four month period most closely subsequent to that period, made 65% or more of his total dollar volume of sales of fresh fruits and vegetables to retailers, hotels, restaurants and institutions and who desires to use the maximum prices provided for distributing wholesalers shall file with the appropriate district office of the Office of Price Administration serving his community an application containing the following information:

(1) A statement that the application is being made pursuant to section (c) of Regional Order No. G–1 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271 for permission to use distributing wholesalers maximum prices as set forth in Schedule A (2).

(2) The amount of sales in dollars of fresh fruits and vegetables from July 1 to November 1, 1942, or if the applicant was not in business during that period, during the four month period most closely subsequent to that four month period.

(3) The amount of sales in dollars to retailers, hotels, restaurants and institutions for the same period.

No carlot or trucklot receiver may use the distributing wholesaler's markups in his maximum prices after January 12, 1944, unless he has qualified by reason of action previously taken under Order No. G–1 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 as above set forth or unless he has received permission from his district office of the Office of Price Administration pursuant to an application filed under this section.

Pursuant to the authority conferred by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended and section 11 (c) (7) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, It is ordered, That each of the district directors within Region VI be and they are hereby authorized to receive applications for reclassification filed under this order and to grant or deny permission for carlot or trucklot receivers to use the markups of distributing wholesalers. Any action taken by any district director pursuant to this delegation of authority shall have the same force and effect as if taken by the Price Administrator or by the Regional Price Administrator. The Office of Price Administration reserves the right to withdraw permission given any carlot or trucklot receiver to use the applicable markup for distributing wholesalers and if notice is given to such effect, or if the seller qualifies as a distributing wholesaler under action taken under Order No. G–1 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 and a withdrawal of permission is issued under such order, the seller must from that time forward use the prices for carlot or trucklot receivers in Schedule A (1).

(d) Definitions. 1. "Carlot or trucklot receiver" means any intermediate seller who purchases potatoes or onions in carlot or trucklot quantities. Except as modified by section (c) of this order, a person is a carlot or trucklot receiver for all potatoes or onions received in this manner.

2. "Distributing wholesaler" means any intermediate seller who purchases potatoes or onions in less than carlot or trucklot quantities and sells to retailers, hotels, restaurants or institutions.

3. The definition of other terms used in this order will be found in section 8 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271 or shall have the same meaning as otherwise provided in that regulation.

(e) Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order shall be applicable to all sales pursuant to which delivery is made within the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Lake County in the state of Indiana.

(f) The maximum prices which are set forth in this order shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to potatoes or onions alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation or any other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(g) Except as otherwise provided herein the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271 shall remain in full force and effect.

(h) This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

This order shall become effective on the 29th day of December 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

[Region III Order G-1 Under RMPR 271]

Dry Onions in Cleveland Region

Order No. G-1 under revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271. Order adjusting maximum wholesale prices of dry onions sold in Region III.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by § 1351.1001, Article II, section 11 (c) (7) (iii) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for dry onions when sold by intermediate sellers. It provides a method of calculating dollars-and-cents maximum prices for all sales by intermediate sellers in Region III. All terms not defined herein shall have the same meaning as provided in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, as the same now exists or hereafter may be amended. The maximum prices herein established shall be the only maximum prices for the sales covered, except to the extent that any prices established by this order are inconsistent with the prices for the same grade of dry onions established by any Community Flat Pricing Orders issued under General Order No. 51 by any District Office, in which case the prices established by such Community Flat Pricing Orders shall be the effective prices for such sales.

(b) Maximum prices for intermediate sellers. On the effective date of this order and on Wednesday of each week thereafter, the seller shall calculate his maximum prices for each grade of onion by determining his base price as provided in Article II, section 11 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271. The seller shall next determine whether he is a first or second intermediate seller as defined in this order. He shall then add to his base price for each grade and variety of dry onions the appropriate mark-up as specified in Schedule A of this order for the particular distributive function which he performs on each individual sale.

(c) Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order shall be applicable to all sales pursuant to which delivery is made at any point within the States of Indiana, (except the County of Lake), Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, and West Virginia.

(d) Definitions. (1) First intermediate seller means an intermediate seller at any receiving point who has purchased any quantity of dry onions from a country shipper, either directly or through a broker or grower's agent, or from a carlot or trucklot distributor, and who resells such onions in less than carlot or truck-lot quantities.

(2) Second intermediate seller means an intermediate seller who has purchased dry onions in less than carlot or truck-lot quantities from another intermediate seller and who resells such onions in less than carlot or trucklot quantities. An intermediate seller can be a second intermediate seller in selling only those quantities of onions purchased from another intermediate seller in less than carlot or trucklot quantities.

(e) The provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 271, as to sales and transactions with respect to onions, shall not be affected by this order, except as such provisions are specifically changed or modified herein.

This order may be modified, amended, or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective January 3, 1944.

STANDARD OIL CO.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 7th day of January 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission pursuant to section 5 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) ("Standard") for an order that it has ceased to be a holding company. The application states that on August 12, 1943, Standard registered as a holding company under section 6 of the act, by virtue of its ownership of all the voting stocks of four gas utility subsidiaries (Hope Natural Gas Company, The East Ohio Gas Company, The Peoples Natural Gas Company and The River Gas Company). Thereafter, pursuant to a plan filed under section 11 (e), and approved by the Commission (Holding Company Act Release No. 4617), Standard caused Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Consolidated") to be organized and Standard tranferred to it all the stock of the four gas utility subsidiaries and also the stock of New York State Natural Gas Corporation, a non-utility pipeline subsidiary, in exchange for all the shares of stock of Consolidated, which stock was distributed by Standard to its stockholders. The application further states that Standard has fully consummated the transactions proposed in the plan by completely divesting itself of all of the stock of Consolidated and has ceased directly and indirectly to own or control the voting securities of these former subsidiaries or any other public utility or holding company within the meaning of the act.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said matter and that said application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing in this proceeding be held at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., on the 21st day of January 1944, in such room as may be designated on such day by the hearing room clerk. At such hearing, cause shall be shown why such application shall be granted.

All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate shall notify the Commission in the manner provided in Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice on or before January 20, 1944.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing above ordered. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the requested declaration of status is consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder.

2. Whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to impose any terms and conditions and, if so, what terms and conditions should be imposed.

PART 623—CLASSIFICATION PROCEDURE

[Amdt. 197]

Pursuant to the authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 623.2 to read as follows:

§ 623.2 Information considered for classification. The registrant's classification shall be made solely on the basis of the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40), Affidavit of Dependent Over 18 Years of Age (Form 40A), Affidavit—Occupational Classification (Form 42), or Affidavit—Occupational Classification (Form 42A), and such other written information as may be contained in his file: Provided, however, When a registrant has failed or hereafter fails to return his Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) within the time allowed by § 621.2 or when he has failed or hereafter fails to provide the local board with any other information concerning his status which he is requested or required to furnish, the local board shall proceed with his classification without such information. Oral information should not be considered unless it is summarized in writing and the summary placed in the registrant's file. Under no circumstances should the local board rely upon information received by a member personally unless such information is reduced to writing and placed in the registrant's file.

2. Amend § 623.11 to read as follows:

§ 623.11 Registrants transferred for classification. (a) After returning the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) and before the local board of origin has undertaken the classification of a registrant, he may be transferred to another local board for classification if he is so far from his local board as to make complying with notices a hardship.

(b) After returning the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40), a registrant may be transferred to another local board for classification, at any time, when a majority of the members of the local board cannot act on his case because of disqualification under the provisions of § 603.55 or when a majority of the members of the local board, because of any conflicting interest, bias, or other reason, withdraw from consideration of the registrant's classification.

3. Amend § 623.21 to read as follows:

§ 623.21 Order in which classes are to be considered. (a) Upon undertaking to classify any registrant, consideration shall be given to the following classes in the order listed and the registrant shall be classified in the first class for which grounds are established:

Class I-C.	Class II-C.
Class IV-A.	Class II-B.
Class IV-D.	Class II-A.
Class IV-B.	Class III-D.
Class III-C.

(b) If the registrant is not classified in one of the classes set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, consideration shall next be given to his classification in Class IV-C. If the only reason for considering the classification of a registrant in Class IV-C is that he may not be acceptable to the armed forces due to the fact that he is a citizen or subject of a certain country or because of his ancestry, his acceptability shall be determined and he shall be placed in Class IV-C only if it is determined that he "is not" acceptable to the armed forces.

(c) If the registrant is not classified in one of the classes set forth in paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section, it shall be determined whether the registrant should be classified in Class IV–F (moral) because of being disqualified for service under the moral standards of the armed forces. If, under such moral standards, the registrant is disqualified for service in the armed forces and he does not meet the requirements permitting application for waiver of such moral disqualification, he shall be placed in Class IV–F. If, under such moral standards, the registrant is disqualified for service in the armed forces but he does meet the requirements permitting application for waiver of such moral disqualification, application for such waiver shall be made and the registrant placed in Class IV–F only if the armed forces decline to grant such waiver. If, under such moral standards, the registrant cannot qualify for service in the armed forces unless an order suspending civil custody is secured, the proper civil authority shall be requested to issue an order suspending such civil custody for the period of time that the registrant is in the armed forces and the registrant shall be placed in Class IV–F only if the proper civil authority declines to issue such an order.

(d) If the registrant is not classified in one of the classes set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section, he shall be classified in Class I–A: Provided, If he claims to be a conscientious objector, the claim shall be determined; and, if he is found to be a conscientious objector to combatant military service only, he shall be classified in Class I–A–O or, if he is found to be a conscientious objector to both combatant and noncombatant military service, he shall be classified in Class IV–E.

4. Amend § 623.31 to read as follows:

§ 623.31 Manner in which registrants are to be examined. (a) Physical examination of registrants classified in Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E, except those forwarded for induction prior to February 1, 1944, will be accomplished under the provisions of Part 629.

(b) Registrants forwarded for induction or for pre-induction physical examination during the month of January, 1944, shall, whenever possible, be given a serological test and the results of such test shall be sent with the registrant when he is forwarded for induction or for pre-induction physical examination. It shall be the duty of the registrant to present himself for and submit to serological tests at the times and places designated by the local board.

5. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.32 in its entirety.

6. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.33 in its entirety.

7. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.34 in its entirety.

8. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.35 in its entirety.

9. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.41 in its entirety.

9a. Amend the centerhead preceding § 623.51 to read as follows: "Classification after physical examination".

10. Amend § 623.51 to read as follows:

§ 623.51 Registrant disqualified for service. If, under the provisions of Part 629, the registrant is found to be disqualified for service, the local board shall reopen his classification and classify him in Class IV–F.

11. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.52 in its entirety.

12. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.53 in its entirety.

13. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.54 in its entirety.

14. Amend paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 623.61 to read as follows:

§ 623.61 Classification and change of classification. (a) As soon as practicable after the local board has classified or changed the classification of a registrant, it shall mail a notice thereof on a Notice of Classification (Form 57) to the registrant. (The date on which the deferment of the registrant terminates will be shown if he is classified in Class II–A or Class II–B.) At the same time, it shall mail a Classification Advice (Form 59) to the following:

(1) Every person whose signed Affidavit — Occupational Classification (Form 42) or Affidavit—Occupational Classification (Form 42A) is on file in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53);

(2) Every person whose signed Affidavit of Dependent Over 18 Years of Age (Form 40A) is on file in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53); and

(3) Any other person authorized to request the reopening of the registrant's classification under the provisions of § 626.2 and whose request that the registrant's classification be reopened is on file in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

* * * * * * *

(c) When the local board classifies or changes the classification of a registrant, it shall record such classification on the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40) and the Classification Record (Form 100).

14a. Amend the centerhead preceding § 623.71 to read as follows: "Determination of acceptability of certain aliens".

15. Amend paragraph (a) of § 623.71 to read as follows:

§ 623.71 Steps to be taken by registrant and local board. (a) The Director of Selective Service will advise local boards that certain registrants' acceptability for service in the armed forces must be determined because they are citizens or subjects of certain countries. When, under the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 623.21, the local board is considering whether such registrant should be placed in Class IV–C, an Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) shall be forwarded to such registrant.

16. Amend § 623.72 to read as follows:

§ 623.72 Steps to be taken by State Director of Selective Service before action by armed forces. The State Director of Selective Service, when he receives from a local board an original and three copies of an Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304), shall (1) enter an acknowledgement thereof upon the receipt attached to the State Headquarters Alien Record (Form 306), (2) mail such receipt to the local board, (3) enter the date of receipt thereof on the State Headquarters Alien Record (Form 306), (4) transmit the original and all three copies thereof to the Commanding General of the Service Command, (5) enter the date of such transmittal upon the State Headquarters Alien Record (Form 306) and (6) file the State Headquarters Alien Record (Form 306) in an alphabetical file of pending alien cases.

17. Amend § 623.73 to read as follows:

§ 623.73 Steps to be taken by armed forces. The Commanding General of the Service Command will endorse on the original and all three copies of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) that such registrant either "is, if otherwise qualified," acceptable to the armed forces or "is not" acceptable to the armed forces. If such endorsement indicates that the registrant "is, if otherwise qualified," acceptable to the armed forces, the Commanding General of the Service Command will retain one copy of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) and forward the original and two copies to the State Director of Selective Service from whom they were originally received. If such endorsement indicates the registrant "is not" acceptable to the armed forces, the Commanding General of the Service Command will retain the original and one copy of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) and forward two copies thereof to the State Director of Selective Service from whom they were originally received.

18. Amend paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 623.74 to read as follows:

§ 623.74 Steps to be taken by State Director of Selective Service after action by armed forces. (a) The State Director of Selective Service shall carefully check the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) received by him from the Commanding General of the Service Command to make certain that the endorsement thereon shows whether the registrant "is, if otherwise qualified," or "is not" acceptable to the armed forces.

(b) The State Director of Selective Service shall then enter upon the State Headquarters Alien Record (Form 306) the date upon which the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) was received from the Commanding General of the Service Command and shall also enter thereon whether such registrant was found to be acceptable, if otherwise qualified, or not acceptable to the armed forces.

19. Amend § 623.75 to read as follows:

§ 623.75 Steps to be taken by local board after action by armed forces. (a) When the local board receives from the State Director of Selective Service the original and one copy of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) which bears the endorsement of the armed forces showing the registrant "is, if otherwise qualified," acceptable to the armed forces, or one copy of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) which bears the endorsement of the armed forces showing the registrant "is not" acceptable to the armed forces, it shall take the following action:

(1) Change the registrant's classification to Class IV–C, if the registrant "is not" acceptable to the armed forces; or

(2) Complete the registrant's classification in the same manner as in the case of any other registrant, if the registrant "is, if otherwise qualified," acceptable to the armed forces.

(b) The local board shall also:

(1) If the registrant has been found to be acceptable, if otherwise qualified, forward the original of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) to the examination station at the time the registrant is forwarded for pre-induction physical examination and to the induction station at the time the registrant is forwarded for induction and file the remaining copy in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53);

(2) If the registrant has been found to be not acceptable, file the copy of the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53); and

(3) Record the action of the armed forces and the date upon which it received the Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) from the State Director of Selective Service with the endorsement of the armed forces thereon in the blank columns of the Classification Record C (Form 100A) and under "Minutes of Other Actions" on the back of the Selective Service Questionnaire (Form 40).

20. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.76 in its entirety.

21. Amend the regulations by deleting § 623.77 in its entirety.

22. Amend the regulations by adding a new section to be known as § 623.81 to read as follows, preceded by the centerhead "Determination of Acceptability of Certain Citizens":

§ 623.81 Determination of acceptability of certain registrants who are United States citizens. The Director of Selective Service will advise local boards that certain registrants' acceptability for service in the armed forces must be determined because of their ancestry. This determination shall be made in the manner prescribed by the Director of Selective Service. A registrant whose acceptability for service must be determined because of his ancestry shall comply with all orders of his local board issued in connection with such determination.

23. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

DUTIES OF REGISTRANT UPON RECEIVING ORDER TO REPORT FOR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

§ 629.1 Who will be examined. (a) Every registrant, before he is ordered to report for induction, shall be given a pre-induction physical examination under the provisions of this part unless (1) he signs a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) or (2) he is a delinquent.

(b) The armed forces will not accept the results of a pre-induction physical examination after 90 days. Therefore, when a registrant's induction will shortly occur and it appears that the date fixed for his induction will be more than 90 days after the date of his pre-induction physical examination, he will be given a new pre-induction physical examination before he is ordered to report for induction unless the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service directs otherwise.

§ 629.2 Order to report pre-induction physical examination. (a) In accordance with instructions of the Director of Selective Service, the State Director of Selective Service will issue to each local board Call Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 224) specifying thereon the number of registrants to be delivered for pre-induction physical examination and the time and place fixed for such delivery.

(b) The local board shall mail an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) to a sufficient number of registrants who have been classified in Class I–A or Class I–A–O under the provisions of § 623.2I to fill each Call Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 224) which it receives. In filling such calls, the local board, as far as practicable, shall first select volunteers, then nonfathers, and finally fathers, and within each group shall make such selections in sequence of order numbers without regard to whether the registrant has requested or will request a personal appearance before the local board and without regard to whether an appeal has been or will be taken.

(c) The local board shall also mail an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) to each registrant classified in Class IV–E when his order number is reached (without regard to whether he has requested or will request a personal appearance before the local board and without regard to whether an appeal has been or will be taken) in the process of ordering Class I–A and Class I–A–O registrants to report for pre-induction physical examination under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) The local board may also mail an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) to any registrant (1) who is classified in a class other than Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E, if it determines that his induction will shortly occur, or (2) when directed to do so by the Director of Selective Service or the State Director of Selective Service.

§ 629.3 Preparing records for a group ordered to report for pre-induction physical examination. (a) As soon as the local board has mailed Orders to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Forms 215) to all registrants who are directed to appear for such pre-induction physical examination at a particular time and place, it shall:

(1) Prepare in quadruplicate a Physical Examination List (Form 217), entering thereon the name and order number of each such registrant and indicating in column 3 thereof whether such registrant is a nonfather or a father.

(2) Prepare the original, the first copy, and the second copy of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) for each such registrant, and complete section I thereof.

(3) Prepare the original and copy of Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) for each such registrant, placing thereon the local board stamp, and the registrant's name and order number.

(4) Assemble and attach to the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) the prepared original and copy of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218); any waiver of disqualification, order terminating civil custody, Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) or Statement of United States Citizen of Japanese Ancestry (Form 304A) bearing the armed forces endorsement of acceptability for military service; all records available bearing upon the medical, social, and educational history of such registrant; and all other information that should be considered by the armed forces in determining the fitness of the registrant for military service.

(b) Whenever a registrant referred to in paragraph (a) is transferred to another local board for pre-induction physical examination, a notation of such transfer shall be made in column 3 of the Physical Examination List (Form 217) and all of the other records of such registrant prepared under paragraph (a) shall be transmitted to the local board to which such registrant is transferred for pre-induction physical examination in the manner and at the time provided in § 629.11.

§ 629.4 Local board physical examination authorized for registrants who request it. (a) When a registrant believes that he has a disqualifying defect which is manifest, as listed in List of Defects (Form 220), he may present himself for examination at the office of the local board on or before the date specified in the "Important Notice to Registrants" portion of his Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215). If the registrant claims that he has a disqualifying defect which is manifest, as listed in List of Defects (Form 220), the member or clerk of the local board to whom such registrant presents himself shall, from the information received from the registrant, complete (a) and (b) of Item 18 of section II of the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and the registrant shall certify to the correctness of such entries in (c) and (d) of Item 18. The member or clerk of the local board shall then refer the registrant to the local board examining physician for examination and it shall be the duty of the registrant to present himself to the local board examining physician at the time and place designated by the member or clerk of the local board and to submit to such examination as the local board examining physician shall direct.

(b) When, because of a physical defect, a registrant is unable to personally present himself for examination, a reputable physician may file an affidavit, or an authorized representative of a Federal or State agency may file an official statement with the local board stating (1) the character of the defect, (2) that the physician has personal professional knowledge thereof, or that the representative has official knowledge thereof, and (3) that the registrant is unable to personally present himself for examination due to the character of the defect. The local board shall refer any affidavit or official statement which it receives under the provisions of this paragraph to the local board examining physician for review.

(c) The local board examining physician shall (1) examine each registrant who presents himself for examination pursuant to the direction of a member or clerk of the local board and (2) review each affidavit of a reputable physician or official statement of a representative of a Federal or State agency referred to him by the local board. From such examination or review, the local board examining physician shall determine whether the registrant has one of the defects listed in the List of Defects (Form 220) and will record his findings in Item 19 of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221).

(d) When no local board examining physician is available, the local board, to the extent that it is capable of doing so, shall make the examination, review, and finding provided for in paragraph (c) of this section.

(e) If the local board determines that the registrant has a defect which disqualifies him for military service, it shall:

(1) Classify or reclassify him in Class IV–F and immediately mail him a Notice of Classification (Form 57), and

(2) Note the fact that he has been found disqualified for service and classified in Class IV–F in column 3 of the Physical Examination List (Form 217).

TRANSFER FOR PRE-INDUCTION PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

§ 629.11 Certain registrants may request transfer. (a) Any registrant who has received an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) and who is so far from his own local board that reporting to his own local board would be a hardship may be transferred for pre-induction physical examination (including local board physical examination under § 629.4 when applicable) to the local board having jurisdiction of the area in which he is at that time located.

(b) Any such registrant desiring to be so transferred shall immediately report to the local board having jurisdiction of the area in which he is at that time located; present his Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215); and complete, in quadruplicate, the request portion of Transfer Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 216).

(c) The local board with which such registrant files such request shall investigate the circumstances of the registrant's absence from his own local board area. If it finds that he does not have a good reason for his absence, it shall endorse its disapproval upon his request; mail the original thereof to the registrant's own local board; mail a copy to the registrant; and file the remaining copies. Such registrant will then be required to report in accordance with instructions contained in the Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) which he received from his own local board.

(d) If the local board with which the registrant files such request finds that he has a good reason for his absence from his own local board area and that he is so far from his own local board area that it would be a hardship for him to return to his own local board area for his pre-induction physical examination, it shall endorse its approval upon his request; mail the original and one copy by airmail (unless ordinary mail is as expeditious), to the registrant's own local board; mail a copy to the registrant; and file the remaining copy.

(e) Immediately upon receiving the approved Transfer Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 216), the registrant's own local board shall endorse on the original thereof the order transferring the registrant for pre-induction physical examination. It shall then mail the original of the Transfer Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 216) to the local board to which the registrant is being transferred for pre-induction physical examination and shall file the copy in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53). It shall also mail to the local board to which the registrant is being transferred for pre-induction physical examination, the original and all copies of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and all other records referred to in subparagraph 4 of paragraph (a) of § 629.3.

(f) The local board to which such registrant is transferred for pre-induction physical examination, when it receives the papers from the registrant's own local board as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, shall prepare and mail to the registrant a new Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) and shall add the name of the registrant to its Physical Examination List (Form 217) indicating in the Remarks column that the registrant is a transfer from another local board.

(g) When the transferred registrant's examination has been completed or if he fails to report for such examination, the local board to which such registrant was transferred for pre-induction physical examination shall forward all the papers with reference to such registrant to his own local board.

§ 629.12 Director of Selective Service may direct transfer. (a) The Director of Selective Service may direct that a particular registrant or a registrant who comes within a described group of registrants be transferred for pre-induction physical examination to such local board or local boards as he shall designate.

(b) In each such case, the registrant's own local board shall complete Transfer Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 216) by writing on the face of the request "By direction of the Director of Selective Service" and by endorsing the order transferring the registrant to the designated local board in the manner directed by the Director of Selective Service. Thereafter, the procedure described in paragraphs (e), (f), and (g) of § 629.11 shall be followed.

PRE-INDUCTION PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

§ 629.21 Duty of registrant to report for and submit to pre-induction physical examination. When the local board mails to a registrant an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215), it shall be the duty of the registrant to report for such examination at the time and place fixed in such order unless, after the date the Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) is mailed and prior to the time fixed therein for the registrant to report for his pre-induction physical examination, he has received from the local board a Notice of Classification (Form 57) advising him that he has been placed in Class IV–F. It shall also be the duty of each such registrant upon reporting for pre-induction physical examination (1) to follow the instructions of a member or clerk of the local board as to the manner in which he will be transported to the location where his pre-induction physical examination will take place, (2) to obey the instructions of the leader or assistant leaders appointed for the group being forwarded for pre-induction physical examination, (3) to appear for and submit to such examination as the commanding officer of the induction station shall direct, and (4) to follow the instructions of a member or clerk of the local board as to the manner in which he will be transported on his return trip from the place where his pre-induction physical examination takes place.

§ 629.22 Forwarding registrants for pre-induction physical examination. When the registrants who are to be forwarded for pre-induction physical examination have assembled, the local board shall proceed as follows:

(a) The roll shall be called, using the previously prepared Physical Examination List (Form 217) and any absences shall be recorded in the Remarks column.

(b) As each registrant's name is called he shall be observed by a member, or clerk, of the local board. If the member or clerk of the local board knows or sees a registrant who he believes may be disqualified for military service because of a manifestly disqualifying defect listed in the List of Defects (Form 220) the registrant shall not be forwarded for pre-induction physical examination on that day but shall be given a local board physical examination as provided in § 629.4 and if not disqualified shall then be forward for a pre-induction physical examination.

(c) A leader and assistant leaders shall be appointed and furnished with proper credentials.

(d) The leader shall be given the following:

(1) The original and all copies of the Physical Examination List (Form 217).

(2) For each registrant being forwarded, the original and both copies of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and the original and copy of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) and other records referred to in subparagraph (4) of paragraph (a) of § 629.3.

(3) Transportation and meal and lodging requests for the group, both for the trip to the induction station and for the return trip.

The leader shall be instructed to deliver the original and copies of the Physical Examination List (Form 217), all Reports of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221), all Certificates of Fitness (Form 218), and other information to the commanding officer of the induction station or his representative. He shall be instructed to return any unused portions of the transportation requests or any unused meal and lodging requests to the local board.

(e) The local board shall instruct all registrants in the group that it is their duty to obey the instructions of the leader or assistant leaders during the time they are going to and returning from the induction station; that they will be met by proper representatives of the armed forces when they arrive at the induction station; that while they are at the induction station, they will be subject to and must obey the orders of the representatives of the armed forces; that they must present themselves for and submit to such examination as the commanding officer of the induction station shall direct; that they will be returned to the local board when the examination is completed.

§ 629.23 Request for immediate induction. (a) Any registrant may sign a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) before he leaves the local board for the induction station for the purpose of taking his pre-induction physical examination. If he does so, he will be forwarded to the induction station for immediate induction, and will be listed on a Delivery List (Form 151) and crossed off of any Physical Examination List (Form 217) upon which he appears.

(b) Any registrant may sign a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) after he arrives at the induction station for the purpose of taking his pre-induction physical examination. If he does so and he is found to be acceptable for military service, he will be immediately inducted. Each registrant inducted under the provisions of this paragraph will be listed on the Delivery List (Form 151) prepared for registrants delivered to fill the next call of the branch of service into which he was inducted and the fact that he was previously inducted, together with the date of such induction, will be noted in column 3 of such Delivery List (Form 151).

(c) When a registrant is inducted under the provisions of this section, he shall be immediately classified in Class I–C and shall be counted towards filling the next call of the branch of service into which he was inducted.

ACTION TAKEN AFTER PRE-INDUCTION PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

§ 629.31 Records completed at induction station. (a) After pre-induction physical examination, the armed forces will:

(1) Complete sections III and IV, Items 69 and 70 of section V, and, if the registrant is rejected, Item 71 of section V of the original, the first copy, and the second copy of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221). The armed forces will stamp at the top of page 1 of the original, the first copy, and the second copy of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) either "Army—General Service," "Army—Limited Service," or "Navy" except when the registrant is rejected or his status is not finally determined because of incomplete records or serology which is not satisfactory.

(2) Complete the original and copy of Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) for each registrant who is accepted or rejected. When the serology of an accepted registrant is positive, Item 8 of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) will also be completed.

(3) Complete Item 6 of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) for each registrant whose status is not determined because his serology is not satisfactory.

(4) Complete Item 7 of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) for each registrant whose status is not determined because of incomplete records.

(5) Complete entries in column 4 of Physical Examination List (Form 217).

(b) After completing the records in the manner provided in paragraph (a) of this section, the induction station will return all records to the local board except (1) for registrants inducted, it will retain the original of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221), and (2) it will retain one copy of the Physical Examination List (Form 217); forward one copy of such list to the Director of Selective Service, 10th Floor, Gimbel Building, 35 S. 9th Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and forward one copy of such list to the State Director of Selective Service.

§ 629.32 Mailing Certificate of Fitness to registrant accepted or rejected. When a Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) indicates that a registrant has been accepted for the Army or the Navy or that a registrant has been rejected, the local board shall immediately mail the original of such certificate to the registrant.

§ 629.33 Action when further serology requested for accepted registrant. When it is indicated in Item 8 on a registrant's Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) that his serology is "Positive" and it is requested that the registrant be given further serological tests, the local board shall direct the registrant to submit to such further serological tests as may be necessary to determine whether his serology is "Definitely Positive" or "Definitely Negative" and it shall be the duty of the registrant to present himself for and submit to such serological tests at the time and place fixed by the local board. The results of such serological tests shall be attached to the Original of the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and shall be forwarded with the registrant when he is forwarded for induction.

§ 629.34 Action when registrant's status not determined. (a) If the induction station returns the records of a registrant without determining his status:

(1) If it is indicated in Item 6 of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) of such registrant that his status has not been determined because his serology is not satisfactory and it is requested that the registrant be given further serological tests, the local board shall direct the registrant to submit to such further serological tests as may be necessary to determine whether his serology is "Definitely Positive" or "Definitely Negative" and it shall be the duty of such registrant to present himself for and submit to such serological tests at the time and place fixed by the local board.

(2) If it is indicated in Item 7 of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) of such registrant that his status has not been determined because his records were incomplete, the local board shall secure the required records.

(b) The results of further serological tests and spinal fluid survey, if given, or the required records secured under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall be mailed to the induction station together with the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and all other records which were transmitted to the induction station at the time the registrant was forwarded for pre-induction physical examination.

(c) The induction station will then determine the acceptability and will complete the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) of the registrant. If the induction station is unable to determine whether such registrant is acceptable to the Army or to the Navy or should be rejected, it will request that the registrant be again forwarded to the induction station for further pre-induction examination. Upon receiving such a request from the induction station, the local board will again mail to the registrant an Order to Report Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215), note his special status in the Remarks column of the Physical Examination List (Form 217), and again forward him to the induction station for completion of his pre-induction physical examination.

§ 629.35 Action when it is found that the registrant is disqualified for service. If, in carrying out the provisions of § 629.33 or § 629.34, it is determined, as a result of a spinal fluid survey, that a registrant has cerebrospinal syphilis or, as a result of other examinations, that a registrant has cardiovascular or visceral syphilis and, in either case, a statement to that effect is filed with the local board by a Public Health Officer, State Medical Officer, or a local board examining physician or if, for any other reason the registrant is found to be completely disqualified for service, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be placed in Class IV–F and neither he nor his records shall be forwarded for further consideration by the armed forces.

SPECIAL CASES

§ 629.41 Director to determine. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this part, the Director of Selective Service under such procedures as he prescribes and based upon such information concerning the registrant's physical and mental fitness as he specifies, may direct a local board to classify a registrant in Class IV–F or as available for service. When he does so, the local board shall classify the registrant as directed.

2. The foregoing amendment to Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

Director.

(c) The local board shall enter in the Classification Record (Form 100) the date it transmits the registrant's file to the board of appeal or the State Director of Selective Service, as the case may be.

3. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

(b) The term "child" as used in paragraph (a) of this section means a legitimate or illegitimate child from the date of its conception, a child legally adopted, a stepchild, a foster child, and a person who is supported in good faith by the registrant in a relationship similar to that of parent and child but shall not include any person 18 years of age or over unless he is physically or mentally handicapped.

3. Amend paragraph (a) of § 622.33 to read as follows:

§ 622.33 Certain relatives defined. (a) The term "child" as used in these regulations, except in § 622.32, means a legitimate child born prior to September 15, 1942, a stepchild, adopted child, foster child, or a person who is in the relationship of child to the registrant, who became such prior to December 8, 1941, who is less than eighteen years of age, or who by reason of mental or physical defects is incapable of self-support, who is unmarried, and with whom the registrant has maintained a bona fide family relationship in their home since December 7, 1941, or since the date of birth if such date is later than December 7, 1941.

4. Amend § 622.41 to read as follows:

§ 622.41 Class IV–A: Man deferred by reason of age. In Class IV–A shall be placed every registrant liable for training and service who has attained the forty-fifth anniversary of the day of his birth and (1) who has not been inducted into the land or naval forces, or (2) who after being inducted into the land or naval forces has been separated therefrom under circumstances which require his reclassification under the provisions of paragraph (c) of § 623.54: Provided, That if and when the Director of Selective Service advises the local board that such a registrant is acceptable to the land or naval forces, such registrant may file with his local board a written request that he be inducted in which case he shall be classified without reference to his age, and if he is not placed in a deferred classification he may be inducted.

5. Amend paragraph (a) of § 622.43 to read as follows:

§ 622.43 Class IV–C: Registrants not acceptable for training and service because of nationality or ancestry, neutral aliens requesting relief from training and service, registrants not acceptable to the armed forces or to the Director of Selective Service, and aliens who have departed and are not residing in the United States. (a) In Class IV–C shall be placed any registrant:

(1) Who is an alien and because of his nationality or ancestry, is within a class of persons not acceptable under any circumstances to the land or naval forces for training and service or to the Director of Selective Service for work of national importance under civilian direction. The Director of Selective Service will advise local boards which classes of registrants are not acceptable under any circumstances.

(2) Who is an alien and who is a citizen or subject of a neutral country (see § 601.2) and who, at any time prior to (i) his induction into the land or naval forces of the United States, or (ii) his assignment to work or national importance under civilian direction, files with his local board an Application by Alien for Relief from Military Service (Form 301) executed in duplicate. The local board shall forward the original of such form to the Director of Selective Service through the State Director of Selective Service and shall retain the duplicate in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

(3) Who because he is an alien or because of his ancestry is, under procedure prescribed by the Director of Selective Service, found by the land or naval forces to be unacceptable for training and service or by the Director of Selective Service to be unacceptable for work of national importance under civilian direction.

(4) Who is an alien and has departed from and is no longer residing in the United States. Such alien shall be classified in Class IV–C even though he is a delinquent, but this classification shall in no way relieve him from liability for prosecution for violation of the selective service law. If any registrant so classified under this paragraph returns to the United States to reside therein, his classification shall be reopened and he shall be classified anew.

6. Amend § 622.62 to read as follows:

§ 622.62 Class IV–F: Physically or mentally unfit. In Class IV–F shall be placed any registrant who is found to be physically or mentally unfit for service, unless such a registrant is entitled to be placed in Class I–C because he has been separated from the land or naval forces based on physical or mental disability, provided that the classification of a registrant placed in Class IV–F may be reopened and he may be placed in a class immediately available for service under the provisions of Part 623.

7. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

Director.

PART 623—CLASSIFICATION PROCEDURE

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are amended in the following respect:

1. Amend the center head preceding § 623.51 to read as follows: "Classification After Physical Examination, Delivery for Induction, or Separation From Service".

1a. Amend § 623.51 to read as follows:

§ 623.51 Registrant qualified for service. When a registrant has been found acceptable for service under the provisions of Part 629 prior to his reclassification into Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E, he shall, if not continued in a deferred class, be reclassified into Class I–A, Class I–A–O, or Class IV–E when his order number is reached in the normal process of classification.

2. Add § 623.52 to read as follows:

§ 623.52 Registrants inducted into the land or naval forces. Upon receiving notice that a registrant has been inducted into the land or naval forces, the local board shall reopen the classification of the registrant and classify him in Class I–C.

3. Add § 623.53 to read as follows:

§ 623.53 Registrant disqualified for service. If, under the provisions of Parts 629 or 633, the registrant is found to be disqualified for service, the local board shall reopen his classification and classify him in Class IV–F unless he is a man who has been separated from the land or naval forces by honorable discharge based on physical or mental disability, in which case the local board shall place him in Class I–C.

4. Add § 623.54 to read as follows:

§ 623.54 Man separated from the land or naval forces. (a) The local board shall not change the classification of a registrant separated from the land or naval forces by death but shall note the facts in the Classification Record (Form 100), on the Registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53), and on his Registration Card (Form 1).

(b) When a man has been separated from the land or naval forces by honorable discharge based on physical or mental disability, the local board shall, if the man is a registrant, retain him in Class I–C, or, if the man was not a registrant at the time of his separation but thereafter registers, classify him in Class I–C.

(c) When a man has been separated from the land or naval forces for any causes other than those stated in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the local board shall, if the man is a registrant, reopen his classification and classify him anew, or, if the man was not a registrant at the time of his separation but thereafter registers, classify him in the usual manner. If, in classifying a registrant under the provisions of this paragraph, it is determined that he should be placed in a class available for service, the local board shall comply with instructions issued by the Director of Selective Service pertaining to such registrants before such registrant is so classified.

5. Add § 623.55 to read as follows:

§ 623.55 Reclassification of separated or disqualified men. (a) The classification of a registrant who has been placed in Class IV–F or Class I–C because he has been separated from the land or naval forces or because he is disqualified for service may be reopened only after the local board has complied with the provisions of this section.

(b) If the local board, upon review of the reasons for such registrant's separation from the land or naval forces or disqualification for service, is of the opinion that he may presently be acceptable for service, it will first determine whether or not the registrant is qualified for a deferred classification. If the local board determines that the registrant is qualified for a deferred classification, it shall reopen the registrant's classification and place him in such deferred classification unless he is a man who has been separated from the land or naval forces by honorable discharge based on physical disability, in which case the local board should place or retain him in Class I–C. If the local board determines that the registrant is not qualified for a deferred classification, the local board shall, without reopening the classification of the registrant, comply with the instructions of the Director of Selective Service pertaining to such registrants including, when applicable, examination of the registrant by a member or members of a medical advisory board or under Part 629.

(c) If, after complying with the instructions of the Director of Selective Service, the local board is of the opinion that the registrant is still disqualified for service, no further consideration should be given to his case. If the local board believes that the registrant is qualified for service, it may reopen his classification and classify him accordingly.

(d) It shall be the duty of the registrant (1) to comply with any directions given by the local board in carrying out the instructions of the Director of Selective Service, (2) to report to and be examined by a member or members of the medical advisory board or under Part 629 when directed to do so by the local board, and (3) to comply with such directions and to submit to such examination as the member or members of the Medical Advisory Board, local board examining physician or representatives of the armed forces, shall deem necessary to make a complete determination of the registrant's physical condition.

6. The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

Director.

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 624.5 to read as follows:

§ 624.5 Duty of volunteer. (a) A volunteer who is placed in Class I–A or Class I–A–O will be selected for pre-induction physical examination (Part 629) and for induction (Part 632) in the same manner as other registrants except that his status as a father or non-father and his order number will be disregarded and he will be selected before all other registrants who have not volunteered.

(b) If a volunteer desires to be immediately inducted, he should, in addition to signing and filing an Application for Voluntary Induction (Form 165), sign and file a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) with his local board.

2. The foregoing amendment to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

§ 632.4 Manner of selecting registrants to fill an induction call for the Army. In filling a call for the Army, the local board, as far as it is practicable to do so without affecting the usual regular and orderly flow of the nation's manpower into the armed forces, shall select specified men who are available for induction and have been found to be acceptable to the Army and who are not deferred, exempted, relieved from liability or postponed from induction under selective service law, to whom the local board has mailed a Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) at least 21 days before the date fixed for the induction, taking volunteers first, then nonfathers, and finally fathers, and within each group making selection in sequence of order number.

§ 632.5 Manner of selecting registrants to fill an induction call for the Navy. In filling a call for the Navy, the local board, as far as it is practicable to do so without affecting the usual regular and orderly flow of the nation's manpower into the armed forces, shall select specified men who are available for induction and have been found to be acceptable to the Navy and who are not deferred, exempted, relieved from liability or postponed from induction under selective service law, to whom the local board has mailed a Certificate of Fitness (Form 218) at least 21 days before the date fixed for the induction, taking volunteers first, then nonfathers, and finally fathers, and within each group making selection in sequence of order number.

(b) Under special procedures prescribed by the Director of Selective Service, men ages 18 through 37 may enlist or be inducted outside of the United States.

Such registrant shall then be counted toward the filling of the next call of the Army or of the Navy, as the case may be.

(b) Men selected under the provisions of § 632.2 to fill a call of the Navy (including the Marine Corps and the Coast Guard) will be delivered to the Navy Recruiting Station.

(c) Men who sign a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) and delinquents ordered to report for induction under the provisions of Part 642 will be delivered to the armed forces induction station.

(d) Men who are outside the United States whose order numbers have been reached in the process of filling a call shall be ordered to report for induction and shall be inducted at such place as the Director of Selective Service shall designate.

§ 633.2 Order to Report for Induction (Form 150). (a) Immediately upon determining which men are to report for induction, the local board shall prepare for each man an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) in duplicate. The date specified for reporting for induction shall be at least 10 days after the date on which the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) is mailed. The local board shall mail the original of the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) to the registrant and shall file the copy in his Cover Sheet (Form 53).

(b) In case of death or extreme emergency to a person in the registrant's immediate family, serious illness of registrant, or other extreme emergency beyond the registrant's control, the local board may, after the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) has been issued, postpone the time when such registrant shall so report for a period not to exceed 60 days from the date of such postponement, subject, however, in cases of imperative necessity, to one further postponement for a period not to exceed 60 days; and provided also that the Director of Selective Service or any State Director of Selective Service (as to registrants within his State) may, for good cause, at any time prior to the issuance of an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), order a local board to postpone the issuance of such order until such time as he may deem advisable, or the Director of Selective Service or any State Director of Selective Service (as to registrants within his State) may, for good cause, at any time after the issuance of an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), order a local board to postpone the induction of a registrant until such time as he may deem advisable, and no registrant shall be inducted into the land or naval forces during the period of any such postponements.

(c) The date of issuance and the date of expiration of any period of postponement authorized in paragraph (b) above shall be noted in the "Remarks" column of the Classification Record (Form 100).

(d) Any period of postponement may be terminated before the date of expiration when the issuing authority so directs.

§ 633.3 Preparing records for a group ordered to report for induction. (a) As soon as the local board has mailed Orders to Report for Induction (Form 150) to all registrants who are directed to report for induction at a particular time and place, it shall:

(1) Prepare in quadruplicate a Delivery List (Form 151) entering thereon (A) the name and order number of each such registrant and (B) the name and order number of each registrant who should be entered upon such Delivery List (Form 151) under the provisions of § 633.24 and indicating in column 3 thereof whether such registrant is a nonfather or a father.

(2) Assemble and attach to the registrant's Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) the copy of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218); any waiver of disqualification; any order terminating civil custody; any Alien's Personal History and Statement (Form 304) or Statement of United States Citizen of Japanese Ancestry (Form 304A) bearing the armed forces endorsement of acceptability for military service; all records available bearing upon the medical, social, and educational history of such registrant; and all other information bearing on the fitness of the registrant for military service.

(b) Whenever a registrant referred to in paragraph (a) is transferred to another local board for induction, a notation of such transfer and the identity of the local board to which he is transferred shall be made in column 3 of the Delivery List (Form 151). All of the records of such registrant prepared under subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of this section shall be transmitted to the local board to which such registrant is transferred for induction in the manner and at the time provided in § 633.11.

TRANSFER FOR INDUCTION

§ 633.11 Certain registrants may request transfer for induction. (a) Any registrant who is so far from his own local board that reporting to his own local board for induction would be a hardship may be transferred for induction to the local board having jurisdiction of the area in which he is at that time located. Application for transfer may be made either at the time the registrant receives his Order to Report—Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) or at the time he receives his Order to Report for Induction (Form 150).

(b) Any such registrant desiring to be so transferred shall immediately report to the local board having jurisdiction of the area in which he is at that time located; present his Order to Report—Pre-Induction Physical Examination (Form 215) or his Order to Report for Induction (Form 150); and complete, in quadruplicate, the request portion of Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154).

(c) The local board with which such registrant files such request shall investigate the circumstances of the registrant's absence from his own local board area. If it finds that he does not have a good reason for his absence, it shall endorse its disapproval upon his request; mail the original thereof to the registrant's own local board; mail a copy to the registrant; and file the remaining copies. Such registrant will then be required to report in accordance with instructions contained in the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) of his own local board.

(d) If the local board with which the registrant files such request finds that he has a good reason for his absence from his own local board area and that he is so far from his own local board area that it would be a hardship for him to return to his own local board area for induction, it shall endorse its approval upon his request; mail the original and one copy by air mail (unless ordinary mail is as expeditious), to the registrant's own local board; mail a copy to the registrant; and file the remaining copy.

(e) When the registrant's own local board receives the approved Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) and it has already mailed an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) to the registrant, it shall:

(1) Immediately endorse on the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) the order transferring the registrant for induction;

(2) Mail the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) to the local board to which the registrant is being transferred for induction, together with the original and all copies of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and all other records referred to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 633.3; and

(3) File the copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

(f) When the registrant's own local board receives the approved Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) and it has not yet issued to the registrant an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), it shall:

(1) Immediately endorse on the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) the order transferring the registrant for induction and place such Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53) until such time as it selects the registrant to fill a call;

(2) When it selects the registrant to fill a call, prepare an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) for the registrant in the usual manner, but instead of mailing the original of such Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) to the registrant, attach it to the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154), mail such original Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) with the original Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) attached thereto, together with the original and all copies of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221) and all other records refered to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 633.3, to the local board to which the registrant is transferred for induction.

(3) File the copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) and a copy of the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (Form 53).

(g) When the local board to which such registrant is transferred for induction receives the papers from the registrant's own local board, as provided in paragraph (e) or paragraph (f) of this section, it shall proceed to deliver him for induction as soon as practicable after the date fixed for him to report for induction in the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) issued by his own local board. If possible, the transferred registrant shall be delivered with the next call on the local board to which he has been transferred, but if there is to be no such call at an early date, it shall deliver such transferred registrant specially whenever the Army Reception Center the Navy Recruiting station, or the induction station, whichever is appropriate, is receiving men. The local board to which such registrant has been transferred for induction shall prepare its own Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) in duplicate in the same manner as though such transferred registrant were one of its own registrants, mail the original to the transferred registrant, and file the copy. The local board to which such registrant has been transferred for induction shall add the name of the registrant to its Delivery List (Form 151) and shall make a notation of such transfer and the identity of the local board from which he is transferred in column 3 of the Delivery List (Form 151).

(h) The local board to which such registrant has been transferred for induction shall not substitute the transferred registrant for one of its selected men but shall deliver the transferred registrant in addition to any deliveries it otherwise would make to fill its own call.

(i) When the transferred registrant has been inducted or rejected or if he fails to report for induction, the local board to which such registrant was transferred for induction shall forward all papers with reference to such registrant, with the exception of the Delivery List (Form 151), to his own local board.

(j) The transferred registrant, if inducted, shall not be credited to the local board to which he was transferred for delivery, but shall be credited to his own local board.

§ 633.12 Director of Selective Service may direct transfer for induction. (a) The Director of Selective Service may direct that a particular registrant or a registrant who comes within a described group of registrants be transferred for induction to such local board or local boards as he shall designate.

(b) In each such case, the registrant's own local board shall complete Request for Transfer for Delivery (Form 154) by writing on the face of the request "By direction of the Director of Selective Service" and by endorsing the order transferring the registrant to the designated local board in the manner directed by the Director of Selective Service. Thereafter, the procedure described in paragraphs (e) or (f) and paragraphs (g) through (j) of § 633.11 shall be followed.

INDUCTION

§ 633.21 Duty of registrant to report for and submit to induction. (a) When the local board mails to a registrant an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), it shall be the duty of the registrant to report for induction at the time and place fixed in such order. If the time when the registrant is ordered to report for induction is postponed, it shall be the continuous duty of the registrant to report for induction upon the termination of such postponement and he shall report for induction at such time and place as may be fixed by the local board. Regardless of the time when or the circumstances under which a registrant fails to report for induction when it is his duty to do so, it shall thereafter be his continuous duty from day to day to report for induction to his local board and to each local board whose area he enters or in whose area he remains.

(b) Upon reporting for induction, it shall be the duty of the registrant: (1) to follow the instructions of a member or clerk of a local board as to the manner in which he shall be transported to the location where his induction will be accomplished, (2) to obey the instructions of the leader or assistant leaders appointed for the group being forwarded for induction, (3) to appear at the place where his induction will be accomplished, (4) to obey the orders of the representatives of the armed forces while at the place where his induction will be accomplished, (5) to submit to induction, and (6) if he is not accepted by the armed forces, to follow the instructions of the representatives of the armed forces as to the manner in which he will be transported on his return trip to the local board.

§ 633.22 Forwarding registrants for induction. When the registrants who are to be forwarded for induction have assembled, the local board shall proceed as follows:

(1) The roll shall be called using the previously prepared Delivery List (Form 151) and noting any absences thereon in column 3 under Remarks. If any registrant fails to report for delivery, fails to report at the place of induction, is transferred to another local board for delivery, or is rejected, the local board shall not furnish a replacement for such registrant.

(2) A leader and assistant leaders shall be appointed and furnished with proper credentials. Leaders and assistant leaders shall have such authority as is necessary to deliver the group to the place of induction.

(3) The leader shall be given the following:

(A) The original and all copies of the Delivery List (Form 151).

(B) For each registrant being forwarded, the original and both copies of the Report of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221); the copy of the Certificate of Fitness (Form 218); and other records referred to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 633.3.

(C) When it is necessary, transportation and meal and lodging requests for the group, covering their trip to the place of induction.

The leader shall be instructed to deliver the original and all copies of the Delivery List (Form 151), the originals and all copies of all Reports of Physical Examination and Induction (Form 221), all copies of Certificates of Fitness (Form 218), and all other information concerning the registrants in the group to the Commanding Officer of the Army Reception Center, the Navy Recruiting Station, or the induction station, as the case may be, or to his representative.

(4) The local board shall instruct all registrants in the group that it is their duty to obey the instructions of the leader or assistant leaders during the time they are going to the place of induction; that they will be met by proper representatives of the armed forces at the place of induction; that while they are at the place of induction, they will be subject to and must obey the orders of the representatives of the armed forces; that they must present themselves for and submit to induction; that if they are rejected, the representatives of the armed forces will, to the extent prescribed by the regulations of the armed forces, provide transportation and subsistence for their return trip.

§ 633.23 Induction procedures for registrants requesting immediate induction and for delinquents. (a) The records to be forwarded to the induction station with registrants who have signed a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) and the records to be forwarded to the induction station with delinquents who have been ordered to report for induction under Part 642 shall be the same as for registrants forwarded for induction to an Army Reception Center or to a Navy Recruiting Station under §§ 633.3 and 633.22 except that such registrants will not ordinarily have been given a pre-induction physical examination.

(b) When such registrants are forwarded to the induction station, they will be given a complete physical examination and, if found to be acceptable for service in the armed forces, will be immediately inducted into the Army or the Navy (or the Marine Corps or Coast Guard). The local board will be advised as to which registrants are inducted into the Army and which registrants are inducted into the Navy (or the Marine Corps or Coast Guard) in column 4 under Disposition on the Delivery List (Form 151) forwarded by the local board to the induction station with such registrants when they are forwarded for induction and returned to the local board by the induction station after such registrants have been inducted.

§ 633.24 Registrants inducted because of request for immediate induction, or delinquency, or outside United States to be listed on Delivery List (Form 151). (a) When the local board receives a Delivery List (Form 151) from the induction station under the provisions of § 633.23 showing that a registrant who has signed a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) or showing that a delinquent who has been ordered to report for induction under Part 642 has been inducted into the Army at such induction station or when the local board receives a Delivery List (Form 151) or other information showing that a registrant has enlisted or has been inducted into the Army outside the United States, it shall (1) list such registrant on the Delivery List (Form 151) for the next group selected to report for induction at the Army Reception Center to fill a call for the Army, (2) opposite the name of each such registrant under Remarks in column 3, enter the fact that such registrant has been inducted at the induction station or has enlisted or been inducted outside the United States, the date of such induction or enlistment, and the fact that such induction resulted from the registrant signing a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219), from the registrant being a delinquent, or from the registrant enlisting or being inducted outside the United States, and (3) count such registrant toward filling such call for the Army.

(b) When the local board receives a Delivery List (Form 151) from the induction station under the provisions of § 633.23 showing that a registrant who has signed a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219) or showing that a delinquent who has been ordered to report for induction under Part 642 has been inducted into the Navy (or Marine Corps or Coast Guard) at such induction station or when the local board receives a Delivery List (Form 151) or other information showing that a registrant has been enlisted or has been inducted into the Navy (or Marine Corps or Coast Guard) outside the United States, it shall (1) list such registrant on the Delivery List (Form 151) for the next group selected to report for induction at a Navy Recruiting Station to fill a call for the Navy, (2) opposite the name of each such registrant under Remarks in column 3, enter the fact that such registrant has been inducted at the induction station or has enlisted or been inducted outside the United States, the date of such induction or enlistment, and the fact that such induction resulted from the registrant signing a Request for Immediate Induction (Form 219), from the registrant being a delinquent, or from the registrant enlisting or being inducted outside the United States, and (3) count such registrant toward filling such call for the Navy.

§ 633.25 Induction. At the Army Reception Center, the Navy Recruiting Station, or the induction station, as the case may be, the selected men who have been forwarded for induction and found acceptable will be inducted into the land or naval forces.

DISPOSITION OF RECORDS

§ 633.31 Records returned to local board. (a) The Commanding Officer of the Army Reception Center, the Navy Recruiting Station, or the induction station will return to the local board the following documents concerning registrants forwarded for induction:

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

ELIMINATION OF 1943 ORDERS FOR ALUMINUM

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 1:

(a) Notwithstanding Direction 23 to CMP Regulation No. 1 and paragraph (t) (4) of CMP Regulation No 1, Producers of Aluminum in controlled material form, are hereby directed to remove from their production schedules by February 1, 1944, all authorized controlled material orders bearing a 1943 CMP allotment number which are not in production by January 31, 1944. This does not apply to authorized controlled material orders accepted for delivery in the months of November and December, 1943, which have not been produced or entered into production because of inability of the producer to meet his production schedules. If the customer still wants delivery of the orders removed under this direction, they may only be restored to the schedule and produced under the conditions applicable to a new authorized controlled material order placed at the time the new allotment and new certification is furnished.

(b) An order taken out of a producer's production schedule because it has a 1943 allotment number on it, should not be reported as an unfilled order to the Aluminum and Magnesium Division on any report.

§ 1071.5 Schedule III to Limitation Order L–126—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of the schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who produces, manufactures, processes, fabricates or assembles any coil or tube assemblies for refrigeration condensers or coolers.

(2) A "coil or tube assembly for condensers" means an assembly used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L–126 consisting of any arrangement of pipes, tubing, pressure vessels, or plates by means of which heat is removed from the vaporized refrigerant.

(3) A "coil or tube assembly for coolers" means an assembly used in a refrigerating or air conditioning "system" as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of Limitation Order No. L–126 consisting of any arrangement of pipes, tubing, pressure vessels, or plates by means of which heat is absorbed by either a volatile refrigerant or a non-volatile medium such as water.

(4) "Protective coating" means a surface coating applied to any or all parts of a "coil or tube assembly for condensers or coolers" for the purpose of retarding or preventing corrosion.

(5) "Integral fin tubing" means finned tubing, the fins and tubes of which are formed from the same piece of metal by extrusion or by any machine operation.

(6) "Metallic fin bond" means a tie between tubing and fins obtained through the use of a metallic base substance usually applied with heat. The fin surface of integral fin tubing shall be considered as having a metallic fin bond.

(7) "Mechanical fin bond" means a tie obtained between tubing and fins by physical contact and without the use of a metallic base substance.

(8) "Fin height" means the distance from the outside of a pipe or tube to the nearest outside edge of the fin.

(9) "Return bend" means a semi-circular section of tubing or pipe used to join parallel runs of tubing or pipe.

(b) Required specifications. Pursuant to Limitation Order No. L–126, the following required specifications are hereby established for coil or tube assemblies for condensers or coolers:

(1) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for condensers or of any coil or tube assembly for coolers, no producer shall, except for use aboard ship,

(i) Use any non-ferrous metals, except

(a) For soldering or brazing materials, or

(b) For protective coatings, or

(c) For any coil or tube assembly for water cooled condensers as referred to in paragraph (b) (3) of this schedule, or

(d) For coolers which come in direct contact with dairy or egg products (whether or not the coolers have a protective coating).

(f) For coil or tube assemblies to be used in farm milk coolers of the immersion type, or

(g) For pipe or tubing to be used in water or brine coolers of the shell and tube type.

(ii) Use any seamless steel tubing, except

(a) To form integral fin tubing, or

(b) That which has been made into return bends but only if the radius thereof is less than 1½ times the outside diameter of such tubing and the straight extensions thereof are not longer than 2 times the outside diameter of such tubing; or

(iii) Use any steel tubing (other than integral fin tubing) of wall thickness greater than the following:

	Wall thickness maximum inch
(a) Up to & including ⅜"----------	0.028
(b) Over ⅜" up to & including ½"---	.035

(2) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for air-cooled condensers no producer shall

(i) Except for use aboard ship, use finned tubing (other than integral fin tubing) having an average fin thickness to the nearest U. S. standard gauge in excess of 4% of the fin height, or a maximum of 0.023", whichever is smaller;

(3) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for water-cooled condensers, no producer shall, except for use aboard ship

(i) Use more than 7 lbs. of non-ferrous metals per condensing unit nominal horse power for all self-contained refrigeration condensing units: Provided, however, That where, for the purpose of simplification, one condenser is designed to be used with either of two or more self-contained condensing units, not more than 9.0 lbs. of non-ferrous metals per condensing unit nominal horse power of the smaller unit may be used.

(ii) Use more non-ferrous metals per ton of refrigeration, for other than self-contained condensing unit condenser assemblies, than the following:

9 lbs. per ton of refrigeration for systems having saturated refrigerant vapor suction temperatures below 0° F.

"Ton of refrigeration", as here used, means the removal of heat, at the low side, at the rate of 12,000 B. T. U. per hour; total tons to be based on the design operating load of the low side connected to the condensing unit or units with which the condenser is used.

(4) In the manufacture of any coil or tube assembly for evaporatively cooled condensers, no producer shall:

(i) Use finned tubing (other than integral fin tubing) having an average fin thickness to the nearest U. S. standard gauge in excess of 4% of the fin height, or a maximum of 0.023", whichever is smaller; or

(ii) Use a combination protective coating and metallic fin bond containing more than 7% tin.

(5) In the manufacture of any cooler coil or tube assembly for air-cooling, no producer shall:

(i) Use a metallic protective coating containing more than 7% tin, except that when the coil is used in food storage and the air passing over the coil is in direct contact with the food a hot-dipped galvanized coating or a coating containing not more than 35% tin may be used, and except also that for use aboard ship in connection with food storage the use of protective metallic coatings is not restricted by this paragraph; or

(ii) [Deleted Jan. 11, 1944]

(c) Applicability of order. (1) The required specifications established by paragraph (b) (1) to (5) inclusive, shall not prohibit:

(i) The production, fabrication, delivery, acceptance, or installation of coil or tube assemblies, the plans of which had on September 2, 1942, been drawn and accepted by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or Lend-Lease countries, or

(ii) The use (in the production or fabrication of, or the delivery, acceptance, or installation of coil or tube assemblies for condensers or coolers) of any of the following materials in a producer's possession or control or in transit to a producer on September 2, 1942:

PRODUCTION QUOTAS FOR CANNING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

§ 1226.80 Production quotas for canning machinery and equipment—(a) Purpose of the schedule. The purpose of this schedule is to fix production quotas for canning machinery and equipment for the year beginning October 1, 1943, and ending September 30, 1944. These quotas shall take the place of the quota provisions of paragraph (g) (2) (ii) of Order L-292 with respect to canning machinery and equipment.

(b) Definition. "Controlled material" means controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation 1.

(c) Production quotas. During the year beginning October 1, 1943, and ending September 30, 1944, no manufacturer shall use in the fabrication or assembly of canning machinery and equipment (except dehydrators), more controlled materials than 110% of the annual average gross tonnage of controlled materials used by him for this purpose during the calendar years 1939, 1940 and 1941. During the period beginning January 11, 1944, and ending September 30, 1944, each manufacturer may fabricate or assemble dehydrators only to fill rated orders actually received in accordance with Order L-292.

(d) Exceptions. The quota provisions of paragraph (c) above do not restrict the fabrication or assembly of canning machinery or equipment to fill specific orders actually received by a manufacturer for export outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada, or for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(e) Increase, decrease and transfer of quotas. The War Production Board may by specific written directions issued to any manufacturer or class of manufacturers, increase or decrease any quota established by this schedule and may transfer any portions of a quota between manufacturers, taking into consideration the amount of materials to be used, the need for particular items at the time required, the labor and transportation situation in the manufacturing areas involved, the inability of any manufacturer to manufacture his quota, and such other factors as may be relevant.

(f) Applicability of Limitation Order L-292. Except as otherwise indicated herein, this schedule is subject to all applicable provisions of Limitation Order L-292 as amended from time to time.

Scaling and grading rules. All logs are to be scaled according to the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter will be measured at the small end of the log at the smallest diameter with all fractions of an inch counted back to the next lower full inch. The diameter shall be measured inside of the bark for hardwood and cypress, and from the inside of one bark to the outside of the other bark for Pine.

All unsound and unusable wood must be eliminated from the scale by deduction in measurement. The defects for which full allowance must be made in measurement include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, splinter pulls and crook.

Logs shall be cut in standard even lengths unless otherwise specified by the buyer. An allowance of at least 4 inches for trim shall be made. Logs that do not meet the specified minimum allowance for trim shall be reduced in scale to the next lower standard length. The prices quoted below are for logs 10 feet and longer in length. Logs less than 10 feet in length can be purchased subject to conditions given below.

Grade specifications. Woods run grade shall consist of hardwood and cypress logs 12" and up in diameter, and pine logs 8" and up in diameter as produced from the forest that are better than culls and from which no selection of large-sized or high-quality logs has been made. If any large-sized or high-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs must be sold at prices no higher than the #2 grade prices if ungraded, or at the applicable grade prices if graded. When any small sized or low quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woods run price.

A cull log shall be considered as one where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects is less than 50 percent of the gross scale.

Clear Grade—minimum diameter, 24". All logs 24" or over in diameter that are clear of all visible defects.

Select Grade—minimum diameter, 16". Logs 16"–23" in diameter shall be clear of all visible defects. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or have 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

No. 1 Grade—minimum diameter, 12". Logs 12"–15" in diameter shall be clear of all visible defects. Logs 16"–23" in diameter shall have at least 3 clear faces or have 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

Logs 24" and over in diameter shall have at least 2 clear faces or have 50 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

NOTE: In the Clear, Select and No. 1 grades, sound sap knots 1" in diameter or less will not be considered as a defect. A center rot or dote 4" in diameter or less will be permitted in logs over 24" in diameter, 3" in diameter or less in logs 16"–23" in diameter, and 2" in diameter or less in logs 12"–15" in diameter. This defect will not degrade the log, although deduction for the defect must be made in scaling.

No. 2 Grade—This grade shall include all sound logs that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a No. 1 log. The minimum diameter shall be 12" for hardwoods and cypress and 8" for pine.

Scaling and grading rules: All logs are to be scaled with the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter shall be measured inside the bark at the small end of the log and at the smallest diameter with all fractions of an inch counted back to the next lower full inch.

All unsound and unusable wood must be eliminated from the scale by deduction measurement. The defects for which full allowance must be made in measurement include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, damage in felling by drawn splinters, rotten and wormy sap, and crooks.

Logs are to be cut in even lengths unless otherwise specified by the buyer, with a minimum length acceptable of 10 feet. All logs must be cut 4" over length to allow for trim. Logs that are not at least 4" over the specified length will be scaled as of the next lower even length. Logs that are less than 10' in length may be purchased subject to conditions given below.

Grade specifications: 1. Clear Grade—Minimum diameter 24"—All logs 24" and over in diameter that are clear of all visible defects. Sound sap knots 1" and less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote 4" in diameter or less, located in the center of the log will not degrade the log, but deduction for the defect must be made in scaling the log.

2. Select Grade.—Minimum diameter 16". Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must be clear of all defects. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or have 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" and less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" diameter for logs 24" and over, and up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23" in diameter will not degrade the log but full deduction for the defect must be made in scaling.

3. No. 1 Grade—Minimum diameter 12". Logs 12" to 15" in diameter must be clear of all visible defects. Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 2 clear faces or have at least 50 percent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" or less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" in diameter for logs over 24", up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23", and up to 2" in diameter for logs between 12"–15" in diameter, will not degrade the log, but full deduction must be made for the defect when scaling the log.

No. 2 Grade—Minimum diameter 12", all sound logs above the specified diameter limits that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a No. 1 log.

A Cull log shall be considered as one where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects, is less than 50 percent of the gross board foot scale.

Woods Run Grade shall consist of hardwood and Cypress logs 12" and up in diameter as produced from the forest that are better than culls and from which no selection of large-sized or high-quality logs has been made. If any large-sized or high-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs must be sold at prices no higher than the No. 2 grade prices if ungraded, or at the applicable grade prices if graded. When any small-sized or low-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woods run price.

A summary of clear face requirements of the various grades is as follows:

Diameter range	4 clear faces	3 clear faces or 75% of length clear in one continuous section	2 clear faces or 50% of length clear in one continuous section	Other (better than cull)
24" and up	Clear grade	Select grade	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade.

The above prices are to prevail for logs f. o. b. cars at rail sidings; f. o. b. barge at towable waters; or delivered to mill by truck from a distance of 25 miles. If logs are delivered to the mill from a distance in excess of 25 miles, a sum not to exceed 10 cents per M ft. may be added for every load mile in excess of the first 25 miles.

COTTON HOOKED RUG MATERIALS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for cotton hooked rug materials by a specific maximum price regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

AUTHORITY: § 1347.805 issued under 56 Stat. 23,765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

SECTION 1. Prohibition against dealing in cotton hooked rug materials at prices above the maximum. On and after January 15, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No person shall sell or deliver any cotton hooked rug materials at higher prices than those set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(b) No person shall buy or receive cotton hooked rug materials in the course of trade or business at prices higher than those set forth in Appendix A of this regulation.

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 2. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 3. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states and to the District of Columbia.

SEC. 4. The relation of this regulation to other regulations. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation [1] and of Maximum Price Regulation No. 344.[2] New Cotton, Linen and Underwear Cuttings, with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. Since the term "cotton hooked rug materials," as defined in section 14 (a) (2), does not include any material used for any purpose other than the making of cotton hooked rugs, Maximum Price Regulation No. 344 continues to apply to sales of any of the materials listed in Appendix A of this regulation when sold for such other purposes.

SEC. 5. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing or use of cotton hooked rug materials imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or any subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such cotton hooked rug materials and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

If, at the time the seller determines his maximum price the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this regulation.

SEC. 6. Export sales. The maximum price at which a seller may export cotton hooked rug materials or may sell cotton hooked rug materials for export shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7. Imports. No person importing cotton hooked rug materials shall pay a total price for such materials including United States custom duties, paid directly or indirectly by him, which exceeds the maximum price applicable to a domestic sale established under this regulation.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to cotton hooked rug materials alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are prohibited if used as a means of evading the price limitations imposed by this regulation: modifying, discontinuing or altering any customary trade practice of the seller, or deteriorating the quality or changing the identity of any grade.

SEC. 9. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of license as provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 10. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[4] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 11. Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or purchases of 10 tons of cotton hooked rug materials per month, or more, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records of each such sale or purchase, showing the following:

(1) Date of purchase or sale.
(2) Name and address of the buyer or seller.
(3) Grade of cotton hooked rug materials purchased or sold.
(4) Quantity of each grade purchased or sold.
(5) Prices paid or received.
(6) Warranties, if any, given or received.

Such records shall set forth separately the f. o. b. point of shipment price, the origin and destination of the shipment, the means of transportation used, the amount of the transportation charge, and any other amounts paid or received in connection with such sale. Such records may be in the form of the invoice or a copy thereof furnished in connection with each such sale or purchase, providing the invoice contains the information specified above.

(b) Persons required to keep records by paragraph (a) of this section shall keep such other records and shall submit such reports as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 12. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[5]

SEC. 13. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 14. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Cotton hooked rug materials" consist of the knitted cotton or mercerized material used in making cotton hooked rugs.

(3) "Rugmaker" means a person who makes cotton hooked rugs.

All grades as defined herein must consist of clean, dry material free of thread waste and other foreign materials, unless otherwise specified. Mixtures of grades may be sold, providing the price for the mixture does not exceed the maximum price established by this regulation for the lowest-priced grade contained in the assortment. Tare weight in excess of 3 percent must be deducted from the weight of the bale in computing the maximum price for the bale.

FIBER INSULATION BOARD PRODUCTS

MODIFICATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 25 to Order No. A-1 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel. Modification of maximum prices on sales between manufacturers of fiber insulation board products.

An opinion accompanying Amendment No. 25 to Order A-1 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order No. A-1 is amended by adding a new paragraph (a) (22) to read as follows:

(22) Modification of maximum prices on sales between manufacturers of fiber insulation board products. Any manufacturer of fiber insulation board products, as defined herein, may, subject to the filing provisions of subdivision (iv) below, offer to sell, sell, and deliver any such products to any other manufacturer, as defined herein, at a price agreed upon by the selling and buying manufacturers, when the price so agreed upon is in excess of the maximum price for the seller under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, under the following conditions:

(i) Both the seller and the buyer must be "Manufacturers" as that term is defined herein;

(ii) The buying manufacturer must resell the commodity in the same form as purchased from the selling manufacturer; and

(iii) Any increase in price resulting from the agreement under this subparagraph (22) must be absorbed by the buying manufacturer and may not be reflected, directly or indirectly, in the resale price nor may such increase be used as a basis for a request for an increase in price by way of an application for adjustment or petition for amendment under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(iv) Before any sale or delivery may be made upon the basis of the price arrived at pursuant to this subparagraph (22), the buying manufacturer must submit a statement to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington, D. C., showing:

(a) The specific fiber insulation board products involved in the sale;

(b) The names of the selling and buying manufacturers;

(c) A specific statement from the buyer that the increase in price will not be passed on in the resale of the commodity and that such increase resulting from the agreement will not be made the basis for an application for adjustment or petition for amendment under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(v) As used in this subparagraph (22), the term:

"Manufacturer" means any person who produces, by manufacture, any fiber insulation board product subject to this subparagraph (22) and includes any person who purchases, rather than produces, such commodity or commodities from a producer for resale in the same form and without further processing, usually under his own name or trade brand, to the same trade classifications through which original producers usually distribute such commodities. The designation also includes commission salesmen, manufacturers' representatives, and any other manufacturers' agents.

"Fiber insulation board products" means "insulation board" and "roof insulation" and shall have the meaning and shall be subject to the same specifications and standards as those set forth in "Commercial Standard CS42-43, Structural Fiber Insulating Board," issued by the Department of Commerce, July 24, 1943, and effective August 25, 1943.

Such standards and specifications as are used in this subparagraph have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another Government agency.

This Amendment No. 25 shall become effective January 12, 1944.

Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the _____ Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, such termination shall only be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or wilful default under this contract.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Termination; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts with the approval or ratification of the contracting officer to the extent that he may require, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph: Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for protection and preservation of the property, which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, and the Government shall pay the agreed amount or amounts. Nothing in paragraph (d) of this Article prescribing the amount to be paid to the contractor in the event of failure of the contractor and the contracting officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article shall be deemed to limit, restrict or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the contractor pursuant to this paragraph (c).

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts:

(1) For completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) above) and not theretofore paid for, forthwith a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract;

(2) In respect of the contract work terminated as permitted by this Article, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work exclusive of any cost attributable to articles paid or to be paid for under paragraph (d) (1) hereof; (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the notice of termination of work under this contract, which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (i) above; and (iii) a sum equal to _____ %[1] of the part of the amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, plus a sum equal to _____ %[2] of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (i), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings;

(3) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof; and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the contractor under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this paragraph (d) shall not exceed the total contract price reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and by the Contract price or work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage, and to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the contractor as provided in paragraph (d) (1) and paragraph (d) (2) (i), all amounts allocable to or payable in respect of property, which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable prior to the transfer of title to the Government or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) or prior to the 60th day after delivery to the Government of an inventory covering such property, whichever shall first occur.

(e) The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this article: (i) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer shall be subject to deduction in respect of the amount of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontract or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed articles under this contract.

(f) In the event that, prior to the determination of the final amount to be paid to the contractor as in this article provided, the contractor shall file with the contracting officer a request in writing that an equitable adjustment should be made in the price or prices specified in the contract for the work not terminated by the Notice of Termination, the appropriate fair and reasonable adjustment shall be made in such price or prices.

(g) The Government shall make partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amounts to which the contractor shall be entitled under this Article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder.

(h) For the purposes of paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) hereof, the amounts of the payments to be made by the Government to the contractor shall be determined in accordance with the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 31, 1943. The contractor for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all of its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder.

STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES FOR DETERMINATION OF COSTS UPON TERMINATION OF GOVERNMENT FIXED PRICE SUPPLY CONTRACTS

The following is the "Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 31, 1943" referred to in paragraph (h) of the Uniform Termination Article applicable to the termination of fixed price supply contracts at the option of the Government.

1. General principles. The costs contemplated by this Statement of Principles are those sanctioned by recognized commercial accounting practices and are intended to include the direct and indirect manufacturing, selling and distribution, administrative and other costs incurred which are reasonably necessary for the performance of the contract, and are properly allocable or apportionable, under such practices, to the contract (or the part thereof under consideration). The general principles set out in this Statement are subject to the application of any special provisions of the contract. Certain costs are specifically described below because of their particular significance, and, as in the case of other costs, should be included to the extent that they are allocable to or should be apportioned to the contract or the part thereof under consideration.

(a) Common inventory. The costs of items of inventory which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(b) Common claims of subcontractors. The claims of subcontractors which are common to the contract and to other work of the contractor.

(c) Depreciation. An allowance for depreciation at appropriate rates on buildings, machinery and equipment and other facilities including such amounts for obsolescence due to progress in the arts and other factors as are ordinarily given consideration in determining depreciation rates. Depreciation as defined herein shall not include loss of useful value of the type covered by subparagraph (f).

(d) Experimental and research expense. General experimental and research expense to the extent consistent with an established pre-war program, or to the extent related to war purposes.

(e) Engineering and development and special tooling. Costs of engineering and development and of special tooling: Provided, That the contractor protects any interests of the Government by transfer of title or by other means deemed appropriate by the Government.

(f) Loss on facilities; conditions on allowance. In the case of any special facility acquired by the contractor solely for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, if upon termination of the contract such facility is not reasonably capable of use in the other business of the contractor having regard to the then condition and location of such facility, an amount which bears the same proportion to the loss of useful value as the deliveries not made under the contract bear to the total of the deliveries which have been made and would have been made had the contract and the other contracts been completed: Provided, That the amount to be allowed under this paragraph shall not exceed the adjusted basis of the facility for Federal income tax purposes immediately prior to the date of the termination of the contract: And provided further, That no amount shall be allowed under this paragraph unless upon termination of the contract title to the facility is transferred to the Government, except where the Government elects to take other appropriate means to protect its interests.

(g) Special leases. (1) Rentals under leases clearly shown to have been made for the performance of the contract, or the contract and other war production contracts, covering the period necessary for complete performance of the contract and such further period as may have been reasonably necessary; (2) costs of reasonable alteration of such leased property made for the same purpose; and (3) costs of restoring the premises, to the extent required by reasonable provisions of the lease; less (4) the residual value of the lease: Provided, That the contractor shall have made reasonable efforts to terminate, assign, or settle such leases or otherwise reduce the cost thereof.

(h) Advertising. Advertising expense to the extent consistent with a pre-war program or to the extent reasonable under the circumstances.

(i) Limitation on costs described in subparagraphs (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h).

[2] To be established at a figure which is fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

In no event shall the aggregate of the amounts allowed under subparagraphs (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) exceed the amount which would have been available from the contract price to cover these items, if the contract had been completed, after considering all other costs which would have been required to complete it.

(j) Interest. Interest on borrowings.

(k) Settlement expenses. Reasonable accounting, legal, clerical and other expenses necessary in connection with the termination and settlement of the contract and subcontracts and purchase orders thereunder, including expenses incurred for the purpose of obtaining payment from the Government only to the extent reasonably necessary for the preparation and presentation of settlement proposals and cost evidence in connection therewith.

(l) Protection and disposition of property. Storage, transportation and other costs incurred for the protection of property acquired or produced for the contract or in connection with the disposition of such property.

2. Initial costs. Costs of a non-recurring nature which arise from unfamiliarity with the product in the initial stages of production should be appropriately apportioned between the completed and the terminated portions of the contract. In this category would be included high direct labor and overhead costs, including training, costs of excessive rejections and similar items.

3. Excluded costs. Without affecting the generality of the foregoing provisions in other respects, amounts representing the following should not be included as elements of cost:

(a) Losses on other contracts, or from sales or exchanges of capital assets; fees and other expenses in connection with reorganization or recapitalization, anti-trust or federal income-tax litigation, or prosecution of federal income tax claims or other claims against the Government (except as provided in paragraph 1 (k)); losses on investments; provisions for contingencies; and premiums on life insurance where the contractor is the beneficiary.

(b) The expense of conversion of the contractor's facilities to uses other than the performance of the contract.

(c) Expenses due to the negligence or wilful failure of the contractor to discontinue with reasonable promptness the incurring of expenses after the effective date of the termination notice.

(d) Costs incurred in respect to facilities, materials or services purchased or work done in excess of the reasonable quantitative requirements of the entire contract.

(e) Costs which, as evidenced by accounting statements submitted in renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, were charged off during a period covered by a previous renegotiation, may not be subsequently included in the termination settlement if a refund was made for such period, or to the extent that such charging off is shown to have avoided such refund.

4. To the extent that they conform to recognized commercial accounting practices and the foregoing Statement of Principles, the established accounting practices of the contractor as indicated by his books of account and financial reports will be given due consideration in the preparation of statements of cost for the purposes of this article.

5. The failure specifically to mention in this statement any item of cost is not intended to imply that it should be included or excluded.

Suspension order; Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc 483

Street, New York, is engaged in the leather business as a sole cutter. During the period July 1, 1942 through February 20, 1943, Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc. cut at least 40,417 pounds of leather of military weight and quality into soles for non-military purposes contrary to the terms and provisions of General Preference Order M-80. The officers of the company had knowledge of the provisions of the order and the company's violation must be deemed wilful.

This misuse of leather of military weight and quality has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting critical material from military to civilian use. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.479 Suspension Order No. S-479. (a) Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc., directly or indirectly, shall not receive, accept delivery of, cut or otherwise process any leather bends, backs or crops, and no person shall sell or deliver to Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc. or for its account or order, directly or indirectly, any leather bends, backs, or crops, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Deliveries of material to Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc., or for its account or order, directly or indirectly, its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied, or extended to such deliveries by means of any preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) No allocation or allotment shall be made to Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc., or for its account or order, directly or indirectly, its successors or assigns, of any material or products, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Roberts Cut Sole Co., Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(e) This order shall take effect on January 11, 1944, and shall expire on April 11, 1944.

(e) Nonapplicability of order. This order shall not apply to any carrier when acting in the capacity of a carrier, nor shall it operate as an assignment of, or right to obtain, transportation equipment.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

TEXTILE BAGS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States having created a shortage in the supply of textile bags for defense, for private account and for export, the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.23 Conservation Order M-221—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Textile bag" means any hand- or machine-sewed bag made of cotton, burlap, or other textile fabric including open mesh fabrics woven from cotton and twisted paper yarns but excepting bale covers, textile wrappings, and combination textile-paper bags (bags made of textile laminated with paper).

(2) "New textile bag" means any textile bag when neither the fabric nor the bag has been previously used.

(3) "Used textile bag" means any textile bag when the bag or the fabric previously has been used one or more times.

(4) "Bag maker" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing new textile bags.

(5) "Dealer" means any person whose principal business is that of buying, selling, or reconditioning empty textile bags.

(6) "User" means any person who acquired 500 or more empty new or used textile bags for use in his business during 1942 or who acquires such amount during any subsequent calendar year.

(7) A person shall be deemed a "commercial emptier" at such times when in any of the three immediately preceding calendar months he acquired in his business and emptied 400 filled textile bags.

(8) "Export" means any shipment from the continental United States (the 48 states and the District of Columbia).

(9) "Burlap laminated bag" means any bag made of burlap laminated to paper, with any adhesive or water-proofing substance.

General Restrictions for All Persons

(b) Joint responsibility. No person shall deliver textile bags to any other person if he has reason to believe that the other person is not entitled to accept them under the provisions of this order or that they will be used for any purpose prohibited by this order.

(c) Sampling bag-contents. No person shall sample the contents of any new or used textile bag except by opening the closure or by inserting a probe or trier without damage to the fabric.

(d) Sand bags. No person shall purchase or accept delivery of any new or used textile bag to be used for protection against air raids or other war hazards.

(e) Size-changing. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall change the size of any burlap textile bag while it has a commercial use as a bag, with or without mending.

(f) Processing of used bags for sale. No dealer, user, or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any used textile bag to any person for his own use unless the bag has been processed and repaired and all holes, including trier or probe holes, properly mended or patched. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the delivery of any bag for the purpose of repair or delivery to the owner. For the purposes of this provision, "process" means to clean a used textile bag by washing, vacuuming, or any other method sufficient to prepare the bag for further re-use.

(g) Sale of used raw sugar bags. No dealer, user or commercial emptier shall sell or deliver any No. 1 jute (gunny) sugar bag suitable for packing Puerto Rican or Cuban raw sugar to any person for any use other than packing Puerto Rican or Cuban raw sugar. For the purposes of this paragraph, the jute bags referred to shall be limited to bags which have been used for packing raw sugar and which have no holes at all or have no more than seven trier holes, all of which have been patched or mended.

(h) Export of empty bags. Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board, no person shall export any empty new or used burlap textile bag or any empty new or used open mesh textile bag. The requirement for such authorization is in addition to, and not in place of, any applicable export licensing requirements of the Office of Economic Warfare. Application for authorization for such export shall be made by letter or telegram to the War Production Board stating the pertinent facts, including (1) the destination of the bags (2) the source from which the bags have been or are to be acquired, and (3) the quantity, size and material of the bags. Such applications concerning exports which also require licensing by the Office of Economic Warfare should be submitted through that agency to the War Production Board. The restriction of this paragraph shall not apply to:

(1) Foreign re-users. The export of empty used bags which previously contained any of the following products and which, in accordance with established practice of the industry involved, are being exported in the expectation that they will be re-used by foreign suppliers of the same product for further packing of that product: sugar, asbestos, or any other product designated by the War Production Board because it so impregnates the bag material as to make the bag unsuitable for packing any other commodity without excessive cleaning.

(2) Transshipment. Completing the transshipment of textile bags which are in transit from a point outside the continental United States to another such point and which have been landed in the continental United States (in a free zone or free port or in bond) pending such transshipment.

(3) Exports to Canada. The export of empty new or used burlap textile bags or new or used open mesh textile bags to Canada.

Additional Restrictions for Bag Makers

(i) Overstitching. No bag maker shall overstitch the raw edge or selvage edge of any new textile bag except new wool bags.

(j) Eyelets, grommets. No bag maker shall manufacture any new textile bags with metal eyelets or metal grommets.

(k) Bag sizes for certain commodities—(1) Sizes permitted. No bag maker shall manufacture any new textile bag designed for packing any commodity listed below, except in any size of more than 100 lbs. or in any of the sizes specified below for that commodity:

(1)	(2)
Beans	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Cement (standard portland)	94 lbs.
Flour (milled wheat)[1]	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Meal	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Plaster (gypsum)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs. (gross weight).
Potatoes[2]	2-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Processed feed (mixed, mill)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Rice	2-3-5-10-15-25-50-100 lbs.
Salt	2-4-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Seeds	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs. 1, 2 bu.[3]
Starch (corn)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.
Sugar (refined cane, beet)	2-5-10-25-50-100 lbs.

[1] "Flour (milled wheat)" means any flour product produced by milling wheat, including blends of wheat flours and bleached, bromated, enriched phosphated, and self-rising flours, but excluding durum wheat products (semolina), farina, pancake flour, and cake flour.

[2] Additional sizes are permitted as follows: ⅛ bu. for hybrid seed corn; 3 bu. for cotton seed.

[3] These restrictions do not apply to open mesh bags used for packing potatoes.

(2) Exception for export by bag maker. The size restrictions of paragraph (k) (1) above shall not apply to the manufacture of bags to be exported, empty, by the bag maker. However, the export-authorization requirement of paragraph (h) above shall apply if the bags are made of burlap.

(3) Exception for export by user. The size restrictions of paragraph (k) (1) above shall not apply to the manufacture of bags ordered by any person for packaging any listed commodity to be exported by him, provided the bag maker receives from such person a written certification as provided for in Exhibit A attached to this order. However, the export-authorization requirement of paragraph (h) above shall apply if the bags are made of burlap.

Additional Restrictions for Commercial Emptiers

(l) Emptying bags. No commercial emptier shall remove the contents of any textile bag except by opening the closure, unless the contents have become so caked or solidified that salvage of the bag is not practicable.

(m) Time-limit on holding empty bags. Within 60 days after emptying any number of textile bags, a commercial emptier shall use, or transfer to dealers or users, an equal number of empty used textile bags from his inventory. Such disposition may be deferred beyond the 60-day period in the following cases:

(1) Seasonal re-use. If the commercial emptier needs the bags for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), he may retain them until the product becomes available for packing, subject, however, to the inventory restriction of paragraph (n) below.

(2) Carload accumulation. If, in accordance with his past practice, the commercial emptier wishes to accumulate a carload quantity of such bags for return to users for further packing of the kind of product last packed in them, he may retain such bags until he has accumulated a carload quantity.

Additional Restrictions for Users

(n) Inventory restriction. No user shall accept delivery of any empty new or used textile bags at a time when, or when by virtue of the delivery, his inventory of new or used empty textile bags is or will be in excess of a practical minimum working inventory for the uses which are not prohibited by this order. Except in the case of bags required by a user for packing a seasonal product (whether or not produced by him), such inventory shall not exceed the aggregate number of new or used empty textile bags which will be required to carry on his business during the next 60 days.

(o) Quota restriction on acceptances of burlap bags. (1) During 1943, no user shall accept delivery of more than his quota of new burlap textile bags for packing the products below. His quota shall be the larger of the following amounts: (i) 500 such bags for all the products or (ii), for each class of product listed below, the specified percentage of the number of such bags he accepted during the calendar year 1941 for packing that class:

Class of product (1):	Quota percentage (2) (Percent)
Petroleum waxes	100
Stearic acid (cakes or slabs)	100
Salt	100
Refined sugar (restricted to covers or balers for smaller packages totaling approximately 100 pounds)	100

The above restriction does not apply to bags made of "scrim" (burlap weighing less than 7 ounces per yard—40" width) nor to bags for packing mohair, wool, or wool products. The number of any such bags accepted by any user during 1941 shall not be included in computing any quota above.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) shall apply to the calendar year 1944 and succeeding calendar years except that the quota restriction will be based on the number of bags accepted during either the calendar year 1941 or 1942, whichever is the greater, and the number of "scrim" bags or bags for packing mohair, wool or wool products accepted during 1941 or 1942, whichever year is taken as the base period, shall not be included in computing the quota.

(3) During 1944 and each succeeding calendar year each person packing wheat or small grains in the States of California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington or Arizona may accept delivery of not more thn 100% of the number of new Calcutta Wheat bags that he used during the calendar year 1940 for packing those products. These may only be used for packing wheat or small grains in those states. However, if he used less than 500 such bags during 1940 he may accept delivery of 500 such bags for packing those products during 1944.

(p) Products permitted for burlap bags. No user shall use any new textile bag made of burlap for packing any products other than the following:

Mohair; wool; wool products; petroleum waxes; stearic acid (cakes or slabs); agricultural products except refined cane or beet sugar (not in balers or covers for smaller packages totalling approximately 100 pounds), corn sugar refined beyond the crude or chip stage, fertilizer tankage, or fertilizer.

(q) Products permitted for cotton bags. No user shall use any new textile bags made of cotton for packing any products other than the following:

Agricultural products; cement; chemicals; core sand; currency, coin, or securities; fertilizer; glues; gypsum; malt; meats; metal abrasives; metal parts; pastes; plaster; sand; shellfish; tire chains; or such other products as may be authorized by the War Production Board, pursuant to application on Form WPB–1319 (PD–556).

"Agricultural products" includes, but is not limited to, beans; coffee; cotton; feed; flour; fruits; grain; meal; nuts; potatoes; poultry grits; rice; salt; seeds; starch; sugar; tobacco; vegetables.

(r) Mohair bags. No user shall use any new or used textile bag for packing mohair unless the word "Mohair" appears in legible type on both sides of the bag.

(s) Burlap laminated bags. No user shall use any new burlap laminated bag for packing organic fertilizer. The restriction shall not apply to bags ordered before January 12, 1944.

NOTE: Paragraphs (t) and (u), formerly (s) and (t), redesignated Jan. 12, 1944.

(t) Use of wool bags. No user shall use any wool bag except as provided below. A "wool bag" is any new or used textile bag, made of burlap, between 5½ and 7½ feet in length, ordinarily used to package wool. Such bag shall not be considered a wool bag when no longer capable of carrying any of the following: grease wools, scoured wools, noils, wool wastes or mohair.

(1) General. Wool bags shall be used only for packing or wrapping wool or wool products and only in accordance with the further restrictions of paragraphs (s) (2), (3), and (4) below.

(2) Heavy #1 wool bags. A "heavy #1 wool bag" is a new or used wool bag made of 12-ounce or heavier burlap and capable of being packed or repacked to its intended capacity with any of the types of wool listed below in this subparagraph. Heavy #1 wool bags shall be used only for packing any of the following types of wool:

Graded wools; Territory, California, or Texas grease wools or mohair.

(3) Light #1 wool bags. A "light #1 wool bag" is a new wool bag made of burlap lighter than 12-ounce weight. Light #1 wool bags shall be used only for packing any of the following types of wool:

Territory, California, or Texas grease or scoured wools or mohair; carbonized wool; carbonized noils; carbonized card waste; fine white garnetts; fine white laps; cut wool tops; broken wool tops; wool backings; rayon; synthetic fibres.

(4) #2 Wool bags. A "#2 wool bag" is any used wool bag other than a heavy #1 wool bag. #2 wool bags shall be used only for packing any of the following types of wool:

Grease wools; fleece wools; pulled wools; scoured wools or noils; carbonized or uncarbonized wool wastes.

General Exceptions

(u) Bags for certain Government agencies. The restrictions of this order shall not apply (1) to the manufacture of textile bags manufactured to meet the packaging specifications of, and for delivery to or for the account of, the government agencies listed below or (2) to the purchase, acceptance, use, or export of textile bags by those agencies: the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, United States Post Office, Federal Reserve System, United States Treasury Department (for Lend-Lease requirements and for coin, currency, and securities requirements), War Shipping Administration, or any agency procuring for delivery pursuant to the Act of Congress of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Land-Lease Act).

Miscellaneous Provisions

(v) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–221.

(w) Appeals. Appeals from the quota restrictions of paragraph (o) above shall be made by application in triplicate on Form WPB–3997 (PD–183–c). Appeals from any other restriction of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of appeal.

(x) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(y) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 12th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

BOX-VENEER

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of box-veneer for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3270.4 Conservation Order M–343—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Veneer" means single-thickness lumber made by the rotary cutting of logs.

(2) "Box-veneer" means veneer made for use, in single thickness, in the manufacture of wooden shipping containers.

(3) "Aircraft-veneer" means veneer made for use in the manufacture of aircraft.

(4) "Marine-veneer" means veneer made for use in the manufacture of boats or ships.

(5) "Producer" means any person who operates a plant in which, at any time since January 1, 1942, box-veneer has been made for sale to box-manufacturers.

(6) "Box-manufacturer" means any person who manufactures wooden shipping containers made in whole or in part from box-veneer.

Quota and Sale Restrictions

(b) Quota restriction. This order does not restrict the amount of box-veneer, aircraft-veneer, or marine-veneer which a producer may make. However, during any quota period, no producer shall make veneer of any type other than those three types unless, during that period, he makes enough box-veneer to fill his box-veneer quota. Quota periods and amounts are set out in paragraph (d) below.

(c) Sale restriction. No producer shall sell to any one except box-manufacturers the box-veneer produced to fill his quota.

(d) Quota periods and amounts. Every producer shall determine how many board feet of box-veneer were made in his plant during each of the following 2 periods: the first 6 months of 1942 and the first 6 months of 1943. The larger of those two amounts is his "base quantity". For the 1½-month quota period August 16–September 30, 1943, his box-veneer quota shall be 25% of his base quantity. For each 3-month quota period thereafter (October–December, January–March, etc.), his box-veneer quota shall be 50% of his base quantity.

(The 25% and 50% quotas represent 1½ and 3 month periods. However, they are applied to a 6-month base quantity. Therefore, in effect, they represent 100% of the 6-month rate of operation.)

Miscellaneous Provisions

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(f) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–343.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

FOOTWEAR

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of shoe manufacturing material for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.101 Conservation Order M–217—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board and Conservation Order M–328, as amended from time to time, except as follows:

(1) Priorities Regulation 17 shall be inapplicable to footwear.

(2) Military footwear which has been rejected by Government inspectors and stamped to indicate its rejection may be sold without regard to Paragraph 944.11 of Priorities Regulation 1 or paragraph (e) (3) of Conservation Order M–328.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Put into process" means the first cutting of leather or fabric in the manufacture of footwear.

(2) "Footwear" includes house slippers, but does not include (i) rubber footwear or (ii) foot covering designed to be worn over shoes and utilizing no leather.

(3) "Work shoes" means any shoes or boots with unlined quarters which are designed to be worn at any form of work requiring specially heavy or substantially made footwear.

(4) "Horizontal quarter seams" means seams on quarters running in a predominantly horizontal direction (i. e. parallel to the sole).

(5) "Design and construction" of footwear means the make-up of the footwear in every detail, so that any two items of footwear of the same design and construction are necessarily identical, except in size; but does not refer to the means whereby the footwear is manufactured.

(6) "Cattle hide leather" means any leather (including splits) made from cattle hides, including hides of bulls, cows, and steers, and calf and kip skins (but excluding slunks) and shall also include buffalo hides.

Reduction in sales or deliveries proportionate with any curtailment in supply available for nonmilitary use shall not constitute a discriminatory cut.

(5) No manufacturer shall accept delivery of any upper leather or lining leather reserved by tanners pursuant to Conservation Order M–310, or directions issued thereunder, for the manufacture of the following types of footwear:

(i) Infants';
(ii) Misses' and children's;

	Percent

(2) No person shall manufacture any line of footwear (except military footwear) not manufactured by him in his six months' base period.

(3) Exceptions to paragraphs (i) (1) and (i) (2). (i) A lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear may be substituted in whole or in part for a higher priced line.

(ii) The unused quota of any higher priced line may be added to a lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear.

Type:	Percentage of unused quota permitted to be added
Men's work	115
Youths' and boys'	125
Misses' and children's	125
Infants'	125

(iii) A person may exceed his civilian line quota for any line of women's safety shoes if a pairage equal to such excess is deducted from some other line or lines of footwear.

(v) Paragraphs (i) (1) and (i) (2) shall not apply to footwear made for the physically maimed or deformed on a custom-made basis and not for stock.

(vi) Until September 1, 1943 footwear made wholly without leather and without rubber soles shall not be included in computing production for the purposes of this paragraph (i). The War Production Board may authorize any person making a line of reasonably durable footwear utilizing non-critical materials to exceed his civilian line quota for such line. Application for such authorization shall be made by letter, describing fully the footwear proposed to be manufactured, listing in detail all the materials to be used and stating the quantity of such footwear to be made, the price range, the source of the manpower to effect such increase in production, and all other facts pertinent to the application.

(vii) Any person who has no civilian line quota for a particular type of footwear may apply by letter for one or more civilian line quotas, stating the types and construction of the footwear he proposes to manufacture, the number of pairs to be made, the price range, the consumer need for footwear of the quality proposed to be made, the source of the manpower to make such footwear, and whether production will be reduced in any other line or lines. No such quota will be granted unless the footwear to be made has been specifically priced by the Office of Price Administration.

SCHEDULE I—SPECIFICATIONS FOR SOLES

Abrasion. The substitute material shall have a resistance to abrasion of not less than 4000 revolutions to abrade 50% of the thickness of the material, when tested on the type of machine used by and following the procedure of the National Bureau of Standards. The material may be tested on any other abrasive testing machine, using an appropriate number of abrasive strokes of revolutions to give abrasive action equivalent to the above.

Crackiness. The material shall not crack, after conditioning for 4 hours, at 32° F. and testing at that temperature, when bent 180° over a 3-inch mandrel. The material shall not crack, after aging for 48 hours at 120° F. ± 2° F. and reconditioning at 65 per cent ± 2 per cent relative humidity and 120° F. ± 2° F., when bent 180° over a 3-inch mandrel.

Tackiness. The material shall not become tacky or flow when subjected to a temperature of 120° F. ± 2° F. for 4 hours.

Stitch tear. Material which is used for stitched soles shall have a stitch tear strength of not less than 30 pounds when tested dry, and not less than 25 pounds when tested immediately after soaking in water for 4 hours.

Effect of water. After submerging in water at 75° F. ± 2° F. for 4 hours, the material shall not show visual evidence of delamination or separation and shall not show an increase in thickness of more than 20 per cent.

The word "manufacture" in line two of paragraph (c) (1) of § 3290.191. (Conservation Order M–217), refers to the operation whereby the features mentioned in subdivisions (i) to (xvii), inclusive, of said paragraph became a part of the footwear.

Illustration: Subdivision (iv) refers to full overlaid tips or full overlaid foxings except on work shoes. The order prohibits the placing of full overlay tips or full overlay foxings on dress shoes after October 31, 1942. But it does not prohibit the completion of the shoe if an overlaid tip or an overlaid foxing has been affixed prior to said date. (Issued October 6, 1943.)

The reference to "leather outsoles or outside leather taps," in paragraph (c) (8) of § 3290.191 Conservation Order M–217 designates outsoles and outside taps the wearing qualities of which are derived primarily from leather. For example: An outsole composed primarily of leather but having a paper coating would constitute a "leather outsole," since, presumably, the paper would soon disappear and the wearing quality of the sole would rest primarily upon the leather.

On the other hand, if a sole of durable substitute material were cemented on a thin leather sole so that the substitute material received the wear the leather sole would constitute a midsole rather than an outsole.

Similarly, a wooden sole having a leather heel insert to provide nonskid and soundproofing features is not a "leather outsole," because the wear of the shoe is derived mainly from the wooden portion of the sole. (Issued Oct. 18, 1943.)

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

MISCELLANEOUS CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of the chemicals subject to this order for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.491 Allocation Order M–340. (a) Definitions. (1) "Subject chemical" means any chemical listed in Appendix A, as therein defined.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of any subject chemical and includes a person who imports any subject chemical or has it produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who buys any subject chemical for the purpose of resale without further processing and without changing the form thereof.

(4) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall deliver a subject chemical to any person except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board. No person shall accept delivery of a subject chemical which he knows or has reason to believe is delivered in violation of this order.

(2) Authorizations or directions as to deliveries to be made by suppliers in each calendar month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but may be issued at any time. They will normally be issued on Form WPB–2947 (formerly PD–602) which is to be filed by the supplier with War Production Board as explained in paragraph (g) below.

(3) If a supplier is authorized or directed by War Production Board to deliver a subject chemical to any specific customer or group of customers, but is unable to make the delivery either because of receipt of notice of cancellation or otherwise, the subject chemical shall revert to inventory, and shall not be delivered, or used, without further instructions.

(c) Exceptions for small deliveries. (1) Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of a subject chemical in a quantity not exceeding the quantity stated in Column 3 of Appendix B.

(2) The aggregate quantity of a subject chemical which any supplier may deliver in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), shall not exceed:

(i) The quantity which he has been specifically authorized, upon application pursuant to Appendix D, to deliver on small orders; or

(ii) If he is a distributor, the quantity which he acquired upon certification that it was required to fill small orders or the quantity which he acquired himself on such a small order; or

(iii) If he is a distributor who customarily delivers exclusively on small orders, any quantity.

(d) Exceptions for deliveries for other reasons. Specific authorization in writing of War Production Board is not required for delivery of a subject chemical by any supplier to any other person for a purpose stated in Column 4 of Appendix B.

(e) Restrictions on use. (1) On and after the applicable effective date stated in Appendix A, no supplier shall use a subject chemical except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(2) Each person who with an order for a subject chemical furnishes a certificate required by paragraph (f) shall use the subject chemical delivered on such order only as specified on such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) War Production Board may from time to time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made of a subject chemical to be delivered to, or then in inventory of, the prospective user.

(f) Supplier to obtain from customer a certificate of use. No supplier shall in any calendar month (beginning in the case of each subject chemical with the calendar month in which the order becomes effective as to that chemical as stated in Appendix A) deliver to any person a greater quantity of such subject chemical than is stated in Column 3 of Appendix B, unless he shall have received from such person a certificate as to the use for which such person is ordering such subject chemical. Such certificate must be received by the supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is to be made. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver a subject chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(g) Applications by suppliers for leave to deliver or use. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, a subject chemical during any calendar month shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. An inventory (including only inventory at factory, wholesale warehouse points, and "in transit" to wholesale warehouse points) shall be deemed in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, if such inventory, by total number of products in any one of the above groups is in excess of total unit sales of the products in that group during the previous 60 days, or in excess of ½ of the total unit sales of products in that group during the previous 180 days, whichever is the greater.

For the purpose of this section and §§ 4600.15–4600.17 inclusive, the above groups shall be deemed to refer only to new products.

§ 4600.15 Reseller's inventories of airplane, bicycle and industrial tires and tubes. No person shall deliver any new airplane, bicycle or industrial tires or tubes (as listed in Groups 7–10 inclusive and 12–14 inclusive, of § 4600.14) to a person regularly engaged in the business of reselling such products, unless the reseller acquiring the products shall attach to his purchase order a certification in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned hereby certifies to ..... and to (insert name and address of seller)

the War Production Board that he is familiar with Rubber Order R-1 as amended, and that the number of units to be acquired by this order will not result in his inventory of airplane, bicycle or industrial tires or tubes, on hand and on order, in any single group of § 4600.14 in which the products fall, being greater than his total unit sales of products in that group during the 90 days preceding his order, or greater than ⅓ of the total unit sales of products in that group during the 180 days preceding his order, whichever is greater.

This § 4600.15 shall not apply to any purchase order originating outside the continental limits of the United States.

(Similar certification is required for products in Groups 1 to 6 inclusive and Group 11 of § 4600.14 by the Office of Price Administration in Amendment No. 57 to OPA Ration Order 1-A.)

§ 4600.16 Original equipment manufacturers' inventories of tires and tubes. No person shall deliver any product listed in groups 1 to 14 inclusive of § 4600.14 to any vehicle manufacturer requiring such product as a part of the original equipment of the vehicles he manufactures, unless the vehicle manufacturer shall attach to his purchase order a certification (in addition to any other certification which may be required by regulations of the War Production Board) in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned hereby certifies to _____ and to (insert name and address of seller) the War Production Board that he is familiar with Rubber Order R-1 and that acceptance of delivery of the products listed on this purchase order will not increase his inventory of products within the particular group listed in § 4600.14 of Rubber Order R-1 in which the products fall, in excess of such products required for his production of vehicles during the ensuing 30 days.

Date

A vehicle manufacturer may certify a purchase order or contract which calls for scheduled deliveries during a period of more than thirty days without making certification for each thirty days' production. Under these circumstances, use of the foregoing certification constitutes a representation that the deliveries scheduled will not result in the acquisition of more products than are required for the particular manufacturer's production of vehicles during the thirty-day period following each scheduled delivery. In the event of a decrease in the number of products actually required, the manufacturer shall notify his supplier of the reduction, and the scheduled deliveries shall be revised accordingly.

No "producer" of farm machinery and equipment (as defined in Order L-257) may procure new pneumatic tires or tubes under this section except for the following items of equipment within his quota under Orders L-257 and L-257-a:

(a) Wheel type tractors including garden type.

(b) Combines.

(c) Pick-up hay balers and field hay harvesters.

(d) Corn pickers.

(e) Power sprayers over 10 gallons per minute.

Use of the certification by such a producer shall constitute a representation to the seller and to the War Production Board that the products are required for his production of the items of equipment listed above. No such producer shall procure new pneumatic tires and tubes for mounting on other types of farm equipment without special authorization from the Office of the Rubber Director, War Production Board.

The above shall not affect new pneumatic tires and tubes required for mounting on any items as specifically authorized under Order L-257 or L-257-a prior to Dec. 24, 1943.

§ 4600.17 User's inventories of industrial tires and tubes and solid tires; procurement for replacement purposes. (a) No person shall deliver or accept delivery of any pneumatic tire described in paragraph (b) below for replacement on any passenger automobile, motorcycle, bus, farm implement, farm tractor or commercial motor vehicle except in accordance with OPA Ration Order 1A. The following certification procedure is applicable only to new pneumatic tires and tubes of the sizes and types described below for replacement on other types of vehicles and equipment and to any industrial or highway solid tire for replacement purposes regardless of the type of vehicle or equipment.

For example, a person who wishes to replace a straight side pneumatic tire in size 4.00–12 on a passenger car or small delivery truck, may do so only under the Ration Order. On the other hand, a person who requires the same tire for replacement on material handling equipment such as an industrial power truck uses the certification procedure.

Replacement tires or tubes classified in Groups 1–6 inclusive of § 4600.14 (regular passenger, motorcycle, bus, farm tractor-implement or special purpose types) are subject to the provisions of the Ration Order, even though the tires or tubes are required for industrial equipment.

(b) Certification of purchase orders. No person shall deliver any tires or tubes for replacement purposes (except as otherwise provided in OPA Ration Order 1A) in the following classifications:

(1) Any straight side pneumatic tire designed primarily for industrial use up to and including size 4.50–12 and the following sizes: 6.00–9, 7.50–10, 7.50–15 (4-ply, smooth tread only) and 9.00–10;

(2) Any single tube pneumatic tire designed primarily for industrial use;

(3) Any industrial or highway solid tire;

unless the person acquiring the same shall attach to his purchase order a certification in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

The undersigned hereby certifies to _____ (insert name and address of seller) and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Rubber Order R-1 and that the products listed on this purchase order are required by him for replacement purposes within 90 days from the date of this certification and do not include any pneumatic tires or tubes for any passenger automobile, motorcycle, bus, farm implement, farm tractor, or commercial motor vehicle.

Date

Authorized Official

Definitions of the vehicles and equipment for which replacement tires or tubes may not be secured by certification are set forth in OPA Ration Order 1-A.

(c) Preference ratings. Tires and tubes which are subject to the foregoing certification procedure may be produced or delivered to fill civilian orders for replacement purposes (identified by certification), without regard to preference ratings. Any rating purporting to be applied or extended to any such tires or tubes for replacement purposes shall be void and no person shall give any effect to it except in filling Government orders. This suspension of ratings does not affect rated orders certified by original equipment manufacturers in accordance with § 4600.16.

Any person who is unable under this section to obtain timely delivery of replacement tires or tubes required by him to avoid imminent break-down in operations directly related to the war effort may apply by letter to the War Production Board for written permission to use his MRO rating. This letter of application should specify the minimum number of tires or tubes required and describe briefly the type of operation and the condition of the equipment.

RESTRICTIONS ON OPERATIONS

§ 4600.18 Regrooving tires. No person shall regroove the tread or tread surface of any tire or tire casing (except airplane and bus mileage contract tire casings) whether by cutting, scraping, grinding, burning, heating, remolding or any other means. This restriction does not apply to the grooving of tires in the course of recapping or retreading or restoring the original design to tread sectional repairs.

§ 4600.19 Recapping or retreading tires. No person shall recap or retread a tire unless the tire is worn smooth in the middle of the tread. As used herein, a tire is "worn smooth" when the tread design is no longer visible.

RESTRICTIONS ON IMPORTATION

§ 4600.22 Importation of rubber, synthetic rubber, balata and products thereof. No person shall import any rubber, synthetic rubber or balata, or any finished or semi-finished product of which 10% or more by weight is composed of rubber, synthetic rubber or balata or any combination thereof except Rubber Reserve Company, Rubber Development Corporation, or any Corporation organized under section (5) (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act, as amended, or any agent acting for one or more of them. Nothing contained in this § 4600.22 shall be deemed to prohibit:

(a) The importation by any person during any calendar month of products or materials (except tires, tire casings and tire tubes) which contain an aggregate of not more than twenty-five pounds of rubber, synthetic rubber and balata, provided such products or materials are not imported for the purpose of manufacturing, processing, sale or resale;

(b) The importation by any person of tires and tubes for the personal use of such person, provided such importation is expressly authorized by the Office of Price Administration;

(c) The importation for testing purposes of camelback, or of tires or tubes or sections thereof by any manufacturer of camelback, tires or tubes;

(d) The importation of bicycle tires and tubes originally manufactured in the continental United States, Canada or the British Isles;

(e) The importation of tires for recapping, retreading or repair, provided the tires are thereafter exported to the owners in the foreign country from which the products were imported;

(f) The importation of any scrap rubber by the Army or Navy of the United States or the United States Maritime Commission;

(g) The importation of any finished products made of rubber, synthetic rubber or balata by diplomatic representatives of any foreign government for their personal use or the use of members of their staffs;

(h) The importation of any finished product made of rubber, synthetic rubber or balata by commercial representatives of any foreign government for use in their official business;

(i) The importation from the Dominion of Canada by any person of rubber, synthetic rubber or balata or any products thereof manufactured in the continental United States, Canada or the British Isles.

PURCHASE PROCEDURE

§ 4600.23 Purchase requests for crude rubber, natural latex or general purpose synthetics. Purchase requests for crude rubber, natural latex or general purpose synthetics produced in Government plants are made by letter in quadruplicate to the Manager of Allocations, Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., specifying the month in which delivery is required and stating the type, grade and number of pounds of material requested. For natural latex, the request should also specify percentage of concentration, type of container, specific use, and usual source of supply.

Requests for purchase of Government plant general purpose synthetics for experimental use in lots of 200 pounds or less are made directly to Rubber Reserve Company, Washington, D. C., (See § 4600.04).

Requests for purchase of general purpose synthetics which are privately produced are made directly to the producer.

APPENDIX I

SCHEDULE A—PERMITTED PRODUCTS FOR GOVERNMENT OR CIVILIAN ORDERS

NOTE: Code Nos. 9, 12, 18, 22 amended Jan. 12, 1944.

Scope of Schedule A. Schedule A lists the only products which may be manufactured to fill Government or civilian orders, using crude rubber or latex. It also lists the only products which may be manufactured from general purpose synthetics, reclaimed or scrap rubber to fill civilian orders. It does not restrict the manufacture of unlisted products for Government orders, using general purpose synthetics, reclaimed or scrap rubber. (See § 4600.08 (b) for products not listed on Schedule A.)

Crude rubber and latex. Regulations for the consumption of crude rubber and latex in the manufacture of products are set forth in the columns of the schedule unless reference is made to an Appendix II list in which case the list governs the manufacture of the particular product.

Reclaimed rubber. Class 1 reclaimed rubber may be consumed in the manufacture of any product on Schedule A, unless another class is specifically designated on the schedule or by Appendix II list.

The classes of reclaimed rubber are defined as follows: Class 1—Hydrocarbon content of more than 50% by weight; Class 2—Hydrocarbon content of more than 42% by weight but not more than 50% by weight; Class 3—Hydrocarbon content of 42% by weight or less.

General purpose synthetics. General purpose synthetics may be consumed in the manufacture of any product on Schedule A, subject to any special restriction applicable to the product on the Schedule.

Scrap rubber. Scrap rubber is divided into the following classes: Class 1—Ground tire peels and tread buffings; uncured tire cord friction scrap; vulcanized scrap tires and tire parts (except tire beads) and inner tubes; any cured or uncured scrap having a specific gravity of 1.15 or less; Class 2—any other scrap rubber.

Class 1 and Class 2 scrap rubber may be consumed without limitation as to amount for permitted uses. Class 2 scrap may be used in the manufacture of any product on Schedule A. Class 1 scrap may be used only in the manufacture of those products for which Class 1 scrap is specifically designated on Schedule A.

SYMBOLS USED IN SCHEDULE A

Appendix II column: Refers to applicable regulations in Appendix II by list number. The word, "No" is used where no Appendix II regulations apply.

Crude rubber column: Indicates when crude rubber is permitted and regulates its use by showing the maximum percentage of the total volume of the compound, which may be crude rubber.

"X" indicates that crude rubber may be consumed in the manufacture of the product on Schedule A. Latex column: Indicates when latex is permitted and regulates its use by showing the maximum percentage of the total volume of the compound, which may be latex. "X" indicates that latex may be consumed in the minimum quantities required by the manufacturer. This column is blank when regulations are set forth in Appendix II.

Special restrictions column: Indicates special restrictions applicable to the particular product. If the column is blank, no special restrictions apply. This column is also used to indicate where Class 1 scrap is permitted.

Where "special authorization" is required for a product each manufacturer must secure a specific allocation before consuming crude rubber, natural latex, or general purpose synthetics. In some cases, this requirement is confined to crude rubber. Applications may be made by letter to the War Production Board.

Where a product is limited to "government only", it may not be manufactured except to fill government orders.

APPENDIX II—MANUFACTURING REGULATIONS

NOTE: Changes have been made in Lists 3, 6, 22, 23, 24, 25, 27, 29, 30 and 32 Jan. 12, 1944.

(a) Applicability. (1) This Appendix sets forth certain compounding proportions and manufacturing regulations for many of the products listed in Schedule A of Appendix I. No person may manufacture the products governed by the lists attached to this Appendix unless such product is manufactured in accordance with the applicable regulations set forth in this Appendix.

(2) All regulations apply to all purchase orders, including both Government and Civilian orders, except where otherwise designated in the appropriate list.

(3) Regulations in this Appendix do not apply to the manufacture of experimental products or experimental compounds designed for:

(i) The substitution of synthetic rubber, reclaimed rubber or scrap rubber for crude rubber and latex.

(ii) The conservation of crude rubber, latex, synthetic rubber, reclaimed rubber or scrap rubber.

(b) General provisions. (1) The total rubber hydrocarbon (sometimes designated RHC in this Appendix) is the sum total of crude rubber and the average rubber hydrocarbon value of reclaimed rubber, expressed on a volume basis. The average rubber hydrocarbon value of reclaimed rubber shall be calculated from the rubber value of reclaimed rubber as certified by the manufacturer of the reclaimed rubber and shall be determined by the "difference (or indirect)" method.

(2) References to Army, Navy, Federal, Railroad, etc., specifications by number mean the latest issue or amendment of the particular specifications.

LIST 1—REGULATIONS FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF COMPOUNDS FOR MECHANICAL RUBBER GOODS

(a) Applicability. This List 1 establishes certain general provisions and regulations governing the compounds to be used in the manufacture of mechanical rubber products. These regulations shall apply to all mechanical goods compounds, whether manufactured from crude rubber, reclaimed rubber, synthetic rubber, latex, scrap or any combination of these materials.

(b) General provisions. (1) Compounds containing less crude rubber or latex than that amount designated either in Schedule A, Appendix I, or in lists now or hereafter attached to this Appendix II may be used in manufacturing products governed by said schedule or lists, provided the physical or service requirements, where designated, are met.

(2) All compounds shall be black, except where otherwise designated in Schedule A or in other applicable lists.

(3) Where maximum percent by volume for crude rubber and latex is designated, it shall include crude rubber used in cements to aid processing.

(2) The foregoing production pattern establishes the order of preference in which each manufacturer's interchangeable facilities must be used in the manufacture of tire and tube products and applies to facilities in each group or sub-group or in as many groups as are covered by the manufacturer's facilities.

(3) Where there is any degree of interchangeability in the use of the manufacturer's facilities, these facilities shall be extended to a lower group or sub-group in accordance with the production pattern when the manufacturer has established an inventory position not exceeding 15 days' supply in each higher group or sub-group for which the facilities are used. Inventories thus established shall be maintained in accordance with the production pattern.

For the purposes of this list, a 15-day inventory position means one-fourth of the manufacturer's sales during the preceding 60 day period.

For example: Assume that a 15-day position has been established in groups 1 and 2. This releases interchangeable facilities for the remaining groups in order of preference. When inventories are exhausted in groups 1 and 2, then any interchangeable facilities which are used in a lower group in the pattern must be diverted to groups 1 and 2 as soon as possible in order to re-establish an inventory not exceeding a 15-days' supply in groups 1 and 2 in accordance with the pattern.

Another example: Requirements for Item f of group 2—truck tires of 15 inch and 16 inch bead diameter through 7.50 cross section (these are also passenger type sizes) must be met to the extent of an inventory not exceeding a 15 days' supply before production facilities shall be used for regular passenger tire in group 6.

(4) The use of interchangeable tire and tube production facilities, except in accordance with the foregoing production pattern, is prohibited unless specific authorization in writing is secured from the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board.

(b) Miscellaneous provisions. (1) Because of the urgency for maximum tire and tube production and in view of the critical manpower shortage, no manufacturer shall perform the following operations:

(i) Painting of tires and tubes for the sake of appearance.

(ii) Wrapping of tires, regardless of end use.

(iii) Clipping or shearing of curing-vent overflow except for airplane tires.

(iv) Removal of minor light spots and surface imperfections not actually harmful from a service standpoint.

(2) Deviations from normal manufacturing practices which are set forth in this subdivision (b) shall not be interpreted as permitting any relaxation of essential inspection of the finished product.

Other lists attached to Appendix II will govern the use of these compounds in the manufacture of finished products. These compounds need be used only when required by other regulations contained in lists attached to Appendix II. The variations permitted by this List 22 are allowed in the manufacture of finished products covered by other applicable lists unless expressly prohibited by such other lists.

(b) Natural rubber compounds. The composition of natural rubber compounds shall be governed by the regulations set forth in the following table:

Description of compound: Type	Grade	Percent by volume: Crude rubber and latex, Maximum	Crude rubber and latex, Minimum	Total RHC, Maximum	Total RHC, Minimum
Tread compounds	A	73.0	71.0	75.0	71.0

(c) Synthetic rubber compounds. (1) No regulations are now designated for the manufacture of synthetic rubber compounds for tires and tire casings.

(2) The identification of the various types of synthetic rubber is effected by designating each type by a letter and a color.

S	Red	GR-S (Buna S).
M	Yellow	GR-M (Neoprene).
I	Light blue	GR-I (Butyl).

(d) Synthetic tire constructions. (1) The distribution of synthetic rubber in tires and tire casings is controlled by the following synthetic construction identification numbers, which indicate the proportion of synthetic rubber to crude rubber, and the placement of the synthetic rubber.

Synthetic construction identification numbers:	Type of synthetic
S-1, S-2, S-3, etc	GR-S
M-1, M-2, M-3, etc	GR-M
I-1, I-2, I-3, etc	GR-I

(2) S-3 denotes 100% GR-S tread on a 100% GR-S carcass, except that:

(i) Crude rubber may be used throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion, but shall not exceed, by weight, two percent of the sum of the crude rubber, GR-S synthetic rubber and reclaimed rubber hydrocarbon contents. Individual sizes may exceed the two percent maximum, provided that the average crude rubber content of all sizes of the same type of tire does not exceed the two percent maximum.

(ii) Reclaimed rubber may be used throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion.

(iii) Latex may be used in cord treatment solution.

(3) S-4 denotes approximately 90% GR-S and 10% crude rubber, distributed throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion, except that:

(i) Crude rubber may be used only to the extent permitted by the "maximum content crude rubber" designated.

(ii) Reclaimed rubber may be used throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion.

(iii) Latex may be used in cord treatment solution.

(4) S-5 denotes 100% GR-S tread on a natural rubber carcass, except that:

(i) Crude rubber may be used only in cements, in tread and sidewall splice gum strips and in the tire body, but only to the extent permitted by the "maximum content crude rubber" designated.

(ii) Reclaimed rubber may be used throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion.

(iii) Latex may be used in cord treatment solution.

(5) S-6 denotes approximately 70% GR-S and 30% crude rubber, distributed throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion, except that:

(i) Crude rubber may be used to the extent permitted by the "maximum content crude rubber" designated.

(ii) Reclaimed rubber may be used throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion.

(iii) Latex may be used in the cord treatment solution.

(6) S-7 denotes approximately 35% GR-S and 65% crude rubber, distributed throughout the tire at the manufacturer's discretion, except that:

[2] Crude rubber may be consumed in cements for adhesion purposes in manufacturing tire patches.

(c) Restrictions. (1) In items (2) (c), (3) (a) and (3) (d), different grades of compounds may be used in the cured and uncured portions of each, provided the total crude rubber content in the whole item does not exceed the percent represented by the compound grade specified.

(3) Garage kits containing any of the above materials shall contain either ½ pound, ½ pound or 1 pound of combination tube repair gum and not more than ½ pint of rubber cement.

(4) The over-all gauge of any combination tube repair gum manufactured shall not exceed .05 inch, including holland cloth or other protecting material.

List 24—Regulations for the Manufacture of Tires and Tire Casings (Except Airplane and Bicycle Tires)

(a) General provisions. (1) The crude rubber content of any tire or tire casing governed by this List 24 shall not include processing losses, crude rubber used in curing bags or latex used in the cord treatment. Latex consumed in cord treatment, however, shall not exceed, by weight, 4% of the dry weight of cord treated in any quarterly period.

(2) On those sizes of natural rubber tires for which no "maximum content crude rubber" is designated, the compound grades shown under "compound designation" shall apply (the first letter designating the friction and the second letter designating the tread compound grade) and the composition of the compounds shall conform to the regulations set forth in List 22, Appendix II.

(3) On those sizes of synthetic rubber tires for which no "maximum content crude rubber" is designated, the tire construction shall be of the synthetic type designated and the compounds thereof shall conform to the appropriate regulations set forth in List 22, Appendix II.

(4) The use of rayon in the manufacture of tires and tire casings governed by this List 24 shall conform to the regulations set forth in List 22, Appendix II.

(5) When the cord used in any tire is made of rayon or is of a gauge less than .027 inch as measured by the current ASTM standards in effect, the "maximum content crude rubber" permitted shall be reduced by 6 percent.

(6) Only one grade of tire may be manufactured in any size, ply and type, and that grade must be consistent with maintaining a quality adequate for the service for which the tire is designed.

(7) Where "Mud-Snow" type tread is designated in this List 24, tires with either directional or non-directional (ND) tread designs may be manufactured.

(8) Single marked high pressure type tires or single marked balloon type tires may be substituted for dual marked type tires.

(9) S-7 synthetic construction may be substituted for S-5 synthetic construction wherever S-5 is designated in this List 24, subject, for Government orders, to the approval of the procuring agency. The "maximum content crude rubber" designated for S-5 shall also apply to S-7.

(b) Manufacturing regulations. (1) Pneumatic tires of any size, ply and tread type may be manufactured provided that they conform to the regulations for S-3 synthetic construction tires in List 22, Appendix II.

(2) Solid or hollow center tires, casters and wheels of any size and type may be manufactured, provided that

(i) Crude rubber is consumed only in cements and/or tie-gum (or hard base) and does not exceed, by weight, ten percent of the sum of crude rubber, synthetic rubber and reclaimed rubber hydrocarbon contents.

(ii) General purpose synthetic rubber, reclaimed rubber and Classes 1 and 2 scrap rubber may be used in any amounts and in any proportion desired.

(3) The manufacture of tires and tire casings consuming more crude rubber than permitted by sub-divisions (b) (1) and (b) (2) of this List 24 shall be limited to the sizes, plies and tread types listed in this sub-division (b) (3), subject to the maximum crude rubber contents or compound grades designated therefor.

(c) Branding of tires. (1) All natural rubber tires or tire casings manufactured to fill Civilian orders shall bear, on the serial side and near the serial number, a brand with the words "War Time" and the letters designated under "Compound Designation". Letters used to brand tires of a cross-section of 6.50 inches or more shall be at least one-fourth inch high, while those used to brand smaller tires shall be at least one-eighth inch high. This "War Time" brand may (but need not) be applied to natural rubber tires or tire casings manufactured to fill Government orders, at the discretion of the manufacturer.

(2) All synthetic rubber tires or tire casings manufactured to fill either Civilian or Government orders shall have a colored dot, either circular or rectangular (with or without rounded corners or ends) and with an average effective dimension of at least one inch, vulcanized on both sides of the tire. Be appropriate color to be determined from sub-division (c) (2) of said List 22. In addition, all synthetic rubber pneumatic tires or tire casings shall bear, on both sides of the tire and in characters at least five-eighths inch high, a brand showing the appropriate synthetic construction identification. The colored dot and the brand shall be permanent and may be superimposed if desired. The colored dot and synthetic construction identification may be omitted when the designated minimum of sizes of tires for which the

(d) Tolerances. (1) On those sizes of natural rubber tires, this List 24, for which no "maximum content crude rubber" is designated, but for which fixation and tread compound grades are designated, a manufacturer can calculate the maximum amount of crude rubber and total RSC which may be used in the manufacture of a tire or tire casing of any such size. Within the maximum amounts thus calculated, a manufacturer may, at his discretion, shift the maximum between rim and tread.

(2) On those sizes, in this List 24, for which a "maximum content crude rubber" is designated, a manufacturer shall have, in the respective size, an operating tolerance on the maximum content of crude rubber limited only by the

(3) On those sizes, in this List 24, for which no "maximum content crude rubber" is designated but for which fixation and tread compound grades are designated, the tolerance set forth in said List 22 shall apply.

(e) Definitions. (1) Where used in this List 24, "Standard Highway" as applied to tread type means regular skid-depth, "100" level.

(2) "Tire-to-Road type" in this List 24, "Mud-Snow" as applied to tread type means extra-traction, on-and-off-the-road type.

Lay 25—Regulations for the Manufacture of Tire Tubes (Except Airplane and Bicycle Tire Tubes)

(a) General provisions. (1) The crude rubber content of any tube governed by this List 25 shall not include processing losses or tack rubber used in valves.

(2) Only one grade of tube may be manufactured in any size and type, and that grade must be consistent with maintaining a quality adequate for the service for which the tube is designed.

(3) The restrictions of this List 25 shall not apply to tubes for city and intercity bus mileage contract tires of cross-sections 10.00 and larger.

(4) General purpose synthetic rubber may be used in any tube for which a "maximum content crude rubber" is designated, subject, for Government orders, to the approval of the procuring agency. When general purpose synthetic rubber is used, the tube volume may exceed the designated maximum provided that the crude rubber content does not exceed seventy-five percent of the designated maximum.

(b) Manufacturing regulations. (1) Tubes of any size and type may be manufactured, Provided, That:

(i) Crude rubber and latex may be consumed only in valves, valve adhesion pads, spliting gum strips and cements, and identification inks and cements.

(ii) General purpose synthetic rubber and reclaimed rubber may be used in any amounts and in any proportion desired.

(2) The manufacture of tubes for Civilian orders consuming more crude rubber than permitted by sub-division (b) (1) of this section shall be limited to the sizes and types listed in sub-division (b) (3) of this List 25 and the sizes and types listed in this sub-division (b) (3), subject to the maximum tube volumes, and crude rubber contents designated therefor.

Part 4600—Rubber, Synthetic Rubber, Balata and Products Thereof

[Rubber Order R–1, Appendix III as Amended Jan. 12, 1944]

Introductory. Appendix III to Rubber Order R–1 as amended is a compilation of supplementary orders and directives of general applicability which affect rubber and rubber products. In the past, these orders and directives have involved principally the conversion of products from crude rubber to synthetics and have been issued individually to the manufacturers of the particular products. The purpose of Appendix III is to issue these directives and miscellaneous supplementary orders in printed form.

The material in Appendix III is arranged in accordance with the following product classifications:

Mechanical goods: Wire and cable; Tires and tubes; Footwear; Heels and soles; Proofing and combining of fabrics; Medical, surgical, dental, drug sundries; and Miscellaneous.

Each of these product classifications has been assigned a section number commencing with § 4600.51. Supplementary orders and directives in each group are designated by letter.

§ 4600.50 Applicability of Rubber Order R–1. Supplementary orders and directives which appear in Appendix III shall govern in case of inconsistency with other provisions of Rubber Order R–1. These orders and directives may be incorporated in the Rubber Order from time to time, at the discretion of the War Production Board.

§ 4600.51 Mechanical goods. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to mechanical goods:

(a) Vibration mount and shock absorber. No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of compression type mountings or insulations of Shore Durometer hardness of 40 and above. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of compression types of mountings or insulators having a Shore Durometer hardness of less than 40. Crude rubber may, however, be used for bonding cements and for use in tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

No crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed after March 1, 1944, in the manufacture of plate, sandwich, tubular, or other types of shear mountings or insulations. This restriction covers mountings or insulations where the temperatures of applications are minus 40° F. and above. Aircraft engine and instrument mounts may be considered as falling in the applications functioning below minus 40° F. Crude rubber may be used for bonding cements and tie-gum compounds which shall not exceed 1/32" in thickness.

Torsional vibration dampers may be manufactured from crude rubber until further notice.

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) Pipe rings. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of pipe rings.

(d) Milking machine inflations. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of milking machine inflations.

(e) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(f) Street car sandwich wheels. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber may be consumed in the manufacture of street car sandwich wheels.

§ 4600.52 Wire and cable. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to wire and cable:

(a) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(b) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(c) [Deleted Jan. 12, 1944]

(d) X-ray cable. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of X-ray cable, high voltage, as shown in List 27, Appendix II, under "Commercial Types".

(e) Long range field wire. After February 1, 1944, no crude rubber or natural latex may be consumed in the manufacture of W–143 long range field wire.

§ 4600.53 Tires and tubes. The following supplementary orders and directives are applicable to tires and tubes:

Size	Ply	Type
47	12	Smooth contour landing.
51	14	Do.
56	16	Do.
65	18	Do.
65	22	Do.
44 x 12	14	High pressure special duty.
46 x 13	16	Do.
17.00 x 20	12	Low pressure landing.
19.00 x 23	16	Do.

(b) Latex treatment on tire cord fabric. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (a) (1), requires that, when latex is used in the treatment solution for tire cord fabric, the latex used shall not exceed four percent of the dry weight of tire cord treated in any given period. This restriction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

(c) Synthetic combat tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (b) (3), in the "Special Purpose Tire" table, lists two sizes of S–3 combat tires and four sizes of S–6 combat tires. These tires had previously been permitted in the S–5 synthetic construction. This conversion from the S–5 synthetic construction to the S–3 or S–6 synthetic construction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

(d) Industrial pneumatic single tube tires. Rubber Order R–1, List 24, subdivision (b) (3), no longer lists industrial pneumatic single tube tires in the EF compound. The manufacturer of industrial pneumatic single tube tires is therefore permitted only in the S–3 synthetic construction according to the regulations shown in List 24, subdivision (b) (1). However, this conversion from the EF construction to the S–3 synthetic construction shall not become mandatory until February 1, 1944.

§ 4600.54 Footwear. All outstanding supplementary orders and directives relating to footwear have been superseded by Rubber Order R–1 as amended.

(a) Pressure sensitive tape. Rubber Order R–1 permits the consumption of general purpose synthetics, reclaimed or scrap rubber in the manufacture of pressure sensitive tape for industrial purposes to fill Government and civilian orders. Schedule A of the order requires certification by the purchaser as to his end use.

(1) Uses which are classified as "industrial" are set forth in the certification.

(2) Certification. With respect to civilian orders no person shall deliver or accept delivery of pressure sensitive tape (except high heat resistant and non-corrosive electric tape) unless the person acquiring the same shall certify to the seller and to the War Production Board in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

ARTICLE I—EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Explanation of the regulation. The purpose of this regulation is to establish maximum prices for sales of fresh whole coconuts, imported and domestic, by all persons other than retailers. In this regulation the term "coconuts" is used to designate all fresh whole coconuts, whether imported or domestic.

Maximum prices for sales by retailers are governed by Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422[1] and 423,[2] which set fixed margins for those sales according to the retailer's volume of sales and manner of doing business.

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Importer" means the first consignee in the continental United States of imported coconuts.

(2) "Country shipper" means a person, including a grower, who sells coconuts grown in continental United States from a farm or other country shipping point.

(3) "Country shipping point" means a farm or other place in or near the producing area from which coconuts grown in continental United States, are sold, shipped, delivered or otherwise transferred to any person, or at which coconuts grown in continental United States are prepared for sale, shipment, delivery or transfer to any person. "Prepared" includes, but is not limited to, loading, sacking, sizing or harvesting.

(4) "Wholesaler" means a person other than importer or country shipper who purchases the coconuts being priced for resale to purchasers other than ultimate consumers. "Ultimate consumer" does not include industrial, commercial or institutional users, or procurement agencies of the United States or any State thereof.

(5) "Sales in a bag" means a sale in a sack or similar receptacle with an aggregate net weight of 150 pounds or more, on the dock, any United States port of entry, or at the country shipping point, and usually containing between 60 and 120 coconuts.

(6) "Sales other than in a bag" means sales in a sack or similar receptacle with an aggregate net weight of less than 150 pounds on the dock, any United States port of entry, or at the country shipping point.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions of section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

ARTICLE II—PRICES AND PRICING METHODS

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for sales of coconuts by importers and country shippers—(a) Sales in a bag. The maximum price which any importer or country shipper may charge for coconuts shall be $6.00 per bag, ex dock any United States port of entry, duty paid, or f. o. b. country shipping point.

(b) Sales other than in a bag. (1) "Sales other than in a bag" shall be priced on a per pound basis.

(2) The maximum price, per pound, which an importer or country shipper may charge for coconuts "other than in a bag" shall be $.04 per pound of coconuts, ex dock any United States port of entry, duty paid, or f. o. b. country shipping point.

(c) Maximum delivered prices for sales of coconuts by importers and country shippers. The maximum delivered price for sales of coconuts by importers or country shippers shall be the maximum prices set forth in this section plus the actual transportation charges incurred by them from the original port of entry in the continental United States or the country shipping point to the purchaser's customary receiving point: Provided, That such transportation charges shall not exceed the cost of transporting an equal quantity of coconuts from the same port of entry or country shipping point directly to the purchaser's customary receiving point, computed at the lowest available transportation rate for the mode of transportation employed.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices for sales of coconuts by wholesalers—(a) Sales in bags. The maximum price per bag which a wholesaler may charge for coconuts shall be his net delivered cost therefor, plus a markup of $1.50 per bag.

(b) Sales other than in a bag. (1) "Sales other than in a bag" shall be priced on a per pound basis.

(2) The maximum price, per pound, which a wholesaler may charge for coconuts "other than in a bag" shall be his net delivered cost per pound therefor, plus a markup of $0.01 per pound.

(c) "Net delivered cost" means the amount the wholesaler pays for the coconuts delivered to his customary receiving point, but not in excess of the maximum price of the importer or country shipper, ex dock any United States port of entry, duty paid, or f. o. b. country shipping point plus actual charges for transportation to the wholesaler's customary receiving point, less all discounts allowed him except the discount for prompt payment. No expense for local trucking, loading or brokerage shall be included by the wholesaler in determining his "net delivered cost."

SEC. 5. Brokerage. If the services of a broker or brokers are required by the importer or country shipper, a commission or commissions not in excess of the amount which the importer or country shipper pays for that purpose but in no event more than 15¢ per bag, or if sales are made on a per pound basis not in excess of 15¢ per 100 lbs., may be added by the importer or country shipper to his maximum price. This addition may be made only when such commissions have been actually paid.

SEC. 6. Customary discounts and allowances. No seller shall change any customary allowance, discount or other price differential granted in August 1943 to a purchaser or class of purchasers if the change results in a higher net price to that purchaser or class.

SEC. 7. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by an official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in the price or to give the authorization. The authorization will be given by order.

ARTICLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 8. Relationship between this regulation and the General Maximum Price Regulation. (a) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as all amendments to them, apply to sales covered by this regulation:

SEC. 12. Compliance with the regulation—(a) No selling or buying above maximum prices. Regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation,

(1) No person shall sell or deliver any coconuts at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation; and

However, lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged or paid.

(b) Evasion. Nor shall any person evade a maximum price directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation, or charge or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying agreement or other trade understanding; by any change of style of pack; by a business practice relating to grading, labeling, or packaging; or in any other way.

(c) Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

PART 1398—OFFICE AND STORE MACHINES

[RMPR 162,[3] Incl. Amdt. 1]

CEILING PRICES FOR THE SALE AND RENTAL OF USED TYPEWRITERS

Sections 4, 5, 8, 9 (c), 12, 13, 16 (b), and 17 (b) are amended, and section 17 (d) is added by Amendment 1, effective January 17, 1944, so that Revised Maximum Price Regulation 162 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this revision of Maximum Price Regulation No. 162 are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardizations, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

[Preamble as amended by Supplementary Order No. 59, 8 F.R. 12552, effective 9-11-43]

Scope of This Regulation

SECTION 1. Purpose of this regulation. This regulation fixes ceiling prices for all sales and rentals of used typewriters. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall attempt, offer, or agree to sell or rent a used typewriter at a price or rate higher than the ceiling price or rate fixed in this regulation. A "used typewriter" is a typewriter which has been in the possession of one or more users for more than 10 days and which has actually been used, or any typewriter which has been used for purposes of demonstration for more than 10 days; the words "used typewriter" include demonstrators and rough, reconditioned and rebuilt typewriters. Any other kind of typewriter is considered a new typewriter for purposes of this regulation. Generally, the word "typewriter" means any portable or office-size writing machine used for correspondence. A more exact definition will be found in section 22.

SEC. 2. Persons and transactions that are covered. This regulation covers all sales and rentals of used typewriters by any person to any other person including sales by an individual who is selling his own used typewriter and sales by auctioneers whether they sell for their own account or for the account of others. The word "person" includes: an individual, corporation, or any other organized group; their legal successors or representatives; the United States or any Government or any of its political subdivisions.

SEC. 3. How this regulation relates to others—(a) Maximum Price Regulation No. 162. This regulation supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 162 after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) General Maximum Price Regulation,[4] Maximum Price Regulation No. 188[5] and Maximum Price Regulation No. 165.[6] This regulation covers all sales and rentals of used typewriters including a few models which until now were covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation. The rental of new typewriters and the sale of new typewriters by persons other than manufacturers are still covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 continues to govern the sale of new typewriters by manufacturers. Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 continues to govern the ceiling prices for the repair or maintenance of used typewriters if repair and maintenance is not in connection with a sale or rental.

(c) Ration Order 4A.[7] Ration Order 4A explains what sales and rentals of typewriters are permitted. This regulation does not authorize any transactions which are not authorized by the provisions of Ration Order 4A.

Ceiling Rental Charges for Used Typewriters

SEC. 4. Base ceiling charges for typewriter rentals. In the table below, "commercial rental" means a rental to a company, governmental agency, institution, or group, whether or not organized for profit, or a rental during which the typewriter will be used in a store or an office (including an office in a dwelling) or a rental during which the typewriter will be carried from place to place for business or professional use. "Non-commercial rentals" are all other rentals.

A "rental with maintenance service" is a rental which includes the supply without additional charge of service and maintenance when needed during the rental period.

A "rental without maintenance service" is a rental which does not include the supply of such service and maintenance.

Either type of rental is, of course, furnished at the option of the supplier.

SEC. 5. Applicability of 1-month and 3-month rates. The 1-month rate applies whenever the customer offers to contract for a rental period of more than 15 days and less than 1 month. The 1-month rate, prorated for the rental period, applies when the customer offers to contract for a rental period of more than 1 month and less than 3 months.

The 3-month rate, prorated for the rental period, applies when the customer offers to contract for a rental period of 3 months or more. No reduction in the rental rate need be made for cash in advance. It is not a violation of this regulation to make the payment of cash in advance, or a deposit for security, a condition of the renting of a typewriter, providing the sum paid in advance is not greater than the dealer-to-dealer ceiling price of the machine.

SEC. 6. Ceiling rental charges for in-between periods. If the rental contract is for a period of more than 1 month and less than 3 months the charge may not exceed the 1-month rate prorated for the rental contract period. For example, if the contract specifies a 2-month commercial rental of an 11" office-size typewriter, the charge may not exceed $7.00 (2 x $3.50). If the rental contract is for a period which exceeds 3 months the rental charge may not exceed the 3-month rate prorated for the rental contract period. For example, if the contract specifies a 5-month non-commercial rental of a portable typewriter, the charge may not exceed $12.50 (or ⅔ of $7.50, multiplied by 5, the number of months).

SEC. 7. Determination of rental period. The rental period is the period specified in the contract or other writing required by section 23, unless a rental is terminated under the provisions of Ration Order 4A; in that case the rental period is the period during which the typewriter was available for use by the person to whom it was rented.

SEC. 8. Rental delivery and pick-up charge. If a customer requests delivery and pick-up of a rented used typewriter, the supplier may add a reasonable charge for such service, including packing for shipment if necessary, from and to his nearest place of business, provided this charge is billed as a separate item.

SEC. 9. Rental rates for special typewriters—(a) Electric carriage return. 50% may be added to the rental charge for a used typewriter with an electric carriage return mechanism.

(b) Electric keyboard. 100% may be added to the rental charge for the rental of used typewriters with electric keyboard and electric carriage return mechanisms.

(c) Special keyboard. If, in connection with the rental of a used typewriter, changes to special-purpose, or foreign, type or keyboard are made at the request of the customer, there may be added to the ceiling rental rate a conversion charge not exceeding the supplier's ceiling price for such service determined under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, as amended, providing this charge is billed as a separate item.

If no such conversion charge is made, 25% may be added to the rental charge for used typewriters which have one or more of the following features:

(1) Foreign keyboards with 8 or more special characters;

(2) Pitch other than 9, 10 and 12;

(3) Single case type designed for billing;

Ceiling Prices for Sales of Used Typewriters

SEC. 11. Sales at retail. A sale at retail is a sale to a person who buys the typewriter for use. Ceiling prices follow for all used typewriters, whether they are "demonstrators", or "rebuilt", "reconditioned", or "rough".

SEC. 12. Demonstrators. The base ceiling price for the sale at retail of a demonstrator is 80% of the manufacturer's list price of the typewriter when new. A "demonstrator" is a typewriter which has been in the possession of one or more users for a total time of more than 10 days and less than 6 months and which has been used; or any typewriter which has been used for more than 10 days and less than 6 months for purposes of demonstration; and on which the seller agrees to repair free of all charge, for a period of 6 months, any defects in operation caused by faulty materials, parts or workmanship.

SEC. 13. Office-size typewriters. The base ceiling price for the sale at retail of a used office-size typewriter with a carriage width of 11" or less is the price set forth in the table which follows. As used in that table:

A "rebuilt" typewriter is one which meets the following specifications: all internal and external parts clean and free from rust, corrosion and flaws; main and carriage frame never bent nor broken; finish of main frame or mask approximately equivalent to new finish; working mechanism lubricated and adjusted to new-machine specifications; type whole, clear, accurately aligned; ribbon, type-bar rest, platen surface, feed rolls, paper-finger or ball rolls new, and adjusted to give maximum performance; and on which the seller guarantees to repair free of all charge, for a period of 6 months, any defects in operation caused by faulty materials, parts, or workmanship;

A "reconditioned" typewriter is one which meets the following specifications: all parts clean; internal parts free from rust, corrosion, and flaws; working mechanism lubricated and accurately adjusted; type whole, clear, accurately aligned; ribbon new; platen, feed rolls and paper finger or ball rolls of size, shape and adjustment to give positive feed, registration, and manifolding performance; and on which the seller guarantees to repair free of all charge for a period of 3 months any defects in operation caused by faulty materials, parts, or workmanship;

A "rough" typewriter is a used typewriter which is not a demonstrator or a rebuilt or reconditioned typewriter.

All	6.00	12.00	14.00

SEC. 15. Wide-carriage typewriters. If the used typewriter has a carriage wider than 11" there may be added to the retail ceiling price the following amounts:

Carriage width	Rough	Reconditioned	Rebuilt
Over 11" but under 14"	$6.75	$6.75	$6.75
14" but under 16"	7.50	8.75	8.75
16" but under 22"	15.00	17.50	17.50
22" and over	22.50	27.50	27.50

SEC. 16. Special typewriters—(a) Attachments. (1) If a new special attachment has been installed at the request of the purchaser, there may be added to the ceiling price an amount equal to the list price of the attachment established by the manufacturer, provided this charge is billed as a separate item. (2) If a used special attachment has been installed at the request of the purchaser, there may be added to the ceiling price an amount equal to 50% of the list price of the attachment established by the manufacturer, provided this charge is billed as a separate item. (3) No amount may be added to the ceiling price for attachments not ordered by and specifically installed for the purchaser.

(b) Keyboards and type styles. If, in connection with the sale of a used typewriter, changes to special-purpose or foreign type or keyboard are made at the request of a buyer, there may be added to the ceiling price a conversion charge not exceeding the seller's ceiling price for such service determined under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, provided this charge is billed as a separate item. The ceiling charge for such service is, generally, the highest price charged by the seller in March 1942.

(c) Electric carriage return. On retail sales of used Underwood typewriters with electric carriage return and used Remington models 12, 16, 20, and 30 with electric carriage return, $15.00 may be added to the reconditioned ceiling price and $22.50 may be added to the rebuilt ceiling price. No amount may be added to the rough ceiling price.

SEC. 17. Charges for credit, packing and transportation—(a) Credit. No amount may be added to the ceiling price of a used typewriter as a charge for the extension of credit unless the amount charged the buyer is not greater than the charge made by the seller during the base period October 1–15, 1941, on the same unpaid balance for the same period of time. This charge must be billed separately. If the seller did not sell typewriters on credit during the base period, he may hereafter make a charge for credit, if the charge is billed separately and the amount is not greater than that made by the seller's closest competitor during the base period on the same unpaid balance and for the same period of time.

(b) Packing. No amount may be added to the selling price of a used typewriter for packing for shipment except:

(1) On sales to an exporter or foreign buyer, as provided by the Second Maximum Export Price Regulation.[1]

(2) On sales to any procurement agency of the United States as provided by Revised Supplementary Order No. 34.[2]

(3) On other sales, an amount not greater than that customarily charged by the seller on sales to the same class of customer in the same geographical location during the period October 1–15, 1941.

(c) Transportation. In connection with the sale of a used typewriter the seller may charge for transportation or require the customer to pay transportation charges only if the seller customarily made such charge or required such payment on sales to the same class of customer in the same geographical location during the period October 1–15, 1941.

(d) Trade-in allowances. In connection with the sale of a used typewriter, the seller may not accept another typewriter in trade at a value lower than the lowest valuation for the trade-in typewriter shown on the 1942 allowance schedule of any typewriter manufacturer.

SEC. 18. Sales in territories and possessions of the United States. On the sale of a used typewriter in any territory or possession of the United States, the ceiling price may be increased by the cost of transporting, at the time of sale, a similar typewriter from the usual mainland shipping point.

SEC. 19. User-to-dealer sales. This section applies to used typewriters sold to dealers by individual users. Typewriters which were acquired for use may be sold to persons acquiring the typewriters for purposes of sale or rental at prices not exceeding ⅔ of the retail ceiling price.

SEC. 20. Dealer-to-dealer sales. This section applies to used typewriters sold by one dealer to another. Typewriters which were acquired for sale or rental may be sold to persons acquiring the typewriters for sale or rental at prices not exceeding ⅔ of the retail ceiling price.

SEC. 21. Exports. Ceiling prices for sales to an exporter and for export sales as defined by the 2nd Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation are covered by the provisions of that regulation.

Other Provisions

SEC. 22. Definitions—(a) "Typewriter". A "typewriter" is any portable, office, commercial, noiseless or standard type of manually or electrically operated writing machine designed to be used for writing or copying letters or other documents and does not include Braille typewriters, telegraphically controlled writing machines, composing machines, toll billers, toy typewriters, machines with inbuilt features for handling or collating continuous forms, or front feed, vertical feed, electric duplicating, proportional spacing or right-margin justifying machines. To determine ceiling prices for machines excluded by this definition, refer to the General Maximum Price Regulation or other specific Office of Price Administration price regulations. Since this definition differs from that used in Ration Order 4A, refer to that order to determine which machines are under Office of Price Administration rationing control.

(b) Other terms. Definitions of other terms will be found in the regulation as follows:

(1) "Commercial rental": section 4.
(2) "Demonstrator": section 12.
(3) "Non-Commercial rental": section 4.
(4) "Person": section 2.
(5) "Rebuilt": section 13.
(6) "Reconditioned": section 13.
(7) "Rental period": section 7.
(8) "Rental with maintenance service": section 4.
(9) "Rental without maintenance service": section 4.
(10) "Rough": section 13.
(11) "Sale at retail": section 11.
(12) "Used typewriter": section 1.

SEC. 23. Statements and records. In connection with the sale or rental of a used typewriter (which the supplier had acquired for the purpose of rental or resale) the supplier shall furnish to the customer the following statements and shall keep, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 is in effect, the following records:

(a) On rentals. The supplier of a used typewriter for rental shall supply to the person renting the typewriter a contract, invoice or other writing which specifies the make, model and serial number of the typewriter rented; the contract period; the rental charge; the type of rental (rental "with" or "without maintenance service" and "commercial" or "non-commercial"; and the name and address of the person to whom the typewriter is rented.

The supplier shall keep for his record a carbon or other duplicate copy of this contract, invoice or other writing.

On all rentals except to the United States Government, the supplier of a used typewriter on rental shall insert on the contract, invoice or other writing the following statement: "The price charged for this rental is no higher than the ceiling fixed in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 162, which fixes ceiling prices for the rental of typewriters depending on the length of the rental period. Transportation charges may be added only if delivery and pick-up are requested by the customer."

(b) On retail and dealer-to-dealer sales. The seller of a used typewriter shall supply to the buyer a sales slip, invoice or other writing, which specifies the make, model and serial number of the typewriter sold; the grade of the typewriter sold (demonstrator, rebuilt, reconditioned, rough); the make, model, serial number and credit allowed for a typewriter if taken in exchange; the ceiling price; the price charged; the guarantee; and the name and address of the purchaser.

The seller shall keep for his record a carbon or other duplicate copy of this sales slip, invoice or other writing.

SEC. 24. Notices. Every person offering to supply for rent a used typewriter (which the supplier had acquired for the purpose of rental or resale) shall post a clearly legible sign which is no smaller than 11" by 17", and which is visible to customer traffic. This sign, copies of which may be obtained from district or regional offices of the Office of Price Administration, shall contain the following notice:

Section 1412.66 (a) (5) (i) is amended to read as follows:

(i) Sales of fermentation acetone produced by Asociacion Azucarera Cooperativa Lafayette in Puerto Rico. Maximum prices per pound, f. o. b. plant for sales of fermentation acetone produced by Asociacion Azucarera Cooperativa Lafayette in Puerto Rico shall be established by applying the differentials specified in subdivision (b) to the base prices set forth in subdivision (a).

Drums, l. c. l.	.085

(b) Differentials for fluctuations in average cost of molasses. For every increase or decrease of $.10 in the average cost per 100 pounds of sugars of the molasses used in producing acetone from a base average cost of $.72 per hundred pounds sugars, the maximum prices for fermentation acetone set forth in subdivision (a) shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, $.00435 per pound.

(2) The average cost for a current calendar month shall be the actual average cost of the molasses to be used during the current month, computed by taking the actual average cost of the molasses inventory on hand at the beginning of the current month plus the molasses for which contracts have been made for delivery during the current month for use in acetone production.

(3) Where the producer wishes to compute his average cost by a method which conforms substantially to one of the two methods described above but which differs therefrom only in some slight manner, he may do so provided he submits his proposed method of computation to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for approval and agrees that he will continue using that method having once elected it.

(d) Election of method of computation and reporting. On or before February 15, 1944, the producer shall inform the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., by registered mail which one of the above methods of determining average cost for molasses he elects to use; the maximum price for acetone which he has determined for January 1944 under that method, and a detailed statement of the average molasses cost (per hundred pounds of sugars) upon which such price was determined, showing the sources of supply, amounts, and prices of molasses involved in the determination of the average cost. Thereafter, within twenty days after the first day of each succeeding month, he shall report to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., his maximum price for acetone for that month computed under the method chosen by him, and a statement in the detail specified above of the average cost of molasses upon which such price was determined.

BUTYL ALCOHOL AND ESTERS THEREOF

Section 1412.101 (b) revoked; § 1412.101 (c) redesignated (b); § 1412.116 (a) (4) (i) amended by Amendment 13 effective January 11, 1944, so that Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 shall read as follows:

A statement of the considerations[2] involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 is hereby issued.

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

§ 1412.104 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to butyl alcohol or esters thereof alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) On or before October 3, 1942, and on or before the 10th day of each month thereafter, every producer of normal fermentation butyl alcohol, shall submit to the Office of Price Administration a report on Form 137:1 in the detail required by such form, showing the total production of normal fermentation butyl alcohol by such producer during the previous calendar month, the respective percentages of such total produced from molasses, corn, or other raw material, the cost of such raw material, and such other information as such form shall require. Persons affected by Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may, from time to time, require.

(c) Every person selling normal synthetic butyl alcohol or normal synthetic butyl acetate for which upon sale by that person maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37, shall:

(2) Prepare on or before September 18, 1942, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing:

(i) The highest prices he charged for such of those commodities as he delivered during March 1942, and his offering price for delivery of such commodities during such month, together with an appropriate description or identification of each such commodity; and

(ii) All his customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

Any person, other than a person selling at retail, who claims that substantial injury would result to him from making such statement available to any other person, may file it with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. The information contained in such statement will not be published or disclosed unless it is determined that the withholding of such information is contrary to the purposes of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37. "Appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration" means the district office for the district (or in the absence of such district office, the state office for the State) in which is located the seller's place of business from which his sales are made.

§ 1412.106 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37 or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration, or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation, are urged to communicate with the nearest District, State, Field, or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, or its principal office in Washington, D. § 1412.109 Federal and State taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of butyl alcohol or esters thereof, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any State or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such butyl alcohol or esters thereof and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto.

(a) As to a tax in effect during the thirty day period ending October 3, 1942. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during the thirty day period ending October 3, 1942, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37.

(2) In all other cases, if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 37.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after September 3, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9694; 8 F.R. 1312, 3702) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

(1) Maximum prices per pound, delivered in eastern territory—(i) Normal fermentation butyl alcohol produced after June 30, 1943 and normal fermentation butyl acetate produced after June 30, 1943 and before the first day of the first month in which a substantial portion of each producer's production of butyl alcohol is sold to Defense Supplies Corporation, sales in tank cars—(a) Base prices.

	Butyl alcohol	Butyl acetate	Base average cost per bushel of whole grain grain received during the preceding month; or

(2) The average cost for a current month shall be the actual average cost of the grain to be used during the current month, computed by taking the actual average cost of the inventory on hand at the beginning of the current month plus the grain for which contracts have been made for delivery during the current month for use in butyl alcohol production.

Thereafter, within ten days after the first day of each succeeding month, each such producer shall report to the Office of Price Administration his maximum prices for butyl alcohol and butyl acetate for that month computed under the method chosen by him, and a detailed statement of the actual average grain cost upon which such prices are determined. A producer having once elected to compute his average cost by one of the methods set forth above, must continue using that method thereafter.

(b) Differentials for fluctuations in average cost per pound of butyl alcohol. For every increase or decrease of $.005 per pound in the computed average cost of butyl alcohol delivered at the works from a base average cost of $.15 per pound, the maximum prices for butyl acetate set forth above shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by $.0035 per pound.

(c) Method of computation of average cost of butyl alcohol and reporting. The computed average cost of butyl alcohol of each seller of butyl acetate for each calendar month beginning with the first calendar month in which a substantial portion of each producer's production of butyl alcohol is sold to Defense Supplies Corporation shall be the average delivered cost of the butyl alcohol inventory on hand at the beginning of each such calendar month and the butyl alcohol allocated at the beginning of that month by the War Production Board for delivery to him during that month. The delivered cost of any such butyl alcohol which was not acquired from Defense Supplies Corporation shall be computed as equal to the seller's maximum tank car price for such butyl alcohol as determined under subdivision (i) above or paragraph (b), whichever is applicable. On or before the tenth day of each current calendar month each seller of butyl acetate making sales for which maximum prices are established by this subdivision (ii) shall report to the Office of Price Administration his maximum prices for butyl acetate for each period, and a detailed statement of his computed average cost for butyl alcohol delivered to his plant, showing the sources of supply, the amounts, and the prices of the butyl alcohol allocated to him during that current calendar month by the War Production Board, and the amount and average delivered cost of the butyl alcohol inventory on hand at the beginning of the month.

(iii) Sales in tank cars of butyl alcohol and butyl acetate produced before July 1, 1943. The maximum prices under subdivisions (i) and (ii) shall apply only to butyl alcohol and butyl acetate produced after June 30, 1943. For normal fermentation butyl alcohol and butyl acetate produced before July 1, 1943 the following maximum prices are established for sales in tank cars:

	Butyl alcohol	Butyl acetate
Produced in Indiana and Illinois	$.1425	$.1475
Produced elsewhere in the U. S.	.19	.1825

(iv) Differentials for sales in other than tank cars. For sales in drums in carload lots, and for sales in drums in less than carload lots, there may be added to the maximum tank car prices $.01 and $.015 per pound, respectively.

(2) Western territory. Delivered: ½ cent per pound may be added to the applicable maximum price established for Eastern territory by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(3) Deliveries from local stocks maintained by others than producers. Ex seller's warehouse: $0.01 per pound may be added to the applicable maximum price established by subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph, as the case may be.

(4) Territories and possessions—(i) Sales of normal fermentation butyl alcohol produced by Asociacion Azucarera Cooperativa Lafayette in Puerto Rico. Maximum prices per pound, f. o. b. plant for sales of normal fermentation butyl alcohol produced by Asociacion Azucarera Cooperativa Lafayette in Puerto Rico shall be established by applying the differentials specified in subdivision (b) to the base prices set forth in subdivision (a).

Drums, l. c. l.	.1825

(b) Differentials for fluctations in average cost of molasses. For every increase or decrease of $.10 in the average cost per 100 pounds of sugars of the molasses used in producing butyl alcohol from a base average cost of $.72 per hundred pounds sugars, the maximum prices for normal fermentation butyl alcohol set forth in subdivision (a) shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, $.00435 per pound.

(c) Method of computation of average cost per hundred pounds. The average cost for a current calendar month shall be computed by one of the following methods. Having once elected to compute his average cost by one of the methods set forth below, the producer must continue using that method thereafter.

(2) The average cost for a current calendar month shall be the actual average cost of the molasses to be used during the current month, computed by taking the actual average cost of the molasses inventory on hand at the beginning of the current month plus the molasses for which contracts have been made for delivery during the current month for use in butyl alcohol production.

(3) Where the producer wishes to compute his average cost by a method which conforms substantially to one of the two methods described above but which differs therefrom only in some slight manner, he may do so provided he submits his proposed method of computation to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. for approval and agrees that he will continue using that method having once elected it.

(d) Election of method of computation and reporting. On or before February 15, 1944, the producer shall inform the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., by registered mail which one of the above methods of determining average cost for molasses he elects to use; the maximum price for butyl alcohol which he has determined for January 1944 under that method, and a detailed statement of the average molasses cost (per hundred pounds of sugars) upon which such price was determined, showing the sources of supply, amounts, and prices of molasses involved in the determination of the average cost. Thereafter, within twenty days after the first day of each succeeding month, he shall report to the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., his maximum price for butyl alcohol for that month computed under the method chosen by him, and a statement in the detail specified above of the average cost of molasses upon which such price was determined.

[Subparagraph (i) as amended by Am. 13, effective 1–11–44]

(ii) Deliveries from the continental United States to purchasers in the territories and possessions. Sales of normal fermentation butyl alcohol or normal fermentation butyl acetate by a seller shipping such commodities from the continental United States to a purchaser in the territories or possessions of the United States shall be governed by the maximum prices established for export sales by the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

(iii) Deliveries from local stocks maintained by a person other than a producer. Maximum prices, ex warehouse, for normal fermentation butyl alcohol or normal fermentation butyl acetate delivered from local stocks maintained by a seller other than a producer in a territory or possession of the United States shall be determined by adding to the direct cost to such seller of the normal fermentation butyl alcohol or normal fermentation butyl acetate so delivered whichever of the following amounts per pound is applicable.

(b) Sales in containers of 50 gallons or more of normal synthetic butyl alcohol and of normal synthetic butyl acetate produced before the first day of the first month in which a substantial portion of each producer's production of butyl alcohol is sold to Defense Supplies Corporation. The maximum prices in containers of 50 gallons or more for normal synthetic butyl alcohol or for normal synthetic butyl acetate produced before the first day of the first month in which a substantial portion of each producer's production of butyl alcohol is sold to Defense Supplies Corporation shall be the seller's maximum prices for such commodities as determined under the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(c) For the purposes of this regulation, whenever a sale of butyl alcohol or acetate is made by one producer, and butyl alcohol or acetate of another producer is actually delivered in accordance with or pursuant to an order or request of the Office of Defense Transportation or the War Production Board, the transaction shall be treated as if delivery had been made of butyl alcohol or acetate produced by the producer making the sale, and a price may be charged not in excess of the maximum price established for such butyl alcohol or acetate.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 31st day of December, A. D. 1943.

In the matter of regulations governing the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles by motor vehicle. [Ex Parte No. MC-13]

In the matter of regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles. [No. 3666]

In the matter of need for establishing reasonable requirements to promote safety of operation of motor vehicles used in transporting property by private carriers. [Ex Parte No. MC-3]

It appearing, that by two orders herein of April 20, 1943, regulations governing the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles, theretofore prescribed for common and contract carriers by motor vehicle, were made applicable for the first time to private carriers and also were extended to such transportation in intrastate commerce; and that by a subsequent order of June 14, 1943, the effective date of the said two orders of April 20, 1943, was postponed to January 1, 1944, with respect to the transportation of inflammable liquids in interstate or foreign commerce by private carriers and in intrastate commerce by common, contract, and private carriers; and that by a later order of August 27, 1943, these regulations were declared inapplicable to all transportation by motor vehicle of inflammable liquids in intrastate commerce; and

It further appearing, that private carriers of inflammable liquids in interstate or foreign commerce have been and will be unable to comply with certain of the requirements of the said orders before January 1, 1944, because of present and prospective scarcity of labor and materials due to war conditions, thus creating a need for such further modification of present requirements as will permit compliance by such carriers and also provide the highest degree of safety of operation attainable in the circumstances; and

It further appearing, that there is need of clarifying § 197.01 (a) and (b) of this chapter, by omitting therefrom the words, "without exception or exemption", so that these rules will more clearly state the purpose of the Commission with respect to their application to the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles in all vehicles of motor carriers whether or not operating wholly within a municipality or between contiguous municipalities or within a zone adjacent to and commercially a part of any such municipality or municipalities; and so that the exceptions contained within various of the rules themselves may apply as they read;

It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority of section 233 of The Transportation of Explosives Act, so far as common carriers by motor vehicle are concerned, and section 204 of Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act, so far as private carriers of property by motor vehicle and contract carriers by motor vehicle are concerned, the regulations prescribed in the said two orders of April 20, 1943, as amended, be, and they hereby are, further amended as follows:

PARTS 72, 75, AND 85—TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES

Part 3—Regulations Applying to Shippers (CFR 75) Motor Vehicle Cargo Tank Specifications (CFR 72)

Part 7—Regulations Applying to Shipments Made by Way of Common, Contract, or Private Carriers by Public Highway (CFR 85)

Amending Parts 75, 72 and 85, order November 8, 1941, as amended, as follows (add):

NOTE: Because of the present emergency and until December 31, 1944, or further order of the Commission, the following regulations shall apply to transportation of inflammable liquids by private carriers of property in interstate or foreign commerce:

All regulations heretofore applying to common or contract carriers by motor vehicle shall apply to such private carriers, except:

Cargo tanks of tank motor vehicles constructed previous to June 15, 1943, may be continued in service if maintained in safe operating condition and sufficiently frequent inspections are maintained to determine compliance with all requirements as specified in this note.

Any defect or deficiency, due to accident or otherwise, that is likely to cause serious hazard must be corrected before any such tank is continued in or returned to service; see, however, section 838 (b) of these regulations.

Requirements applying to tests of tanks, and provisions for markers thereon except that indicating the inflammable nature of the cargo, are waived.

Outages for shipments shall be those provided for by the regulations, except that filling of tanks to outage markers already incorporated in tanks, having due regard for safety in the transportation of the inflammable liquids, need not be changed.

Section 815, labels, and section 819, certification of packages, of these regulations, need not be complied with by such private carriers, except as to packages transferred from one carrier to another.

(Sec. 233, 41 Stat. 1445; sec. 204, 49 Stat. 546, 54 Stat. 921; 18 U.S.C. 383, 49 U.S.C. 304)

PART 197—TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

§ 197.01 Application of rules. (a) These rules and regulations shall apply to every common carrier by motor vehicle, contract carrier by motor vehicle, and private carrier of property by motor vehicle subject to the regulatory provisions of Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act, and, except as to the transportation of inflammable liquids, also to every common carrier by motor vehicle, contract carrier by motor vehicle, and private carrier of property by motor vehicle engaged in intrastate commerce, with respect to the transportation by motor vehicle of explosives and other dangerous articles as defined in regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles by land and water in rail freight, express, and baggage services, and by motor vehicle (highway), and water including specifications for shipping containers.

(b) Parts 192, 193, 194, 195, 191, and 196, respectively, of this chapter shall also apply to all motor vehicles and drivers of all motor carriers designated in paragraph (a) of this section, whether or not operating wholly within a municipality or between contiguous municipalities or within a zone adjacent to and commercially a part of any such municipality or municipalities, to the extent that the motor vehicles and drivers of the aforesaid carriers are engaged in the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles; Provided, however, That Part 195 of this chapter shall not apply to any private carrier of property by motor vehicle.

§ 197.2 Equipment rules. * * *

(c) Brakes required on all wheels. Every motor vehicle transporting any explosive or other dangerous article shall be equipped with reliable brakes on all wheels. Compliance with this section by private carriers of property with respect to tank motor vehicles acquired prior to October 15, 1940, and used in transporting inflammable liquids, is waived until December 31, 1944, or the further order of the Commission.

And it is further ordered, That this order shall be effective forthwith; and shall continue in effect until December 31, 1944, or the further order of the Commission;

And it is further ordered, That a copy of this order be served upon all the parties of record herein, and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy of it in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 233, 41 Stat. 1445; sec. 204, 49 Stat. 546, 54 Stat. 921; 18 U.S.C. 383, 49 U.S.C. 304)

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application to include certain operations on sugar cane bagasse within that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry in Louisiana which has been granted a partial exemption from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the act.

Whereas an application was filed to include the artificial drying, separating into proper lengths, and grinding of bagasse resulting from the processing of sugar cane into raw sugar, syrup and molasses within that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry located in Louisiana which the Administrator determined, on November 18, 1939 (4 F.R. 4615), to be an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas upon consideration of the facts stated in the said application, the Administrator determined (8 F.R. 15493), pursuant to § 526.5 (b) (ii) of regulations, Part 526, as amended, that a prima facie case had been shown for amending the existing determination granting an exemption under section 7 (b) (3) of the Act to that portion of the sugar cane processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry which is located in Louisiana, to include therein the artificial drying, separating into proper lengths, and grinding of bagasse resulting from the processing of sugar cane into raw sugar, syrup and molasses, in sugar cane processing plants in Louisiana, during the sugar cane processing season; and

Whereas within 15 days following the publication of this preliminary determination, the Administrator received an objection and request for hearing;

Now, therefore, pursuant to §§ 526.5 and 526.6 of regulations, Part 526, notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in Room 914, the Richards Building, 837 Gravier Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, on January 28, 1944, at 10 a. m., before Nathan Rubinstein, an authorized representative of the Administrator, who is hereby authorized to receive evidence and hear argument for the purpose of determining:

Whether the artificial drying, separating into proper lengths, and grinding of bagasse resulting from the processing of sugar cane into raw sugar, syrup, and molasses in sugar cane processing plants in Louisiana during the sugar cane processing season shall be included within that portion of the cane sugar processing and milling branch of the cane sugar industry located in Louisiana which has been determined to be an industry of a seasonal nature pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

CONDITION OF APPORTIONMENT AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1943

The apportioned classified Civil Service includes central offices physically located in Washington, D. C., or elsewhere. Positions in local post offices, customs districts and other field services outside of the District of Columbia which are subject to the Civil Service act are filled almost wholly by persons who are local residents of the general community in which the vacancies exist. It should be noted and understood that so long as a person occupies, by original appointment a position in the apportioned service, the charge for his appointment continues to run against his state of original residence. Certifications of eligibles are first made from states which are in arrears. The apportionment is observed in certifications except to low salaried positions; but as persons who receive appointments in the Departmental Service under the War Service Regulations do not thereby acquire a permanent classified civil service status, their appointments are not charged to the apportionment.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[MPR 188, Order A-3]

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. A-3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying Order No. A-3 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

(a) Applications for adjustment of maximum prices by producers of particular commodities under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust maximum prices for particular commodities established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as hereinafter provided. Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

The provisions of this paragraph (a) permit the granting of relief to any producer of certain commodities, set forth below, to the extent specified.

(1) Sales by producers to non-producing manufacturers. Any producer who is unable to maintain his production at his existing maximum price and who sells 50 percent or more of his commodity to a non-producing manufacturer (as defined herein) at a maximum price below his cost to manufacture and sell the commodity may be granted an adjustment in price not exceeding that specified below if the following conditions are met:

(i) The non-producing manufacturer must sell the commodity to the classes of trade which customarily purchase the same or similar commodities from manufacturers;

(ii) The adjustment in price will be limited to sales to the non-producing manufacturer;

(iii) The amount of relief will not exceed that set forth in subparagraph (3) below;

(iv) The increase in price resulting from the adjustment must not disturb or tend to disturb existing relationships among the several classes of customers of the producer; and

(v) The non-producing manufacturer must submit a statement in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., specifying the amount of the proposed increase in price he is willing to absorb without requesting an increase in his own maximum selling price. He must also state that he will not, directly or indirectly, make such increase in his purchase price the basis for any increase in his own maximum price, except to the extent he may be permitted to include such increased cost in determining the maximum price for his sales on an installed basis under any applicable maximum price regulation.

(vi) This subparagraph (1) is applicable to the following commodities:

(a) Fiber acoustical tile, which, for the purpose of this subparagraph (1), means small square or rectangular shaped pieces of low density fiber insulation board, having either plain, slotted, or drilled surface, and used primarily for the purpose of sound absorption.

(2) Sales by producers to distributors. Any producer who is unable to maintain his production at his existing maximum price and who sells 50 per cent or more of the commodity to a distributor at a maximum price below his cost to manufacture and sell the commodity may be granted an adjustment in price not exceeding that specified below if the following conditions are met:

(i) Purchases at alternate sources of supply for the same commodity will result in higher prices to consumers;

(ii) The adjustment in price will be limited to sales to the distributor;

(iii) The amount of relief will not exceed that set forth in subparagraph (3) below;

(iv) The increase in price, resulting from the adjustment, must not disturb or tend to disturb existing relationships among the several classes of customers of the producer; and

(v) The distributor must submit a statement in writing to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., specifying the amount of the proposed increase in price he is willing to absorb without requesting an increase in his own maximum selling price. He must also state that he will not, directly or indirectly, make such increase in his purchase price the basis for any increase in his own maximum price, except to the extent he may be permitted to include such increased cost in determining the maximum price for his sales on an installed basis under any applicable maximum price regulation.

(vi) This subparagraph (2) is applicable to the following commodities;

(a) Self-contained metal commodes, which, for the purpose of this subparagraph (2), mean self-contained toilets manufactured from metal, using chemicals as disinfectant and generally are not connected to a sanitary plumbing system.

(3) Extent of relief to be granted. Pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (a), the Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1, or on its own motion, adjust the producer's maximum price or prices under subparagraphs (1) and (2), by an amount necessary to permit the maintenance of production but in no event to exceed the cost to manufacture and sell the commodity or the amount the non-producing manufacturer or distributor is willing to absorb, whichever is lower. Such an increase in price authorized on behalf of the producer shall extend only to sales to such non-producing manufacturer or distributor and not to other purchasers.

If the producer's net income before taxes on his current over-all operations is above his net income before taxes for the period 1936–1939, inclusive, the granting of the adjustment may be conditional upon a compensatory reduction in the maximum price of another commodity being sold by the producer.

The term "cost to manufacture and sell" shall include the cost of material, labor, maintenance, supplies, power, taxes (other than State and Federal income taxes), insurance, workmen's compensation taxes, royalties, depreciation and depletion (wherever practicable as determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the computation of the Federal income tax), other manufacturing expenses, and reasonable costs of selling and administration. Expenses not related to the conduct of the manufacturing and selling operations of the particular commodity will be excluded.

(4) Filing of applications. Before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of this paragraph (a), each applicant shall obtain from the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that his application may receive attention.

This Order No. A-3 shall become effective this 12th day of January 1944.

MILK PAILS

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Amendment No. 9 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying this Amendment No. 9 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order No. A-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is amended in the following respect:

1. A new paragraph (a) (9) is added to read as follows:

(9) Milk pails. (i) This adjustment provision permits the granting of relief to essential manufacturers of milk pails in order to remove price impediments to the supply of this commodity. An adjustment may be granted if:

(a) The War Production Board has certified that the petitioning manufacturer's production is essential, and

(b) The established maximum price does not permit the manufacturer to recover his total unit costs for the article.

(ii) No adjustment will be granted unless it appears that purchasers customarily reselling the bulk of the manufacturer's output can absorb the increase in their cost without undue hardship. An adjustment, if granted, may be made to an extent sufficient to enable the manufacturer to recover his total unit costs on the article.

This amendment shall become effective January 12, 1944.

REBUILT HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE IN DESIGNATED AREAS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Order No. G-1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, fixing maximum prices of certain rebuilt household furniture.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Charleston District, Office of the Office of Price Administration by Amendment 4 to Delegation Order 1-A issued by the Regional Administrator of Region III pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order grants permission to Beckley Furniture Company, Beckley, West Virginia; Dry Fork Hardware & Furniture Company, Bradshaw, West Virginia; Home Furniture Company, National Furniture Company and Woodrum Home Outfitting Company, Charleston, West Virginia; Wilson Furniture Company, South Charleston, West Virginia; Capitol Furniture Company, Gold Furniture Company, Home Furniture Company, Household Furniture Company, Riter Furniture Company, Star Furniture Company and Sweig Furniture Company, Huntington, West Virginia; C. G. Steele Furniture Company, Logan, West Virginia; Madison Hardware & Furniture Company, Madison, West Virginia; Home Outfitting Company, Oak Hill, West Virginia; Balderson Furniture Company, Ravenswood, West Virginia; Model Furniture Company, Welch, West Virginia, and B. & L. Furniture Company, Williamson, West Virginia, all being establishments engaged in rebuilding and selling at retail certain essential items of used household furniture of which a serious shortage exists, to charge the "dollars-and-cents" maximum prices fixed by this order, which prices are higher than the maximum prices prescribed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, in instances where proper and thorough rebuilding and reconditioning entails expenditures for labor and materials so substantial in amount that sellers cannot reasonably be expected to rebuild and recondition such items properly and thoroughly for resale at maximum prices fixed by the regulation.

SEC. 2. Items covered by this order. The only items covered by this order are upholstered living room suites and living room chairs which have been properly and thoroughly rebuilt and reconditioned as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. What constitutes proper and thorough rebuilding and reconditioning. In order to comply with the provisions of this order as to proper and thorough rebuilding and reconditioning, each item of rebuilt and reconditioned upholstered household furniture sold pursuant to the provisions of this order shall be properly and thoroughly rebuilt and reconditioned according to the following specifications:

(1) Each item shall be entirely covered with upholsterer's cloth according to grades as specified in the pricing table set forth in section 5.

(2) Each item shall have a twine tied coil spring foundation platform and back construction or an all steel coil spring unit of the kind termed "construction" in the furniture business.

(3) The spring units shall be properly tied and padded with materials as hereinafter set forth.

(4) The used article must be stripped to the bare frame. No old materials unsuitable for re-use such as padding, webbing, twine, covers and the like shall be used in any manner or for any purpose.

(5) All used materials which are to be incorporated in the rebuilt item shall be sanitized by fumigation.

(6) If the frame or corner blocks are loose or broken, they shall be repaired by re-tightening, re-aligning, and regluing, so that such frame and corner blocks are sturdy and comparable to their condition when new.

(7) No mis-shapen, broken or rusty springs shall be used in the rebuilt article. All springs not having suitable resilience to render good service shall be replaced with suitable new or used springs within limitations prescribed by the War Production Board. "Rope-tied" spring assemblies shall be completely re-tied with upholsterer's standard 6-ply 60 spring twine, or a twine of comparable quality, in a manner and pattern to provide good serviceability, using not less than eight ties to each spring. The spring shall be sewed to and supported by upholsterer's webbing of the type described in paragraph (12) of this section 3, and shall in all instances be tied to top and bottom and to the front frame member. An "eight-tie" incorporates the "four-tie" and in addition has two diagonal runs at right angles to each other across the bed, tying twice on each spring, there being eight ties in all to each spring. "Construction type" all steel spring assemblies shall be repaired with replacement springs where out of shape, broken, or rusty, and re-tied with wire, duplicating as near as possible the original construction.

(8) Before placing any filling over the platform and back spring assemblies, the assemblies shall be covered with a durable heavy fabric such as described in paragraph (13) of this section 3.

(9) New or reprocessed filling must be used as a filler over the platform and back spring assemblies and in the arms. Over the filler, at least one layer of cotton felt padding shall be used. The deck covering over the filler in the platform assembly shall be of a good durable grade of denim or other suitable cloth generally used by upholsterers.

(10) The item shall have seat cushions incorporating coil spring assemblies, and each cushion shall be finished top, bottom and side with the same cloth fabric used in the back and arms of the item. No broken, crooked, or rusty spring coils shall be used in the cushion units, and the spring assembly shall have good resilience.

(11) All exposed wooden parts shall be refinished or replaced with new parts so that they present an unblemished appearance.

(12) In all instances, the webbing used in the rebuilt item shall be new, or in good condition and suitable for re-use, using deck webbing of a grade weighing not less than 6¾ pounds to the 72 yard roll in the platform (bottom) and in the back, a grade weighing not less than 5½ pounds to the 72 yard roll.

(13) For spring covering fabric, upholsterer's deck burlap, or, if unobtainable, "Osnaberg" or material of a comparable quality shall be used.

SEC. 4. Identification of merchandise and required warranty. Every item priced pursuant to this order must be plainly identified and the seller must deliver to the purchaser at the time of sale a written warranty that the item has been thoroughly rebuilt and reconditioned as required by this order, is free from defects which would impair its operating efficiency and will give substantially the same performance as when new. This identification and warranty shall be accomplished by securely fixing to each item a tag readily accessible to the buyer on which is legibly printed or written the name and address of the seller, the selling price of the item, the grade of upholsterer's cloth used and language pertaining to its condition and the seller's warranty, as follows:

NAME AND ADDRESS OF SELLER

The price of this item is determined in accordance with Order No. G-1 under section 10 of MPR 429 issued by the Charleston District Office of OPA. Before being offered for sale it was thoroughly rebuilt and reconditioned as required by such order. This item is warranted to be free from any defects impairing its operating efficiency and to give substantially the same performance as a comparable item when new. Maximum Price $_____$, grade of cover $_____$

This tag must accompany the item when delivered to the purchaser.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices permitted by this order. Items covered by this order, where all the requirements of this order and Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, except as otherwise provided in this order, are met, may be sold at retail to an ultimate user at not to exceed the following prices:

Item	Rayon velour	High pile velour	Mohair frieze

2 piece suite (1 chair, 1 sofa)	107	117	127
3 piece suite (2 chairs, 1 sofa)	144	154	170

SEC. 6. Order optional. It is entirely optional with each named seller whether or not he avails himself of the provisions of this order and the option may be exercised as to any one or more of the items covered by this order. However, no item shall be sold pursuant to the provisions of this order unless all of the requirements of this order have been fully performed.

SEC. 7. To whom order applies. This order shall apply to the sellers named in section 1 and to any other seller within the State of West Virginia who, in a written application, establishes to the satisfaction of the district director that he is ready, willing and able to comply with the provisions of this order and receives a notice in writing from the district director authorizing him to sell the items covered by this order at the prices fixed in section 5.

SEC. 8. Application of maximum price regulation No. 429. Except to the extent that a departure from the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 is expressly permitted or required by the context of this order, sellers shall comply with all of the terms and provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 as such regulation now exists or may hereafter be amended.

SEC. 9. Revocation. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time. It may be revoked as to any individual seller who has elected to avail himself of the benefits of the order and who is unable to establish to the satisfaction of the Director of the Charleston District Office of the Office of Price Administration after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard that he has complied with the terms and conditions imposed by this order, in consideration of which the charging of prices higher than those fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 is permitted by this order.

This order shall become effective December 30, 1943.

REBUILT UPHOLSTERED FURNITURE IN COLUMBUS, OHIO, DISTRICT

Order No. G-1 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, adjusting maximum prices of certain articles of rebuilt upholstered furniture.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Columbus, Ohio, District Office of the Office of Price Administration by section 10 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 and by Amendment No. 4 to Delegation Order No. 1-A, issued by the Regional Administrator of Region III, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. Pursuant to section 10 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, this order grants permission to sellers at retail to sell certain articles of rebuilt upholstered furniture at prices higher than the maximum prices prescribed by said regulation in instances where such rebuilding entails expenditures for labor and material so substantial in amount that sellers cannot reasonably be expected to rebuild properly such articles for resale at maximum prices fixed by the regulation.

SEC. 2. What articles are covered by this order. "Article," when used in this order, refers to one unit of rebuilt upholstered living room furniture (spring type), either an upholstered chair or upholstered davenport, such article having been thoroughly rebuilt in accordance with standards set forth in section 3 of this order. Each such article must incorporate the following general distinctive features:

(a) A coil spring foundation platform and a coil spring back which in each instance is supported by and sewed to upholsterer's webbing (or an all-steel unit (spring type) of the kind termed "construction" in the furniture trade).

(b) Separate seat cushions having spring units incorporating multiple numbers of coil springs.

(c) All such spring units (foundation platform, back assembly, and cushion) being properly tied, padded and covered with materials as specified and required by this order.

(d) Covered over all with a cloth covering (upholsterer's fabric) of a grade suitable for pricing in accordance with the pricing chart (Appendix A) of this order.

In appearance, workmanship, and styling, the rebuilt article must be comparable to, and offer a service value approximately equal to, a new article of similar character, construction, and quality.

SEC. 3. Thorough rebuilding required. No articles covered by this order shall be sold at the higher prices fixed by this order unless they have, prior to their being offered for sale, been thoroughly rebuilt. Thorough rebuilding shall include the following operations:

(a) The used article must be stripped to the bare frame.

(b) All old materials, padding, webbing, twine, covers, etc., with the exception of the frame and the springs, must be disposed of and not used in any manner in rebuilding the article.

(c) The frame and spring parts, which are to be incorporated in the rebuilt article, are to be sanitized by fumigation or by spraying.

(d) Where the frame is loose or broken, it is to repaired by retightening, realigning, and regluing, paying special attention to the corner blocks, so that the frame is sturdy and comparable in utility value to a new frame. Any section of the frame which is split must be replaced.

(e) Platform springs. No misshaped, broken, or rusty springs shall be used in the rebuilt article. All springs not having suitable resilience to render good service shall be replaced with new (within War Production Board limitations) or used springs of comparable quality.

(f) "Rope-tied" spring assemblies shall be completely retied with new upholsterer's standard 6-ply 60 or better spring twine in a manner and pattern to provide serviceability, using not less than the number of ties to each spring indicated for each group in the pricing chart of Appendix A. The springs shall be securely sewed to and supported by upholsterer's webbing (Note 1), and shall in all instances be tied top and bottom and to the front frame member. Description of the different ties to be used are as follows:

(i) "Four-tie" shall mean that each spring coil in the (platform and back) spring constructions is tied twice in a twine run front to back and tied twice in a twine run from side to side (four ties in all to each spring.)

(ii) A "six-tie" incorporates the "four-tie" and in addition has one twine run across each spring in a diagonal manner, tying twice on each spring (six ties in all to each spring).

(iii) An "eight-tie" incorporates the "four-tie" and in addition has two diagonal twine runs (at right angles to each other) across the bed, tying twice on each spring (eight ties in all to each spring).

(g) "Construction type" all-steel spring assemblies, where used, shall be repaired with replacement springs where out of shape, broken, or rusty, and shall be retied with wire, duplicating as near as possible the original construction, or (alternatively) retied with twine, using the eight-tie construction outlined in paragraph (f) (iii).

(h) The platform spring assembly of each davenport priced under this order must have a minimum of 27 coil springs; each chair a minimum of 9 coil springs.

(i) Back spring assembly. The spring assembly in the back of each davenport and chair shall be sewed to the back webbing and twine tied with the number of ties (or more) required for the price class of the article.

(j) Before placing any filling over the platform and back spring assemblies, the assemblies shall be covered with a durable heavy fabric (Note 2).

(k) New moss (Note 3) filling must be used as a filler over the platform and back spring assemblies and in the arms. In Classes A and B, this may consist of 50 percent clean moss and 50 percent clean tow; in all other classes, 100 percent clean moss only can be used. Over the filler, at least one layer of cotton felt padding is required. A roll edge (1½") shall be placed over the front edge of the springs in the platform assembly. The deck covering over the filler in the platform assembly shall be of a good durable grade of denim, or other suitable cloth generally used by upholsterers.

(l) Arms and back. In keeping with the style of the article the arm and back frame members shall be well padded, using materials allowed in subparagraph (k) above, particular attention being given that edges are sufficiently covered to prevent cutting of covering fabric.

(m) Covering fabric. Each article shall be covered with a covering fabric using upholsterer's fabric of a grade within the price class of the article as determined by the pricing chart (Appendix A) of this order. With the exception of the legs and the bottom and top (deck) of the foundation platform, the article shall be completely covered with the same grade of fabric. On the front edge of the deck, a suitable overlapping must be made so that deck covering is not exposed to view when the seat cushions are in place.

(o) Wood parts. All exposed wooden parts shall be refinished or replaced with new parts so that they present an unblemished appearance. Articles priced in Groups C, D, E, and F must have new feet of appropriate design.

NOTES

NOTE 1: Webbing. In all instances, the webbing used in any rebuilt upholstered article covered by this order shall be new. In the platform (bottom) spring construction a grade weighing not less than 7½ pounds to the 72 yard roll must be used. In the back spring constructions a grade weighing 5½ pounds or more to the 72 yard roll must be used.

In Groups A and B, wood slats of seasoned hardwood may be used in lieu of webbing, these to be securely placed in the frame so as to render service comparable to webbing; or, also as an alternative, heavy canvas of the type used by upholsterers for spring suspension may be used.

NOTE 2: Spring covering fabric. Upholsterer's deck or burlap or, if unobtainable, "Canaberg" or other material of comparable quality must be used.

NOTE 3: Moss. New moss or a clean material of comparable quality and serviceability may be used. (Excelsior or similar materials are not permissible.)

SEC. 4. Identification of merchandise and warranty required by sellers, etc.—(a) Tagging. Each article of rebuilt upholstered furniture priced pursuant to this order must be plainly identified by the seller's identification number for the article. This shall be accomplished by securely fixing to each article a tag on which such number is legibly printed and there shall also be included a statement to the effect that the article has been priced in accordance with Order No. 1, under section 10 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429, issued by the Columbia District Office of the Office of Price Administration, and that the article has been thoroughly rebuilt as required by such order and is warranted by the seller to give a service closely comparable to that of a new article of similar price. This tag must accompany the article when delivered to the purchaser and must not be removed by the seller.

(b) Records, invoices, etc. Complete records of price determination, cost data, and sales shall be kept during the effective period of this order and shall be open to inspection by officials of the Office of Price Administration at any time. A sales slip or invoice must in each instance be rendered to the purchaser and shall set forth the identification number of the article and the amount paid, and shall also include a detailed statement as to any other permissible charges, such as allowed by section 11 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices permitted by this order. Articles of rebuilt upholstered furniture, where all the requirements of this order have been met, are to be priced in accordance with Appendix A, which is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this order.

In establishing a price for a rebuilt suite or article under this order, the retail seller determines the price class and maximum retail price by:

(a) Determining the group (A–B–C–D–E or F) in which the article(s) meets all of the minimum requirements of styling, inside arm to arm dimensions of the davenport, spring and tying construction of the platform assembly and/or the back, and other specific requirements, and then,

(b) Determining the price group of upholsterer's cloth fabric used in covering the article(s), such being established in accordance with the pricing chart of Appendix A, using the jobber's (OPA [1]) prices for cut rolls of fabrics from jobber's warehouse.

In the above determinations, it is considered that the retail seller is also the rebuilder (retail-rebuilder) of the article(s) and that the covering has been purchased through a jobber source of supply.

If the fabric has been purchased by a retail-rebuilder from a source other than a jobber, he shall take the cut-roll price for the same or similar (cloth grade) fabric sold by the jobber usually supplying him, or, lacking a jobber source of supply, the cut-roll price of the mill's branch warehouse (in his locality) selling same.

If the retail seller is not the rebuilder of the article(s), he shall secure from the rebuilder a statement indicating the price class of the fabric used to cover the article, said rebuilder using the provisions of the preceding paragraph and of paragraph (b) above, as if he were a retail rebuilder.

The price class and the maximum retail price is then determined, being indicated in the Pricing Chart (Appendix A) by the crossing of the group standard's (horizontal) column and the fabric price column (vertical). Example: A "Group" B suite with a No. 3 "Fabric" price ($1.51 to $2.50) becomes a "Class B3" suite with a maximum price at retail of $160.00."

Prices indicated in the Pricing Chart are for a suite comprising a davenport and a companion chair. If the davenport is sold separately, the price may not exceed 68 per cent of the established maximum price for the suite; likewise, if the chair is sold separately, the price may not exceed 32 per cent of the established maximum price for the suite. Odd pieces may be priced in a similar manner.

SEC. 6. Order permissive, not mandatory. It is entirely optional with each seller whether or not he desires to avail himself of this order. Such option may be exercised or not at the seller's election with respect to each separate and individual article of the kind and type covered by this order. With respect to any individual articles, which the seller elects to price in accordance with order, all requirements of this order must be fully performed.

SEC. 7. Jurisdiction, etc. (a) This order has application to all the territory within the jurisdiction of the Columbus District Office, Region III, of the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Effect on Maximum Price Regulation No. 429. Except to the extent that a departure from the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 is expressly permitted or required by this order, sellers shall comply with all of the terms and provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 as the same now exists or may at any time hereafter be amended.

(c) Revocation. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time. It may be revoked as to any individual seller who has elected to avail himself of the benefits hereof and who is unable to establish to the satisfaction of the district director after reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard that he has complied with the terms and conditions imposed in consideration of which the charging of prices higher than those fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 429 is permitted by this order.

This order shall become effective January 6, 1944.

Issued this 6th day of January 1944.

H. T. BECKMANN,
District Director.

If a dealer's license is suspended, he may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(i) Records and reports. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

It is not necessary that these maximum prices be filed with the War Price and Rationing Boards.

(j) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Each dealer subject to this order shall post all the maximum prices set by it for all his types of sales. He shall post his prices in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as Amended, and § 1340.259 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion, this Order No. G–25 is issued:

(a) Geographical applicability. This order shall apply to all of the trade area contained within the corporate boundaries of the Town of Panguitch in the State of Utah, and a distance of ten miles beyond at all points. The above described area is referred to herein as the Panguitch Trade Area.

(b) What this order does. If you are a dealer in bituminous coal in the Panguitch Trade Area of the State of Utah, you will find set forth in Table I below the maximum prices which you may charge for sales and deliveries made by you to buyers in said trade area, and if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, the prices set forth below in said Table I are the maximum prices which you may pay any coal dealer in said Panguitch Trade Area for the kinds, sizes and quantity of coal specified in said table when purchased from him and delivered at your customary receiving point.

(c) To what sales this order applies. If you sell coal of the kind specified herein and make delivery thereof, either by truck direct from the mine or from or at your yard, to any person within the area covered by this order, the maximum prices which you may charge therefor and the customary discounts and allowances which you must give are those set forth in Table I of paragraph (d) hereof.

(d) Specific maximum prices. (1) If you sell and deliver in the Panguitch Trade Area any one or more of the kinds and sizes of coal named in Table I set forth below, your maximum prices therefor are those set forth in said Table I.

TABLE I—MAXIMUM PRICES, PANGUITCH TRADE AREA

	#10—1½ x 0 slack, untreated	7.65	4.10
	#10—1½ x 0 slack, treated	8.00	4.25

(2) If in connection with the sale and delivery of coal made by you in the Panguitch Trade Area you, at the request of the purchaser, perform any one or more of the special services set forth below, the maximum prices which you may charge for such services follow:

Special service charges	Per ton	Per half ton
"Wheel-in"	$1.00	$0.50
"Pull-back" or "Trimming"	.25	.15
"Carrying up or down stairs"	1.00	.50

Your charge for any such special service shall be limited to the amount of coal actually "wheeled in", "pulled back", "trimmed", or "carried".

(e) Determination of mixed coals prices. If you mix sizes or kinds of coal, your maximum price shall be the proportionate sum of the applicable maximum prices per net ton established in this order for each of the coals so mixed, adjusted to the nearest five cents.

(f) When transportation tax may be collected. If on any purchase of coal made by you, you are required to pay the amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, you may, in addition to the specific maximum prices established in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) hereof, collect from the buyer the amount of such tax actually incurred or paid by you, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by the supplier from whom you purchased, provided you state separately on your sales invoice, slip, ticket, or other memorandum, the amount of such tax so collected by you. But on sales to the United States or any agency thereof, such tax need not be separately stated.

(g) Applicability of other regulations. Except as inconsistent with or contradictory of the terms and provisions of this order, all of the terms and provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, except paragraph (c) of § 1340.262 thereof, as stated in paragraph (h) of this order, shall apply to all dealers selling and delivering coal in the areas covered herein with like force and effect as though the same were rewritten herein. If you sell solid fuel of a kind or size not specifically priced by this order, all such sales and deliveries remain subject to the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and orders issued thereunder.

(h) Filing requirements. Dealers whose prices are established by this order shall not be required to file prices with their local war price and rationing board as previously required in § 1340.262 (c). However, prices for coals not specifically covered by this order shall be filed as required by that section.

(i) What you must not do. Regardless of any contract or other obligation which you may have heretofore entered into you shall not:

(1) Sell, or in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels of the kinds and sizes covered by this order at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth herein; but you may sell or buy such coal at lower prices than such maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any prices higher than the applicable maximum prices by:

(i) Changing or withdrawing your customary cash discounts and allowances;

(ii) Charging for any service which is not expressly requested by the buyer; or

(iii) Charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order; or

(iv) Charging a price for any service higher than the price authorized by this order for such service; or

(v) Increasing your delivery charges, if any, for delivery outside the areas for which the maximum prices are herein set forth or increasing any interest rate on delinquent and past-due accounts over the rate or charge made by you in December 1941; or

(vi) Using any tying agreement whereby the buyer is required or persuaded to purchase anything other than the fuel requested by him; or

(vii) Using any other device by which a price higher than your maximum price is obtained either directly or indirectly.

(j) An increase in your supplier's prices does not authorize you to increase your prices. You must not increase the specific maximum prices established for you by this order to reflect in whole or in part any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum prices for the fuel covered by this order. These specific maximum prices established for you by this order reflect all of the increases in the maximum prices of your supplier to the date hereof. If increase in your supplier's maximum prices shall occur after the effective date of this order, you may bring that fact to the attention of the regional administrator whereupon he will take such appropriate action in the premises as the then existing facts and circumstances justify.

(k) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which becomes effective at some time after you have made delivery of the coal; but you may agree to sell at whatever maximum price is in effect at the time of delivery.

(l) Petition for amendment. If you desire an amendment of any provisions of this order, you may file a petition therefor in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that it shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(m) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order, regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(n) Right to revoke or amend. This order may be revoked, modified, or amended at any time by the Price Administrator or the Regional Administrator.

(o) Definitions. (1) "Carry" or "Wheel-in" means to transport coal from the vehicle in which delivery is made or from the nearest accessible point of dumping or unloading and place the same in the buyer's bin or storage space when the physical condition of the premises is such as to prevent dumping or unloading directly into such bin or storage space.

(2) "Pull-back" or "Trimming" means to arrange and place coal in the buyer's bin by rehandling the same for the purpose of filling the bin.

(3) "Carrying up or down stairs" means generally the labor involved in carrying coal up or down stairs for depositing in customer's bin or storage space.

(4) "Delivery" means delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space by dumping, chuting, or shovelling directly from the seller's truck or vehicle, or where such delivery to the buyer's bin or storage space is physically impossible, by discharging at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space and at which the coal can be discharged directly from the seller's truck.

(5) "Dealer" means any person selling solid fuels of any kind or size for which a maximum price is established by this order for sales and deliveries made in the area covered herein, and does not include transactions whereby a producer or distributor makes a sale at or from a mine or preparation plant operated as an adjunct of a mine.

(6) "Bituminous coal" means coal produced in District 20 and any sub-districts thereof as set forth in the Minimum Price Schedules of the Bituminous Coal Division of the Department of the Interior and in effect as of midnight, August 23, 1943.

part, for the first time are Baldwin and Crenshaw in Alabama to include infestations centering in Foley and Luverne; Hancock County in Mississippi to include Bay Saint Louis, Waveland, and an isolated tract; Simpson County, Miss., to include areas in the vicinity of Mendenhall and D'Lo; and parts of the North Carolina counties of Anson, Cumberland, and Onslow, because of infestations in the vicinity of Peachland, Hope Mills, Jacksonville, and Kellum. AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

MAGNESIUM

Section 921.16 General Preference Order M-2-b is amended to read as follows:

§ 921.16 [1] General Preference Order M-2-b—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Magnesium" means any metal in ingot or other raw form, the principal ingredient of which by weight is the element magnesium.

(2) "Magnesium products" means any basic forms (such as, but not limited to, castings, extrusions, sheet, strip, plate, forgings, and powder), the principal ingredient of which by weight is magnesium.

(3) "Magnesium scrap" means any scrap material (except sawings, grindings, sweepings, and similar fines), the principal ingredient of which by weight is magnesium, generated in the course of any industrial process, or any discarded magnesium products, which must be remelted to be of value for further use. The term "magnesium scrap" also includes any dross or sludge resulting from melting magnesium or magnesium scrap, when the dross or sludge contains at least 20 percent of magnesium by weight.

(4) "Producer" means any person who makes magnesium, in whole or in part, from a non-metallic raw material.

[1] Formerly Part 922, § 922.3.

(5) "Approved smelter" means one of the smelting plants listed on Exhibit A attached hereto.

(6) "Fabricator" means any person, including pattern shops, foundries, and powder grinders, who makes magnesium products.

(b) Delivery and use. Except as provided in paragraph (g) with respect to dead stock, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use magnesium, and no person shall deliver or accept delivery of magnesium products unless his action has been specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, or, in the case of certain deliveries of magnesium products for aircraft purposes, by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit of the Aircraft Resources Control Office. The receipt by a fabricator from the Aircraft Scheduling Unit, of a Magnesium Allotment Notice to Fabricators for the months of February and March of 1944, shall constitute specific authorization in writing by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit to the fabricator to deliver the magnesium products described on the notice in the amounts allotted and to the customer designated thereon; and the receipt by a manufacturer from the Aircraft Scheduling Unit of a Magnesium Allotment Notice for the months of February and March of 1944, shall constitute specific authorization in writing by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit to accept delivery of the magnesium products described on the notice, in the amounts allotted and from the supplier designated thereon.

(c) Prohibition against alloying, contamination, and debasement. No person shall alloy, contaminate or debase magnesium except as the War Production Board may specifically authorize in writing.

(d) Collection, segregation, and use of scrap. (1) Each person owning or generating any magnesium scrap shall collect all such scrap, place it in containers, label the containers so as to identify the scrap, and otherwise prepare all such scrap for reprocessing. All magnesium scrap shall be kept free of contamination by other metals and materials, and otherwise handled in such manner so that it will be of acceptable quality for reprocessing.

(2) In addition, each person generating more than 1,500 pounds of magnesium scrap in any month beginning with December, 1943, shall thereafter segregate all magnesium scrap unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board to do otherwise. Such scrap shall be segregated by alloys in accordance with the alloy designation of the American Society for Testing Materials, except that alloys #4 and #17 may be mixed with each other. Commercially pure magnesium, and magnesium scrap of each alloy not described by such designations, shall be kept segregated.

(3) Each person receiving segregated magnesium scrap must keep such scrap segregated prior to its use to the same extent as when received by him, and if he redelivers such scrap, he shall do so segregated to the same extent as when it was received by him.

(4) Any fabricator may use any magnesium scrap generated in his plant (or any casting of his own manufacture rejected or spoiled by another person) but only (i) if the scrap is remelted and refabricated in such plant into products for the production of which the fabricator is currently obtaining deliveries of magnesium in conformity with this order and (ii) if, in estimating, applying for, and ordering such magnesium, the fabricator reduces his requirements by an amount which represents a reasonable anticipation of the amount of magnesium scrap which will be recoverable for re-use under this paragraph.

(e) Disposition of all scrap. (1) Except as the War Production Board may specifically authorize in writing, any person, other than a producer or approved smelter, owning any magnesium scrap, shall sell all of it at reasonable intervals to a producer or approved smelter, and shall not use or dispose of it in any other way. However, a person who has found a new magnesium casting to be defective or has spoiled it, may deliver the casting back to the foundry which produced it.

(2) Except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, no producer or approved smelter shall mix two or more alloys during the remelting of scrap.

(3) Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board in writing, no person other than a producer or approved smelter shall accept delivery of any magnesium scrap except that a foundry may accept delivery of a casting of its own manufacture which has been rejected or spoiled in machining.

(f) Tolling prohibited. Except as the War Production Board may specifically authorize in writing pursuant to an application filed on Form WPB-165 (formerly Form PD-114), no scrap shall be delivered for processing or returned under any toll, repurchase, or similar arrangement.

(g) Dead stock. All magnesium and magnesium products which are not being used in, or which are in excess of reasonable needs for, the manufacture of items approved by written specific authorization, may be sold subject to the restrictions of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(h) Requests for authorizations and communications. (1) A fabricator who seeks the specific authorization of the War Production Board to accept magnesium after January 31, 1944, and to use it, and who seeks specific authorization for the producer or smelter who is his supplier to deliver the magnesium, should apply monthly by letter in duplicate, stating the form, alloy, and other specifications of the magnesium required, the amount in pounds of each type of magnesium, the magnesium product to be made from each type of magnesium, and the month in which, and the address to which, the magnesium is to be shipped. Such application should be made by the 15th of the month preceding the month of requested delivery.

(2) Consumers seeking to obtain delivery of magnesium products after April 1, 1944, may apply for specific authorization to accept delivery, and for specific authorization running to the fabricator who is his supplier to make the delivery, on Form WPB-3462, whether the application is made to the War Production Board or to the Aircraft Scheduling Unit. Instructions appear on the form indicating the manner and place of filing.

(3) Any person who seeks the specific authorization of the War Production Board to do anything under this order not covered in paragraph (h) (1) or (h) (2), may request his authorization by letter in duplicate, setting forth the relevant facts.

(4) All other applications, statements, or communications to the War Production Board concerning matters related to this order should be addressed to the War Production Board, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-2-b.

(i) Report of operations. Any person who in any calendar month has had in inventory any magnesium, magnesium products, or magnesium scrap, shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(j) Intra-company deliveries. The provisions of this order with respect to deliveries prohibit or restrict deliveries not only to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also deliveries from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(k) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 13th day of January 1944.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[General Limitation Order L-240, Supp. 1 as Amended Jan. 13, 1944]

Section 3133.6a General Limitation Order L-240, Supplement No. 1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.6a General Limitation Order L-240, Supplement No. 1—(a) Purpose of appeal clause. The serious shortage in the supply of print paper available for newspapers in the first quarter of 1944 makes it necessary for all publishers to reduce their consumption substantially, as provided in Order L-240. Such reductions may create serious hardships, which, however, are unavoidable in time of war. Appeals are not granted to ameliorate, in individual cases, hardships applicable to an entire industry. They are granted only to provide relief, where possible, from undue and excessive hardship which would be created if the order were applied without modification to an exceptional set of circumstances. Appeals which do not contain proof establishing this type of hardship will be denied.

(b) Adjustments for circulation increases. The amendment to Order L-240 effective January 1, 1944 permits all publishers to adjust their consumption quotas by a factor reflecting circulation increases in 1942 over 1941. This adjustment eliminates the need for appeals based upon circulation growth prior to the issuance of L-240 on December 31, 1942.

(c) Adjustments for certain base period hardships. Permanent adjustments in base period usage have been made for newspapers which:

(1) Were not in existence throughout 1941,

(2) Temporarily suspended publication during 1941 because of strikes, mechanical break-downs, or similar circumstances, or

(3) Reduced their consumption of print paper in 1941 by voluntary conservation methods.

These adjustments eliminate the need for appeals based upon such grounds.

(d) Factors to be considered. In passing upon appeals under Order L-240 the following factors will be taken into consideration:

(1) Extraordinary growth of population in the newspaper's trading area since January 1, 1943 requiring the grant of additional paper in order to maintain adequate newspaper service to the community.

(2) Discontinuance or merger of newspapers, requiring adjustments in the quotas of other newspapers in the trading area in order to maintain adequate newspaper service to the community.

(3) Any other unforeseen, unusual, extraordinary or emergency conditions which may constitute undue and excessive hardship.

(e) Economical usage. In every case where additional tonnage is recommended, the amount will be computed on the basis of economical usage of paper. Ex-quota paper will be denied to the extent that a publisher can meet his requirements through paper conservation. The feasibility of instituting particular economies will be viewed in the light of local conditions.

Procedure

(f) How appeals are submitted. Appeals from Order L-240 shall be filed by addressing a letter in duplicate to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-240.

(g) Form of appeals. The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the particular provision appealed from, the precise relief desired, and the reasons why denial of the appeal would result in undue and excessive hardship.

(h) Denial by administrator. Appeals may be denied in the first instance by the administrator of the order.

(i) Re-appeal from denial by administrator. When an appeal has been denied by the administrator of the order, the appellant may re-appeal, within 15 days after the letter of denial is mailed, by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-240. This letter may contain simply a request that the case be forwarded to the Appeals Board. Any additional information which the appellant cares to submit at this time will also be forwarded to the Appeals Board.

(j) Grant of appeals. Although the administrator of the order may deny an appeal in the first instance, only the Appeals Board has the power to grant relief in individual cases from the provisions of the order.

(k) Recommendation of grant by the administrator. When the administrator of the order believes that an appeal is meritorious he shall refer the case to the Printing and Publishing Division Appeals Committee, consisting of himself, the Assistant Director of the Printing and Publishing Division for Labor, a representative of the Office of Civilian Requirements and a representative of the Conservation Division. Thereafter, the case shall be forwarded to the Appeals Board with the written recommendation of the administrator of the order and the written concurrence or non-concurrence of each member of the Division Appeals Committee.

(l) Optional reference to Appeals Board by administrator. The administrator of the order may, if he desires, refer a case to the Appeals Board with a recommendation of denial or with no recommendation at all.

(m) Hearings by Appeals Board. If the Appeals Board desires to obtain additional facts not contained in the file it may, in its discretion, hold a public hearing on any appeal. To the extent consistent with the necessity for emergency relief, a schedule of hearings shall be made up in advance. Information concerning the time and place of any scheduled hearing shall be available at the office of the Appeals Board at any time during business hours.

(n) Conduct of hearing. Hearings by the Appeals Board are open to the public. All interested parties may attend and, in the discretion of the Board, may be heard. The hearings are informal and the Board is not bound by legal rules of evidence. It is not necessary for an appellant to be represented by counsel, although he may do so if he wishes.

(o) Decision by Appeals Board. The Appeals Board may grant or deny an appeal in whole or in part. It may also attach conditions to a grant, directing the manner in which ex-quota tonnage shall be used.

(p) Finality of decision. The decisions of the Appeals Board shall be final unless that Board elects to reopen the case.

(q) Public files. Whenever an appeal has been granted, a public file shall be set up, consisting of the following:

(1) All papers filed by the appellant in support of the appeal.

(2) A memorandum containing the recommendation of the administrator.

(3) A memorandum by the Appeals Board of the grounds of its decision in cases where it overrules the administrator's recommendation, or follows his recommendation for different reasons.

(4) A transcript of the record of the public hearing (or if the stenographic notes of the hearing have not been transcribed, a memorandum referring to the notes and stating how a transcript may be obtained.)

The public file shall be available for public inspection at any time during the business hours of the War Production Board. This paragraph shall not apply to appeals filed before October 7, 1943.

Issued this 13th day of January 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[General Limitation Order L-244, Supp. 1 as Amended Jan. 13, 1944]

Section 3133.15a General Limitation Order L-244, Supplement No. 1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.15a General Limitation Order L-244, Supplement No. 1—(a) Purpose of appeal clause. The serious shortage in the supply of print paper available for magazines makes it necessary for publishers to reduce their consumption substantially, as provided in Order L-244. Such reductions may create serious hardships—which, however, are unavoidable in time of war. Appeals are not granted to ameliorate, in individual cases, hardships applicable to an entire industry. They are granted only to provide relief, where possible, from undue and excessive hardships which would be created if the order were applied without modification to an exceptional set of circumstances. Appeals which do not contain proof establishing this type of hardship will be denied.

(b) Adjustments for certain hardships. Adjustments have been made for magazines which:

(1) Conserved paper voluntarily during 1942;

(2) Were not in existence throughout 1942;

(3) Were started in the first quarter of 1943; or

(4) Temporarily suspended publication in 1942 because of strikes, mechanical breakdowns or similar conditions.

These adjustments eliminate the need for appeals based upon such grounds.

(c) Factors to be considered. In passing upon appeals under Order L-244, the following factors will be taken into consideration:

(1) Unusual seasonal variations in publishing schedules, requiring redistribution of quarterly quotas.

(2) Increased need for religious or instructional publications required by the Armed Forces.

(3) Any other unforeseen unusual, extraordinary or emergency conditions which may constitute undue and excessive hardship.

(d) Economical usage. In every case where additional tonnage is recommended, the amount will be computed on the basis of economical usage of paper—not only in the magazine for which the appeal was filed but in all other magazines issued by the same publisher. Ex-quota paper will be denied to the extent that a publisher can meet his requirements through paper conservation methods in any of his magazines.

Procedure

(e) How appeals are submitted. Appeals from Order L-244 shall be filed by addressing a letter in duplicate to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-244.

(f) Form of appeals. The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the particular provisions appealed from, the precise relief desired, and the reasons why denial of the appeals would result in undue and excessive hardship.

(g) Denial by administrator. Appeals may be denied in the first instance by the administrator of the order.

(h) Re-appeal from denial by administrator. When an appeal has been denied by the administrator of the order, the appellant may re-appeal, within 15 days after the letter of denial is mailed, by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L-244. This letter may contain simply a request that the case be forwarded to the Appeals Board. Any additional information which the appellant cares to submit at this time will also be forwarded to the Appeals Board.

(i) Grant of appeals. Although the administrator of the order may deny an appeal in the first instance, only the Appeals Board has the power to grant relief in individual cases from the provisions of the order.

(j) Recommendation of grant by the administrator. When the administrator of the order believes that an appeal is meritorious he shall refer the case to the Printing and Publishing Division Appeals Committee, which includes himself, the Assistant Director of the Printing and Publishing Division for Labor, a representative of the Office of Civilian Requirements and a representative of the Conservation Division. Thereafter the case shall be forwarded to the Appeals Board with the written recommendation of the administrator of the order and the written concurrence or non-concurrence of each member of the Division Appeals Committee.

(k) Optional reference to Appeals Board by administrator. The administrator of the order may, if he desires, refer a case to the Appeals Board with a recommendation of denial or with no recommendation at all.

(l) Hearings by Appeals Board. If the Appeals Board desires to obtain additional facts not contained in the file it may, in its discretion, hold a public hearing on any appeal. To the extent consistent with the necessity for emergency relief, a schedule of hearings shall be made up in advance. Information concerning the time and place of any scheduled hearing shall be available at the office of the Appeals Board at any time during business hours.

(m) Conduct of hearing. Hearings by the Appeals Board are open to the public. All interested parties may attend and, in the discretion of the Board, may be heard. The hearings are informal and the Board is not bound by legal rules of evidence. It is not necessary for an appellant to be represented by counsel, although he may do so if he wishes.

(n) Decision by Appeals Board. The Appeals Board may grant or deny an appeal in whole or in part. It may also attach conditions to a grant, directing the manner in which ex-quota tonnage shall be used.

(o) Finality of decision. The decisions of the Appeals Board shall be final, unless that Board elects to reopen the case.

(p) Public files. Whenever an appeal has been granted, a public file shall be set up, consisting of the following:

(1) All papers filed by the appellant in support of the appeal.

(2) A memorandum containing the recommendation of the administrator.

(3) A memorandum by the Appeals Board of the grounds of its decision in cases where it overrules the administrator's recommendation, or follows his recommendation for different reasons.

(4) A transcript of the record of the public hearing (or if the stenographic notes of the hearing have not been transcribed, a memorandum referring to the notes and stating how a transcript may be obtained).

The public file shall be available for public inspection at any time during the business hours of the War Production Board. This paragraph shall not apply to appeals filed before October 7, 1943.

Issued this 13th day of January 1944.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L-245, Supp. 1 as Amended Jan. 13, 1944]

Section 3133.17a Limitation Order L-245. Supplement No. 1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.17a Limitation Order L-245, Supplement No. 1—(a) Purpose of appeal clause. The serious shortage in the supply of print paper available for books in the first quarter of 1944 makes it necessary for all publishers to reduce their consumption substantially, as provided in Order L-245. Such reductions may create serious hardships which, however, are unavoidable in time of war. Appeals are not granted to ameliorate in individual cases hardships applicable to an entire industry. They are granted only to provide relief, where possible, from undue and excessive hardship which would be created if the order were applied without modification to an exceptional set of circumstances. Appeals which do not contain proof establishing this type of hardship will be denied.

(b) Adjustments for certain base period hardships. Permanent adjustments in base period usage have been made by means of appeal grants for book publishers who:

(1) Entered into publishing commitments prior to the issuance of Order L-245 (January 8, 1943).

(2) Were not in existence throughout 1942.

(3) Instituted voluntary paper conservation methods in 1942 for then-existing "libraries" or series of books, and reduced the publisher's base period usage.

These adjustments eliminate the need for appeals based upon such grounds.

(c) Factors to be considered. In passing upon appeals under Order L-245 the following factors will be taken into consideration:

(1) Establishment of quotas for "occasional" publishers who do not use paper every year and who used none in 1942.

(2) Increased need for religious or instructional publications required by the Armed Forces.

(3) Any other unforeseen, unusual, extraordinary or emergency conditions which may constitute undue and excessive hardship.

(d) Economical usage. In every case where additional tonnage is recommended, the amount will be computed on the basis of economical usage of paper. Ex-quota paper will be denied to the extent that a publisher can meet his requirements through paper conservation methods.

Procedure

(e) How appeals are submitted. Appeals from Order L-245 shall be filed by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-245.

(f) Form of appeals. The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the particular provision appealed from, the precise relief desired, and the reasons why denial of the appeal would result in undue and excessive hardship.

(g) Denial by administrator. Appeals may be denied in the first instance by the administrator of the order.

(h) Re-appeal from denial by administrator. When an appeal has been denied by the administrator of the order, the appellant may re-appeal, within 15 days after the letter of denial is mailed, by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-245. This letter may contain simply a request that the case be forwarded to the Appeals Board. Any additional information which the appellant cares to submit at this time will also be forwarded to the Appeals Board.

(i) Grant of appeals. Although the administrator of the order may deny an appeal in the first instance, only the Appeals Board has the power to grant relief in individual cases from the provisions of the order.

(j) Recommendation of grant by the administrator. When the administrator of the order believes that an appeal is meritorious he shall refer the case to the Printing and Publishing Division Appeals Committee, consisting of himself, the Assistant Director of the Printing and Publishing Division for Labor, a representative of the Office of Civilian Requirements, and a representative of the Conservation Division. Thereafter the case shall be forwarded to the Appeals Board with the written recommendation of the administrator of the order and the written concurrence or non-concurrence of each member of the Division Appeals Committee.

(k) Optional reference to Appeals Board by administrator. The administrator of the order may, if he desires, refer a case to the Appeals Board with a recommendation of denial or with no recommendation at all.

(l) Hearings by Appeals Board. If the Appeals Board desires to obtain additional facts not contained in the file it may, in its discretion, hold a public hearing on any appeal. To the extent consistent with the necessity for emergency relief, a schedule of hearings shall be made up in advance. Information concerning the time and place of any scheduled hearing shall be available at the office of the Appeals Board at any time during business hours.

(m) Conduct of hearing. Hearings by the Appeals Board are open to the public. All interested parties may attend, and in the discretion of the Board, may be heard. The hearings are informal and the Board is not bound by legal rules of evidence. It is not necessary for an appellant to be represented by counsel, although he may do so if he wishes.

(n) Decision by Appeals Board. The Appeals Board may grant or deny an appeal in whole or in part. It may also attach conditions to a grant, directing the manner in which ex-quota tonnage shall be used.

(o) Finality of decision. The decisions of the Appeals Board shall be final unless that Board elects to reopen the case.

(p) Public files. Whenever an appeal has been granted, a public file shall be set up, consisting of the following:

(1) All papers filed by the appellant in support of the appeal.

(2) A memorandum containing the recommendation of the administrator.

(3) A memorandum by the Appeals Board of the grounds of its decision in cases where it overrules the administrator's recommendation, or follows his recommendation for different reasons.

(4) A transcript of the record of the public hearing (or if the stenographic notes of the hearing have not been transcribed, a memorandum referring to the notes and stating how a transcript may be obtained).

The public file shall be available for public inspection at any time during the business hours of the War Production Board. This paragraph shall not apply to appeals filed before October 7, 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 5A, Direction 2]

QUOTA AND EXPENDITURE RECORDS

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Reg. 5A:

(a) Each governmental agency and each institution which is subject to the quantity limitations of paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 5A must compute its quota and must keep its computation and supporting work sheets in its file for two years after the last purchase made under the Regulation. It must also maintain a record of its expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies for a period of not less than two years.

(b) In computing the quota and in charging purchases against the quota, a governmental agency or institution is required by paragraph (f) to include its purchases for maintenance, repair and operating supplies whether the rating or allotment symbol assigned by the Regulation is used or not. However, it may exclude the cost of food, fuel, electricity, and steam or hot water for heating, as long as it excludes such costs both from the computation of the quota and from charges against the quota.

SALES OF CONTROLLED MATERIALS BY WAREHOUSES AND DISTRIBUTORS

§ 3175.4 CMP Regulation 4—(a) Purpose and scope. This regulation describes the procedure to be followed by warehouses and distributors in delivering controlled materials from stock (including consigned stock) except that in the case of steel, deliveries from one distributor to another are governed by Orders M-21-b-1 and M-21-b-2.

Steel

(b) Definitions with respect to steel. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer or retailer) who is engaged in the business of receiving steel for sale or resale in the form received or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, pipe threading, or corrugating or otherwise forming sheets for roofing and siding; but a person who, in connection with any sale, bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(c) Rejection of orders. (1) A distributor must reject all orders except those which he is required or permitted to fill under paragraph (d).

(2) [Deleted Jan. 13, 1944.]

(3) A distributor must not deliver any steel on an authorized controlled material order bearing a specific allotment number except in the period for which the allotment was made or within 15 days before or 30 days after such period. For example, a distributor receiving an order bearing the allotment number N-1-4Q43 may fill the order at any time during the period September 15, 1943, through January 31, 1944. Orders bearing symbols such as MRO which do not have to bear any quarterly identification are not subject to this provision.

(4) A distributor may reject any order for steel on which the customer does not specify immediate delivery. Even if he elects to accept an authorized controlled material order calling for future delivery, he is not allowed to set aside the steel covered by such order. He must deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is required to fill under paragraphs (d) (1), (2) or (3), and may deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is permitted to fill under paragraph (d) (4).

(5) A distributor may reject any order calling for the delivery of steel which he does not have in stock or which he does not know is in transit to his stock.

(6) A distributor may reject all or any part of an order which the War Production Board specifically authorizes him to reject. If a delivery would deplete his stock to a point where his function in the distribution of steel would be seriously impaired, he may apply to the War Production Board for authority to reject the order and may delay filling the order until his application is acted upon.

(d) Orders which must be filled. A distributor must fill the following kinds of orders unless he is required or permitted to reject them under paragraph (c):

(1) A distributor must fill all authorized controlled material orders.

(2) A distributor must fill orders for delivery to farmers as required by Priorities Regulation No. 19.

(3) A distributor must fill orders bearing preference ratings of AAA.

(4) A distributor may fill other orders as follows, but is not required to do so regardless of whether rated or not:

(i) Orders in amounts of $25 or less. No endorsement is required on such orders.

(ii) Orders calling for delivery to one customer during any calendar quarter of not more than 10 tons of carbon steel, 1,000 pounds of stainless steel and 2 tons of other alloy steel, providing such deliveries of any one product group and type to one customer do not exceed the amounts shown below:

	Quantities in pounds per quarter unless otherwise stated
	Carbon (including wrought iron)	Stainless	Alloy (Other than stainless)
Tool steel, including drill rod	300	------	300
Mechanical tubing	1,000*	100*	300*
Wire rope and strand	300*	------	------*
Music Wire	300	------	------
All other steel products	20,000	1,000	4,000

*Feet per quarter.

Each order placed under this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) must be accompanied by or endorsed with both the standard form of certification in CMP Regulation No. 7 and the following sentence: "This order is placed under paragraph (d) (4) (ii) of CMP Regulation No. 4."

The purpose of this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) is to permit persons using small quantities of steel to obtain their requirements without the use of allotments; it is not to allow users of large quantities to obtain steel in addition to their purchases on authorized controlled material orders. Therefore, a person who buys any steel under this paragraph (d) (4) (ii) cannot receive steel from producers or distributors in any quarter in excess of the amounts shown in the above table whether it is received on authorized controlled material orders or otherwise. Purchases of steel from persons other than producers or distributors do not affect the amount which can be bought under this paragraph. Such purchases are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 13 and paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

Copper

(e) Definitions with respect to copper. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Copper wire mill product" means bare, insulated or armored wire or cable for electrical conduction made from copper or copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight.

(2) "Brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(3) "Warehouse" means any industrial supplier, mill supplier, plumbing supply house, electrical wholesaler or other person engaged in the business of distributing brass mill products or copper wire mill products to industry or trade otherwise than as a controlled materials producer and includes warehouses owned by mills.

(4) "Item of copper wire mill product" means any wire or cable made from copper, copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight for electrical conduction which is different from all other items of that form by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, alloy or insulation. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items.

(5) "Item of brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy, which is different from all other items of that form, by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, shape, gauge, thickness or alloy. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items except in the case of copper and brass sheet, where such differences will constitute different items.

(6) "Warehouse stock" means brass mill or copper wire mill products physically located in warehouse inventories, whether owned or held on consignment by the warehouse.

(f) Delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products—(1) Delivery from warehouse stock. (i) A warehouse shall fill authorized controlled material orders for brass mill or copper wire mill products, in accordance with this regulation, if it can fill the orders from its stock. In no case, however, may a warehouse fill an order for brass mill or copper wire mill products unless the purchaser has the right to accept delivery under the provisions of this paragraph (f) which limit the amount of brass mill and copper wire mill products which a purchaser may get from a warehouse. A warehouse is entitled to rely on a certificate furnished by any of its customers under paragraph (f) (1) (iv) of this regulation, unless it knows or has reason to believe the certificate to be false.

(ii) No person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of brass mill product to any one destination, during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 2,000 pounds gross weight and no person shall accept any delivery in excess of this amount, except that this limitation does not apply to condenser tubes or to the resale of brass mill products obtained by brass mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, 350 5th Avenue, New York City, New York.

(iii) No person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of copper wire mill product to any one destination, during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 3,000 pounds copper content and no person shall accept any such delivery in excess of this amount, except that this limitation does not apply to the resale of copper wire mill products obtained by copper wire mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York City, New York.

(iv) No person shall place an order under this paragraph (f) (1) and no warehouse shall accept an order unless it is accompanied by, or endorsed with, a certificate in the form provided in CMP Regulation No. 7 (or a certificate prescribed by any regulation or order of the War Production Board for use in placing an authorized controlled material order), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(2) Shipments direct to customer or to fill specific orders. If a warehouse wants to order material to fill a specific authorized controlled material order of a customer instead of filling it from stock, it may order the material either for direct shipment to the customer or for shipment via the warehouse, by placing on its order the customer's name and allotment number or symbol. Such an order is to be treated as an authorized controlled material order. The warehouse may not treat the delivery to the customer as made from stock and may not request a replacement. However, in the case of brass mill products, a warehouse may order from another warehouse only if it does not have the material in inventory and needs it for immediate delivery to a customer on an authorized controlled material order. It must state these facts on its order.

(3) Rejection of orders. (i) A warehouse must not fill any order for brass mill or copper wire mill products except those which it is required or permitted to fill under paragraph (f) (1) or (f) (2) above.

(ii) A warehouse must not deliver any brass mill or copper wire mill product on an authorized controlled material order except in the quarter for which the allotment appearing on the order is valid. Orders bearing symbols such as "MRO" or "SO" which do not have to bear any quarterly identification may be filled during any quarter, but such orders must indicate when delivery is required if for other than immediate delivery.

(iii) A warehouse may reject any order calling for immediate delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products which it does not have in stock or know to be in transit to its stock.

(iv) A warehouse may reject an order calling for future delivery. If it elects to accept the order, it must not set aside or hold any material to fill it.

Aluminum

(g) Definitions with respect to aluminum. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP Regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Aluminum" means aluminum in any of the forms and shapes constituting controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who is specifically authorized by the War Production Board to engage in the business of receiving aluminum for sale or resale.

(h) Deliveries of aluminum by distributors on authorized controlled material orders. (1) Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stocks, fill authorized controlled material orders, except that a distributor shall reject any authorized controlled material order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person, at any one destination, of more than 2,000 pounds of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, or more than 900 pounds of any alloy, shape and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar, or more than 600 pounds of any alloy, size and shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes: Provided, however, That any distributor shall be entitled to fill an authorized controlled material order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person, at any one destination, of 5,000 pounds or less of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, 3,000 pounds or less of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum wire, rod or bar or 2,000 pounds or less of any alloy, size and shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes, if such distributor shall first have requested the mill supplying him to fill such order and such mill shall have advised such distributor to fill the same from his stock. Such request and advice may be made verbally but shall be confirmed in writing.

(2) No distributor shall deliver any aluminum except to fill an authorized controlled material order or pursuant to a specific direction of the War Production Board.

General Provisions Applicable to Steel, Brass Mill Products, Copper Wire Mill Products and Aluminum

(i) Directions to distributors and warehouses. Each distributor and warehouse shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board with respect to making or withholding deliveries of steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, and with respect to the earmarking of stocks of such material.

(j) Placement of authorized controlled material orders. A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order, if but only if,

(1) It is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board; or

(2) It is endorsed with the appropriate certification and allotment number or symbol in the way prescribed by paragraph (s) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(3) A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, placed with a distributor or warehouse shall be considered as calling for immediate delivery unless the order specifically provides otherwise.

(k) Verbal delivery orders. Any delivery order requiring shipment within seven days may be placed verbally or by telephone by stating to the distributor or warehouse the substance of the information required by this regulation, Provided, That the person placing the order furnishes to the distributor or warehouse, within fifteen days after placing the same, written confirmation of the order complying with the requirements of this regulation. In case of failure to receive written confirmation within fifteen days, the distributor or warehouse shall not accept any other order from, or deliver any additional material of any kind to, the purchaser until such written confirmation is furnished. On or before the twentieth day of each month any distributor or warehouse who has received in the prior month a delivery order by telephone, shall notify the appropriate Regional Compliance Office of the War Production Board, of any case in which a purchaser has failed to furnish to him the written confirmation when due.

(l) Special provisions with respect to AAA orders. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, an authorized controlled material order placed with a distributor or warehouse bearing a rating of AAA shall be filled in preference to any other authorized controlled material orders regardless of time of receipt:

(m) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 4 (specify whether steel, copper or aluminum).

Issued this 13th day of January 1944.

DISTRIBUTORS OF AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The definitions of "distributor" and "warehouse" appearing in paragraphs (b) (2) and (e) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 4 are not deemed to include persons engaged solely in the business of distributing automotive replacement parts. Consequently, such persons may sell, for use as automotive replacement parts, such items as bulk or spooled primary and spark plug wire, battery cables and magnet wire, without reference to the terms of CMP Regulation No. 4, but subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L–158 and other applicable regulations or orders. PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION[1]

[General Preference Order M–21–b–1 as Amended Jan. 13, 1944]

GENERAL STEEL WAREHOUSES AND DEALERS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3294.81[1] General Preference Order M–21–b–1—(a) Purpose and scope. This order tells how, under the Controlled Materials Plan, a distributor obtains deliveries of general steel products from producers and from other persons for stock or for delivery direct to a distributor's customers. The method by which a distributor obtains deliveries of merchant trade products is set forth in General Preference Order M–21–b–2. Deliveries of steel from stock by distributors to persons not purchasing for resale are governed by CMP Regulation No. 4. Deliveries by distributors to other distributors are governed by this order and not by CMP Regulation No. 4.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule I to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Alloy steel" means alloy steel as defined in Order M–21–a.

(3) "Carbon steel" means any steel (including wrought iron) other than alloy steel.

(4) "General steel product" means any of the steel products listed in Schedule A hereto.

(5) "Product group" means any of the 17 numbered groups of general steel products listed in Schedule A hereto.

(6) "Type" means (i) carbon steel, or (ii) stainless steel, or (iii) other alloy steel.

(7) "Base tonnage" of a warehouse for any product group and type means the tonnage of such product group and type delivered by such warehouse from stock during the first calendar quarter of 1941, or such other tonnage as may be specifically established by the War Production Board.

(8) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer, or retailer) who is engaged in the business of receiving steel for sale or resale in the form received or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, pipe threading, or corrugating or otherwise forming sheets for roofing and siding; but a person who, in connection with any sale, bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(9) "Warehouse" means a distributor who receives physical delivery of general steel products from a producer for sale or resale in the form received, and who was engaged on August 9, 1941, in the business of distributing steel from stock. If a warehouse maintains a stock at more than one location, each location shall be deemed a separate warehouse.

(10) "Dealer" means a distributor (other than a warehouse) who receives physical delivery of general steel products from persons other than producers for sale or resale in the form received.

(11) "Delivery" includes deliveries received on consignment.

(c) Restrictions on placing warehouse orders with producers, or other distributors, for shipment to warehouse stock—(1) Product groups and types to be ordered. No warehouse shall order or accept delivery to warehouse stock of general steel products (except drill rod and magnets) in any product group and type except those which have been certified to such warehouse on form GA–996 by the War Production Board. A producer shall not deliver general steel products (except drill rod and magnets, to any warehouse stock unless such warehouse shall first have filed with such producer a copy of the front page of its GA–996 certificate, or in any product group and type except those certified on such certificate. A warehouse handling no general steel products except drill rod or magnets may order such materials from a producer or other distributor even though it has not been certified on such form.

(2) Quantity restrictions on prime quality material. No warehouse which, during 1940, purchased from producers more than 25 percent of its tonnage of any product group for stock in a grade now invoiced as less than prime quality may order from producers for delivery to warehouse stock during any calendar quarter, prime quality steel products (requiring scheduled rollings) of the same product group in an amount greater than 37½ per cent of the total tonnage of such prime quality material (requiring scheduled rollings) purchased in that product group from all producers during 1940.

(3) Quantity restrictions on product groups. No warehouse having a total base tonnage of more than 100 tons for any type of steel shall order steel from producers, or other distributors, in any one product group in such type for delivery to warehouse stock in any calendar quarter in excess of 150 percent of its base tonnage for such product group and type. No warehouse having a total base tonnage of 100 tons or less for any type of steel shall order steel from producers, or other distributors, in such type for delivery to warehouse stock in any calendar quarter in excess of 150 percent of its total base tonnage for such type.

(4) Stock replacement. No warehouse shall place with a producer or another distributor orders for delivery to warehouse stock except to replace general steel products delivered from warehouse stock during the previous ninety days to warehouses and dealers as permitted by this Order or to consumers as permitted by CMP Regulation No. 4, plus scrap accumulated in the course of warehouse operations and actually sold during such period and reported to the War Production Board on Form WPB–2888. Within the limitations of Paragraph (c) (3), deliveries of any general steel product may be used to support an order for the same or any other general steel product. All orders for steel placed by a warehouse pursuant to this Paragraph (c) (4) must specify delivery to the location from which the steel being replaced was shipped. Beginning February 1, 1944, every order placed for shipment to warehouse stock must bear the War Production Board Serial Number issued to the warehouse, must be coded "Warehouse Stock," and must bear the certification authorized in CMP Regulation No. 7. Such certification shall be signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The use of this certification shall replace Form WPB–2444 when purchasing general steel products for warehouse stock, but with each use of the certification the warehouse shall be deemed to certify that the order placed complies in all respects with the requirements of Paragraph (c) of this order.

(5) [Deleted Jan. 13, 1944.]

(6) Status of warehouse orders. Each order placed by a warehouse with a producer pursuant to Paragraph (c) (4) shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order. Each order placed by a warehouse with another distributor pursuant to Paragraph (c) (4) may, but need not, be accepted by such other distributor. If accepted, it shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(d) Distributor purchases from idle or excess inventories. A distributor may order general steel products for delivery to its stock, without limitation as to product group, type, or quantity, from idle or excess inventories in the manner authorized by Priorities Regulation No. 13. Each purchase order for such material shall be endorsed in substantially the following form, and when so endorsed shall be deemed to be an authorized controlled material order:

The undersigned certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that this order is placed pursuant to Paragraph (d) of Order M–21–b–1, and is an authorized controlled material order.

---------- By ----------
Name of distributor — Authorized official

Address — Date

(e) Distributor purchases for direct shipment to customer. A distributor receiving from a customer an order which the warehouse is permitted to fill under CMP Regulation No. 4 and wishing to arrange for shipment direct to such customer by the producer or other supplier shall specify delivery to a point other than its warehouse, and shall copy on its own purchase order the endorsement made to it by its customer (including the customer's name) in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 1 or other applicable regulation or order. A purchase order specifying direct shipment and so endorsed shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(f) Earmarked warehouse stocks. To the extent agreed upon by the Steel Division and any claimant agency, an earmarked stock of general steel products may be established in any warehouse. Deliveries to such stock and withdrawals therefrom shall be made only in accordance with the specific directions which shall be issued at the time such stock is established.

(g) Purchases by dealers from other distributors. Purchase orders for general steel products may be placed by a dealer with persons other than producers to replace in the dealer's stock steel delivered by him during the 90 days preceding the placing of such purchase order, provided the steel to be replaced was delivered pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 4. No delivery can be used more than once to support such a replacement order. Each such replacement order must carry an endorsement in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the material covered by this order is to replace in stock general steel products of the same weight delivered by the undersigned within the 90 days preceding the date of this order and in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 4. This constitutes an authorized controlled material order.

---------- By ----------
Name of dealer — Authorized official

---------- ----------
Address — Date

Any order so endorsed shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order.

(h) Reports. Each warehouse shall file with the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C., a report in duplicate on Form WPB–2888 or on such other form as may be prescribed, on or before the 15th day of January, April, July and October, for the preceding calendar quarter. This reporting provision has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal. In emergency cases, appeal may be made by telegraph.

(j) Communications to War Production Board. All appeals or other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to Warehouse Branch, Steel Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–21–b–1.

(k) Violations. Any warehouse, dealer, or other person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Special instructions. The War Production Board may from time to time issue special instructions to warehouses or dealers with respect to making, withholding, accepting or refusing deliveries.

PART 3296—SAFETY AND TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L–39–a]

SPRINKLER HEADS

§ 3296.2 General Limitation Order L–39–a—(a) Purpose of this order. The purpose of this order is to establish a maximum 12 months' quota of shipments for each manufacturer of sprinkler heads. The quota is based on shipments made during a normal pre-war base period, 1941. This order, of course, has no effect on the restrictions relating to installation of sprinkler heads, and such installations are still subject to the restrictions contained in Order L–41 (Construction).

(b) Definitions. The meaning of various terms used in this order is set forth below:

(1) "Sprinkler head" means a device designed to distribute water in such a manner as to extinguish or control fires in a particular area. Water is fed to sprinkler heads through a system of pipes ordinarily attached to the ceilings or roofs of buildings, the sprinkler heads being placed at intervals along the pipes. Either the sprinkler head or a heat actuated device in the sprinkler system is designed to function automatically when subjected to heat or a rapid rise in temperature. The term "sprinkler head" covers all types of heads, including closed heads, dry-pendant heads, open heads, and fog or spray type heads.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of sprinkler heads and includes any sales or distribution agencies or branches owned or controlled by any such person.

(c) Restrictions on shipments of sprinkler heads. During the 12 months' period beginning November 1, 1943, and during every 12 months' period beginning November 1st thereafter, no manufacturer shall ship more than 78 per cent of the number of sprinkler heads that he shipped during the year 1941. Shipments during any 6 consecutive months must not exceed 70 per cent of the quota permitted for the entire 12 months' period. All shipments of sprinkler heads made by a manufacturer after November 1, 1943, must be charged against his quota regardless of who the purchaser may be. (Transfers of sprinkler heads from the place where they are manufactured, to sales or distribution agencies or branches owned or controlled by the manufacturer are not regarded as "shipments" under this order.) As an illustration of the foregoing restriction, assume that a manufacturer shipped 1,000,000 sprinkler heads during 1941. His quota for the entire 12 months' period beginning November 1, 1943, (or any 12 months' period beginning November 1st thereafter) would then be 780,000 heads (78 per cent of his 1941 shipments); and he would not be permitted to ship more than 546,000 heads (70 per cent of 780,000) during any 6 consecutive months of the 12 months' period.

(d) Restrictions on manufacturing for inventory. In addition to the restrictions on shipments set forth in paragraph (c), no manufacturer shall manufacture more sprinkler heads than are required to enable him to maintain a practicable minimum working inventory thereof. In no event shall the practicable minimum working inventory exceed one-sixth of his quota of shipments permitted by paragraph (c) for the 12 months' period.

(e) Reports. On or before January 24, 1944, and on or before the 10th day of every month thereafter, each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., three copies of a letter containing a report of total shipments of sprinkler heads (in numbers) made during the preceding calendar month. (However, the first report should show the shipments made during November and December, 1943, and total shipments for each month should be reported separately.) This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and shipments.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(j) Correspondence. Reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Safety and Technical Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–39–a.

Issued this 13th day of January 1944.

Walnut (Juglans).
Elm (Ulmus).
Birch (Betula).
Maple (Acer).
Other Pines (Pinus).

and any other commercial hardwood species.

Scaling. All logs are to be scaled according to the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter will be measured at the small end of the log at the smallest diameter with all fractions of an inch counted back. The diameter shall be measured inside of the bark for hardwoods, and from the inside of one bark to the outside of the other bark for pine.

All unsound and unusable wood must be deducted by allowance in measurement. The defects for which full allowance must be made in measurement include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, splinter pulls and crook.

Logs shall be cut in standard even lengths of 10, 12, 14 and 16 feet or longer unless otherwise specified by the buyer. An allowance of at least 4 inches for trim shall be made in all logs. Logs that do not meet the specified allowance for trim shall be reduced in length to the next lower standard length.

Logs less than 10 feet in length will be accepted at a special price as specified below.

If logs larger than 24 feet in length are purchased, each log shall be considered as being composed of separate logs 16 feet in length starting at the top end (small end) of the log. The diameter for each succeeding log shall be computed as being 1 inch larger than the diameter at the small end of the preceding log. If the fraction remaining after successive 16 foot measurements is less than 8 feet, it shall be considered as a part of the adjoining 16 foot log and that entire log measured as based on the diameter at the small end of the log; each fraction 8 feet and over shall be measured as a separate log. Tree length logs, 32 feet or longer, scaled in the water may be measured by taking the diameter outside the bark in the small way with all fractions of an inch counted back.

Grade specifications. Woodsrun grade shall consist of the entire product of the forest of the specified species or groups of species with all culls excluded. It is understood that a woods run of logs shall contain the full amount of good logs which the standing timber will produce and that no large or high grade logs are to be separated from the run of logs; minimum diameter shall be 12" unless otherwise indicated.

A cull log shall be considered as one where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects is less than 50 percent of the gross scale.

Clear grade—minimum diameter—24". All logs 24" or over in diameter that are clear of all visible defects.

Select grade—minimum diameter—16". Logs 16"–23" in diameter shall be clear of all visible defects.

Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or have at least 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

#1 Grade—minimum diameter—12". Logs 12"–15" in diameter shall be clear of all visible defects.

Logs 16"–23" in diameter shall have at least 2 clear faces or have 75 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

Logs 24" and over in diameter shall have at least 2 clear faces or have 50 percent of the length clear in one continuous section.

NOTE: In the Clear, Select and #1 grades, a center rot or dote 4" in diameter or less in logs over 24" in diameter, 3" in diameter or less in logs between 16" and 23" in diameter, and 2" in diameter or less in logs between 12" and 15" in diameter will not degrade the log, although deduction for the defect must be made in scaling.

#2 Grade—minimum diameter 12". This grade shall include all sound logs that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a No. 1 log. The minimum diameter shall be 12" unless otherwise indicated.

A summary of clear face requirements of the various grades is as follows:

Diameter range	4 clear faces	3 clear faces or 75% of length clear in one continuous section	2 clear faces or 50% of length clear in one continuous section	Other
24" and up	Clear grade	Select grade	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade.
16–23"	Select grade	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade.
12–15"	No. 1 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade	No. 2 grade.

[1] If sold in conjunction with other species. Dollars and cents ceiling prices will be established for Ash, Hickory, and Walnut when purchased on an individual selected basis.
[2] Minimum Diameter acceptable, 10".

These prices are for logs f. o. b. railroad cars at rail siding, or delivered to a place where water shipment is to begin (placed in good condition for loading), or delivered to the mill by truck from within 25 miles of the buying plant. For logs delivered to the plant from a distance over 25 miles, the buyer may add 10¢ per thousand feet log scale for every load mile over the first 25 miles.

If logs are purchased delivered to a place where water shipment is to begin, the buyer may add to the ceiling price $2.00 per thousand feet log scale for loading on barges.

If delivery of logs to the mill by truck necessitates payments of tolls on bridges crossing the Mississippi River, the buyer may pay for the toll in addition to the ceiling price.

Cull logs can be purchased at two-thirds of the No. 2 grade prices by paying only for the net scale.

The prices herein established apply to the purchase of logs produced in the areas described above and will prevail for all buying plants purchasing logs in these areas whether or not the buying plants are located in the area.

If buyer takes delivery of logs at any place other than loaded on railroad cars at a rail siding, delivered on a river bank, or at his mill, the buyer must deduct from the ceiling price either (1) the cost of delivering logs to a rail siding and loading on cars if delivered at any point other than a rail siding; (2) the cost of trucking to the mill; or (3) the cost of loading cars if logs are deposited at a rail siding in accordance with the method used bringing logs to the buying plant.

If logs less than 10 feet in length are purchased on a woods-run basis, the buyer can purchase these at the same price as for longer logs. The same requirements for trim must be maintained. If logs less than 10 feet in length are purchased on a grading basis, the above ceiling prices must be reduced by at least 10 percent.

Section 1395.3 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Second, reduce the base price in accordance with the following provisions of this paragraph (b). The base price to be reduced is the base price established before February 1, 1943; the reductions provided below are to be in place of (not in addition to) the reduction formerly required by this paragraph before the February 1, 1944 amendment of the paragraph.

Example. In the case of an 85-5-5-5 casting a reduction of only 1¢ per pound is now required. If the base price before February 1, 1943 was 21¢ per pound, the price, before the February 1, 1944 amendment, was reduced by this paragraph to 19½¢. The reduction now required is not subtracted from the 19½¢ but from the original 21¢, making a present price of 20¢.

(1) Amount of reduction. The amount of the reduction, except as provided by the further subdivisions of this paragraph (b), shall be as follows:

(i) If the specification calls for copper base alloy for the casting, the reduction shall be in the amount stated opposite the same specification indicated by OPA number of group below, or if the same specification is not indicated, then in the amount stated opposite the most nearly similar specification so indicated. (The OPA numbers refer to numbers used in Maximum Price Regulation No. 202,[1] § 1309.165.)

	Reduction per pound, (cents)
(a) 85-5-5-5 or 88-10-2 groups (OPA Nos. 100-256, inclusive)	1
(b) 80-10-10 group (OPA Nos. 295-326, inclusive)	1¼
(c) Yellow brass group (OPA Nos. 400-409, inclusive)	1¼
(d) Silicon bronze group (OPA No. 500)	1
(e) All other copper base alloys (except copper content of 97% or greater)	1½
(ii) If the copper content specified for the casting is 97% or greater	No reduction
	Cents
(iii) If aluminum or aluminum base alloy is specified for the casting, the reduction shall be	8
(iv) If magnesium or magnesium base alloy is specified for the casting, the reduction shall be	3

(2) Specification is the test. In figuring the reduction under subparagraph (1), the test will be the metal specification for the casting to be priced. The test will not be the individual metal or metals (alloy, virgin or scrap) used in making up the specification.

Example.—If the specification calls for 85-5-5-5 the reduction of 1¢ per pound is required even though the foundry is able to use virgin copper in part, in making the casting to the 85-5-5-5 specification.

The test, also, will be the specification of metal at the time of the pricing involved and not at the time the casting was made for the first time or at any other time in the past.

(3) Previous reduction and showing. If the base price already reflects reductions made because of reductions in the maximum prices of metals or alloys between September 30, 1941 and February 1, 1943, and full showing of the earlier reductions is first made (before collecting of the price) or has been made to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., the reductions under this paragraph (b) need only be made to the extent that the previous reductions shown are less than the amounts required. A showing may be made by letter or the Office of Price Administration may provide a form for the purpose. Unless and until a showing is disapproved, the reductions need only be made to the extent that the previous reductions shown are less than the amounts required. However, if the showing is disapproved, refund must be made to the extent that the showing is disapproved, within ten days after the disapproval.

(4) "Toll" transactions. In the case of a "toll," "conversion" or "service" agreement, in which the metal or part of the metal for the castings is required to be sold or otherwise furnished to the seller of the castings by the buyer or by any person on the buyer's behalf, the reductions under this paragraph (b) need only be made to the extent of metal furnished by the seller.

(5) Choice in case of previous special price adjustment. A seller whose maximum prices have been adjusted by special order of the Office of Price Administration before February 1, 1944, is permitted to price castings made from copper or copper base alloys upon the basis of the reduction provided in this paragraph (b), instead of under the maximum prices as adjusted by the special order. However, if it is the seller's choice to price under this paragraph (b), he must make that choice for all his maximum prices and not just for some. If the seller does not make this choice, the seller must:

(i) Continue under the maximum prices provided in the adjustment order and

(ii) Must, in the case of copper and copper base alloy castings that are not covered by the adjustment order, figure his maximum prices on the basis of a reduction of 1½¢ per pound instead of the basis provided in this paragraph (b).

Any seller choosing to change from a basis of pricing under an adjustment order to the basis provided in this paragraph (b) must first send to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., a letter stating that he chooses to establish his maximum prices on the basis of reductions provided in this paragraph (b). The choice must be made and the letter stating the choice must reach the above office before March 1, 1944. The maximum prices as established under the choice will become effective when the seller receives acknowledgment of the letter from the above office.

This amendment shall become effective February 1, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1400—TEXTILE FABRICS: COTTON, WOOL, SILK, SYNTHETIC AND ADMIXTURES

[MPR 478,[1] Amdt. 1]

COATED AND COMBINED FABRICS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 478 is amended in the following respects:

1. In Section 1 (a) (1) the last sentence thereof is amended to read as follows: "For the purpose of this regulation, the term 'coated fabric' also includes artificial leather made from nonwoven fibrous products, and oilcloth, bookcloth, window shade cloth, and tire cords."

2. Section 2 (a) (5) is amended to read as follows:

(5) Sized, back filled, water repellent treated, bleached, napped, dyed, printed or mercerized fabrics (unless they are also coated), except those listed in paragraph (a) (1) of section 1.

3. Section 2 (a) (6) is added to read as follows:

(6) Finished products made of coated or combined fabrics.

4. Section 2 (a) (7) is added to read as follows:

(7) Cable wrapping tape materials.

5. Section 2 (a) (8) is added to read as follows:

(8) Barrage balloon cloth.

6. Section 7 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Applicability of this section—(1) Coverage. This section is applicable to the following:

(i) Any fabric or service which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period;

(ii) Any fabric or service which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color or a similar variant, and for which the manufacturer had an established differential during the base period;

(iii) Any fabric or service listed in paragraph (a) of section 6 which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period, May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive; and

(iv) Any fabric or service listed in paragraph (a) of section 6 which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period, May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color or a similar variant, and for which the manufacturer had an established differential during such period.

(2) Definition of "same as". The fabric or service being priced shall be deemed to be the same as the fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period, and, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943, the fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive:

(a) If it is identical to a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period;

(b) If it differs from a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period, only by reason of the changes made necessary by the substitution of buna-S (GR-S) or butyl (GR-I) for natural rubber; or

(c) If it has the same use as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period, and if its factory costs do not differ from the factory costs of that fabric or service by more than 3 percent. The manufacturer shall determine the factory costs of both commodities or services in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of the next section (section 8).

7. In section 7 (b) a sentence is added to the end thereof to read as follows: "The manufacturer shall then determine the maximum price by deducting from the resultant price all discounts and allowances, including trade, quantity and cash discounts, if any, which he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class during the base period."

8. Section 7 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Base price—(1) When the manufacturer does not use a list price. The base price where a manufacturer did not use a list price during the base period for the fabric or service in question is the first applicable of the following prices:

(i) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, to a purchaser of the same class.

(ii) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service, which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(iii) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service, which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color, or other similar variant, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differential between the variations in the fabric or service. This price must also be adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differentials between classes of purchasers.

(iv) In the case of a fabric or service whose base period is April, 1943, which cannot be priced by (i) to (iii), inclusive, the first applicable of the prices set forth in (i) to (iii), inclusive, except that the period May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the base period and the applicable price shall be the last price at which the fabric or service was delivered or offered for delivery during such period.

(20) When the manufacturer uses a list price. Where the manufacturer used a list price during the base period for the fabric or service in question, the base price shall be determined as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, except that the phrase "list price" shall be substituted for the word "price".

9. Section 7 (d) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Differential where the manufacturer compounds the synthetic or substitute rubber. The differential for synthetic or substitute rubber which must be subtracted from the base price in the case where the manufacturer compounds the synthetic or substitute rubber contained in the fabric or involved in the supply of the service shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the amount of each type of synthetic or substitute rubber required to produce the fabric or supply the service. The manufacturer shall then multiply this amount by the difference between the price of the synthetic or substitute rubber in effect to him on August 1, 1943, and the price for that material in effect to him (i) on March 31, 1942, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is March, 1942, or (ii) on January 1, 1943, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943. The resulting figure is the differential.

10. Section 7 (d) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) Special cases. (i) If the manufacturer customarily sold several widths, styles, or compounds of the fabric at the same price to the same class of purchasers, he shall use the same differential for all widths, styles or compounds that he sold at the same price to the same class of purchasers. This differential shall be calculated in the manner just set forth, except that in applying that method the manufacturer shall use the method he customarily used during the base period to arrive at a uniform price. If the manufacturer had no such customary method, he shall use as a basis for calculating the differential the width, style, or compound of the fabric of which he sold the largest quantity during the period January 1, to July 1, 1943, inclusive.

(ii) If the manufacturer during the base period had established price differentials between various widths, coating compounds, weights of coating, colors or other similar variants, he shall continue that practice. This shall be done by deducting the differential from the base price (determined under paragraph (c) of this section 7) of that width, coating compound, etc., which he used during the base period as a basis for calculating the prices of other widths, coating compounds, etc. The manufacturer shall then apply his base period differential for the variant in question to the resultant price. If the manufacturer had no customary width; coating compound, etc., which he used as a basis for determining the prices of other widths, coating compounds, etc., he shall use as a basis for determining the maximum price that width, coating compound, etc. of which he sold the largest quantity during the period January 1, to July 1, 1943, inclusive.

(iii) In the case of a fabric or service whose base period is April, 1943, if the manufacturer during the period January 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, reduced the price of the fabric or service being priced in order to reflect the decreased cost of synthetic or substitute rubber occurring after January 1, 1943, he may subtract the amount by which he reduced his selling price to reflect that decreased cost from the differential determined under the applicable provisions of subparagraph (2) or (3). If the amount by which the manufacturer reduced his selling price during the period January 1, to April 30, 1943, inclusive, to reflect the decreased cost of synthetic or substitute rubber exceeds the differential required to be deducted by the applicable provisions of subparagraph (2) or (3), the manufacturer's maximum price shall be the base price determined in accordance with paragraph (c).

11. Section 8 (b) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) The manufacturer shall then subtract the factory costs of that fabric or service from its maximum list price, or if the fabric or service has no maximum list price, from its maximum price to the class of purchasers to which the present sale is being made. The maximum price shall be determined in accordance with section 7 and factory costs shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

12. Section 8 (b) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) The manufacturer shall then add the amount obtained in the preceding subparagraph (3) to the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced.

13. Section 8 (b) (5) is added to read as follows:

(5) If the price determined under (4) above was obtained by using a list price, the manufacturer shall then determine the maximum price by deducting from the price determined under (4) all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from the list price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class during the base period. If the price determined under (4) was obtained by using a price in effect to a purchaser of the same class, the price determined under (4) is the maximum price.

14. In section 8 (c) two sentences are added to the end thereof to read as follows: "If the manufacturer's production experience during the first 2 months of production is inadequate to accurately determine his costs, he may request and receive approval from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a further period for recomputation. This request must be made at the time of first recomputation."

15. In section 8 (d) (3) the last sentence thereof is amended to read as follows: "In no case shall factory overhead costs include allowances for selling or general administrative expenses."

16. In section 8 (e) the text preceding subparagraph (1) is amended to read as follows: "In determining the maximum price, the manufacturer shall use the first applicable of the following fabrics or services covered by this regulation which he delivered or offered for delivery during the base period."

17. Section 8 (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) Reports of maximum prices—(1) Report of price computed under paragraph (b). If after October 31, 1943, a manufacturer receives total orders exceeding $1,000, in the case of a fabric, or exceeding $500 in the case of a service, for a fabric or service that must be priced under this section, he shall file a report. This report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after the manufacturer has received a sufficient dollar volume of orders to necessitate the filing of the report. This report shall contain the information required by the form set forth in Appendix A and shall be made on a copy of that form. The manufacturer may not accept payment for any further orders of the fabric or service until the price so reported has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the proposed maximum price. Within this fifteen day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, this price will be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration. However, the report required by this paragraph does not have to be filed if (i) the fabric or service being priced has the same use as a fabric or service which the manufacturer delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply during the base period, (ii) if it differs from the base period fabric or service by reason of the substitution of materials which would result in a higher maximum price, and (iii) if the manufacturer does not sell the fabric or service at a price higher than the price he charged during the base period for the base period fabric or service that he must use in computing the maximum price of the fabric or service being priced.

(2) Report where recomputation results in a higher price. If the recomputation required by paragraph (c) results in a higher maximum price and if on any subsequent order the manufacturer elects to charge a higher price than the maximum price resulting from the first computation, he must file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within ten days after entering into a contract at such increased price. This report shall contain the information required by the form set forth in Appendix A and shall be made on a copy of that form. The manufacturer may not receive payment for the fabric or service at this increased price until that price has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the increased price. Within this fifteen day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration.

18. Section 8a is added to read as follows:

SEC. 8a. Maximum manufacturers' prices for rejects and seconds—(a) Fabrics whose base period is April, 1943. The maximum manufacturers' price for the sale of any fabric which is a government second and whose base period is April, 1943, shall be 75% of the contract price for the sale of the government fabric. The maximum price of any fabric which is rejected only because it fails to meet government specifications shall be 90% of the contract price for the perfect fabric. If the manufacturer does not have a contract price for a reject or second covered by this paragraph (a), he shall substitute the total of his charge for the coating and the price he must pay for the piece goods (not in excess of the applicable maximum price) for the contract price in determining his maximum price.

(b) Fabrics whose base period is March 1942. The maximum manufacturers' price for the sale of other than first quality fabrics (including seconds, jobs and shorts) whose base period is March 1942, shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall deduct from the maximum price for the first quality fabric all discounts and allowances which he had in effect during March 1942, for other than first quality fabrics.

19. Section 13 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Transportation charges. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser is permitted, to pay a larger proportion of the transportation costs incurred in the delivery of fabrics or the supplying of services than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay on deliveries of the same or similar fabrics or services during the base period. Where the seller during the base period quoted prices on an f. o. b. basis, he may determine his delivered maximum price by adding transportation costs to his f. o. b. maximum price. Where the seller during the base period quoted prices on a delivered basis, he may determine his f. o. b. maximum price by deducting transportation costs from his delivered maximum price. Transportation costs shall be determined by the method used by the manufacturer during the base period.

20. Section 18 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Records of base period differentials between different widths, coating compounds, weight of coating, color, or similar variants in effect for fabrics or services during the base period, which were in use during that month in determining the price of one width, etc., in respect to the price of another width, etc.

21. Section 22 (a) (6) is added to read as follows:

(6) "List price" means a price to which discounts or allowances (other than cash discounts) are applied in order to arrive at prices to different classes of purchasers. The term "list price" includes prices quoted through the medium of a schedule or price list.

22. In Appendix A the note under 5 is amended to read as follows:

(If you used a list price and discount system during the base period, only state the maximum list price. In such case, also indicate all applicable discounts and allowances and the classes of purchasers to which those discounts and allowances are applicable. These discounts and allowances need not be shown if you have already reported them to this office. If you did not use a list price and discount system during the base period, you must compute the maximum price to each class of purchaser. The margin (d) is found by subtracting the factory costs of the fabric or service used as a basis for pricing (c) from its maximum price (b). This dollar margin is then added to the factory cost (e) of the fabric or service being priced.)

23. In Appendix A the note under 6 is amended to read as follows:

(State the method employed, including the rates used and the bases to which the rates were applied. These need not be shown if you have already reported them to this Office.)

This amendment shall become effective January 19, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Effect upon General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii and other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this section supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the Territory of Hawaii,[3] General Order No. 49 and all other maximum price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration, except as may hereinafter be provided, with respect to sales at wholesale and at retail and sales by manufacturing-wholesalers and manufacturing-retailers in the Territory of Hawaii of children's and infants' wear as set forth in paragraph (a).

(b) Maximum prices for sales at wholesale—(1) Wholesalers and jobbers. Except in the case of inter-island shipments mentioned in paragraph (3) below, the maximum price for sales at wholesale of any article listed and described in paragraph (a) which was manufactured outside the Territory of Hawaii shall be the amount determined either by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price, less all allowable trade, cash, or other discounts or allowances, except cash discounts up to 2%, by 1.25, or multiplying the "landed cost" by 1.20; Provided, That:

(i) The wholesaler or jobber regularly carries such classification of articles in stock and has heretofore carried such classification of articles in stock, and

(ii) The particular article is to be sold out of such stock, and

(iii) The particular article was invoiced and shipped to the establishment of the wholesaler or jobber; and the wholesaler or jobber shall elect to use one of the two alternate methods of determining the maximum price and shall use it for all articles sold by him which are covered by this section. The method elected may not thereafter be changed without written permission of the Office of Price Administration. The wholesaler or jobber must send this office a statement of the method elected on or before December 20, 1943.

(2) "Landed cost." For articles imported from outside the Territory of Hawaii "landed cost" shall be the total of the following amounts:

(i) An amount equal to the manufacturer's selling price, less all allowable trade, cash or other discounts and allowances, except cash discounts up to 2%.

(ii) An amount equal to the transportation charges, if any, actually incurred by the wholesaler for transportation from the mainland point at which the wholesaler received delivery, to the mainland port of shipment (including Federal transportation tax and terminal charges) not in excess of public (common or contract) carrier rates.

(iii) An amount equal to mainland storage charges, and insurance in connection therewith, actually incurred by the wholesaler, but charges for storage and insurance in connection therewith in excess of three months shall not be included.

(iv) An amount equal to cartage charges actually incurred by the wholesaler for cartage from warehouse to dock in port of shipment, not in excess of public (common or contract) carrier rates.

(v) An amount equal to charges for ocean freight, war risk and marine insurance actually incurred by the wholesaler, and there may be included in this amount Territorial tolls and tonnage tax as shown on the bill of lading. However, the amount by which any cost of war risk insurance exceeds the rates charged by the War Shipping Administration shall not be included, but the type of coverage is at the discretion of the buyer and seller.

(vi) An amount equal to cartage charges in the port of entry in the Territory of Hawaii from dock to warehouse, computed at a rate not in excess of 1.20 per ton, weight or measurement, Provided, That the commodity is moved from the dock at the wholesaler's expense.

(3) Inter-island shipments. In the case of a commodity originally imported from without the Territory of Hawaii to one island of the Territory and subsequently shipped to another island in the Territory, the maximum price in the island of final destination for sale by a wholesaler or jobber who has satisfied the conditions as to inventory set forth in subparagraph (1) above, and who has elected the second pricing method shall be the sum of the amounts specified in subparagraphs (i) through (iv) below.

(i) An amount equal to the maximum wholesale price in the island from which the article was shipped, calculated under subparagraph (1) above.

[2] Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[3] 8 F.R. 5307, 6362.

(ii) An amount equal to cartage charges for cartage from the warehouse to the dock in the island from which the article was shipped, calculated at the rate set forth in subdivision (2) (vi) above, whether or not such cartage charges are actually incurred.

(iii) An amount equal to charges for ocean freight, war risk and marine insurance actually incurred by the wholesaler for shipment between the islands, and there may be included in this amount Territorial tolls and tonnage tax as shown on the bill of lading. However, the amount by which any cost of war risk insurance exceeds the rates charged by the War Shipping Administration shall not be included.

(iv) An amount equal to cartage charges on the island of destination, from dock to warehouse, computed at a rate not in excess of the amount set forth in subdivision (2) (vi) above, Provided, That the articles are moved from the dock at the wholesaler's expense.

(4) Maximum prices for locally made articles. The maximum prices for sales at wholesale of any article manufactured in the Territory of Hawaii listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section by a wholesaler or jobber who satisfies the conditions as to inventory set forth in subdivision (i), (ii) and (iii) of paragraph (b) (1) above, shall be those established by sections 2 and 3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii.

(5) Drop shipments. The maximum prices for sales at wholesale of any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section by a person who has not heretofore regularly carried such article in stock, and such article is not being sold out of the stock, and such article was not invoiced and shipped to the establishment of such person, shall be those established by sections 2 and 3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii.

(6) Manufacturing-wholesalers and manufacturing-retailers. The maximum price for sales at wholesale of any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, which the wholesaler or retailer makes or has made for him from materials owned by him, shall be computed by multiplying the sum of the costs of manufacturing by 1.15. The costs of manufacturing shall include only:

(i) The wholesale price of the material, which for the wholesaler shall be no higher than his maximum wholesale price for such material, and for the retailer shall be the actual cost of the material to him, which may in no case be higher than the wholesale price;

(ii) The sewing charges as listed with this office under Maximum Price Regulation 20 of the Military Governor of the Territory of Hawaii or Maximum Price Regulation 165 of the Office of Price Administration; and

(iii) The maximum price permitted under this regulation for any block prints which may be printed on the article by or for the manufacturing-wholesaler or manufacturing-retailer.

(7) Allowance for block printing. Where a wholesaler block prints, or has block printed for him, any article covered in this section, he may, for the purpose of determining the maximum price under this section, add to the manufacturer's selling price the maximum price permitted by this regulation for such prints.

(8) Inability to determine price at wholesale. Any person who is unable to determine prices under paragraphs (b) (1), (4), (5) or (6) shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for a maximum price. Such application must set forth the manufacturer's selling price, less all trade, cash or other discounts and allowances and/or the "landed cost" for such articles as specified in paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

(9) Restrictions of markup at wholesale. (i) The maximum price for sales of commodities at wholesale by persons who have purchased from a local wholesaler, jobber, manufacturing-wholesaler or manufacturing-retailer shall be the maximum price which the first wholesaler, jobber, manufacturing-wholesaler or manufacturing-retailer would have been entitled to charge under this section. The purpose of this paragraph is to prevent the addition of more than one full wholesale markup to a commodity, regardless of the number of wholesalers or jobbers purchasing and reselling the commodity.

(ii) No part of the wholesale markup may be taken by a wholesaler-retailer on any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section that is sold by any retail outlet owned, controlled by, under the control of, controlling, or in any other way affiliated with respect to ownership or control with the wholesaler.

(c) Maximum prices for sales at retail—(1) Purchases from mainland manufacturers. The maximum price for sales at retail for any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, which the retailer purchases from a mainland manufacturer, shall be the amount determined by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price, less all allowable discounts and allowances, except cash discounts up to 8%, by the figure given below in the first column of the table below for the classification of goods to be priced.

(2) Purchases from distributors. The maximum price for sales at retail for any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, which the retailer purchased from a person selling at wholesale whose maximum prices for the sale are determined by paragraph (b) (5), shall be the amount determined by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price by the figure given below in the first column of the table below for the classification of goods to be priced.

(3) Purchases from mainland wholesalers or jobbers. The maximum price for sales at retail for any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, which the retailer purchases from a mainland wholesaler or jobber, shall be the amount determined by multiplying the wholesaler's or jobber's selling price, less all allowable discounts and allowances except cash discounts up to 8%, by the figure given below in the second column of the table below for the classification of goods to be priced.

(4) Purchases from local wholesalers or jobbers. The maximum price for sales at retail for any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, imported from the mainland and which the retailer purchases from a local wholesaler or jobber, shall be the amount determined by multiplying the wholesaler's or jobber's selling price, less all allowable discounts and allowances except cash discounts up to 8%, by the figure given below in the third column of the table below for the classification of goods to be priced.

(5) Locally manufactured articles. The maximum price for sales at retail of any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, made by a manufacturer located in the Territory of Hawaii, shall be: If the retailer purchases direct from the manufacturer, the amount determined by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price, less all allowable discounts except cash discounts up to 8%, by the figure given in the fourth column of the table below; if the purchase of a locally manufactured article is made from a wholesaler, the amount determined by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price by the figure in the fourth column of the table below, for the classification of goods to be priced.

(6) Manufacturing-wholesalers and manufacturing-retailers. The maximum price for any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, which the retailer purchases from a local manufacturing-wholesaler or manufacturing retailer, or which he makes or has made for him, shall be the amount determined by multiplying the wholesale price as determined under paragraph (b) (6) by the figure given in the third column of the table below for the classification of goods to be priced.

NOTE: The cost designation in the table above with respect to "Budget" and "Better" items refers to the appropriate cost price upon which the retailer will use the multiple in the table to determine his maximum retail price.

(7) Allowance for block printing. Where a retailer block prints or has block printed for him, any article covered in this section, he may, for the purpose of determining the maximum price under this section, add to the manufacturer's selling price, or wholesaler's selling price, depending on the source of purchase, the maximum price permitted by this regulation for such prints.

(8) Inability to determine prices at retail. Any person who is unable to determine prices at retail under subparagraphs (1) through (7) of this paragraph (c) shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price.

(9) Odd cent maximum prices at retail. Whenever the calculation of a maximum retail price results in an odd cent maximum price, the maximum price may be adjusted to the nearest nickel.

(d) Maximum prices for nationally advertised articles. Application may be made for approval of a price for an article listed in paragraph (a) which is nationally advertised by the manufacturer thereof, and who requires that such article be sold at the prices established by such manufacturer. The applicant must set forth:

(1) Description of the article or line to be priced.

(2) Proof that the manufacturer has established a resale price and that such price is so marked on the article that any purchaser can know that it is a nationally advertised price.

(3) A statement that the seller will not sell such article at a price higher than such nationally advertised price.

Such application, of course, need not be made where such nationally advertised price is not in excess of the maximum price as calculated under this regulation.

(e) Maximum prices for assorted job lot merchandise. In cases where a wholesaler or retailer purchases an assorted job lot of merchandise invoiced to him for a single or blanket price, he may make application to the Office of Price Administration for approval of his own allocation of the cost of such merchandise to the different articles involved. Such application shall show the allocation made by the wholesaler or retailer and shall show the resulting maximum wholesale or retail prices determined on the basis of such allocated costs.

(f) Maximum prices for certain merchandise purchased at lower than manufacturer's maximum price. In cases where a wholesaler or retailer purchases from a manufacturer or wholesaler any article listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section, at a price lower than the manufacturer's or wholesaler's maximum price and lower than a price which the purchaser previously paid to such manufacturer or wholesaler for the same or similar merchandise, and where such lesser price was paid by reason of the size of the purchase or the seasonal nature of the goods, application may be made to the Office of Price Administration for a maximum price for resale of the merchandise, which maximum price is based upon the higher price previously paid to such manufacturer or wholesaler, and the appropriate multiple provided by this section. Any such application must be accompanied by the invoice for the goods in question and the invoice establishing the former higher price, or other evidence of a similar nature,

(g) Maximum prices for retail sales of exclusive and individual articles. In cases where a retailer at the special order of an ultimate consumer designs and fabricates for such consumer an exclusive and individual article, application may be made at the Office of Price Administration for a maximum price at retail not to exceed two times the cost of such article as otherwise determined under this section. Articles which are produced on a mass or semimass production basis or which are made for stock are not exclusive and individual articles.

(h) Records and reports. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 10 of this Maximum Price Regulation 373, the provisions of section 52 (h) shall be applicable to this section 61.

(i) Posting and marking of prices. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 10 of this Maximum Price Regulation 373, the provisions of section 52 (i) shall be applicable to this section 61, except that in section 52 (i) (1) the words "women's and girls'" shall be changed to "children's and infants'" for the purposes of this section 61.

(j) Definitions. When used in this section 61, the term:

(1) "Manufacturer's selling price" means the price at which the manufacturer of the article sold and invoiced it before the deduction of any discounts or allowances, and shall not include any transportation costs, marine or war risk insurance, storage charges, or any other charge.

(2) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who receives delivery of a commodity and resells it, without changing its form, to any person other than an ultimate consumer, and includes sales to retailers by manufacturing-wholesalers or manufacturing-retailers, but does not include any sale by a producer, manufacturer, or fabricator of any wearing apparel or accessory produced, manufactured, or fabricated by him, or on his behalf by an agent or a contractor.

(3) "Wholesaler-retailer" means a firm or person who customarily sells at least 50% of the articles listed and described in paragraph (a) of this section in his own or in an affiliated store.

(4) "Wholesaler's selling price" means the price appearing on the wholesaler's invoice to the retailer before the deduction of cash discounts or other discounts for prompt payment.

(5) "Manufacturing-wholesaler" means a wholesaler who has made for him from materials owned by him, articles for sale to a retailer.

(6) "Manufacturing-retailer" means a retailer who has made for him from materials owned by him, articles for sale to an ultimate consumer.

This amendment shall become effective as of December 16, 1943, except that all the provisions of section 61 shall become effective as of December 6, 1943, save as follows with respect to sales at retail of articles in inventory as of December 6, 1943. Such articles need not be priced under this section until February 1, 1944: Provided, That any such article which is the same or similar to an article received in inventory after December 6, 1943, shall not be sold at a price higher than the maximum price established by this section for such new article. For the purposes of this provision, one article shall be deemed "similar" to another article if the first has the same use as the second, affords the purchaser fairly equivalent serviceability and belongs to a type which would ordinarily be sold in the same price line. In determining the similarity of such article, differences merely in style or design which do not substantially affect use, or serviceability, or the price line in which such articles would ordinarily have been sold, shall not be taken into account.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. SR 14[1] to GMPR, Amdt. 82]

LAMINATED WOOD STRUCTURAL MEMBERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 6.37 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 6.37 Laminated wood structural members—(a) Products covered. This section covers sales of all frame structural members such as rafters, joists, arches, and roof trusses, which are fabricated by laminating two or more pieces of lumber by gluing, scarf-jointing, or otherwise.

(b) Maximum f. o. b. factory prices; sales by manufacturers. The maximum f. o. b. factory price for laminated wood structural members shall be computed on the basis of the individual manufacturer's price-determining method during the month of March 1942, using rates and costs as provided in the following formula:

(1) Materials. Lumber material costs for the particular item shall not be higher than the current maximum price as established by the appropriate "mill ceiling" regulation plus the average inbound freight cost for the particular item during the six months period from June 1, 1943 through November 30, 1943. In the case of a manufacturer using lumber produced by him, the material costs that may be used for such lumber shall be at least $2.00 per MBM below the maximum mill price for that lumber.

(2) Labor. Labor costs shall include only labor that was treated as direct labor in the March 1942 price-determining method. To determine direct labor cost for a particular item, use the March 1942 direct labor cost plus the percentage increase in average hourly earnings between March 1942 and September 30, 1943. In computing average hourly earnings only the earnings of workers whose wages are computed on an hourly or piece-work basis shall be used.

Example. Average hourly earnings

March 1942	$0.50
September 30, 1943	$0.60
Increase	20%
Direct labor cost for item per MBM
March 1942	$15.00
Increase 20%	3.00
Cost to be used	$18.00

(3) All other expenses and profit. To the out-of-pocket cost of the particular item determined as specified in (1) and (2) above, there may be added for all other expenses and for profit the same dollars-and-cents margin that was applied for such expenses and profit under the March 1942 price-determining method. The addition for "all other expenses and profit", it should be noted, is a fixed dollars-and-cents addition rather than a percentage addition and is the difference between the March 1942 price of the particular item and the March 1942 out-of-pocket cost (as determined by (1) and (2) using March 1942 costs.)

(c) Maximum delivered prices; sales by dealers. The maximum delivered price shall be a price computed by increasing the March 1942 delivered price by the amount of increase in current delivered cost (f. o. b. factory price of manufacturer plus the actual transportation charges paid or incurred by the seller in making shipments directly from the factory to the point of delivery required by the purchaser) over the March 1942 delivered cost. If the dealer did not sell the item in March 1942 he must request the factory to inform him of the March 1942 mark-up of his nearest competitive seller and use this dollars-and-cents mark-up for his current sales.

(d) Sellers must maintain trade discounts and credit terms no less onerous to buyers than the March 1942 discounts and terms given the same buyer or class of buyer.

(e) The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the 48 States of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

This amendment shall become effective January 19, 1944.

[SR 14B[1] to GMPR,[2] Amdt. 1]

BREAD AND BAKERY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Supplementary Regulation 14B is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Weight increases. Whenever the weight of any loaf or product is increased over the weight of the loaf or product as produced in March 1942, the new loaf or product shall be deemed a new product; and the maximum price of every seller of such new loaf or product must be determined under section 2 (b) or section 3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation: Provided, That if a baker increases the weight of his loaf of bread or sales unit of packaged rolls not more than 25 percent over the weight of his loaf of bread or sales unit of packaged rolls as produced in March 1942, he may increase his maximum price therefor proportionately per ratio of weight, and all other sellers of such increased loaf of bread or sales unit of packaged rolls may increase their maximum prices by an amount in cents equal to the increase herein provided for the baker. However, no increase may be made pursuant to this provision unless it is so calculated as to result in an increase in price of one cent or a multiple thereof.

2. Section 3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Single maximum prices for sales at wholesale. (a) In any trading area all sales of bread and rolls at wholesale, as defined in this section, by any seller shall be deemed sales to one class of purchasers, and discounts previously given by any seller in the case of any of his sales at wholesale of said products may be discontinued; and to this end:

(b) The maximum price for all sales of bread and rolls at wholesale by any seller shall hereafter be such seller's wholesale list price in the trading area, as existing in March 1942, for the same or most nearly similar commodity or, if none, such list price of his most closely competitive seller or, if none, a maximum price as determined under section 3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(c) For the purposes of this section "sales at wholesale" means all sales of the seller to retailers, restaurants and hotels.

3. Section 5 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Is of a similar type (for example, department store, chain store, specialty store, cut rate store, house to house seller).

4. Section 9 (a) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) If the figure resulting contains a fraction of one-half cent or more, it shall be adjusted to the next higher cent, or if it contains a fraction of less than one-half cent it shall be adjusted to the next lower cent.

This amendment shall become effective January 19, 1944.

[Order A–1 Under MPR 188, Amdt. 26]

GAS APPLIANCE VALVES

MODIFICATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 26 to Order A–1 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Paragraph (a) (23) is added to read as follows:

(23) Modification of maximum prices of gas appliance valves—(i) Scope of this amendment. This subparagraph (23) establishes maximum prices for sales and deliveries of gas appliance valves by manufacturers of gas appliance valves to manufacturers of commercial and industrial ranges, water heaters, space heaters, central heaters, and refrigerators.

"Gas appliance valve" means any manually-operated valve or device specially designed to control the flow of natural or manufactured gas, oil, or kerosene, or any derivative of the foregoing fuels, at any rate from none to full, attached to an appliance designed for heating or cooking purposes either at the point where such fuel is to be used or inserted in the fuel supply line of such an appliance.

The term "gas appliance valve" does not include the regular type of angle, gate, globe, or check valve, or any variation of these basic types, nor does it include devices commonly known as corporation cocks or service cocks.

(ii) Maximum prices for manufacturers. On and after January 13, 1944, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no manufacturer of gas appliance valves shall sell and deliver and no manufacturer of the types of the appliances set forth in (i) shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business gas appliance valves at prices higher than the total of the following factors:

(a) The unit cost as of January 13, 1944, of direct materials used in the manufacture of the gas appliance valve at net invoice prices (all discounts deducted) laid down on the manufacturer's receiving floor or at any other comparable point, but in no event at prices exceeding the maximum prices permitted under any applicable maximum price regulation, schedule, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The unit direct labor cost of producing a valve based upon labor rates in effect on January 13, 1944, but in no event exceeding legally permissible rates. The unit direct labor cost shall be determined as follows:

(1) Multiply the labor rate for each operation by the actual time expended on each operation; and

(2) Divide the sum of the totals for all operations performed on each valve as computed in (1) by the total number of units produced.

(c) The dollar and cents gross mark-up. The dollar and cents gross mark-up shall be determined as follows:

(1) Subtract from the gross sales of gas appliance valves for the calendar year 1941, the direct actual material and labor cost expended in the production of gas appliance valves during such calendar year;

(2) Divide the resulting difference by the direct actual material and labor costs expended in the production of gas appliance valves during the calendar year of 1941; and

(3) Multiply the sum of the costs determined under (a) and (b) by the percentage thus obtained.

(iii) Cash discounts, allowances and services. The maximum prices established by this subparagraph shall be subject to the same extension of cash discounts and allowances and to the same rendition of services which the manufacturer extended or rendered or would have extended or rendered to purchasers of the same class on similar sales during the period October 1–15, 1941.

(iv) Records. Every person selling gas appliance valves subject to this subparagraph shall have available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, a record of each sale made under this subparagraph, showing the date of the sale, the name and address of the purchaser, the plate number, the material and labor costs, the amount of gross mark-up, the maximum price permitted under this subparagraph, the transaction price or the discount allowed from the maximum price, and the point of delivery of the shipment.

(v) Reports. The following manufacturers, namely, W. J. Schoenberger Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Roberts Brass Mfg. Co., Detroit, Michigan; Detroit Brass and Malleable Works, Detroit, Michigan; Harper-Wyman Mfg. Co., Chicago, Illinois; Lincoln Brass Works, Inc., Detroit, Michigan; selling gas appliance valves subject to this subparagraph shall file with the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Cleveland, Ohio, within 30 days after first offering for sale a gas appliance valve priced under this subparagraph the following data:

(1) Profit and Loss Statement reflecting entire company operations for the year ended December 31, 1941.

(2) Balance Sheet with an analysis of Surplus as of December 31, 1941.

(3) Profit and Loss Statement covering Gas Appliance Valve operations only, for the year ended December 31, 1941. This statement must include a breakdown of Cost of Goods Manufactured and Sold, segregated as to Materials Consumed, Direct Labor and Manufacturing Overhead, together with pertinent inventory adjustments, and of Selling, General and Administrative Expenses applicable to this phase of operations.

(4) The percentage mark-up of prime cost, experienced by the manufacturer on his line of Gas Appliance Valves during the year 1941, to be used in determining maximum selling prices.

(vi) Notification of purchasers. Every manufacturer selling gas appliance valves subject to this subparagraph shall send a notice to every purchaser of gas appliance valves covered by this subparagraph at the time of the first invoicing stating substantially as follows:

The maximum price of this gas appliance valve has to our best knowledge and belief been established in accordance with Amendment No. 26 to Order No. A-1 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

This Amendment No. 26 shall become effective January 13, 1944.

A petition so filed shall act as a supersedeas until otherwise directed by the Commissioner. Distribution of the estate may be made by the superintendent after sixty (60) days have elapsed from the date of notice of the determination of heirs or action on the will unless a petition for rehearing is received within such period by the Superintendent or unless otherwise directed by the Commissioner.

Any such petition for rehearing must be under oath and must state concisely and specifically the grounds upon which it is based and must be accompanied by the sworn statements of at least two disinterested persons having knowledge of the facts. Thereafter, all papers filed shall be submitted to the Commissioner for action either denying or granting a reopening.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

SAMUEL HELLER LEATHER COMPANY, INC.

Samuel Heller Leather Company, Inc. has appealed to the Chief Compliance Commissioner from the provisions of Suspension Order S–452 on the following grounds: (a) that its case suffered because it was not represented by counsel at the Compliance hearing; and (b) that it has material evidence which was not produced at the hearing. The Compliance Commissioner who presided at the hearing is of the opinion that the company should be given an opportunity to present additional evidence. The Chief Compliance Commissioner has directed that the case be reopened, that the company be permitted to offer additional evidence at a further hearing, and that Suspension Order No. S–452 be stayed. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.452 Stay of execution of Suspension Order S–452. (a) The provisions of § 1010.452 Suspension Order S–452, issued December 15, 1943, shall be stayed and shall be of no force or effect pending further order and direction from the War Production Board.

PART 3154—HARDWARE SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L–236, Interpretation 1 to Schedule II]

MARINE JOINER HARDWARE

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Schedule II of Limitation Order L–236:

Paragraph (d) (3) of Schedule II to Limitation Order L-236 provides that the schedule does not restrict the manufacture, fabrication or assembly of "marine joiner hardware manufactured to fill a contract of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, when such contract has been executed prior to the 28th day of August 1943."

The contract referred to in this paragraph is a contract for the delivery of marine joiner hardware, not a contract for the construction of a ship on which such hardware is to be used.

Issued this 14th day of January 1944.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 1, Direction 22, as Amended Jan. 14, 1944]

SPECIAL ALLOTMENTS

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Reg. 1, as amended:

(a) Purpose. (1) This direction outlines the way in which a manufacturer of Class A products who does not receive allotments from his customers in time to permit him to make full use of them, may apply for a special allotment.

(2) Special allotments will not be granted except in extraordinary cases of urgent need where a clear showing is made that failure to make the allotment will actually cause an interruption of production to the detriment of the war effort and that the applicant has made a diligent effort to obtain allotments from his customers and has been unable to do so. The showing of these facts must be set up in the letter of transmittal covering the application.

(3) Usually manufacturers applying for a special allotment will be either those who are several steps removed from a prime consumer and where unavoidable delay is involved in passing allotments down or those engaged in long cycle operations whose customers are not able to furnish them with advance allotments.

(4) Special allotments will not be granted to prime consumers.

(b) How to apply for special allotments. Applications for special allotments should be made on Form CMP-4B. The following variations from the instructions for preparing the form must be observed:

(1) Mark the application "Special Allotment Procedure" in Item 3 of the heading.

(2) Insert in Item 4 of the heading the description of the A product covered by the application.

(3) The applicant must show in Section B his total anticipated production schedule for the Class A product covered by the application to be produced from the allotments for the quarters for which application is made.

(4) The applicant must show in Section C his total requirements during the quarters covered by the application to fill the total anticipated production schedule shown in Section B.

(5) Section D must be filled out in accordance with the instructions.

(6) The applicant must show in Section E the quantity of controlled materials for which a special allotment is required which will be the difference between the quantities shown in Section C and the quantities shown in Section D.

(7) All other information called for on the CMP-4B application, including shipment by preference ratings and Claimant Agencies (Section A), must be given by the applicant. The application should be filed with the War Production Board Ref: Special Allotment Procedure, and must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal explaining fully why the applicant feels he is entitled to special treatment.

(8) In those cases where the applicant has been instructed by a particular Claimant Agency or Industry Division to file an application for a special allotment he should indicate the name of the Claimant Agency or Industry Division in Item 1 of the heading.

(c) Conditions on use of special allotments. Conditions on the use of special allotments will be imposed in the letter of transmittal accompanying Form CMPL-150 on which the special allotment will be made. Among the conditions will be the following:

(1) A consumer receiving a special allotment must not use any allotment received from his customers to purchase controlled materials or Class A products needed in manufacturing the Class A product covered by the special allotment. This restriction applies only to the quarter or quarters covered by the special allotment. However, when a consumer has returned customer's allotments, as provided by paragraph (c) (4), in the full amount of the special allotment made to him for any one quarter, the consumer may use allotments from his customers during the rest of the quarter just as though the special allotment had never been made.

(2) Authorized controlled material orders placed, or allotments made, on the basis of allotments received from customers (including SO orders received) prior to receiving the special allotment need not be changed, but the consumer receiving the special allotment must deduct from it the quantity of such orders and allotments for the same quarter.

(3) A manufacturer receiving a special allotment must not deliver any Class A product made out of controlled materials covered by the allotment to any customer unless the customer furnishes the manufacturer with an allotment and an authorized production schedule.

(4) A consumer receiving a special allotment must, not later than the fifth day of each calendar month following receipt of the special allotment, return to the Claimant Agency or Industry Division making the special allotment all allotments received from his customers for the manufacture of the Class A product covered by the special allotment, and must report allotments received and used prior to receipt of the special allotment. The return of allotments and reports must be made on Form CMP-28.

(d) Quarters for which special allotments will be made. This special allotment procedure will be used only to make allotments through the fourth quarter of 1944.

Issued this 14th day of January 1944.

[Preference Rating Order P-89, as Amended Jan. 14, 1944]

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES

§ 3293.521 Preference Rating Order P-89—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Producer" means any person operating a plant engaged in the production of chemicals or allied products, who shall have received a serial number from the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (b).

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(3) "Controlled material" means controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(4) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of a producer's property and equipment in sound working condition.

(5) "Repair" means the restoration of a producer's property and equipment to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(6) "Operating supplies" means any material which is essential to the operation of the producer's plant including, but not limited to, lubricants, catalysts, and small perishable tools: Provided, however, That the term operating supplies shall not include;

(i) Any material which is physically or chemically incorporated, at any stage of production, in whole or in part, into any material which the producer manufactures.

(ii) Any material which, at any stage of production, enters into the chemical reaction necessary to the manufacture, or is used in the purification (including, among other things, washes, solvents, extractants, filter aids, and the like) of any material which the producer manufactures.

(7) Material for maintenance, repair and operating supplies shall include:

(i) Material for the improvement of the producer's plant through the replacement of material in the existing installation, but only when such equipment is beyond economical repair.

(ii) Material for the maintenance and repair of pressure cylinders.

(iii) Material, such as hand tools, customarily purchased by the particular employer for sale to his employees for use only in his business, provided such material would constitute an operating supply under established accounting practice if issued to employees without charge.

(8) In addition, there may be included as maintenance, repair and operating supplies minor capital additions, the cost of which does not exceed $500, excluding the producer's cost of labor, for any one complete addition which has not been subdivided for the purpose of coming within this definition: Provided, however, That such minor capital additions shall not include additions to, or expansions of, buildings or external structures other than processing equipment.

In the case of rearrangement of an existing installation, or in the case of adaptation of an existing installation to a different process, only the material added to the existing installation need be considered in computing the $500.

(9) [Revoked September 28, 1943. Former paragraphs (a) (9) (i) through (ix) are covered by paragraph (g) (3), and former paragraph (a) (9) (x) is covered by paragraph (a) (8).]

(10) "Calendar quarter" means the quarterly period commencing on the first day of the first, fourth, seventh and tenth months of the calendar year and ending, respectively, on the last day of the third, sixth, ninth, and twelfth months of the calendar year, or the operator's customary three months accounting period closest to such quarter.

(11) "Unit cost" means the purchase price paid by the producer for material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies. Unit cost shall include labor cost, except cost of labor performed by employees of the producer, but shall not include transportation charges. An item for maintenance, repair or operating supplies shall not be subdivided into its component parts for the purpose of determining unit cost.

(b) Application for assignment of serial number. In order to become a producer subject to this order, any person operating a plant engaged in the production of chemicals or allied products, may apply by letter requesting assignment of a serial number under this order to specified plants. Such letter shall be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P-89, and shall be accompanied by application on Form WPB-1765 (formerly PD-762).[1]

(c) [Deleted Jan. 14, 1944]

(d) Assignment of preference rating, allotment symbol and purchase order quota after January 1, 1944. (1) The preference ratings and allotment symbols under this order shall be those specifically assigned by the War Production Board to each producer on Form WPB-1765 (formerly PD-762) or, in the case of producers registered prior to January 14, 1944, by letter; Provided, however, That no producer shall apply the preference rating or allotment symbol assigned under this paragraph to any order for fabricated parts or equipment having a unit cost of $500 or more, or to purchase orders placed during any calendar quarter for an aggregate amount of aluminum in any of the forms or shapes constituting a controlled material in excess of 500 pounds. Application for preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols for such orders may be made pursuant to paragraph (e).

(2) No producer shall place any purchase order for any material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies, whether or not obtained with preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols derived from any source, which would cause the aggregate dollar value of purchase orders for maintenance, repair and operating supplies placed by the producer during the calendar year 1944 to exceed the aggregate dollar value of purchase orders for such materials placed by the producer during the calendar year 1943.

[1] Approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Special applications. (1) If the producer is unable to secure delivery of materials for maintenance, repair or operating supplies (except aluminum controlled materials) because the preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned hereunder are insufficient, or because the producer's purchase order quota, or the unit cost limitation would be exceeded, the War Production Board may, upon written or telegraphic request, assign such special ratings or allotments or additions to the purchase order quota as it deems proper. Such letters or telegrams shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P-89, and shall contain the following information:

1. Plant location and P-89 serial number.
2. Material needed.
3. Weight of the material (specify separately weight of each controlled material required).
4. Value of the material.
5. Function of the material.

7. Name and address of supplier.
8. Purchase order number and date.
9. Product or products affected.
10. Percentage curtailment of production.
11. Nature of the emergency.
12. Requested rating and allotment.

(2) Any producer requiring aluminum in any of the forms or shapes constituting a controlled material for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, in amounts in excess of 500 pounds during any one calendar quarter, shall apply by letter for an allotment for the amount in excess of 500 pounds to the War Production Board, Ref: Aluminum and Magnesium Division MRO, giving substantially the information described by paragraph (d) of Supplementary Order M-1-i.

(f) Special preference ratings for containers. Any producer may apply to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Chemicals Packaging Section, for special preference ratings under this order for containers and container parts, other than wooden or fibre containers as defined in Preference Rating Order P-140, or steel shipping drums as defined in Limitation Order L-197.

The application shall be filed by letter in duplicate or by telegram and shall specify:

12. Delivery date promised by supplier on the basis of rating requested.

(g) Procedure for applying preference ratings and allotment numbers or symbols to purchase orders. (1) Each producer requiring delivery of material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies may obtain such material by endorsing on, or furnishing with, the delivery order a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

------ (Preference rating) ------ (Allotment number or symbol)

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

---------- (Name of purchaser)	---------- (Address)
By ---------- (Signature and title of duly authorized officer)	---------- (Date)

(2) An order bearing such certification shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order in the case of controlled materials, and in the case of all other materials shall have the same status as an order bearing an allotment number or symbol for the purposes of CMP Regulation No. 3 and all other applicable CMP regulations.

(3) No producer may apply the ratings assigned by or pursuant to this order to obtain delivery of the items set forth in Lists A and B attached to Priorities Regulation 3, as now or hereafter amended, except where the regulation permits the use of P-89 ratings for a particular item or where ratings are specifically assigned pursuant to paragraphs (e) or (f) of this order for specific kinds and quantities of List B items.

(h) Inventory diversion. No producer shall use material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies obtained with ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned by or pursuant to this order, except in that portion of his productive facilities to which a serial number under this order has been assigned.

(i) Inventory restriction. No producer shall accept delivery of any non-controlled material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies, whether or not obtained with preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned by or pursuant to this order, which would cause his inventory of such material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies to exceed a minimum practicable working inventory. Inventories of controlled materials held by producers are subject to the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 2.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time; Provided, however, That no producer shall be subject to the provisions of CMP Regulations No. 5 or No. 5A, and no producer shall obtain any material under the provisions of either of said regulations. For the purpose of this order a producer remains a producer from the time a serial number is granted to him until the time when the serial number is expressly revoked by the War Production Board.

(k) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, a producer placing any purchase order or contract rated or assigned a CMP allotment number or symbol hereunder, shall retain, for a period of two years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of such purchase orders or contracts, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(2) Reports. The War Production Board may require each producer to file such other reports as may be prescribed, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to Federal Reports Act of 1942, and may issue special directions to any producer with respect to preparing and filing Form WPB–1765 (formerly PD–762).[1]

(3) Conservation and standardization. Each producer shall use his best efforts to conserve materials by elimination, simplification or standardization of types, sizes or forms or by substitution of less critical for more critical materials, and shall cooperate in any program developed for such purpose by the War Production Board. The Conservation Division of the War Production Board issues, periodically, a publication showing the relative scarcity of materials, entitled, "Materials Substitutions and Supply".

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D.C.; Ref.: P–89.

Issued this 14th day of January 1944.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 49,[2] Amdt. 20]

RESALE OF IRON OR STEEL PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Price Schedule 49 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1306.153 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1306.153 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this price schedule shall not be evaded either by direct or indirect methods in connection with a purchase, sale, barter, delivery or transfer of iron or steel products alone or in conjunction with any other material, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or by way of discount, premium, or other privilege, or by way of tying agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise. No person shall subdivide an order or shipment for the purpose of avoiding any of the requirements of this Revised Price Schedule 49.

2. Section 1306.154 is amended to read as follows:

§1306.154 Records, reports and invoicing requirements. (a) Every seller of iron or steel products shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration complete and accurate records of:

(1) Each purchase, showing the date thereof; the name and address of the person from whom purchased; the point from which shipment was made; the destination; a complete description of the material furnished, including quantity, size, grade and quality, and any special operations performed for which the person from whom the material is purchased is making a charge; the price of the material and whether such price is a delivered or shipping point price, (if a shipping point price, a copy of the papers indicating all transportation charges actually paid); and, if the price is altered by the issuance of any credit or debit by the buyer or seller, a copy of papers indicating the amount and description of such alteration. On any material purchased which has already been put through "the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products", a notation shall be made to that effect, including a statement as to the point at which such warehousing operation was last performed. Such record of purchases shall be kept for a period of not less than 2 years after such purchase by the seller.

(2) Each sale, showing the customer's name and order number; date of order; date of shipment; point from which shipment was made; destination; a complete description of the material furnished, including quantity, size, quality, and any special operations performed by the seller for which a charge is made; the price of the material and whether such price is a delivered or shipping point price; and, if the price is altered by the issuance of any credit or debit by the buyer or seller, a copy of papers indicating the amount and description of such alteration. If shipment is made by other than the seller invoicing the shipment, the name of such shipper should be shown. (If a seller's invoice bears the information outlined herein, a copy of such invoice will be considered sufficient for the purpose of this paragraph). Such record shall be kept for a period not less than one year after such sale by the seller.

(b) The record of sales covering any period shall be sent to the Office of Price Administration upon its request: Provided, That a request by the Office of Price Administration for the submission of such report shall be made not later than the fifteenth day of the month immediately following the sale. It is provided further, however, that this provision shall not in the conduct of a specific investigation in any way waive the right granted the Administrator to secure for inspection any records of a buyer or seller.

(c) Additional reporting, record keeping and invoicing requirements for certain products which are set forth in paragraphs (i) and (j) of § 1306.164.

(d) Every seller of iron or steel products shall furnish a buyer on each sale of iron or steel products an invoice describing the material and the terms of sale in such detail that the buyer can determine from such invoice whether the material is priced in accordance with the regulations. This shall include, but shall not be limited to, the quality, size, grade and quantity of material; the shipping point; the price per item; whether the shipment is prepaid or collect; and the name of carrier.

In addition, if the material has not been put through "the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products", notation shall be made to that effect (i. e., direct mill shipment, etc.).

(e) Filing prices. On or before December 31, 1941, every seller of iron or steel products having annual gross sales of $100,000 or more, even though iron and steel products comprise only a part of the total during the year ending December 31, 1941, shall file in duplicate, in affidavit form, with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., his prices circulated to his salesmen or customers in effect on April 16, 1941, or customarily quoted and charged on that date, including extra lists, deduction lists, charges, and discounts. Special prices or discounts given to any customers and classes of customers as of April 16, 1941, shall be filed. This includes prices or discounts to jobbers, dealers and large industrial or other special buyers. Every seller shall file individual price sheets for each warehouse or branch, showing city and country prices, wherever such exist, and he shall indicate the area or cities to which such prices apply. In the event that any prices so filed exceed the maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule 49, the seller shall, after the effective date of Revised Price Schedule 49, eliminate this excess and charge a maximum price not in excess of the maximum prices established herein. Every seller shall state with regard to his April 16, 1941, price for each product, the range of sizes, types or cross-section covered by each price submitted; trade names, if any, and prices charged; prices for each base quantity; products sold in various quantity brackets, and prices for each bracket. If the person is a seller without prices as of April 16, 1941, (1) because of establishment of business after April 16, 1941, or (2) because of introduction of a product not handled on or prior to April 16, 1941, he shall file a list of his inventory as of December 1, 1941, and prices he proposes to charge for such products. These prices shall not be in excess of the maximum as established by Revised Price Schedule 49. Additional filing requirements from Pacific Coast and Gulf Port sellers, and for carload business, are included in other sections of Revised Price Schedule 49. Persons affected by Revised Price Schedule 49 shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require: Provided, That every seller of pipe and tubular products shall file with the Office of Price Administration, in duplicate, on or before September 15, 1942, his cutting and threading charges circulated to his salesmen or to his customers and in effect on April 16, 1941, or customarily quoted and charged as of that date.

3. In § 1306.156, a new paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) The Office of Price Administration may adjust any maximum price established in this regulation in any case in which it is shown:

(1) That as the result of maximum price increases, the seller's cost from his supplier has been raised so that there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller for such commodity, and

(3) That such adjustment in prices will not create or tend to create a shortage in another locality and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

4. In § 1306.157, paragraph (m) is revoked.

5. In § 1306.159, subparagraph (5) of paragraph (h) is revoked.

6. In § 1306.159, in the first sentence of subparagraph (4) of paragraph (i) the words included in the parenthesis reading "Carload freight shall be charged on shipments of 40,000 pounds and over" are deleted.

7. In § 1306.159, subparagraph (2) of paragraph (k) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Carload prices for all products, except pipe and tubular goods; when the carload provisions shall apply. When the aggregate weight of all items of iron or steel products, except pipe and tubular products, included in all orders of one day from one person for shipment at one time or at seller's convenience to one destination exceeds the minimum carload quantity established by the applicable rail tariff for shipment of such items between the points for which freight may be added by the provisions of the Schedule (when there is more than one minimum carload weight involved in the freight rate calculation in the computation of a maximum delivered price, the greatest minimum carload weight required by applicable tariffs shall govern), the maximum price for these products, provided they have been put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products, shall be computed as follows:

(i) Standard wire nails, annealed smooth merchant quality wire, and galvanized smooth merchant quality wire. On shipments within the city or free delivery area in which the material was last put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products, the maximum delivered price for standard wire nails, annealed smooth merchant quality wire, and galvanized smooth merchant quality wire shall be the price for less-than-carload shipments as established in § 1306.159 (h) (1) and the extras set forth in (h) (3) of the same section for the shipping point, less a deduction at the rate of 15 cents per 100 pounds.

On shipments made from the city or free delivery area in which the material was last put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products, the maximum delivered price for standard wire nails, annealed smooth merchant quality wire, and galvanized smooth merchant quality wire shall be the carload price established above for the shipping point, plus the carload rate of freight from such shipping point to destination.

(ii) All types of galvanized roofing and siding, and merchant wire products including poultry netting, screen cloth, and hardware cloth. The maximum delivered price for galvanized roofing and siding and merchant wire products including poultry netting, screen cloth, and hardware cloth, but not including standard wire nails, annealed smooth merchant quality wire, or galvanized smooth merchant quality wire, shall be the higher of the following two alternatives:

(a) The mill straight carload price to a jobber at the customer's destination, based on the governing basing point, plus a markup of 15 percent, or

(b) The mill straight carload price to a jobber at the city in which the material was last put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products, based on the governing basing point, plus a markup of 15 percent, less a deduction at the rate of 20 cents per 100 pounds, plus the carload rate of freight from the shipping point to destination.

(iii) Tool steel. The maximum delivered price for Tool Steel shall be as established in § 1306.159 (j).

usable iron or steel products not governed by any other maximum price regulation shall be the mill price as established by Revised Price Schedule 6, Provided, That on application to the Office of Price Administration by a seller a maximum delivered price will be established by the Office of Price Administration. Such application should include:

1. The name of the seller and the place at which the material was last put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products.
2. The name of the buyer and the destination.
3. A complete description of the material to be furnished, including quantity, size, whether sorted to specific sizes required by buyer, and a complete outline of the operations which have been performed or will need to be performed, if any, to put the material in usable condition and whether such operation, if any, will be done by the buyer, seller, or a third party.

(v) Certain other secondary or rejected iron or steel products. The maximum delivered price for secondary or rejected iron or steel products for which the less-than-carload prices are established by § 1306.164, Appendix F, shall be as set forth in such appendix, provided that the carload rate of freight shall be used rather than the less-than-carload rate of freight wherever less-than-carload freight is used in computing the maximum delivered price for less-than-carload quantities. In each instance where the upper limit of any quantity bracket in Appendix F is shown as being 39,999 pounds, for the purpose of this paragraph, this upper limit shall be disregarded.

(vi) Certain prime iron or steel products. The maximum delivered price for certain prime iron or steel products, the less-than-carload prices for which are established by § 1306.165, Appendix G, shall be as set forth in such appendix, Provided, That the carload rate of freight shall be used rather than the less-than-carload rate of freight wherever less-than-carload rate of freight is used in computing the maximum delivered price for less-than-carload quantities. In each instance where the upper limit of any quantity bracket in Appendix G is shown as being 39,999 pounds, for the purpose of this paragraph, this upper limit shall be disregarded.

(vii) All other products for which a carload price is not established in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v) or (vi) above, or for which the carload price is not established by §1306.159, Appendix A, subparagraph (4) of paragraph (k) (Pipe and tubular goods). The maximum delivered price for all products for which a carload price is not established in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v) or (vi) above, or for which the carload price is not established by §1306.159, Appendix A, subparagraph (4) of paragraph (k) (pipe and tubular goods) when customarily sold on a quantity plan on April 16, 1941 shall be the maximum delivered price for a 500-pound quantity, less a deduction at the rate of 35 cents per 100 pounds, provided that if the applicable price for any product shipped as established by any provision of this schedule is lower than the price calculated above (500 pound quantity price, less a deduction at the rate of 35 cents per 100 pounds), such lower price shall then be the maximum price for such item: Provided further, That the maximum delivered price for any product item which was not customarily sold on a quantity plan on April 16, 1941, shall be the less-than-carload price established by this schedule for such product, less a deduction at the rate of 15 cents per 100 pounds.

8. In § 1306.159, subparagraph (3) of paragraph (k) is revoked.

9. In § 1306.159, subparagraph (4) of paragraph (k) is amended to read as follows:

(4) When the aggregate weight of all pipe and tubular goods included in all orders of one day from one person for shipment at one time or at seller's convenience to one destination, or when the aggregate weight of all items of pipe or tubular goods shipped in one day from one shipping point to one destination exceeds the minimum carload quantity established by the applicable rail tariff for shipment of such items from the governing basing point to the destination, the maximum price, provided such material has been put through the operations commonly known as the warehousing of iron or steel products, shall be computed as follows:

(i) Standard pipe, seamless pipe, water well casing, large O. D. pipe, and line pipe. For standard pipe, seamless pipe, water well casing, large O. D. pipe, and line pipe, the higher of the following two alternatives:

(a) The lowest price resulting from that combination of flat basing card discounts of the National Tube Company in effect on April 16, 1941 and published all-rail carload freight from basing point to destination, plus

(1) Twenty percent on standard pipe, reamed and drifted pipe and line pipe 6" and smaller, standard weight and lighter, both black and galvanized, and

(2) Twenty-five percent on all sizes of standard pipe and line pipe larger than 6", also all weights heavier than standard weight, both black and galvanized, and all sizes of water well casing and large O. D. pipe, or

(b) The lowest price resulting from that combination of flat basing card discounts of the National Tube Company in effect on April 16, 1941 and published all-rail carload freight from basing point to point from which shipment is being made by the seller, plus

(2) Twenty-five percent on all sizes of standard pipe and line pipe larger than 6", also all weights heavier than standard weight, both black and galvanized, and all sizes of water well casing and large O. D. pipe, less

(4) The carload rate of freight from the shipping point to destination.

(ii) Wrought iron pipe. For wrought iron pipe the higher of the following two alternatives:

(a) The price resulting from combination of resale discounts for sales from distributors' stocks as shown on A. M. Byers Company card in effect on April 16, 1941, and published all-rail carload freight from Pittsburgh to destination of customer, less 5 percent, or

(b) The price resulting from combination of resale discounts for sales from distributors' stocks as shown on A. M. Byers Company card in effect on April 16, 1941, and published all-rail carload freight from Pittsburgh to point from which shipment is being made by the seller, less 5 percent, plus the carload rate of freight from the shipping point to destination, less a deduction at the rate of 30 cents per 100 pounds.

(iii) Oil country tubular goods. For shipments of oil country casing, tubing, drill pipe, and drive pipe only: The lowest price resulting from that combination of basing point "out of field or distributors' stock" price as published by the Oil Well Supply Company, distributor for the National Tube Company, in effect on April 16, 1941, (Oil Country Tubular Goods Price List No. 24) and carload freight or transportation charges from the governing mill basing point to location of field or warehouse stock, as computed by the National Tube Company Freight Book 1 to which may be added the transportation charges from the shipping point to destination.

(iv) Boiler and other pressure tubes. For boiler and other pressure tubes the higher of the following two alternatives:

In no case shall these prices exceed the maximum established here for seamless tubing: Provided further, That for boiler and other pressure tubes in the following sizes and gauges only:

1"–2¼" O. D. 11 gauge and heavier.

(a) The lowest price resulting from that combination of mill carload basing point prices and carload freight from basing point to destination of customer, plus 30 percent, or

(b) The lowest price resulting from that combination of mill carload basing point prices and carload freight from basing point to the city from which shipment is to be made, plus 30 percent, less a deduction at the rate of 30 cents per 100 pounds, plus carload freight from the shipping point to destination.

(v) Cold drawn seamless and other mechanical tubing. For cold drawn seamless and other mechanical tubing the prices in effect and actually charged as of April 16, 1941 by the exclusive distributors of the National Tube Company, covering all sections of the country, shall be the maximum prices to be charged in areas served by each such distributor.

10. In § 1306.159, subparagraph (5) of paragraph (k) is amended to read as follows:

(5) When the aggregate weight of all items of iron or steel products, except pipe and tubular goods, included in shipments of one day from a shipping point to one destination exceeds the minimum carload quantity established by the applicable rail tariff for shipment from the shipping point to the destination, the carload rate of freight shall be used rather than the less-than-carload rate of freight in calculating:

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 507]

CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FRESH FISH AND SEAFOOD SOLD AT RETAIL

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, that maximum prices be established for the sale of certain fresh fish and seafood at retail.

So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has consulted and advised with representative members of the industry which will be affected by the regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, prices established are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Act. The prices established are not below the average retail prices of fresh fish and seafood in the year 1941.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as they were not in general use, their use is essential to effectuate price control, and there is no effective alternative.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of the regulation has been issued herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

§ 1364.352 Ceiling prices of certain fresh fish and seafood sold at retail. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, Maximum Price Regulation No. 507 (Ceiling Prices of Certain Fresh Fish and Seafood Sold at Retail), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

ARTICLE I—PURPOSE AND SCOPE OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for domestic and imported fresh fish and seafood items listed in Table A, for all retail stores, retail route sellers and wagon retailers. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration (hereinafter called OPA), except as otherwise provided in any order fixing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices which has been or which may be issued by the OPA pursuant to Revised General Order No. 51.[1]

SEC. 2. What stores are covered by this regulation and how you find out what group you are in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. Ceiling prices for sales to hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing meals are the ceiling prices fixed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 418.[2] Nevertheless, any person may, during any month, use the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation in selling to eating places, if 80% or more of his total sales of fresh fish and seafood during the previous calendar month were sales at retail to ultimate consumers. Retail route sellers and wagon retailers shall, for the purposes of this regulation, regard themselves as stores, and figure their ceiling prices as such.

(b) What are Groups 1, 2, 3 and 4 stores. For the purposes of this regulation, Groups 1, 2, 3 and 4 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 1. Your store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of less than $50,000.

(2) Group 2. Your store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of $50,000 or more, but less than $250,000.

(3) Group 3. Your store is in Group 3 if its "annual gross sales" are less than $250,000, and if it is not an "independent" store.

(4) Group 4. Your store is in Group 4 if its "annual gross sales" are $250,000 or more.

(5) Independent store. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of four or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more.

(c) How to post a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have posted a sign showing the group your store is in under this regulation (reading "OPA–1", "OPA–2", "OPA–3" or "OPA–4", whichever applies to you), or you must have posted a sign which the OPA may furnish you. However, you may post the sign of another group, if you are permitted to do so under any order issued under Revised General Order No. 51. The sign must be posted so that it can be clearly seen by your customers.

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for fresh fish and seafood—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item of fresh fish and seafood (that is, for each kind, size, and style of dressing or preparation), listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item received by you during the preceding seven-day period if you are a Group 1 or 2 store, or the weighted average "net cost" of all deliveries of the item during the preceding seven-day period if you are a Group 3 or 4 store, plus (2) the mark-up given your group for the item in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on January 27, 1944, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of fresh fish and seafood listed in Table A which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after January 27, 1944, and changed on Thursday of each week for any item, if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Thursday.

For any item which you receive for the first time, or which you have not received during the preceding seven days, you must figure your ceiling price as soon as you receive it and before you make any sales, using the "net cost" of that first delivery. On each Thursday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of fresh fish and seafood covered under this regulation.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point may refigure ceiling prices for items so priced, based on the "net cost" of deliveries received during the seven days preceding Tuesday of each week. These prices must not be put into effect until the following Thursday.

SEC. 4. Directions for figuring ceiling prices for fresh fish and seafood—(a) "Net cost"—(1) Provisions applicable to all stores. (i) Your "net cost" will be the amount you paid your supplier, less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid to transport the item to your usual receiving point, which may include costs for icing and refrigeration in transit, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading.

(ii) Your "net cost" must be based on purchases delivered to your usual receiving point.

(iii) Your "net cost" must be figured on the basis of a per pound selling unit. Always figure "net cost" to three decimal places. Do not round out any fractions until you have added your mark-up.

(iv) You may never use as "net cost" the cost of a purchase from another retailer, and you must never figure your "net cost" on a purchase made at a cost higher than your supplier's ceiling price.

(2) Provisions applicable to Groups 1 and 2 stores—(i) "Net cost" of largest delivery. If you are a Group 1 or 2 store, to figure your ceiling price, you must first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery received by you of the item during the seven-day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price. If there are two or more of such largest deliveries of the same quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries.

(ii) Use of weighted average "net cost" instead of "net cost" of largest delivery. If you are a Group 1 or 2 store, you may use the weighted average "net cost" of all deliveries during the seven-day period, instead of using the "net cost" of the largest delivery during that period. If you figure "net cost" in this manner, however, you may not use the "net cost" of the largest delivery during the preceding seven-day period for any of the items listed in Table A.

(3) Provisions applicable to Group 3 and 4 stores. If you are a Group 3 or 4 store, your "net cost" will be the weighted average "net cost" of all deliveries of the item to you during the seven-day period before the Thursday for which you are figuring your price, except that stores under one ownership who price from a central point may use the weighted average "net cost" of deliveries received during the seven days preceding Tuesday of each week.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of store.

(c) Ceiling prices. Your ceiling price will be the total of your dollars-and-cents mark-up added to your "net cost". Where this calculation results in a fraction of a cent, the figure must be reduced to the next lower cent if the fraction is less than ½ cent, and may be increased to the next higher cent, if the fraction is ½ cent or more.

If you sell an item in a quantity other than the selling unit given in Table A, you must reduce or increase your price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the "selling unit" results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent.

SEC. 5. Prices which you must post—(a) Ceiling prices. At all times, you must have your ceiling price for each item covered by this regulation clearly shown at the place where you offer the item for sale. You do not have to describe this price with the words "ceiling price".

(b) Selling prices. If your selling price of any item is lower than your ceiling price you must also post this selling price directly below your ceiling price.

SEC. 6. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any scheme or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular item, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

SEC. 7. Prohibitions. On and after January 27, 1944, if you sell or deliver, or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Also, any person who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price, is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 8. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, and each item sold and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 9. Records. After January 26, 1944, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPA representative, and to furnish on request of any OPA representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by any OPA representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point must also keep available at all times in each store a list showing the current selling price, as set at the central point, of each item so priced. These price lists must be kept in each store for one year, or, in the alternative, must be kept in each store for thirty days, and thereafter for a period of eleven months in the warehouse from which the items are delivered to the store, and must be shown, on request, to any OPA representative.

SEC. 10. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 11. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPA may, by order issued pursuant to Revised General Order No. 51, fix in your region or community, dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the items under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and those orders may provide that such prices replace the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation, you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation.

SEC. 12. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Administrator may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 13. Additions for Groups 3 and 4 stores for delivery from warehouse to store. If you are a Group 3 or 4 store, and your store is located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse, which is your usual receiving point, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for an item delivered from the warehouse to your store, add to your "net cost" for the item whichever of the following amounts applies:

(a) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1% of your "net cost".

(b) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2% of your "net cost".

(c) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3% of your "net cost".

(d) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4% of your "net cost".

[1] 8 F.R. 13240.

SEC. 14. Additions allowed for deliveries made by "fish stores". (a) If you are a "fish store" and you deliver to your customer's home or place of business any of the items covered by this regulation, you may add to the total value of the delivery, as a separate charge, whichever of the following amounts applies:

Value of delivery:	Additions allowed
$1.00 to $1.99	10¢
$2.00 to $2.49	15¢
$2.50 to $3.49	20¢

(b) If you make such deliveries and add such charges, you are required to keep for one month a copy of each sales slip or invoice, itemizing clearly your prices for the items delivered and the amount of the delivery charges permitted under the provisions of this section.

SEC. 15. How you figure your ceiling price for items which you "process"—(a) Fresh fish—(1) "Net cost." If, prior to offering any item of fresh fish for sale, you "process" it by changing its form to either drawn, dressed, dressed and skinned, fillets, cuts or steaks (sliced), you will figure your "net cost" as though you had purchased the item already processed. Your "net cost" for any style of dressing is the price, fixed at the time you process it, for that style of dressing in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, as listed in the table of prices covering your supplier's sale to you. If the item which you "process" is one which you purchased from a producer under Table A in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, your "net cost" is the price, fixed at the time you process it, for that style of dressing in Table B of Maximum Price Regulation No. 418. If you received deliveries from more than one type of supplier, use the table price in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418 applicable to the type of supplier from whom you received the largest single delivery.

NOTE: This paragraph (a) applies only to processing which changes the item to one of the following major styles of dressing: drawn, dressed, dressed and skinned, fillets, cuts or steaks.

(2) Mark-up. (i) Your mark-up for any item which you process prior to offering for sale by changing the form to drawn, dressed, or dressed and skinned, shall be the mark-up given your group of store for the item in the table covering whole fish sold on gross weight basis and prepared to the customer's order.

(ii) Your mark-up for any item which you process prior to offering for sale by changing the form to fillets, cuts or steaks shall be the mark-up given your group of store for the item in the table covering fillets, cuts and steaks sold as purchased.

For example, if in the month of January you purchase haddock drawn from a cash and carry wholesaler (Table D) under Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, and if, prior to offering the haddock for sale, you change its form from drawn to dressed your "net cost" under this regulation is the Table D price listed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418 for dressed haddock (plus transportation and container allowances permitted in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418). To figure your ceiling price, add to your "net cost" the per pound mark-up given your group of store for haddock in the table covering whole fish sold on gross weight basis and prepared to the customer's order.

If instead of dressing the haddock, your fillet it, your "net cost" is the Table D price listed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418 for haddock fillets, (plus transportation and container allowances permitted in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418). To figure your ceiling price, add to your "net cost" the per pound mark-up given your group of store for haddock in the table covering fillets, cuts and steaks sold as purchased.

(3) If, prior to offering any item of fresh fish for sale, you scale and clean it in such a manner that the form of the fish is not changed from one major style of dressing to another, and such scaling and cleaning is the only processing you perform, you may add ½ cent per pound to your "net cost" of the item figured under section 4.

(b) Fresh seafood—(1) "Net cost". If, prior to offering any item of fresh seafood for sale, you "process" it by changing its form to either headless, headless and veined, peeled, or peeled and veined, you will figure your "net cost" as though you had purchased the item already processed. Your "net cost" for any style of dressing is the price, fixed at the time you process it, for that style of dressing in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, as listed in the table of prices covering your supplier's sale to you. If the item which you "process" is one which you purchased from a producer under Table A in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, your "net cost" is the price, fixed at the time you process it, for that style of dressing in Table B of Maximum Price Regulation No. 418. If you received deliveries from more than one type of supplier, use the table price in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418 applicable to the type of supplier from whom you received the largest single delivery.

(2) Mark-up. Your mark-up for any item of fresh seafood which you "process" prior to offering for sale shall be the mark-up given your group of store for the item in the table covering fresh seafood sold as purchased.

SEC. 16. How you figure your "net cost" for items which you import. If you import any item covered by this regulation, your "net cost" may not exceed the Table B price (plus transportation and container allowances) fixed in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418 for the item.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 17. How Groups 3 and 4 stores may, under certain conditions, use the Group 1 and 2 mark-ups. (a) If you are a Group 3 or 4 store, and you have received permission to use the Group 1 mark-ups under Maximum Price Regulation No. 422,[1] or the Group 1 and 2 mark-ups under Maximum Price Regulation No. 336[8] or Maximum Price Regulation No. 355,[8] you must figure your ceiling prices in accordance with the provisions of this regulation applicable to Groups 3 and 4 stores, except that you may use the Group 1 and 2 mark-ups under this regulation. You must then post the Group 1 sign.

(b) If you are a Group 3 or 4 "fish store" which meets the gross margin requirements specified in this section, and you do business in the manner outlined below, you may apply under paragraph (c) of this section to use the mark-ups provided for Group 1 and 2 stores:

(1) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service;

(2) The general level of your prices for fish and seafood was, during September 1942, at least as high as the level maintained by Groups 1 and 2 stores, and was generally higher than that maintained by Groups 3 and 4 stores for such items in your community; and

(3) The total gross margin in your fiscal year 1941 was more than 25% on all sales and also, if you are not an "independent" store, more than 25% on the combined sales of the items in all the stores in your organization. If you were not in business in 1941, use your most recent fiscal year (or fiscal period, if not in business a full fiscal year).

(c) Your application must be filed in duplicate on or before March 1, 1944, with your nearest district OPA office on a form which you may obtain from that office. You may combine on one form the applications of more than one of your stores. If your application is finally approved, OPA will tell you when to begin using the Group 1 and 2 mark-ups, and from such time on you shall post a sign in your store designating it as a "Group 1" store and it shall be considered a Group 1 store for all orders issued under Revised General Order No. 51.

SEC. 18. Applications for adjustment. Any regional office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 19. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales", take your total sales for the calendar year 1942. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1942 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1942, you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to January 26, 1944, by the number of weeks you were in business. This will get you your weekly average sales. Multiply the figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales".

SEC. 20. How you determine your group in certain special cases.—(a) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. If you sell fresh fish and seafood in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells fish and seafood, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store.

(b) New stores. If you open a retail store after January 26, 1944, you may consider yourself a Group 1 store if you are an "independent" store, or a Group 3 store if you are not an "independent" store. However, after you have been in business for three months, you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the three-month period and multiply by four. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

If you find that your store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 or Group 3 mark-ups until the second Thursday following the end of the three-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for your new group.

If, by reason of the new store, you now are one of four or more stores under one ownership, you must, at the end of the three-month period, refigure the combined "annual gross sales" for all of your stores. If the combined "annual gross sales" are $500,000 or more, all of your stores must then be considered as Group 3 or 4 stores. You may continue to use the existing ceiling prices in each store until the second Thursday following the end of the three-month period, by which time you must have refigured all of your ceiling prices in each store, using the mark-ups for its proper group.

(c) Discontinuance of stores. (1) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores, so that you now have less than four stores under one ownership, you may find your group for each of the remaining stores by determining the "annual gross sales" under section 19, treating each store as an "independent" store.

(2) If you are not an "independent" store, and you close one or more of your stores, but four or more stores continue under one ownership, you may figure the combined "annual gross sales" under section 19 for those remaining in operation. If the combined "annual gross sales" are not $500,000 or more, you may then determine your group for each store, treating each store as an "independent" store.

(3) If you find that any store is now in another group, you may refigure all of your ceiling prices for that store before the opening of business on any Thursday.

SEC. 21. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of items covered by this regulation, if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 22. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after January 26, 1944, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any seller at retail subject to this regulation, and you carry on the business or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner, as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store, which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailer to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 23. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 507, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after January 27, 1944, supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 439,[7] and any other applicable price regulation or order issued by the OPA, except any order issued pursuant to Revised General Order No. 51, with respect to sales by retail stores, retail route sellers and wagon retailers of any kind of fish or seafood for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 24. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

SEC. 25. Definitions. (a) (1) "Sale at retail" shall mean a sale to an ultimate consumer other than a commercial, industrial or institutional user.

(2) "Fish store" is a store at least 90% of whose sales are sales of fish or seafood to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users.

(3) "Delivery" of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(4) "Usual receiving point" will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(5) "Item" is each kind, size, and style of dressing or preparation of fresh fish and seafood listed in Table A, both domestic and imported, but shall not include any frozen fish or frozen seafood. You must figure a separate ceiling price for each item you sell:

(6) "Process" shall mean any operation by a retailer prior to offering the item for sale, whereby the form of the fish is changed to either drawn, dressed, dressed and skinned, fillets, cuts or steaks, or the form of seafood is changed to headless, headless and veined, peeled, or peeled and veined.

(7) "Prepared to the customer's order" shall mean any customary operation by a retailer, within the limitations of his mechanical facilities, such as cleaning, running the fins, trimming, scaling, gutting, heading, slicing, or filleting, after offering the item for sale. Where the customer requests whole fish in the form in which it is offered, the sale shall likewise be regarded as "prepared to the customer's order."

(8) "Whole fish" shall mean any fish item round, drawn, dressed, and dressed and skinned, but shall not include fillets, cuts and steaks.

(9) "Major styles of dressing" shall mean round, drawn, dressed, dressed and skinned, fillets, cuts and steaks.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in Maximum Price Regulation No. 418, as amended, and in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to the terms used herein.

[MPR 329,[1] Amdt. 17]

PURCHASES OF MILK FROM PRODUCERS FOR RESALE AS FLUID MILK

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1351.415 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) (1) If a purchaser did not purchase "milk" from a particular producer during January 1943, but subsequently purchases from that producer, the maximum price that he may pay shall be the highest price which any purchaser paid that producer during January 1943 (or the price subsequently established in accordance with the provisions of this regulation for such purchaser who bought from that producer during January 1943), subject to the same price differentials for grade and quality which were in effect for that producer during that month, or the price computed as follows, whichever is higher:

The highest price paid to that producer by any purchaser for "milk" delivered during March 1942, subject to the same price differentials for grade and quality which were in effect for that producer during that month, plus 10¢ per cwt. for each full ¼¢ increase over March 1942 in the purchaser's maximum resale price for standard fluid sweet milk in quart container sizes. The "increase" in resale prices means the increase since March 1942 in the highest price, before discounts and allowances, charged any purchaser either at retail or at wholesale. He shall use the rate of increase at retail in calculating the increased buying prices to producers if retail sales made up the greater part of his total volume during January 1943; if not, he shall use the rate of increase applicable to wholesale sales.

(2) If a maximum price for a purchaser of "milk" from producers cannot be determined under paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) (1) of this section, the maximum price shall be determined as follows:

In the case of a producer who did not sell "milk" (for resale as fluid milk) dur-

The Atlanta Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration is authorized to establish maximum prices on applications filed under paragraph (b) (2) and such maximum prices shall be subject to modification or revocation at any time.

NOTE: In the case of a purchaser who was not engaged in the business of purchasing "milk" (for resale as fluid milk) during January 1943, and subsequently engages in such business without purchasing an existing establishment, the maximum price at which he may purchase "milk" from producers will be determined under paragraph (b) (1) above in the case of purchases from producers engaged in production for fluid milk purposes during January 1943, and will be determined under paragraph (b) (2) above in the case of purchases from producers not so engaged.

The respondent corporation has contracted to pay and has paid to a limited number of its customers (hereinafter called preferred customers) located in Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Norfolk, Virginia; Louisville, Kentucky; Indanapolis, Indiana; Columbus, Ohio and elsewhere varying sums of money in consideration of and as compensation for advertising services and facilities contracted to be furnished and furnished by said preferred customers in connection with the handling, offering for sale and sale of said products. The respondent has approximately thirty-five of such preferred customers to whom it grants and allows such advertising allowances which vary in amounts from a minimum of fifty cents a week to a maximum of five hundred and twenty-five dollars per month. The respondent has made and makes such payments as compensation for advertising services and facilities with the understanding and agreement that the preferred customers will advertise respondent's products in newspapers and by handbills and bulletins and otherwise. The respondent has not made such payments of advertising allowances available on proportionally equal terms to other customers who compete with said preferred customers in the distribution of its products.

PAR. 5. Such acts of respondent since June 19, 1936, in interstate commerce in the manner and form aforesaid of paying and contracting to pay such preferred customers for services and facilities furnished by and through them in connection with the handling, offering for sale and sale of respondent's products without making such payments available on proportionally equal terms to all other competing customers is in violation of the provisions of section 2 (d) of the Clayton Act as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 11th day of January, A. D. 1944, issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice is hereby given you, General Baking Company, respondent herein, that the 18th day of February A. D., 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the Complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.

* * * * * *

Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.

If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of January, A. D. 1944.

By the Commission.

Acting Secretary.
